The sentence of the Bellefonte court, in the Lukens case, was a fine of one dollar, the costs of prosecution and one year's imprisonment in the county jail.

The loss in buckets during the late fire was heavy. We put five out and got one back. If anybody has a cedar bucket with brass hoops and bale, and has no particular use for it, we can use it.

When the town council of Tyrone couldn't enforce its ordinance providing for the muzzling of dogs it very sensibly repealed it.—Exchange.

What a flexible and considerate council this is, anyhow.

Church Dedication.—St. Mary's Church, at Frenchville, will be dedicated on Wednesday, October 8, 1873. Bishop Mullen, of Erie, and a number of other eminent clergymen will be present. The public are cordially invited to attend.

The Williamsport Sun says:

Philipsburg, Centre county, gives "grand hops" on Sabbath evenings. A few missionaries are needed over there.

Ellsworth, go for that Sun-of-a-gun. Place your town right upon the moral record.

The County Commissioners are in session this week. Those in the vicinity of the borough, who have any business to lay before the Board, had better attend to it this week, as Court week invariably brings business enough from the distant portions of the county to engage their attention.

Railroad Extension.—Superintendent Wilkins and his forces are actively at work grading and putting down the track from this place to Curwensville, and it looks as though the road will be completed westward, as fast as circumstances will allow, as far as Curwensville. The sooner the better, for all parties concerned.

"Picking Cherries down the Lane," and "Happy Hours," are two new songs by the renowned Millard, both containing all of the elements of popularity and both really excellent.—They can be had at any music store, for the trifle of forty cents each, or will be sent free of postage, on receipt of price, by the publishers. Lee & Walker, 922 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

Clearfield base ballists came to grief at Osceola, the score standing 38 to 43. It is rumored—we know not with how much truth—that $500 was betted on the game.—Philipsburg Journal.

Yes, and there is another rumor, that after agreeing to play the Clearfieldors a game last week, the Osceolans got sick and failed to come in time.

The dedication of the new and beautiful M. E. Church, in West Clearfield, will take place October 5th, 1873. A number of distinguished ministers will be present on the occasion, prominent among whom will be the Rev. Dr. J. McKendre Riley, of Williamsport, Pa. An exceedingly entertaining and profitable time is anticipated. The public generally are most cordially invited to attend.

Henry Barnhart, an esteemed citizen of Centre county and well known to many of our citizens, died near Milesburg, on the 4th inst., aged 88 years. The Bellefonte Watchman, in alluding to his widow, says:

The venerable Mrs. Barnhart, relict of the late Judge Barnhart, is now 83 years of age, and has always resided within a hundred yards of the place where she is now living. She was born there, was married to the Judge there, and has never had her residence away from it. This is an instance of home attachment seldom met with.

Centennial Meeting.—We are authorized to announce that a meeting of the citizens of Clearfield county will be held in the Court House, on Monday evening, Sept. 22d, for the purpose of organizing our county in view of the approaching Centennial Celebration, which is to come off in Philadelphia. Ex-Gov. Pollock, of Philadelphia, and Judge Barrett will be present to address the citizens. Let there be a general turn out of the people. The ladies are particularly invited to be present.

Great Gas Well.—The greatest gas well in the world is located on the Campbell farm, about two miles from Modoc City, Butler county, in a northeasterly direction. It is certainly one of the wonders of the world. It was struck about three weeks ago, and a volume of gas has ever since been pouring forth with a noise like the rush of mighty waters. The gas comes out with most tremendous force. The attempt was made to lower a set of tools in the well, the weight of which was twenty-five hundred pounds. The attempt was futile, for the gas forced them up and away from the hole. It is the intention to lay pipes and run the gas into Modoc.

