Destroyed Johnstown Begins to Rise From Its Ruins.

RESOLUTIONS TO RESUME

Adopted by Many Business Men, Upon the Promise of Hastings,

WHILE DENUNCIATION IS CHOKED

And Howls Against the Governor Are Drowned by Better Sentiments.

ONE VERY SIGNIFICANT GATHERING

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

JOHNSTOWN, June 13.—Out of the wreck of the fallen buildings, out of the ashes of magnificent structures, and, peeping up overlooking the surrounding country, Johnstown will rise again to become one of the most flourishing little cities in Pennsylvania. What is considered to be the first step toward rebuilding the city and surrounding boroughs was taken this afternoon, at a meeting held in the Pennsylvania Railroad freight station. Since the flood, nobody has had time to do anything save alleviate the distress of those who suffered by the bursting of the dam, and clear up the debris of the town. What they intended to do for private residences and business stands, nobody apparently cared until Adjutant General Hastings took the matter in hand.

The General, who is now working harder than ever before to supply the wants of the people, issued a call this morning for a meeting of the business men and merchants of the place to determine what they were going to do in regard to resuming business. At the meeting it was decided to immediately proceed with the work of erecting temporary places of business and habitation. The lumber which will be donated by Eastern lumber men will be shipped to-morrow, and, by Monday, the new wooden buildings will be well under way. The meeting was called to order by General Hastings, who said:

THE GENERAL'S SPEECH.

GENTLEMEN—I have called you together this afternoon for the purpose of advising with you about what is best for the future of the merchants of Johnstown and vicinity. I may say to you that I have been directed to proceed with the work of cleaning up the valley. I have made contracts now with four different contractors, which cover the entire area. They promised me this morning that they would have about 2,000 men at work to-day. I will have a report from them this evening. The State has directed me to clean up your streets and clean out the drift at the bridge, and I want to assure you the work will progress as rapidly and as vigorously as it can properly be done. Our first object will be to clean up your thoroughfares, so that you can get at your places of business. Whether or not the State will authorize me to do more than that, and to clean out the cellars so that the foundations will be ready to put the houses on again, I do not know, but I do know that the enterprise of the people of the country is sufficient to meet any need, and I think the best thing for the business people of Johnstown to do is to begin to look ahead toward the resumption of business to begin business again.

Now, to give the thought in my mind practical shape, if there are among you business men here assembled who desire to resume business and will indicate to me what will be necessary to assist you toward that end, I will communicate with the proper channels in order to see if we can't get you what you need to put you on your feet again.

NO NEED FOR HUNGER.

We have all the relief here that is necessary; there is no necessity for anybody going without a meal, and, if anyone in Johnstown or vicinity goes to bed hungry or without shelter, it is his or her own fault. The organization we have now, to supply food and clothing, is as near complete as we can make it, and, if any citizen is suffering for want of relief, he has only to make it known; and he need only make it known once. It will be the fault of every man, woman and child here who does not get plenty to eat, plenty to wear and proper shelter.

I am anxious to see Johnstown begin to have confidence enough in herself to resume her own government. You have noticed no deputy sheriffs on your streets to-day, excepting at this little point here. There are no places where persons are prevented from going through the town; there is no martial law; the troops are here to see that those who come here to do the work are not molested, and to prevent the vandals and sightseers from injuring your property or speculating in your misfortune. That is what the troops are here for, and that they will do, and it is all they will do. [Cries of "That's right!" and applause]. We will not interfere with your local government; we want you to resume your own town council, appoint your own police, go about your daily occupations as you did before. That is what we are anxious to have you do. There is no martial law, no military law, as I said before. We have only the troops here necessary to keep the vandals out.

HIS PRACTICAL SUGGESTION.

Now, gentlemen, in order to put this matter in practical shape, the suggestion I have to have acted upon is this: I understand that you are all merchants. If you are willing to go back again and resume business, I would like to know it; and if you are, I will call upon certain parties in the East to furnish to you the lumber and the building material necessary for you to put up at least temporary structures, in which to begin business over again; and, although I have no positive assurance to this effect, I believe we can get you the necessary building material very shortly. I have word from a large number of merchants in Pittsburg who are not only willing but anxious to come here and provide you with stock to set up in business again, if you want to start up.

