Our Special column is decidedly interesting in a local point of view, and profitable reading to outsiders who want to save money.

In order that all hands connected with the REPUBLICAN may enjoy a week of rest during the holidays, no paper will be issued from this office next week.

A considerable quantity of snow fell during last week, and the sleighing now is tolerably good.

●The stockholders of the Clearfield Fire Brick Company will hold an election for officers on Saturday a week.

Rev. Geo. W. Miller, of Bellefonte, lectured at Tyrone, on Friday evening, on "Shams." The combination was complete.

A Christmas service will be held in the Clearfield M. E. church, at 6 o'clock on Christmas morning. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The loss miller was having a patch put on his trousers, is the reason given for the suspension of business at the Tyrone city mill one day last week.

Three car loads of young hemlock trees have been shipped from St. Mary's, Elk county, to Philadelphia, to be used in embellishing the Centennial grounds.

ONE LESS.—Samuel Bowers, a soldier of the war of 1812, died in Punxsutawney, on Sunday, December 5th, aged 86 years. He resided in that borough ever since 1825.

It is doubtful if Representative Rawline, of Blair county, will be able to take his seat in the legislature this winter, because of illness. Mr. Rawline was in bad health last session.

Sheriff McPherson occupies a goodly portion of our advertising space again, with his sales of real estate. What a cheering prospect is presented to the people for a long, cold winter.

When the glad Christmas morning arrives and there is the same peal of praise that, from year to year, has spread across the world, for eighteen centuries, what will you have done to make others happy?

A convention of Poor Directors of this State is announced to be held in Altoona on the 19th, 20th and 21st days of January, 1876, for the purpose of deliberating upon the best method of abating the great tramp nuisance.

Somebody says that a load of coal or a bag of flour given to the destitute and deserving poor will bring a man nearer heaven than ninety-nine prayers, each two hours long. Will somebody try the experiment and let us know?

The list of jurors as well as the trial list for January term will be found in this issue. The indications are that there will be a large number of Commonwealth cases on hand for the first week, hence there are no civil causes set down for trial.

RATHER STABLE.—Joshua Beale, one of the oldest citizens of Juniata county, died at his residence at Beale's Mills, on the 27th ult., aged 84 years. He died on the farm on which he was born, and on which his father settled in the year 1768.

The administrator of the estate of Philander Smith, deceased, late of Lawrence township, will sell some valuable farm stock at public sale on Friday, the 24th inst., among the number five thoroughbred cattle. See the advertisement in to-day's paper.

TO THE POINT.—"The Lock Haven Republican tells the truth in the following items: "The man who will run a cord of wood and use the proceeds to pay his store bill is worth more to a community than a dozen fellows who sit lamented about the hard times behind a bar room stove."

BUSINESS.—Sunbury makes its tramps pay pretty well—in advance, too—for what they get to eat. The borough authorities have decided to compel them to work three hours on the streets for corn meal, and the same time for lodging. Three meals and a night's sleep would cost twelve hours work.

"Among the Breakers," a new and highly interesting series commences—"searching for happiness," among the finest scenic sets—"Shakspeare's Seven Ages of Man," illustrative of the journey of life from the cradle to the grave, in itself well worth the price of admission. By the Leonard Literary Association, on Thursday evening. Don't fail to see them.

The Punxsutawney Spirit claims that Thomas Mehaffey, Esq., is the oldest coach maker in the State, having worked at the business for 57 years. The editor in question says, "His chairs are noted for their durability—there being none in the country that have passed through two generations, and yet show no signs of going to pieces." Mr. McKee was also a law maker about twenty years ago.

The weather prophets, or at least those of the number who said there would not be a hard freeze until after the 20th of December, are considerably taken par in this market. On Friday night last the river froze solid from shore to shore, and the indications now are that it will stay in that condition for some time. And the heart of the ice man is cheered at the prospect of a big crop of the congealed aqua.

PUNNY EXCITER.—The Brinker-Al. [illegible] exciting society at Big Run, pass time by, in the daily and nightly conversation of Punxsutawneyites and Big Runners. The affair is one of the most audacious and wickedest ever perpetrated in the rural portions of the State. New York or Philadelphia crackmen could not put up a better job. The rogues at Brookville [illegible] and develop the case according to law.