Another Over the River.—On the 24th of August last, there expired, at the residence of his son, Mark, in Bradford township, Jacob Kyler, one of the oldest settlers, in the 83d year of his age. The deceased was born in Franklin county, and in 1799, with his father, moved to Bellefonte, and, it is claimed, he built the fourth house erected in that borough. In 1803 the family removed to this county, near Philipsburg.—The deceased was the father of five sons and four daughters, all of whom survive him, as well as over sixty odd grand children. His burial attracted the largest number of people ever seen together in that vicinity. We are told that Mr. Kyler at one time was personally acquainted with every citizen in this county. He was a Democrat and a neighbor who knew no guile, and for over sixty years led an active business and political life. As a politician he was very zealous and consistent, and squared his politics, as he did his business, by a true moral code.

What we Drink.—Some days ago a citizen of our borough sent several specimens of water, now used by the citizens of this place, to Philadelphia, to the well established firm of Booth & Lorrett, for analysis. Below is the report:

To A. W. Walters, Esq., Dear Sir:—We have made a chemical examination of two waters which you forwarded to us by express, and which we received on the 10th inst. The water marked "No. 1, Town Pump at Mansion House," contained 22 25-100 grains of solid matter per gallon. "No. 2, Henry Snyder's pump," yielded 16 21-100 grains solid matter.

We consider the two waters as very similar, and we consider both waters objectionable by reason of the large amount per gallon of solid matter. They are both objectionable for domestic use, on account of the contents, especially the presence of nitrates, which are attributable to decomposed organic matter, most likely derived from drainage of human dwellings and their accompaniments.

Respectfully Yours,
BOOTH & LORRETT.

Let an individual take a glass of pure water and then add a proper proportion of 1-16 th found in the above analysis, and he would puke; but because he does not prepare the mixture himself, he drinks it with ease, but greatly to the injury of his health.

Our Escape.—A little before four o'clock, on Thursday afternoon of last week, the alarm of fire! fire!! was given by the workmen on Mr. Wallace's new building, on Front street.—Like an electric shock, the alarm spread over the town, and soon all gathered in the vicinity of Macomber's livery stable, where the flames were bursting from the roof. No hooks, no ladders and but few buckets were on hand. About this time it looked as though the whole square north of Market street and between Front and Second streets, including the Shaw House and Mansion House, might as well be surrendered to the fire fiend. But after the nerves of the people settled a little, they went to work, and by herculean efforts, stayed the fire from spreading southward to the stables of the Shaw House and the Mansion House and the adjacent buildings on Market St. Sheriff Pie's stable and wood house, just twelve feet off from the burning livery stable, was used as a breastwork. The fire burning the boards on the outside, and the citizens deluging the inside with water until water prevailed. As soon as the fire was stayed in this direction the mass moved to check it from spreading northward. But by this time Mr. Leavy's and Mr. Wallace's stables were enveloped in flames, and the heat became so intense that no one could approach within fifty feet. Then it was evident that the fire could not be checked until it reached Locust street. Soon the handsome law office and stable of T. J. McCullough and the gymnasium were enveloped in flames. The stables burned like tinder boxes, but Mr. McCullough's office, the walls of which were so compactly built, burned very slowly, and a large portion of it was torn down before it was consumed, and in this manner his large fire-proof safe was saved without sustaining any injury.—Hackman & Green's paint shop was pushed over and rolled down Locust street, out of reach of the flames, and McGaughey's pump shop was demolished by the firemen so as to prevent the fire from spreading to Mr. Adam's feed store. Mr. Naugle's stable, on the west side of the alley, opposite Mr. Pie's, was also torn down, thus preventing the fire from attacking Mr. Row's and the Shaw House stables. The properties consumed were Mr. Macomber's livery stable, Mr. Leavy's, Mr. Wallace's and Mr. McCullough's stables and the latter's law office and the gymnasium. The "burnt district" looks very desolate. Ten thousand dollars will not replace the buildings and the material destroyed. Several families on the west side of Second street had all their furniture moved from their dwellings, having delivered them up to the fire. Had there been any wind at all, we have no doubt the whole square would have been burned up, and the salvation of at least half our borough is a miracle. The fire originated in the hay left of the livery stable, and why that should occur in the middle of the afternoon, when no light was needed, we cannot define. None of the property destroyed was insured.

