CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Vacation of Spruce Alley—Meeting of the Citizens of the Ninth Ward—The Question Discussed—Resolutions, Speeches &c.

Pursuant to the published call, a meeting of the citizens of the Ninth ward, was held last Tuesday evening in the Hall in the basement of the School House of the ward, for the purpose of giving expression in regard to the vacation of a portion of Spruce alley. At least two hundred citizens, embracing members of Council from the Fifth and Ninth wards, were in attendance, and the proceedings were of an extremely harmonious character.

The meeting was called to order by James B. Hill, Esq., upon whose motion John McCargo, Esq., City Controller, was called upon to preside. Mr. J. Z. McKelvey was chosen Secretary.

The Chairman stated the object of the meeting in a few well chosen remarks, after which Mr. James B. Hill offered the following preamble and resolutions for the consideration of the meeting:

WHEREAS, The citizens of the Ninth ward have heard with surprise and indignation of the attempt, on the part of a non-resident of the ward, and a non-resident of the city, to vacate and close up, for his own individual benefit, a portion of Spruce alley, between Carroll and Wilkins street; and

WHEREAS, They have assembled in pursuance of notice, to take action in relation thereto; therefore,

Resolved, That this meeting characterizes this attempt as a most unwarranted and high-handed one, and in direct conflict with the wishes and interests, as this meeting believes, of every citizen of the Ward.

Resolved, That this meeting take early and vigorous steps to prevent this outrage by the appointment of proper committees to prepare remonstrances for Councils, the Court or the Legislature, or wherever the attempt may be made to secure the passage of this iniquitous measure.

Resolved, That to the delegation in the Legislature from this county we enter our protest against any such action by the Legislature as the vacation of this alley, or any portion of it, and earnestly request their individual and united exertions to carry out the wishes of this meeting.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the chair, whose duty it shall be to employ counsel, or take any other steps necessary to carry out the wishes of this meeting.

Resolved, That when this meeting adjourns, it adjourns to meet at the call of the President.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously, without debate, and the following named gentlemen were appointed as the committee provided for in the fourth resolution; Messrs. James B. Hill, William Johnson, William R. Ford, Joseph Spencer, and David McClelland.

On motion of James B. Hill, Esq., the members of Councils from the ward were instructed to vote against the vacation of any street or alley in the city.

Mr. Phillip Drum moved that the thanks of the meeting be tendered those Councilmen of the ward who voted against the proposed vacation of Spruce alley. Carried.

A resolution, requesting those present to give an expression of their opinion in regard to the vacation of Spruce alley was adopted, when Mr. J. McCandless stated that although a large number of streets and alleys in the ward had been vacated, not one cent had been derived by the city from such vacation. In the present case, Mr. Smith was willing to pay liberally for the privilege he desired, and was also satisfied to vacate a portion of his property in order to keep the alley open for travel.

Mr. Drum states the question of money was not being considered. The alley was a general convenience to the citizens, and should remain in its present condition. A public thoroughfare was required at that point, and its vacation would prove detrimental to the public.

Mr. Ezekiel Douglas stated that he owned property on the alley in question, and if Mr. Smith had a right to occupy any portion of it, other property holders should have the same privilege. If the matter was carried out the alley would be built up to the city line.

Alderman Normino said that he had been informed that Mr. Smith had offered $10,000 for the privilege of occupying the alley opposite his works, and in case he succeeded in purchasing the property he would save at least $6,000 by being relieved from grading and paving it.

Mr. William R. Ford, member of the Common Council, remarked that he had never heard of any specified amount being named Mr. Smith had stated to the committee that he was willing to give ground at the lower end of his lots for the purpose of continuing the alley, or would pay any amount for it that Councils might require. A proviso had been inserted in the resolution adopted by Councils that the money accruing from the proposed vacation should be expended in improving the balance of the alley. Mr. Ford spoke strongly against the proposed vacation.

