Our Special column is decidedly interesting in a local point of view, and profitable reading to outsiders who want to save money.

The Philipsburg Journal was heavily engaged in the real business and "personal" affairs last week.

It will be observed by an advertisement in this issue that Mr. Passmore offers a good dwelling house and store room for sale, or rent.

Barnum's men will erect the canvas for his immense Circus and Menagerie, to-day (Wednesday), near the Fair Ground in West Clearfield.

Stephen S. DuBois, father-in-law of Mr. Ellsworth, of the Philipsburg Journal, died at Odessa, Schuyler county, New York, on the 19th of April, aged 77 years.

The "spelling bee" epizootic which has been the rage for six months past, convulsing orthographers from circumference to centre, is about "played out," and we have not had a spell yet? What can the matter be?

Dead.—James M. Deise, District Attorney of Clinton county, died at Lock Haven, on the 9th inst., after a lingering illness, aged 42 years. Judge Mayer has appointed William Parsons, Jr., Esq., to fill the vacancy until January next.

Some sacrilegious thief entered the Baptist Church, at Mill Creek, Huntingdon county, a few nights ago, and robbed the contribution box of about twenty dollars. This sum was deposited by the Sabbath School children, by means of penny collections.

A Call.—Ex-Governor Bigler was at home for a few days again, looking more vigorous than he has for years. He is certainly one of the hardest workers now engaged on the Centennial and adheres to the fate of the enterprise with a zeal worthy of the cause and the man.

Sudden Death.—The Lewistown Democrat remarks: "Miss Josie West, of McVeytown, an accomplished and highly esteemed granddaughter of Mr. J. English West, died very suddenly last week. She attended a party, and owing to the chilly weather took a cold, from which she died about thirty-six hours afterward."

Church Dedication.—The new United Brethren Church, at Sanborn, in Woodward township, will be dedicated to the worship of God, on Sunday, June 6th, 1875. Rev. J. A. Clem, assisted by one or two other ministers, will conduct the services. An invitation is extended to all to be present.

Accident.—Rev. B. F. Stevens, of this place, while in the wood-house exercising himself with an ax on some firewood, the other day, cut himself very severely in the ankle, from which he suffers considerable pain and inconvenience. It was really an accident that he did not split his foot in twain. He can handle "the sword of the spirit" far more safely than one of Mann's double-bitters.

The Lancaster Intelligencer says: "Miss Jane E. Leonard, for several years past teacher of Geography and History in the State Normal School, Millersville, Pa., has been recently elected to a similar position in the Normal School at Indiana, Pa. Should the Board of Trustees accept her resignation, the institution will lose a teacher who, by long experience and study, has qualified herself for the position which she so ably and satisfactorily fills."

Dr. Gibson, of Williamsport, a juror in attendance at the United States Court, at Pittsburgh, died suddenly, on Tuesday evening of last week, at the house of a friend, near the last named city, where he had been visiting. The deceased was an esteemed citizen of Williamsport, and a physician of eminence. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and has a brother who is a minister in the same denomination and a member of the Erie Conference.

The Cheapest Book in the World.—The Life of P. T. Barnum, written by himself, 900 pages, illustrated. Reduced from $3.50 to $1.50 with free admission to all who buy it to The Great Traveling World's Fair, which will exhibit here to-day (Wednesday). Horace Greeley said this book was "worth a $100 greenback to a beginner," and none know better than the philosopher of the Tribune the elements of instruction necessary to enter into a successful life.

Reserve Re-union.—Williamsporters are making huge arrangements to welcome the Pennsylvania Reserves at the re-union, which is to come off in that city on the 3d of June. They may neglect to do some things entirely down there, but they never do any half-way business when they get started. The people have organized and appointed the proper Committees which settles the question. A beautiful day will witness the largest pic-nic that ever assembled on the West Branch.

Larceny.—On Saturday night last, after Mr. John Stadler had closed his confectionery—neglecting, however, to shut the shutters to his low window—some feloniously inclined party broke one of the panes of glass in the window, and stole therefrom a box of cigars, which were there as a sign that such goods were sold inside. The glass was extra heavy French plate, and it will put Mr. Stadler to considerable expense to replace it. Under existing circumstances, it would be well to take every precaution against inroads by thieves.

