

FACULTY SPOTLIGHT! MR. R. ALAN PRICE

A recent addition to the Collegian has been an interview with a member of the faculty in order to better acquaint the students with their backgrounds. Mr. R. Alan Price, Instructor of English, is the subject for this spotlight feature.

Mr. Price pursued his undergraduate studies at Lafayette College, Earlham College, University of London, and the University of Edinburgh. He received his Master's Degree from Penn State University and did further study at Oxford University. Within the next few years he plans to return to study for his Ph. D.

Hobbies that interest Mr. Price are golf, tennis, oil painting, and travel. In the future he would like to teach tennis or golf and perhaps organize intramural competition in the two sports.

Activities in which he participates on campus are: Student Affairs Committee, Chairman of the Library Committee, Faculty Nominating Committee, and advisor to the Non-Club Club.

He is also particularly active in the dramatic area. Spring Term of 1967 he directed "The Lottery." This past Fall Term he was instrumental in organizing the first annual "Faculty-Student Comariety Show" which he also directed and co-produced with Mr. Len Shaeval.

SAL DEFazio TO PERFORM IN CONCERT

Sal DeFazio, freshman, a talented and creative pianist has been requested to perform, in concert, on May 23, 1968. His recital will be given at the Mining Mechanical Institute, Freeland, at 8 P.M.

He will offer a varied repertoire of classical music. Selections by Beethoven and Engleman will be a major part of his performance.

However, the true highlight of the evening will come with his original interpretations and compositions. "A Song" and "A Bagatel" are two of his own selections. Also, variations of Beethoven's Symphony #6 (Pastoral) as transcribed for the piano by Mr. DeFazio will be performed.

"Sonata in 'C' Major (op. 3), composed by Sal, is one of the composer's most acclaimed pieces. While attending Mining Mechanical, a special award was given him for composition and performance of this sonata.

Student Government Association, Belles-Lettres and the Non-Club Club are sponsoring the concert. John Gallagher, Belles-Lettres President, will serve as Master of Ceremonies. Admission is free, and the concert is open to all.

READERS TRAVEL TO UNIVERSITY PARK

Joe Rusnock, Lia Ciotola, Peggy Astleford, and Nancy Ancharski, the four winners of the Highacres' Reading Festival, traveled to University Park on April 25 and 26. They participated in the Twentieth Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Interpretative Reading Festival with Mr. Andrew Kafka as their advisor.

Miss Astleford and Miss Ancharski read selections from Lawrence Ferlinghetti's "Coney Island of the Mind", and Mr. Rusnock and Miss Ciotola read excerpts from George Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman".

Readings ranged from Shakespeare, to Dickinson, from Hemingway to Faulkner. Other participating colleges were Mansfield State, Juniata College, Behrend Campus of P.S.U., Dubois Campus of P.S.U. and Towson State.

Dr. Wallace Bacon of Northwestern University was the guest speaker for the festival. He presented an interesting lecture-recital entitled "The Act of Interpretation."

A banquet was held for all participants, and tickets were provided for the Playhouse Theatre presentation of "Marat/Sade."

MISS GOODMAN IN MAGUIRE FLICK

Miss Susan Goodman, Instructor of French and English, has begun her work on the Paramount Set in Eckley.

Miss Goodman was recently selected from a large group of female hopefuls for the part of a Miner's Wife, Mrs. McAndrew, in the film "The Molly Maguires."

Her co-stars include Richard Harris, Samantha Eggar, Sean Connery, and Tony Costello.

This will be Miss Goodman's premiere as a Hollywood starlet, and the Hazleton Campus wishes her every success. The Collegian especially extends its congratulations and warm wishes for as advisor to this newspaper, Miss Goodman has been of invaluable assistance.