Mr. William Shaffer was opposed to vacating any more streets or alleys in the ward, particularly those running parallel with the river. Spruce alley would at no distant day be opened to the Arsenal gate, at Lawrenceville, and would be a much needed thoroughfare. He was a property holder on the alley, and was willing to pay his share for grading and paving it.

Mr. Hill moved that a copy of the resolutions adopted by the meeting be forwarded to our Representatives at Harrisburg, which was adopted.

Remonstrances against the vacation of the alley were then prepared, and numerously signed, after which the meeting adjourned.

Singular Attempt of a Mother to Drown Herself and two Children.

On Saturday last, a singular affair occurred at Millville, Cambria county, of which we have the following account in the Johnstown Democrat: "Mr. James Bath, Mary his wife, and several small children, are living in Millville borough. Mr. Bath is a miner and works in the coal mines of the Cambria Iron Company. On last Saturday morning his wife got up and prepared breakfast of which they partook. It being early Mr. B. sat down by the stove. Mrs. B. goes into an adjoining room, the sleeping apartment, and takes her two younger children out of bed, one aged two years and the other about six months, she wrapped her dress around them and left the house carrying them along. Her husband soon missed her and starts out to find her; he hears a gurgling noise in the well, runs for his miner's lamp, gives the alarm to the neighbors, and descends into the well; here he finds his wife and children in a drowning condition. He gets a foothold in the rough stone wall of the well, raises his wife's head above the water and holds it between his knees, takes a child in each hand and again calls for help. Mr. Parfit, a neighbor, arrives and takes the children out of the well. A rope is fastened around the waist of Mrs. Bath, and she is raised, the three are taken into the house in an insensible condition. They were then divested of their wet clothing, wrapped in dry blankets, rolled and manipulated until signs of animation returned. Mrs. Bath, and the older child are now fully restored, while the younger child is in a critical condition, and in all probability will not survive. The well is twenty-six and one-half feet deep, and there is ten feet of water in it. The walls are rough and crooked and the diameter small, and had the children been thrown down, or the mother jumped down they must have in their descent received severe contusions, but none appear on their persons. Mrs. B. says she carried the children down in her apron, which appears from the circumstances to be the case.

"There has been no reason assigned why this woman should thus seek to destroy her own and her children's lives. Mr. Bath is a sober, hard working man, and his neighbors say is kind to his family. It appears, however, that at the store his wife had drawn more than the amount of wages coming to him, and further purchases, for the time being, had been stopped. The trouble of poverty may have been an incentive cause, but more likely she is insane."

Instruction Of the Blind.

From the thirty-fourth annual report of the Managers of the Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Blind, in Philadelphia, just issued, we learn the following facts in reference to the operations of the Institution during 1866: The whole number of blind persons in the Institution December 1st, 1866, including "The Home" and workshop, was 181; of which number 29 were received during the year, 32 were discharged, and 2 died; of the whole number, 155 are from Pennsylvania, 18 from New Jersey, 1 from Delaware, and 7 from other places; 31 of the whole number, including 20 in "The Home," support themselves in part, as assistant teachers, or in the manufactory, 5 are paying pupils in full, 18 in part, and 5 are day pupils.

There were manufactured during the year by the male pupils and workmen, 14,417 scrubbing brushes, 3126 hair do., 2184 shoe do., 1122 dust do., 761 wall do., 714 cloth do., 256 window do., 300 horse do., 513 clamps do., 652 miscellaneous do., valued at $5430,01. Also, 20,075 brooms, 75 whisks, 2419 mats, 1430 yards of carpet, valued at $15,110 56. The female inmates and Home inmates made 7174 articles of beadwork, knitting, &c., valued at $2127 23.

The following statistics of all blind persons admitted to the institution will be found interesting: Born blind, 61; in the first year, 121; between one and five years, 103; between five and ten years, 95; between ten and fifteen years, 50; between fifteen and twenty years, 44; over twenty years' 100; ages not given; 18; making a total of 592, of which number 380 were males and 212 females. The Managers in their report say "that each successive year makes the necessity more urgent for finding employment for the pupils when their term of instruction has expired, and they are called upon to labor for their own support. Not having the same facilities for obtaining remunerating employment as the seeing, they are liable to become paupers, a burthen to the community, and, too often, to be consigned to a life of inglorious inactivity or degradation. The number of blind is increasing annually with the rapid increase of the population; and the difficulty with them of procuring a livelihood must become greater and greater, unless adequate means are devised to obviate it."