I trust you, and will wait upon you until this charity can take some definite and tangible shape. I don't think you gentlemen want to sit still and wait until some regular distribution of assistance is made. If you can get the lumber, put up your places of business and the merchants will come to you and will provide you with stock. I would like to know whether that will suit you, and whether that is the best method of procedure. I only suggest this in a crude way, because I would like to know what you have to say on the subject.

RESOLUTIONS AND A SCORCHER.

Colonel John P. Linton, the well-known attorney, said although his property was completely wiped out, he was ready to resume business again. He said:

I thank God for the new regime which taught men to help themselves. While we are deeply grateful for the change in the government, I think it is the duty of our officers to take charge of our civil government. I am grateful beyond expression that General Hastings has announced this action. I feel sure that many citizens will be deeply grateful for his efforts, and it only requires united action on our part to bring us out of the slough of despond. The resumption of work in the factories, etc., in this vicinity will enable the people to do this.

General Hastings suggested that Colonel Linton prepare a set of resolutions embodying the views of the people of Johnstown regarding their intentions.

Colonel Linton said that his law office, pen, paper, etc., had been carried off by the flood, and he had not the material at hand to get up the resolutions.

General Hastings' stenographer jumped upon a table and took down the following dictated resolutions:

Resolved, That the merchants and business men of Johnstown, assembled at the request of Adjutant General Hastings, having listened with gratification to his remarks, agree to secure as rapidly as possible the resumption of business, and to furnish the community all the provisions required.

Resolved, further, That each merchant and business man in Johnstown use his best efforts to restore by his own exertions his prosperity and that of the community at large.

Resolved, That the business men and merchants of Johnstown tender their hearty thanks to Adjutant General Hastings for his kindly suggestions and offers of aid.

"And denounce Governor Beaver!" exclaimed a half dozen men, but the action was quickly frowned down by General Hastings.

Colonel Linton then put the motion, and, amid a wild outburst of cheering, it was carried. Mr. Caldwell, one of the oldest merchants in town, said he had placed an order this morning for a new stock of goods and intended to resume business immediately. He was followed by quite a number of merchants, who voiced the general sentiment. Mr. Martin, a storekeeper of Cambria City, said:

We are now on a basis of home government, our business men are opening their doors and are now ready to do business.

A young man named Carpenter said he formerly kept a restaurant, prior to the flood, and would reopen his place as soon as he got it cleaned out. General Hastings replied: "That is right! What we want is plenty of restaurants."

A GREAT RESUMPTION LIST.

Joseph Hess, Petrikin & Miller, Foster & Quinn (drygoods), Mrs. M. S. Maloy (grocer), John O'Toole (hotel), Seth E. Phillips (drygoods), Homes & Son (fire brick), Young & Son (butchers), A. P. King (tobacco and cigars), Amos, Sulka & Co. (clothiers), P. L. Carpenter (restaurant), C. Bailey & Son (plumber), G. W. Moses (grocer), William H. Strauss (cigars), John Stenger (drygoods), Henry Koontz (confectioner), I. R. Marshall (lumber), Cramer Bros. Jones (grocer), J. H. Larkin & Co. (jewelers), F. S. Maloy (pianos), H. Y. Harris (liveryman), and P. S. Fisher (wholesale liquor), all signified their intention of resuming as per resolutions.

When the resolutions and responses were read there was unbounded enthusiasm, and three hearty cheers were given for General Hastings.

A merchant from Cambria City was the one who arose and said: "Incorporate in that 'We denounce Beaver!'" This was cried down by level-headed men in the audience, who cried: "No! not yet! This is not the time for that! That part of the business will come later on!"

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammelling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelops the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives are simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by inhalation and by internal administration, has never failed, even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered and the disease thoroughly driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT and one IMPROVED INHALER; neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.

A TUMOR CURED.

Mrs. Carrie A. Barker, residing at No. 16 Pine alley, Allegheny, has experienced untold suffering for two years, from a tumor, or polypus, located in her nose. It gradually increased in size until it almost entirely filled the cavity of the nose. On account of the irritated, stuffed up condition, rendering it almost impossible for her to breathe through her mouth, she could not sleep nights, neither could she get any rest during the day. Her eyes became very weak, and she suffered great pain about her eyes and head. While speaking of the matter one day, a kind friend advised her to call upon the physicians of the Polypathic Medical and Surgical Institute, who make a specialty of her disease. She did so and her own words will best express the result: "This is to certify that the polypus that she had caused me so much suffering for the past two years has been successfully removed by the physicians of the Polypathic Surgical Institute, 420 Penn avenue, I hereby sign my name. "CARRIE A. BARKER."