Fire—Water.—Had our town been blessed with water works, Thursday's fire would have destroyed no more property than Mr. Macomber's stable, and we have no doubt but that the fire would have been drowned out before it got into the lower story of that. Let the reader imagine a fire plug at each end of the alley, and in ten minutes from the time the alarm of fire was made, hose would have been attached to each, and two streams of water would have been flowing. Besides, two lines of hose would have been brought across the lots from Front and Second streets. By such an arrangement fire in an ordinary sized building would be drowned out in twenty minutes after the hose would be put in operation. Reader, recollect that should our water works be put in operation, it will not take half an hour to fire up an engine before water could be thrown on a fire. Not only is the cost and delay of an engine dispensed with, but from the immense fall, 175 feet, nature is substituted and water forced over the highest building in town, and so powerful would be the stream that it would knock a man off the Court House roof, should it strike him. Hundreds of towns which have erected water works, are compelled to pay from $7,000 to $10,000 for engines, in addition to the cost of water works, before the water can be made available in case of fire, from the fact that they cannot obtain fall or head enough to raise the water even to the pavements. With us it would be far different. Just as soon as the hose would be attached to the fire plug, water would begin to flow and with a force far exceeding that of an engine.

Our people will be waited upon by some of the above Committee, and invited to take stock in this Association.

Moving.—The citizens of Pike township in the vicinity where the new bridge across the river was swept away last spring by the ice flood, have raised nearly $1,000 toward rebuilding the bridge, appointed their committee and are busily at work, as though they were in earnest. The abutments are to be raised five feet higher, and they have hauled all the timbers of the Curwensville bridge, fit for use, upon the ground, and expect to have the bridge ready to cross within two months. Mr. Harry Hoover has the contract for putting the structure upon the abutments. The rebuilding will cost between sixteen and eighteen hundred dollars.

It has been carefully and patiently tried in a great number of cases, and has never failed in a single instance to effect a cure. Neither does it act like many remedies now in use, by blunting the nerves, and thus giving only temporary relief, but will act quickly and surely. All who are sufferers from these diseases will find this an infallible remedy; and being anxious that it shall commend itself to the public I refrain from further remarks. If used according to directions, a cure is guaranteed in every case. Price one dollar per bottle. None genuine without the signature of Fred'k Newhouse, Chemist, Philadelphia, Pa. ANNOUNCEMENT

OF THE GREAT

REDUCTION OF PRICES!

BY S. PORTER SHAW, D. D. S.

IMPORTANT TRUTHS:

Having succeeded in getting a lighter tariff on material, hence the low and moderate charge for partial and full sets of Teeth. I use the best manufacture of teeth and other material. All operations registered and warranted to give service and satisfaction.

Friends, reflect that my charges for the insertion of artificial and the saving of the natural teeth are now the most reasonable in Pennsylvania. Preserve your teeth and you preserve your health.

Putting of the natural teeth in a healthy, preservative and useful condition is made a specialty. Diseases and malformations common to the mouth, jaw and associate parts, are treated and corrected with fair success. Examinations and consultations free.

It would be well for patients from a distance to let me know by mail a few days before coming to the office.

It is very important that children between the ages of six and twelve years should have their teeth examined.

Anæsthetics are administered and Teeth removed without pain.

Dispositions and character are judged by all the world by the expression of the face, hence how very disastrous may it therefore be for persons to indulge an expression of distorted features, even apart from a hygienic view. Now, to enjoy natural (not artificial) comforts and pleasures, respect and obey natural simplicities and instinct.

DENTAL CARD.

DR. A. M. HILLS

Would say to his patients and the public generally, that, having dissolved partnership with Dr. Shaw, he is now doing the entire work of his office himself, so that patients need not fear being put under the hands of any other operator.