The Cold Snap.—The cold weather of last Saturday and Sunday extended as far south as New Orleans. A snow storm is reported at Memphis, and a "cold wind" at New Orleans. At St. Louis the thermometer was below zero Sunday morning. At St. Paul, Minn., the thermometer marked 24 below on Saturday. In Chicago it was 18 below Sunday morning at seven o'clock.

Sued for Libel.—The editor of the Crawford Journal, Mr. Leonard Bliss, has been sued for libel, on complaint of Clara G. Hosmer.

Adulteration and Fraud.

We have long been aware that many commodities sold daily in our stores were adulterated and impure; With drugs and spices and many articles of groceries, the practice is prevalant. It is almost impossible to get pure brandy or wine. Oils of every kind are diluted with inferior grades or foreign substances. Perhaps the worst form in which these frauds are exhibited is in the mixing and regrinding of bad flour. An old and highly respectable baker of this city informed us that certain venders are in the habit of having the bran from which extra flour has been taken reground with superior wheat or with sour or musty flour and pack it in new barrels on which they print the similitude of some popular brand and dispose of it to their customers, thus realizing a dollar or two extra profit at the cost of the deceived consumer. Nothing can be more reprehensible than impositions of this sort in an article of daily use and utility among all classes: penal laws against such frauds are on the statue book and we suppose it is the duty of the Inspector of flour to find out. Expose and punish all such rascality. We commend the subject to the attention of the new incumbent of that office who by the faithful discharge of his duty in this respect will prove himself a proper benefactor.

Had to Pay.

Yesterday morning a man named James Dobbs, was arrested by officer Sarber, and taken before Alderman Donaldson, on a charge of false pretences, preferred by Mr. Samuel Fleming. It appears that Dobbs, by means of fraudulent representations, procured a barrel of sweet potatoes on account of the deponent. About eighteen months ago, Mr. Fleming was keeping a grocery store in the Diamond, and the accused was huckstering in the Market. Some sweet potatoes were being hauled to Fleming's grocery in barrels, and Dobbs stopped the teamster, telling him that he had made arrangements with Mr. Fleming, to have one left with him. The barrel was left, and he never paid for it. Subsequently he left the city for Beaver county, and returned for the first time yesterday. At the hearing he paid the price of the potatoes, $5,50, and the costs of the suit, after which he was allowed to depart.

All the Way from Wheeling.

Yesterday afternoon, officers Logan and White, of the special police, came across a woman on Tunnel street, who, with a bundle in one hand and a stick wildly flourishing in the other, was heading a large crowd of children and loafers up the street. She was taken in custody and conveyed to the lock-up, where she stated that her name was Bridget Russel, though some of her more intimate friends called her Biddy. For the present, she said, on account of her friends, she would give her name as Catherine. She had just arrived in the city from Wheeling. She was exceedingly drunk, though she indignantly repelled the imputation, alleging that she never was drunk—"no more drunk than at that blessed minute." She was locked up.

More About the Bull Dog.—We stated yesterday that Alderman Lynch had placed in the hands of officer Connor a search warrant, for searching the premises of Lewis Myers, of Duquesne borough, and ascertaining whether a bull dog belonging to Samuel Wichline were there. Yesterday the officer, in company with the plaintiff, searched the premises, and found the dog. They tied a white handkerchief around the animal's neck and were leading it away, when Myers, as is stated, attacked them with a large open knife, with which he severely cut Wichline's hand, severed the handkerchief, and regained the dog. Wichline next made information against him before the same Alderman for felonious assault and battery, and officer Connor arrested the defendant, who gave bail for a hearing.