They also treat successfully all forms of skin and blood diseases.

They give special attention to diseases of the kidneys and bladder.

All suffering from kidney or urinary diseases are cordially invited to call and consult these specialists, and bring a specimen of urine with them, which will be given a free microscopical and chemical analysis.

The doctors also treat successfully all forms of skin and blood diseases, clubfoot, tumors, hernia or rupture, ulcers, varicose veins, hemorrhoids or piles, hare lip and other deformities. Office hours, 10 to 11:30 A. M., 1 to 4 and 6 to 8 P. M. Sundays, 1 to 4 P. M. Consultation free. Treatment also by correspondence. jell-D

Cured of Catarrhal Asthma.

Mrs. Alice Brownhill, an English lady, but who has lived in this country for nearly two years, has for the past ten years been badly afflicted with asthma. It was produced by a catarrhal poison in her system that was slowly but surely doing its deadly work. A part of the secretion that formed in her head was discharged through her nose, and a part dropped down the back part of her throat, and which, setting up an irritated condition in her lungs, produced asthma. She coughed, and her breath at times was very short. She had pains under her shoulder blades, and also over her eyes. Her appetite was very poor, and the little food she was able to eat gave her stomach much distress and belching of gas, and every morning she would vomit up her food. As has been stated, her breath was very short, and every time she caught a cold she would have to be bolstered up in bed during the night in order to breathe. When she applied, last April, to the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute for treatment, the wheezing in her lungs could be heard all over the house. On May 24 she says "that my catarrh and asthma have been entirely cured by the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute. I hereby sign my name. MRS. ALICE BROWNHILL, Bellsover, Pa.

Mrs. Dr. Crossley, one of the Consulting Physicians at the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute, No. 323 Penn avenue, will advise with any ladies suffering with diseases peculiar to their sex. Remember, consultation and advice is free to all.

Association of Regular Registered Resident Physicians, No. 720 Penn avenue.

Dr. Orr invites the friends of the hundreds of patients he has cured of catarrh and dyspepsia during the last year to call and allow him and his associate physicians to prove that they are what they claim to be, regular registered resident physicians, who are competent to do all they claim, and that they are not travelers who stop in our city for a few weeks or months.

This association is founded for the protection of those who are being deceived by spurious institutes and high-sounding, but hollow titles, all of which is no proof of ability or legality.

We invite all persons suffering from chronic diseases, medical or surgical, to call for consultation, free, no matter if you have been pronounced incurable by some traveling doctor. We do not turn away all persons not easily cured.

DISORDERS OF THE STOMACH.

DYSPEPSIA.

This disease seems to affect nearly the entire human family. It affects persons in different ways. Dyspepsia is simply indigestion, or want of power to convert food into chyle, from which the blood is mainly derived. The process of digestion may be more or less obstructed for years by improper food, want of exercise, overwork, care, depression and other causes, before the marked symptoms of the disease manifest themselves. At length follow the irregular appetite, discomfort before or after eating, rising of food, eructations, gastric irritability, costiveness or diarrhoea, pains in the chest, pains in the limbs, pains in the head, restlessness, loss of flesh, debility, mental depression, palpitation, dizziness, suffocation and nearly every discomfort known to mortals. The cause not being known or suspected, the sufferer is doctored for symptoms by this, that, and the other medicine, till, dying a thousand miserable deaths by the disease and drugs, he finally looks for no relief and gives up to a miserable existence. Such being the nature of this disease and so persistent and serious in its effects upon both body and mind, how essential that one skilled in the treatment of it should be sought at once and have the disease thoroughly eradicated and the system restored to health, which can be done by the powerful common sense treatment as practiced by Dr. Woods. No charge for advice.

Dr. R. A. Woods, Rupture and Chronic Disease Specialist, Hotel Albemarle, Penn avenue and Sixth street, Pittsburg, Pa. Office hours: 10 A. M. to 12 M., 2-5 and 7-8 P. M. jel1
