Our Special column is decidedly interesting in a local point of view, and profitable reading to outsiders who want to save money.

Eggs-actly so! Next Sunday, the 16th, is Easter.

James Gallagher has been appointed Postmaster at New Washington, this county.

Charley Aughenbaugh, of Philipsburg, has located in Curwensville, where he has secured an interest in a drug store.

Rev. Wm. H. Dill filled the pulpit of the M. E. Church, in this place, on last Sunday morning and evening. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Stevens, is absent from home.

Several of our anxious sportsmen were out trout-fishing one day last week. They did not succeed in making a very good catch, as the snow was nearly knee-deep along the banks of the stream.

How much more satisfactory it is to have the same price for the same garments to everybody, as they do at Wanamaker & Brown's Great Clothing House, at 6th and Market streets, Philadelphia.

A Great Shame.—No less than four nice young men are lying in our prison at the present time charged with fornication. A pretty place for young men in the midst of the rafting season, or any other time.

Brighter days are coming—just think of it! Blue-birds, dandelions, caravans, scissors-grinders, artichokes, violets and hand-organs, will soon sing, shine, show, sharpen, scent and shriek that Spring has come. Strange, but true!

Merchants, Look Here!—It will be observed by a foot-note to Treasurer McGaughey's tax notice, that he desires merchants to meet him at the places designated and fill their licenses for 1876, so as to enable them to do business legally.

Jas. H. Lytle is now unloading three car loads of goods, in the shape of groceries, fish, salt, coal-oil, &c. This is a large stock to get at one time in these panic and uncertain times, but "Jimmy" is an enterprising business man, and knows how to buy and how to sell.

In Position.—We learn by the Watchman that the Messrs. Johnson have again rented the Brokerhoff House in Bellefonte, and are now the hosts therein. Ex-Sheriff Perks vacated the establishment last week, and has taken up his abode at his old home in Philipsburg.

Mr. John Murray, of Hollidaysburg, son of the late Colonel Murray, of the 84th Reg't., Pa. Vol., has been appointed Bank Assessor for this and adjoining counties by Auditor General Temple. In a business way, Mr. Murray's appointment is an improvement on many of his predecessors.

Tax Sale.—The reader will observe that Treasurer McGaughey occupies considerable space in our columns with his tax list. This will be rather unprofitable reading matter to many, but then the law requires it to be done, besides it adds a little to our cash account and will enable us to settle our paper bill.

Some rascally thief took a pane of glass out of the rear window in Stewart's clothing store, sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning last, and crept through into the store. All the loose change in the drawer, amounting to about ten dollars, was taken. Nothing else about the store appears to have been disturbed.

A dog-fight on Third street, one day last week, furnished amusement for a crowd of loafers who seem to delight in such brutal exhibitions. A little dose of law for cruelty to animals would be in order. There is a resident agent of the Society in this place, and these sports had better look out for him, or they will be gubbed up before they are aware of it.

Mr. James Harris Linn, one of the proprietors of the Milesburg Iron Works, says the Bellefonte Watchman, died on Thursday morning of last week, the 6th inst., in the 61st year of his age. Mr. Linn was a brother of the late Rev. James Linn, D. D., and a brother of Judge Linn. The funeral took place last Saturday afternoon, and the remains were interred in the cemetery at Bellefonte.

A Proper Remedy.—The last Grand Jury made and have with a lot of insignificant cases which had been returned to Court by the several Justices of the Peace. A large number of the bills was ignored, and the prosecutors sentenced to pay the costs. This course, if pursued in the future, will prevent all frivolous cases from coming before Court and compel the parties to wash their dirty linen at home.

Some of the students of the Leonard Graded School, in this place, planted about thirty young maple trees in the grounds around the building on Saturday last. They propose to spend another day at it, and have about thirty more planted. In a few years the Leonard School will be an attractive place—ornamental as it is now useful. The scholars deserve considerable praise for the pains they have taken to ornament the grounds.