CONCERT.—A concert by a class of fifty scholars of Prof. Ogden's singing school, will be given in Pie's Opera House, on Friday evening, December 24th. The programme consists of instrumental and vocal music, introducing solos, duets, trios, quartetts, choruses and character songs. The principal part of the entertainment will be rendered by the young people of our town, trained by and under the direction of the Professor. Miss Ella A. Olara will preside at the organ. Admission 25 and 35 cents. See programes.

PARENTS, SAVE YOUR CHILDREN.—Mr. Moody relates the following: "There was a little story going the round of the American press that made a great impression upon me as a father. A father took his little child out into the field, one Sabbath, and he lay down under a beautiful tree, and fell into a happy sleep." The little child ran about gathering wild flowers and little tufts of grass, coming to its father and saying 'pretty! pretty!' At last the father fell asleep, and while he was sleeping the little child wandered away! When he awoke, his first thought was: "Where is my child?" He looked all around but he could not see him. He shouted at the top of his voice. Running to a little hill, he looked around and shouted again, but no answer came back save the echo of his own voice. He jumped up! Then going to a promontory some distance, he looked down, and there upon the rocks and waves, he saw the poor child from one of his loved child. He rushed to the place, but ere he could reach it, the waves had engulfed it in their bosom, and seemed a mocking demon to laughing at his agony. While he was weeping the child had wandered over the precipice.

"Do you not see a lesson here, and a picture of the Church of God? How many fathers and mothers, yea many Christian men are sleeping now, while their children wander over the terrible precipice, a thousand times more than that precipice, right into the bottomless gulf of hell! Father, where is our boy tonight? Is many lost? and here in some public house? Is may be reeling through the streets of London, drunk; or may be pressing on down to a drunkard's grave. How many fathers and mothers are there in London—yes, praying Christians too—whose children are wandering away while they are slumbering and sleeping! Is it not time that the Church of God should wake up, and come to the help of the Lord, as one man, and strive to beat back those dark waves of death that roll through our streets, bearing upon their bosom the noblest young men we have? O, my God, wake up the Church! And let us trim our lights and go forth and work for the kingdom of God."

THE ENTERTAINMENT.—We can cordially commend to the patronage of the public the entertainment to be given on Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Leonard Literary Association Library. The members have undertaken a work which is properly encouraged and supported will confer a lasting benefit upon the young people of our town. This enterprise has assumed a business like attitude, and no doubt can be now entertained as to its permanency and success. The persons engaged in this laudable work are determined that success shall crown their efforts, and will leave nothing undone to make their entertainment both profitable and amusing. It has cost them much time and labor in the preparation, which we learn are ample, and from the programme we anticipate a first class performance, and bespeak a full house to greet our amateur theatricals.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE SHORT STOPS.—Monday evening Prof. Collier, who delivered a lecture on chemistry before the Institute last year, will lecture on Mt. Vesuvius, Herculaneum, Pompeii, etc. Having paid a personal visit to those places, he is enabled to give his audience an interesting lecture.

Tuesday evening, Rev. Jesse B. Young of Curwensville, will have for his subject, The Story of a Great Battle.

Wednesday evening, Deputy State Superintendent Carry will deliver a lecture on education.

Thursday evening, Readings by Miss Chidester, whose readings are highly spoken of throughout this and other States.

The lectures will be decidedly entertaining, and will be free on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

A CHANCE FOR EXCURSIONISTS.—All offices on the Pennsylvania railroad and branches will sell excursion tickets on the 23d, 24th and 25th, and again on the 30th and 31st instant. All such tickets will be good to return on until the 5th of January. No ticket for less than forty cents will be sold. The discount on excursion tickets is about 33 per cent. To illustrate: The regular car fare from Clearfield to Philipsburg and return is $1. Sixty-six cents will take you over the road by securing your tickets on the days above designated.

Those who have the time and cash, and have a desire to visit Philadelphia, Pittsburg, or intermediate places, can make 33 per cent. by doing so within the time (two weeks) named.

