Our Special column is decidedly interesting in a local point of view, and profitable reading to outsiders who want to save money.

Silver is slowly spinning down the ringing grooves of change.

There are 10,000,000 feet of logs in the Williamsport boom.

Two arks, for the use of Walker's Trout run log-drive, were built near the Market street bridge, at this place, last week.

Mrs. Brown and Mr. Gill are Bellefonte's two oldest citizens, the former being 96 and the latter 97 years old.

Thomas A. Prideaux has been appointed postmaster at Smith's Mills (Janesville), in Gallich township, this county.

The clerk of the weather paid us his compliments on Sunday last, in the shape of a very sickly snow storm.

Flour, chop and bran at Lytle's, at the lowest cash prices in the county, in room formerly occupied by Kratzer & Lytle.

Congressman Mackey and State Senator Wallace have our thanks for a number of valuable public documents received during the past two weeks.

The croquet season has been inaugurated heretofore for the season. The man who can invent a lazier amusement than "grass billiards" will make a fortune.

If you see a man out in the back yard mauling carpet, don't throw stars at him. You may be called upon to do the same thing without a moment's warning.

Wm. C. Lytle, of this place, has taken the advice of Horace Greeley and gone to seek his fortune in the far West. He will prospect for awhile in Nevada and Colorado.

We are informed by the Brookville Republican that average timber is selling in the Pittsburgh market at 12 cents, and first class timber at 14 cents per cubic foot.

Conductor Irwin's passenger train ran over and killed a cow near Blue Ball, last Wednesday afternoon. The cow was a complete wreck, but the train came off unharmed.

Smith Wilson, son of Dr. R. V. Wilson, of this borough, has been appointed to take charge of one of the gates at the Centennial Exhibition, which opens on Wednesday next.

We understand that Flynns', Merrell's, Ardell's and other log-drivers are in the river at Kasthaus, awaiting a rise of water. The flood did not last long enough to get them to the booms at Lock Haven and Williamsport.

On the coming Fourth of July, when a man arises to make a speech, and doesn't begin by saying "One hundred years ago to-day," he should be pulled down by the coat-tail and forced to take a back seat.

AN OMISSION.—Last week, in giving the names of the offices to be filled in this county next Fall, we omitted that of Associate Judge. The time for which Messrs. Read and Foley were elected will expire on the 1st of January, 1877.

Fifteen sides of Union Crop Sole leather will be exhibited at the Centennial by a Tyrone tanner, D. P. Ray, the same gentleman who took the first premium at the Vienna Exposition for this kind of leather.

"I did think I'd go to the Centennial this year, sein' as how they say they won't have another for a hundred years," said Thittle to his brother, the other day; "But I won't see any use in it as long as you can see everything at Fleck's—and so all-fired cheap, too."

Over four hundred rafts were run out of Mahoning creek during the recent Spring freshet. This stream heads in the southern part of this county, and much of Brady township's largest and best timber is borne on its waters to Pittsburgh and other western markets.

A consideration of the watering-trough bill by a joint committee of the Senate and House has resulted in the adoption of acceptable revisions, adapting the law to all the counties the State without regard to population. People generally will be gratified by this modification of the law, regard to a needed public convenience.

Do not forget that Lytle is prepared, on a large stock of teas, syrups, coffees, sugars, molasses, and all kinds of groceries, to sell at very low rates. Persons wishing to buy in quantities will do well to come and price his goods. Country stores furnished with groceries at city prices.

Messrs. Sackett & Schryver have repainted the interior of their Hardware store, and have now one of the finest and most complete rooms in the county. They have adopted the cash system of doing business, and are thus enabled to offer inducements to cash buyers. See their new advertisement in this paper.

Messrs. W. S. White & Son, tanners, who were burned out both at Osceola and Philipsburg within a year past, have concluded to rebuild the tannery at Osceola. They were heavy losers by the fires at both of these places, but are gentlemen of indomitable pluck and energy, and they are not to be cast down by their misfortune.

A very large audience congregated in M. E. Church, in this place, on Tuesday evening of last week, to hear Mrs. Stevens, the representative of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. It was something of a novelty to see a lady in the pulpit of a Church. Her lecture was interesting and instructive, and is well spoken of by those who heard it.

The calf thief, who escaped from the jail in this place about two weeks ago, was returned to the institution one day last week by Deputy Sheriff Worrell. He had gone to his home near Washington, where he was captured. In jumping down off the jail-yard wall, which he had to be upraised one of his ankles, which miserably interfered greatly with his plan of escape.