Quite a number of rafts have already passed this place, on their way to the lower markets. It was stated some time ago, by some of the knowing ones, that there were not over forty or fifty rafts above this place, but more than twice that number passed here on Saturday and Sunday last, and it is impossible to tell how many more are yet to come. Guessing at the number of rafts made during the winter is like prophesying in regard to the weather.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of Ernest Beck's Green House, in our issue of to-day. Ernest has been put to considerable pains and expense fitting up his Green House, and should receive a liberal patronage from the public. He is a thorough gardener and will sell you only what he knows to be good and reliable plants and flowers. He has a stock of forest potato plants—something new in the bill line—and those who want to try their hand at raising this favorite vegetable should give him an early call. His Green House is located on East street, opposite the Presbyterian parsonage.

A Mammoth Block of Coal.—We are informed by the Ridgway Democrat, that on Tuesday, the 28th of March, a block of bituminous coal three feet thick, three feet three inches wide, and eight feet long, was taken from Brockwayville to Ridgway, and shipped via the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad to Philadelphia, where it will be put on exhibition on the Centennial grounds. The weight of this mammoth block is about 8,000 pounds, or four tons. It was taken from the mine to Ridgway on runners, and required six horses to draw it. It was mined about one mile west of Brockwayville, Jefferson county, at the mine of John Keys. The object in sending this specimen of coal 350 miles is two-fold—first, it will be an object of much curiosity; and, second, it will attract the attention of capitalists to the quality of coal to be found in that section of the State, and may prove a great benefit to the community at large.

An Item for Fishermen.—If any animal but a fish were allowed to die a lingering death by suffocation, or should be drowned, people would be quite unwilling to eat the meat of such animal, and would consider it an imposition if a provision-dealer should send such things for their tables. And yet it is usual when fish are caught to leave them without air (breathing in their way), and they die an unnatural death, after a struggle perhaps for hours. No one seems to think their flesh is injured by this suffering. Nevertheless it is. So that if one has no thought for the unnecessary and cruel suffering of the fish, he ought to kill it instantly, out of regard to his own stomach. He would find a great improvement in the quality. Strike the fish a sharp blow just back of the eyes, or with a knife divide the backbone.

Rafting.—One of the finest rafting seasons we ever witnessed occurred this Spring. The water in our streams has remained at a proper stage for rafting long enough to allow rafts and logs to come from the Cherry Tree, and even beyond that place. Between seven and eight hundred will reach Lock Haven on the present rise. Up to last night, timber sold from seven to ten cents per foot at that place. The average will not exceed eight and one-half cents. What an awful "come down!" Not the price of stumpage! When will our people learn sense enough to go to farming and let their timber alone?

Tax Reduction.—The County Commissioners, in view of the downward tendency of everything, have passed a resolution imposing only four mills on the taxable property of this county for county and State purposes for 1876. Now, if School Directors and Supervisors will follow the example set by the Commissioners, there will be a heavy reduction in our tax bills for the current year. The Supervisors in no township should levy more than five mills for road purposes, and no school tax of over eight mills should be imposed. Let the outstanding taxes be hunted up, and reduce the rates for this and next year. This plan would be genuine relief to all.

Repair Them.—The Grand Jury at the March term of Court notified the Supervisors to fill up the Gorard end of the Deer creek bridge, so as to make it convenient for crossing. The same body also called the attention of the proper officers to the fact that the bridge across the river at Kauffman's ford, Clearfield township, is in a dangerous condition, and hence it becomes the duty of the Commissioners of this and Centre county to assume control of the structure and save it from destruction. Steps have been taken to put it in a safe condition.

Tax-Payers, Attention!—It will be observed that Treasurer McGaughey announces his programme this week for the larger portion of the county, which he will canvass previous to June Court. The tax-payers who wish to save one per cent. on their taxes will, of course, give him an audience at the different election houses where he proposes to meet them. See his advertisement elsewhere in this issue, and mark the time he has fixed for your election house.

LETTER FROM MORRIS TOWNSHIP.