Bodies Found.—The Clinton Democrat, of the 15th inst., says: "On Monday morning, the body of Old Uncle Billy Hoover, of Wheatham, drowned at Queen's Run Dam on the 8th of April, was found in the boom, near the Island. Coroner Pierson summoned Henry Motts, Peter Meitzler, W. M. Bennett, Chas. Sherwood, George Harder and B. E. Wyman as an inquest, who reported a verdict of accidental drowning."

Also: "The body of Nathan Gainer, drowned on the 10th of April, while engaged in rafting on Barker's Run, about ten miles above the mouth of the Sinnemahoning, in Centre county, was found last Sunday morning by O. W. Watson, who was passing across the river in a canoe. His pole struck the body in the water, which by its means was towed to the canoe, and with the assistance of Mr. John A. Cook brought to shore. The body was found about 400 yards from where it was last seen to sink. The remains were taken to the residence of Gainer' mother at Hickory Hill, Keating township, this county, and on Monday were buried."

The Lecture Stage.—To help the Lutheran church along (?) we, with others, repaired to Pie's Opera House, the other evening, to hear a lecture on "Horace Greeley as a Hero." The hero we were well acquainted with, but the lecturer was a stranger. Well, we heard it. We have listened to Saxe and Gough, Phillips and Fred. Douglass, Pomeroy and Nasby, Beecher and Tilton (not in the Brooklyn case), the "silver-tongued" Daugherty, and the "hors" sea farmer, (when he negotiated with a Jefferson county farmer for 500 cucumber trees); we have been "spell-bound" by Anna Dickinson, Olive Logan, Mrs. Livermore, and a number of younger and more aged lecturing sisters, and have, therefore, our ears pretty well tuned in the lecture line, yet the effort of Rev. C. T. Steck, delivered on the evening of the 11th inst., in our judgment, was far [illegible] the average, although he had rather an unpopular "hero" [illegible] subject. The said "hero" did not disturb the audience [illegible] but some had boys tried their best to produce a stampede.

Although but young in the field as a lecturer, Mr. Steck has already superceded at least three-fourths of the profession, in our estimation. He is in possession of qualities which go very far to make up a popular lecturer, which a majority of the profession have failed to acquire after years of thought and labor, and more than that, they never will. If Mr. Steck possesses the dogged perseverance of his "hero," he will succeed to the plane held in the lecture field by Saxe, Gough and Phillips five years hence—enough to satisfy the ambition of any ordinary mortal. He is in possession of the drawings and understands them, now let him execute the work. Study, labor, and effort, is what tunnels mountains, etc., and turns out good lecturers, lawyers, doctors, mechanics and farmers. Work and study banishes sin and folly.

Horace Greeley will get far more credit for his good deeds ten years hence, when his political vagaries and moral foibles will be forgotten. Then, and not till then, will the "hero" properly electrify the audience and, of course, support the speaker. Notwithstanding these small faults, Mr. Greeley was the possessor of the broadest and grandest views ever entertained by man, and if they could be instilled into at least one-half of the human family, the world would be an improvement on the Garden of Eden at the end of a few generations. He detested in his very soul all hypocrites, liars and blackguards.

The Cadet Appointments.—Last Thursday, the 13th inst., was the time, and Lock Haven the place, for the examination of applicants for the Naval Cadetship in the XXth Congressional District. The counties now comprising our District were formerly included in no less than four other Districts. Clearfield and Elk belonged to the Erie District; Centre and Clinton to the Tioga District; Mifflin to the Blair District, and Union to the Dauphin District. Now these counties form a separate District and are, therefore, entitled to a West Point Cadetship. Hence, the apparent vacancy, as some term it, at West Point.

The Committee, appointed by Congressman Mackey, consisted of Dr. R. V. Wilson, of Clearfield; Prof. D. H. Hastings, of Bellefonte, and Prof. A. N. Raab, of Lock Haven, who met as indicated for the examination of applicants.

The applicants were nine in number, as follows:

Centre county—S. E. Reitley, Jas. A. Leyden, Dorris Gingrey.

Clearfield county—Ed. Grimburg, William T. Humphrey.

Mifflin county—Edward J. Thompson, George Mitchell.

Clinton county—Edwin Metz, Ed. J. Larkins.

Union county—Robert J. Kemble.

It will be observed that the competition was pretty lively.

The appointment to the United States Military Academy, at West Point, remains open for applicants until the 27th of May.