Susquehanna township declines the distinguished honor (?) of claiming as her own the two females now in jail on the charge of setting fire to Mr. Lansberry's mills. The sweet-scented pair hail from Brisbane township, Clearfield county, and are said to be the most degraded wretches that have ever yet been incarcerated in our county prison. The evidence against them is said to be very strong, and there is a strong probability that they will be convicted.—Cambria Freeman.

That is not the proper way for a journalist to express himself before a trial. The court and jury might think otherwise after hearing the evidence. In that event the editor's opinion would be considerably damaged. All parties are esteemed innocent until proven guilty. Therefore, it would be better to allow the courts to have their own way in such matters.

A fire at Williamsport, on Thursday morning, December 16th, completely destroyed the large planing mill of Hotchkiss & Barber, together with a million and a half feet of lumber. The fire reached the yard of Hulsart & Foreman, destroying one million of shingles and their office. White, Lentz & White lost about sixty thousand feet of lumber. Augustus Culver, watchman in the planing mill, was burned to death while trying to save his dog. The fire was near the heart of the lumber district, and at one time it was feared that there would be a terrible conflagration. The entire loss is estimated at $87,000, with an insurance of $29,000.

TRUE EDUCATION.—A child beginning to read becomes delighted with a newspaper, because he reads of names of things with are familiar, and he will progress accordingly. A newspaper in one year is worth a quarter's schooling to a child, and every father should consider that information is connected with advancement. The mother of a family, being one of its heads, and having a more intimate charge of children, should herself be instructed. A mind occupied becomes fortified against the ills of life, and is braced for emergency. Children amused by reading or study are, of course, more considerate and easily governed.

LOOK OUT FOR THE ROGUES.—"The very latest and best thing out" is a powder which is sold by traveling frauds to prevent coal oil lamps from exploding. They will insist on putting it in the lamp, and then want twenty-five cents for it, and in many cases succeed in swindling innocent persons. It is said that these accomplices make $20 to $25 a day, in a single day, out of that which does not cost them twenty cents, and the lamp just as liable to explode as before they put their powder into it.

Wanamaker & Brown, clothiers, of Philadelphia, are a responsible firm. They make up men's and boy's clothing and make them right. Their prices are remarkably low, and the wonder is how they can be so low. The best of all is, however, they have but one price for each article, and that price all must pay alike. There is no such thing as "jewing" allowed. If you buy there you always know that you are getting your money's worth and nicely can buy cheaper.

THE DEVIL'S VICTORY.—For several weeks we had been debating the question in our mind whether to issue a REPUBLICAN during the holidays. Finally we left it to a vote of the office, something in a tie, until the devil came in and settled the question by an emphatic "No." The imp always has the casting vote in every well regulated office. Hence our readers need not go to the Post Office next week for the purpose of lifting this journal.

The Teachers' Institute will begin its sessions in Pie's Opera House, on Monday morning next, the 27th inst. The Superintendent, Mr. Gregory, has done his part towards making this session of the institute a pleasant and profitable one. Now, let teachers, directors and parents see to it that he is encouraged by their co-operation and presence. A number of interesting lectures will be delivered during the week.

CHRISTMAS.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Penfield Presbyterian church will hold a Festival and Festival on Christmas day—afternoon and evening. Dinner, 12 to 2 p. m.; oysters, 5 to 10 p. m.; Fair, 12 to 10 p. m. They solicit contributions of money or of articles to sell—from house to house or store—to be sent to the Secretary, Mrs. L. Bird. Mrs. H Woodward, Pres.; Mrs. L. Bird, Sec.; Mrs. A. Scofield, Treas. 2t

"Jimmy" Lytle has removed his grocery store from Pie's Opera House to one of the rooms in the Kratzer building, on the opposite side of the street. His customers will find him snugly fixed up in the new place and ready to furnish them with first class groceries of every description.

A free smoke at R. H. Shaw's, on Clearfield square, from 8 to 11 o'clock. Good tobacco and cigars always on hand, and very cheap for cash.