Mr. Editor:—Allow me, through the columns of your excellent paper, to say a few words in regard to our public schools in this township. We have ten schools in Morris, and I can truly say they have been well conducted, the teachers all standing at their posts and discharging their duties faithfully. The organization of a District Institute, which convened in the Kylertown School house, and in which many of the citizens took an active part, was a decided success. And now our schools have closed. It was our privilege to attend an entertainment given by the Kylertown school, on Thursday evening, March 23d, under the control of the teacher, Miss Annie Hall. I could not help but say, like one of old: "It was good for me to be there," as I listened to the sweet voices as they sang their opening piece, and heard how well the pieces were spoken, it was then I knew how they appreciated the labors of their beloved teacher. I would note several pieces, such as "Little Jim," "Happy Little Band," and "House-keeper's Soliloquy," which, among many others, with the tableaus, were well gotten up and well acted, and all proved that teacher and scholars had not labored in vain, for the exercises met the approbation of all present. May the teacher's life be long and happy, and may she return to us as the teacher next Winter, are the wishes of her many friends. Sensitive.

Clearfield Coal Trade.—Statement of Coal and other freights sent over the Tyrone & Clearfield Division, Pennsylvania Railroad, for the week ending April 1st, 1876, and the same time last year:

COAL.	TONS.

Same time last year	21,839

Total in 1876	259,951
Same time last year	211,995

OTHER FREIGHTS.

Miscellaneous freights	71 "

Comprehensive.—A hospitable lady, says the Norristown Herald, gave her young friends a party the other night, and when round dances were proposed, she strenuously objected; "but," she added, "if any of the boys wish to hug the girls, let them sit down upon the sofas and go right at it in earnest—but no round dances, mind you." They went at it and seemed to enjoy themselves every bit as much as if they had glided in round dances all the evening. And the girls are "just dying," as one of them expressed it, for that lady to give another party.

Railroad Accident.—From the Brookville Republican of last week, we learn that Mr. Neil Boyle, a resident of Reynoldsville, was killed at Evergreen station, on the Low Grade Railroad, on Tuesday, the 28th ult. He had been on business up the road, and desiring to return home tried to board a freight train that was running slowly, but failed and fell under the wheels. His head was severed from the body, and the latter greatly mutilated. His remains were taken home by the train, and on Thursday following were buried in the Catholic grave-yard at Brookville. He leaves a wife and one child.

Still Alive.—The last issue of the Philipsburg Journal says: "Mr. M. Y. Casanova, whose injury by a runaway team was noticed last week, has been lying in a precarious condition since the accident, compression of the brain producing delirium, which it was feared might lead to the gravest consequences. On Thursday (6th inst.), however, marked improvement was noticed, and the medical men are hopeful of his recovery. A celebrated surgeon from Cuba, now resident in New York, was brought to attend him."

R. R. Change.—The Watchman says that after the 16th inst., the Bellefonte & Snow Shoe Railroad Company will run an express train from Bellefonte to Snow Shoe, making two round trips daily, for the purpose of enabling the Snow Shoe people to catch the fast trains for the Centennial, and also to accommodate the numerous visitors who will be likely to visit the Snow Shoe region the coming Summer. This will be agreeable information to our patrons in Karthaus and Covington townships, who patronize this route.

The proceeds of the ladies' "Centennial Tea Party," held in this place on the 22d of February, has been placed to the credit of the Ladies' Department of the Centennial as is shown by the receipt in possession of the Chairwoman, of which the following is a copy:

Philadelphia, April 6, 1876.

Received from Mrs. Walter Barrett, per Mrs. Gillespie, $156.34, for Women's Department.

Alice C. Rivers, Treas'r.

Eighteen Orphans.—The railroad accident on the Tyrone & Clearfield branch, which we noticed last week, turned eighteen happy children into orphans! Mr. Campbell was the father of three, Mr. Shannon eight, Mr. Miller five, and Mr. Watters two. It gives us pleasure to learn that the officers of the Penn'a. Railroad have resorted in every necessary means to render the widows and orphans as comfortable as possible.

He seems to be in his right mind, and knows exactly what he is doing.

Hair Work.—Mr. Editor: I wish to call public attention to the following extract, taken from a letter which fully explains itself:

Curwensville, Pa., April 5, 1876.

"Mr. Brown—Dear Friend: I have received the switches you made for me. They are real beauties, the nicest I ever saw, a perfect success. I would not give them for three times the price. They surpass my expectation. I have shown them to some of the ladies here who pronounce them better than the city work."

Ladies entrusting their work to me are assured that none but first-class work will leave my hands or I will ask no pay for a poor job.

Mrs. S. J. Brown.