BROOKVILLE'S THIRD HEAT.—The fire fiend has again visited our neighbors on the West. We clip the following detailed statement from the Brookville Jeffersonian, of the 26th ult. The editor says:

"Last night, about 9½ o'clock, smoke was discovered issuing from the basement of T. B. McLain's store, on Main street, opposite the Clements House. The alarm was sounded, but before any material effort to check the flames could be brought to bear, the fire had made such headway as to render the exertions of the bucket brigade unavailing. It soon became apparent that the entire half square from Diamond alley to Barnet street must become a prey to the flames, and willing hands went to work to remove everything of value from the threatened buildings, while others fruitlessly, but nevertheless determinedly, endeavored to check the progress of the fell destroyer. All efforts to pull down the structures along the row were unavailing, and one after another was abandoned as the fire advanced, until the residence of Joseph Henderson, Esq., was reached, which was finally razed to the ground. This building was one of the first erected in Brookville, but it hung together remarkably well considering its age, and required considerable labor to pull it down. By this means the stove and tin store of J. Henderson & Son, on the corner of Main and Barnet, was saved, and this morning stands alone, the only building in the entire half square.

"At one time it was thought that the flames must inevitably communicate to the Dougherty building, but by superhuman efforts this danger was averted, or else to-day we might find naught but smouldering ruins from Wilson Halte to Barnet street. The roof of the American House caught fire from falling sparks, but the watchers speedily extinguished it, and once a false alarm was raised that the Clements House was on fire, which caused great excitement for the time being. The heaviest losers by the fire are Dr. M. Rodgers, T. B. McLain, the Bishop estate, Mrs. G. J. Snyder, Clark Hall, and Joseph Henderson. Mrs. J. W. Henderson, millinery, the Misses Gordon, dress makers, and M. H. Hall, shirt manufactory, occupying rooms in Dr. Rodgers' building, saved the greater portion of their stock. E. English and Jos. Henderson saved all their house-hold furniture, Dr. Lowry succeeded in removing the contents of his office, and W. A. Thompson, merchant tailor, also saved his stock. T. B. McLain, dry-goods and grocerier, Mrs. G. J. Snyder, millinery and fancy goods, Clark Hall, photograph gallery, and Dr. C. W. Stebbins, dentist, rescued little, if anything, of value.

"At this early date it is impossible to compute the amount of loss sustained with any degree of certainty. It is variously estimated at from $35,000 to $40,000, which of course includes damages sustained by reason of removing goods, etc. As near as we can ascertain the following are the principal individual losers:

"Dr. Rodgers' buildings $5,000, insured for $2,000; T. B. McLain's stock from $6,000 to $7,000, insured for $3,000; Clark Hall's photographing material $1,500, no insurance; Bishop estate $20,000, uninsured; R. F. Blood, druggist, damage done to goods by removal $1,000, insured; Mrs. G. J. Snyder $1,000, no insurance; C. M. Garrison $1,000, uninsured. The loss sustained by other parties through hasty removal, etc., and the damage done to buildings on the opposite side of the street will doubtless swell the figures to the amount named above.

"It is not known how the fire originated, but it is generally supposed to be the work of an incendiary, as there has never been any fire in the basement of the building where it originated. Various rumors are afloat this morning, but they are as a general thing vague and indefinite.

"This is the third large fire with which Brookville has been visited during the past four and one-half years. In November, 1871, the half square opposite the scene of last night's conflagration, was entirely destroyed with the exception of the residence of B. McCreight. In November, 1874, an entire square on Main street, reaching from Pickering to Mill street, was destroyed, and last night another half square fell a prey to the fire fiend."

OUR COAL.—The continued increase and demand in the eastern markets for the bituminous coal of the Clearfield region is cause for congratulation to the owners and shippers of these "black diamonds." The big chunk sent to the Centennial grounds by the Franklin colliery attracts great attention. The editor of the Brookville Republican, in alluding to it, says:

"It appears that our neighbors of Clearfield county are not going to be out-done in the show of bituminous coal at the Centennial Exposition, a large block, measuring four by five feet, and six feet high, and weighing over two and a half tons, was taken from the Franklin colliery, at Houtzdale, and forwarded to the Centennial for exhibition."

No, sir: we cannot be out-done. The best scientific knowledge on this subject places the coal taken from the Clearfield mines far ahead of that mined in other localities. The Geological Survey Department of this State, after testing the coal taken from the Franklin mines, gives the following analysis:

Water at 225° F.	.670
Volatile matter	21.260
Fixed carbon	74.282
Sulphur	.425
Ashes	3.251
	100.000

Coke per cent., 77.97. Color of Ash, cream.

A celebrated New York chemist puts the fixed carbon at 76.39, and makes 89 per cent coke out of this coal.

A compositor last week nearly ruined this colliery by substituting "Sulphur" to the fixed carbon figures and turned it into a brimstone mine. The injury was but temporary, because coal dealers would notice the blunder at once.