GREAT FIRE IN MILTON.—The Southern borough of Milton, Northumberland county, had a hundred thousand dollar fire scourge last week. We are indebted to the Williamsport Bulletin for a synopsis of the losses, etc.

The fire broke out about 6 o'clock on Sunday evening, the 5th, in the Riverside Hotel, on Main street, in the centre of the Hang and Goodlander block. About a quarter of eleven o'clock the flames burst through the roof of the hotel, and almost simultaneously the large three-story buildings on both sides of it were enveloped in flames. The scene became appalling. The steamer from Lewisburg arrived at this time, and soon heavy streams of water were poured on the burning pile, but with little effect. There seemed to be no chance of saving all the Strawberry, short of Broadway, as the buildings were all connected, but the firemen worked manfully and succeeded about two o'clock in the morning in getting it under control at the store of George L. Piper, not, however, until the building had been damaged by fire and water to the amount of $1,500.

The fire extended to an alley below, taking in the rear of the First National Bank, and thence down the handsome three story iron front building known as the Hoffmeier block, occupied by Samuel A. Wallace, druggists, G. W. Grove, clothing, and Charles Kramer, boots and shoes, which was entirely destroyed. Below reaching Piper's store room, the buildings of J. F. Gangez, and Van Antwerp, were slightly damaged, occupied and owned by Ewe & Sons, were destroyed.

LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

The Riverside Hotel was a handsome three-story brick building, of by 110 feet, owned by Henry Heath, whose loss is $20,000; no insurance of $17,000. The National bank was in this building. Nothing was saved from the hotel portion. The National bank lost, beside their safe, about $600 in valuables were all removed to the Milton National bank, leaving nothing in their vaults but some old books of little value.

D. K. Hang occupied and owned the next building, which was also three stories, and consisted of two handsome store rooms, each 20 by 110 feet. One of these was occupied by D. K. Hang as a stationery store, and the other by D. K. Hang & Sons as a hardware store, in which at the time there was said to be the largest stock of hardware in northern Pennsylvania. This building and contents were entirely destroyed. Loss about $45,000; insured for $13,000. The second floor of this building was occupied by John Miller, justice of the peace, J. Kurtz, job printing office, and Eli Slenker, photographer. Mr. Slenker being absent at the time, lost everything, amounting probably to $600, on which there was no insurance. Miller's and Kurtz's loss is trifling. The third floor was used by the Knights of Pythias. They saved everything.

THE GOODLANDER BLOCK.

The Goodlander block contained three handsome store rooms, one of which was occupied as a drug store by Sanford & Waldron. It is said their loss is not heavy, and is fully covered. G. W. Grove, merchant tailor, saved nearly everything; loss probably $300. Charles Kramer, boots and shoes, saved everything. This building has a complete iron front for three stories, and the outside shell is kept from falling, the front remaining intact. It was owing to the Goodlander heirs, whose loss will be from $10,000 to $12,000; insured for $8,000. The third floor was used as a Masonic lodge room, from which everything was saved except a stove. In 1859 a handsome building occupying the same site was burned.

A CARD.

With your permission we desire to express, through your paper, the profound gratitude we feel towards this community for the generous kindness and sympathy they have extended to us in our crushing bereavement, in the death of our son. The constant stream of kindness that flowed to us in our affliction, and contributed vastly to soften the pangs of grief, can never be repaid, but will ever be cherished in grateful remembrance.

The tender care and kind sympathy bestowed on Charley by Mr. Hughes and blagthumable wife and family, at 422 Cherry street, Philadelphia, could not be acknowledged at parting with them, in a proper manner, because of the deep anguish then felt at the death of our son. They are assured that while memory lasts they will not be forgotten. Nor can we ever fail to remember with heartfelt gratitude the kind and unremitting medical attention of Doctor Simpson, of 35 Pine street, Philadelphia, and Professor Wallace, of Jefferson Medical College. If it were possible for us to express in language the gratitude of a father and the deep and holy well of a mother's love, we could make a fitting acknowledgment. In our desolate home the prayers of an afflicted mother and grief stricken father will not cease to remember the good and generous souls who ministered to every want of our boy, and who by all that kind hands could do, directed by christian counsel, eased his passage to the tomb. May God in His mercy long spare these kind friends a similar bereavement. Gratefully,

MR. AND MRS. H. W. PARK.