Osceola School Building.—The Osceolans are not going to be behind in the school building line. A contract has been made to erect a first-class building during the Summer. The Breeze in alluding to the enterprise says:

The ground plan of the main part of the building is 35x66 feet, with a front 25x38, being I shaped. The first floor, main part, is 24x64, and may be divided by a partition. The front is 24 feet six inches by 24 feet, inside, and is divided from the main wings by a hall 10 feet in width by 64 feet in length. The second floor, left wing, is 24x32, the right wing being same size, and the room in front of the up-stairs hall is 24 feet six inches by 44 feet in length. The elevation is 30 feet to the square of the building, and the cupola is 21 feet high from the base wall. Viewing the front and side elevations, the building will present a very handsome and symmetrical appearance.

The following is a list of the bids under consideration:

H. C. Parks, building $5,378; wall per perch, $2.85; plastering per yd., 35 cents, making a total estimate of about $5,900. S. Y. Henderson, total for building, stone work and plastering, $7,140; Andrew Stover, $7,400; James Gleiter, $8,030; J. W. Hater, $7,500; Bair & Jauyer, $8,000; Mays & Hamerly, $6,560.

For Plastering—S. J. Martin, total, $365; A. R. Martin, per yard, 38 cents; Vanvalin Brothers, total, $700.

For Masons Work—William Singer, per perch, $3.10; J. W. Hendershot, $3.50.

For Painting—H. Ribbling, $484.

The bid of Mr. Parks being the lowest, the contract was duly awarded to him, for the entire completion of the building.

Greenwood Organized.—The citizens of the new township of Greenwood, held their election on the 11th, and have "set up housekeeping on their own account." The officers elected are as follows:

Justices of the Peace—Isaac Keefer, John W. Bell.

Constable—Aaron H. Newcomer.

Assessor—David Bell.

Judge of Election—David Lee.

Inspectors of Election—Jesse Keefer, David Mitchell.

Supervisors—George D. McCracken, Conrad Hallihan.

Overseers of Poor—Geo. M. Passmore, Joseph Newcomer.

School Directors—James Stephenson, 1 year; J. Q. A. Johnston, 1 year; John A. Rowles, 2 years; John P. Hoyt, 2 years; T. J. Thompson, 3 years; John S. Johnston, 3 years.

Town Clerk—Charles A. Thorp.

District Treasurer—Wilson McCracken.

The aggregate vote polled was about 70, and it looks to us at this distance as though party would be pretty evenly divided at the general election—the Democrats coming out a little ahead.

Look Here, Housekeepers!—Here is a hint for you, and a very important one. Merely covering up a bed with blankets and counterpanes will no more keep it dry than a pane of glass will keep out the light. The atmospheric moisture will penetrate all woven fabrics. Hence the importance of keeping the beds in spare rooms regularly aired. Many a dear friend or welcome visitor has been sent to an untimely grave or afflicted with disease by being put into a bed which had been permitted to stand unventilated. Keep the spare beds, when not in use, free from all covering but a light spread.

U. S. Circuit Court.—In this Court, on motion of Schaffer's counsel, Messrs. Weir and Gibson, the case of the United States vs. Joseph Lansberry, indicted for the murder of Cyrus Butler, was continued until the November term of Court, at Pittsburgh, for the following reasons:

1st. That he was arrested on the 28th day of March, 1875, since which time he has been confined in prison.

2d. That the witnesses material to his defense are scattered over a wide extent of country, and will take much labor and more time than he has had since his arrest to procure their attendance at this term of Court; that he has exercised all the diligence he could to be ready for trial at this term, but has failed to find, by diligent inquiry through every source open to him, the present places of residence of William Stevens, a witness material to his defense.

3d. He took out a subpoena shortly after his arrest and by direction of counsel had it [illegible] to be served on all of his witnesses, believing he would be able to secure the said William Stevens, for the reasons before stated; that he cannot go to trial safely without this witness, for that he believes he resides within the jurisdiction of this Court, and that he can procure his attendance at the next term.

4th. That there are other important and material witnesses for whom he has a subpoena out, who, he, the said defendant is informed, have not been and cannot be found and served in time to secure their attendance at the present term.

[Signed] Joseph Lansberry.

Death from a Grain of Corn.—On the 10th inst., Willis Reed, son of Robt. A. Thompson, of York township, aged about five years, died from the effects produced by a grain of corn. The corn lodged in his throat, and the little fellow was operated upon by the family physician for its removal, but during the operation the corn descended into the lungs beyond reach, from which he suffered very much for about three weeks, when he died.—York Gazette.