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS.—A copy of the annual minutes of the Central Pennsylvania Conference, held at Harrisburg in March, has been placed on our table by Rev. W. H. Dill. The report is full of information relating to Methodism, and is decidedly the most interesting and valuable of any yet published. The cover is adorned with a handsome title, illuminated, which is neat and appropriate. In addition to the regular report of the proceedings, it contains a vast amount of statistical information relating to Methodism at home and abroad, which cannot fail to be valuable for reference. In the compilation of these "facts and figures," the Secretary, Rev. D. S. Monroe, must have devoted a great deal of labor and careful research. The Centennial sermon of B. B. Hamlin, D. D., is given in full, together with historical sketches of each district in the conference, contributed by the presiding elders. In our next issue we will publish the history of the Altoona district—which embraces this county—as prepared for the conference by Rev. W. H. Dill of this place.

CLEARFIELD COAL TRADE.—Statement of Coal and other freights sent over the Tyrone & Clearfield Division, Pennsylvania Railroad, for the week ending April 22, 1876, and the same time last year:

In another column to-day we publish the proclamation of Governor Hartranft, commending to the people and authorities of the various cities, counties and towns of this State the recommendation of Congress that they assemble on the coming Fourth of July in their respective cities, counties and towns, and have delivered historical sketches of their respective localities. If Clearfield is to profit by the advice of Governor Hartranft, would it not be well enough to call a public meeting of the citizens and take some action in the premises? Just two months yet until the Fourth of July, and the time at best is short in which a historian could collate facts for a local history. Let us make a decided move in the matter and have a historian appointed at an early day. Who seconds the motion?

FIRE IN WILLIAMSPORT.—This ill-fated city has again been visited by incendiaries. On last Friday night, about 10 o'clock, a fire broke out in Herdic's board-yard. About ten acres of ground was burned over before the flames were stayed, and from nine to ten million feet of lumber were destroyed. The loss was not less than $125,000. The principal losers are Herdic & Maynard, $50,000; insured for $32,000. Ramstead & Flynn, $35,000; insured for $20,500. Thomas Tonier, $12,000; insured for $7,000. Hubbard & Manbey, $8,000; insured for $5,000. L. Holden, of Elmira, N. Y., $500; fully covered by insurance. There is also a loss of about $10,000 in damaged railroad tracks belonging to the Catawissa Railroad and the lumber-yard.

A partially successful attempt was made "to go through" the ticket-office at the railroad station, in this borough, on Monday night last. An entrance was gained in the room by a window in the rear of the building. The money-drawer was opened and all the change in it, amounting to about five dollars, was taken. An effort was made to open the safe in the office, but in this the rascals were not successful. A small soldering-iron, which had been used as a jimmy, was left in the office.

U. S. Senator Wallace was at home a few days at the beginning of last week, on account of the serious illness of his father-in-law, Judge Shaw. The Senator was compelled to hasten back to Washington, he having been sworn in as a juror in the Belknap impeachment case. It was very necessary for him to hear the testimony, as there is no chance for pairing or dodging in cases of this kind when a vote is called for.

It is cheaper in the long run to get good clothing, even at a high price; how much better to get it both good and at the extremely low prices charged by Wanamaker & Brown's, 6th and Market streets, Philadelphia.

SHAD FISHING.—What a luxury, and how cheap! Yet, because of a few dams, we are denied this enjoyment. The Lancaster Intelligencer, of the 27th ult., says:

"Shad fishing in the Susquehanna seems now to have commenced on a large scale. We are informed by Messrs. Reese and Thomas Towson, who arrived from Peach Bottom last evening, that the heaviest haul of shad ever known in that vicinity was made at Reid Friar ferry, seven miles below Peach Bottom, on the Susquehanna river, on Tuesday. Nine hundred and thirty-five shad were all taken at one battery—"Riddgon's Battery." They are said to be the largest and finest that have been seen for several seasons."

The lightning-rod man has thawed out, and we may therefore look for him daily. He is said to have this year, "the copper strip, the new double-twisted, Centennial, silver-spangled-four pronged nickle-plated, double-polished, electric current conductor," which he will offer to his customers at the lowest rates. The moral connected with this subject is, that if you buy your lightning rods at home, of dealers whom you know, you will not be imposed upon, but if you buy of these wandering pedlers, you will be apt to get cheated.

The people of Altoona are having a big flag made to throw to the breeze on the 4th of July. In length it will be fifty feet, in width thirty-two feet eight inches. The blue field will be sixteen feet eight inches in depth. The thirty-eight stars will each measure fifteen inches across. It will require two thousand seven hundred yards of machine sewing and ninety yards of hand sewing to complete it, and it will weigh about fifty-five pounds.

The Philipsburg Journal has changed hands, Mr. E. H. Ellsworth, the founder and present editor of the paper, retiring from the establishment. He has leased the office to Mr. D. W. P. Murphy, who will continue the publication of the paper. Ellsworth was a vigorous writer, and under his management the Journal was highly prosperous. Our good wishes go with him in his retirement.

The Ladies' Foreign Mission Society of the Clearfield M. E. Church, will hold a meeting in the lecture room of the Church this (Wednesday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock.