A SUITABLE GIFT.—We know of no present more suitable for a holiday offering than a copy of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. Besides furnishing a continuous and almost inexhaustible channel of valuable instruction, its illustrations will be found a capital means of amusement to the old as well as the young. It has long been regarded the standard work of orthography and pronunciation, and we have yet to learn of any business, trade or profession which does not find full recognition among its hundreds of pages. To the minister, editor, professional gentleman and school, it is indispensable, and at a time almost at hand when it will be esteemed equally so in the home circle.—Frank Leslie.

LEONARD GRADED SCHOOL.—The pupils named below are commended for their general excellence in their respective grades, for the month ending Dec. 6, 1875:

High School—A Grade—J. F. Sayder, W. A. Hagerty, Pasceline Wilson, Blanche Fleming.
B Grade—Elmer Bletzenberger, Harvey Wells, Charles Bickel, Carrie Test, Ida Gearhart.
Grammar Department—D Grade—Susie Brown.
E Grade—Nannie Shaw.
F Grade—Agnes Mullen, Clara Howe, Julia Kittlesberger, Emma Heckman, Nora Norris.

B. C. YOUNGMAN.

The editors of the Mahoning Valley Spirit, have a book belonging to Thos. J. Cooper, of Punxsutawney, which was once the property of Captain John Brady. On the fly leaf in the original owners name, with the date 1785.—Sic. We have got a more interesting relic than that here in Lewisburg. Mrs. Nancy Eckert, residing with the Misses Lyndall, is the youngest daughter of Mr. John Brady, a son of Captain John Brady. This lady is some sixty years of age, and is able to relate many interesting incidents of the life of the father and son, both of whom were famous as Indian fighters.—Lewisburg Journal.

DISTRESSING FATAL ACCIDENT.—Another of those terribly unfortunate hunting accidents occurred near Hautsdale on Thursday, by which Eugene Wooden, of Hautsdale, a young man well known in this place, lost his life. He was hunting in company with Harry Test, and while the two were separated, by the accidental discharge of his gun, which was loaded with buckshot, was instantly killed. The charge of buckshot is reported to have entered under his chin and passed out of the top of his head. Precisely how the accident occurred is not known at this writing.—Philipsburg Journal.

The Tyrone Democrat says:

Mr. Perry Green, an old resident of Birmingham, was brought to this place from Snow Shoe Intersection, on the Bald Eagle train, on Friday noon last, suffering from a paralytic stroke. He had come to the Intersection on the Snow Shoe train and it is supposed he was stricken down while waiting at the station for this place. After arrival here he was taken to the Ward House, and during the afternoon revived somewhat, but did not regain his speech. He was sent to Birmingham on the afternoon train and, we learn, is slowly recovering.

RIGHT-OUS.—The Huntingdon Globe says:

Hereafter there will be a poor show for persons who carry trifling assault and battery cases to court. Judge Dean has decided that the grand jury must examine the evidence fully in charges of this nature, and unless the ends of justice would be frustrated thereby, the bills are to be ignored, the costs divided between the parties. This will put a stop to a great deal of useless litigation which should never appear in court.

The large woolen mills of Halfpenny & Noel, near Beth Mills, Blair county, were totally destroyed by fire, on Monday morning of last week. The fire started in the roof, from a flue, and in consequence of a strong wind blowing at the time, all efforts to check the flames were useless. The Mills contained four acts of carders, which together with the stock were valued at $15,000 with an insurance of $2,500. They will not be rebuilt.—Huntingdon Monitor.

Mrs. Mary Schnebly, aged 103, residing near Hagerstown, Md., proposes attending the Centennial Celebration. She is described as rather tall, a full figure, active in her movements, and remarkably well preserved, considering her advanced age. She is in the full possession of her faculties, remembering and discussing intelligently the principal events of a century.

The Record of the Adams county elections has not been lodged near 160 tramps during the month of November.
