A MATTER OF ECONOMY.

Measures for saving money are generally approved if they are at the same time productive of happiness and good to ourselves or others. That there is very great want of economy, in the individual, family and state, no one will for a moment question. Persons are saving in some respects and wasteful in others, or "economical in spots," as we have heard it expressed. Children sometimes will by hard toil, accumulate a little fund, saving all they can get in all honest ways, and spend it all foolishly in an hour. And children of a larger growth do the same thing. A State may, by its officers, denounce the wrong of a House of Refuge in an extra expenditure of ten cents per week in the comfort of the unfortunate boys and girls committed to its care, and by its Legislature recklessly squander millions for the benefit of some wealthy individual or corporation. In some cases, people seem to think the value of an article depends solely on the cost. Many a man who has rushed into oil speculations has been convinced of the fallacy of this in some respects, and yet they act on it in others. Let us apply this to the matter of education. I have a son whom I wish to educate. If I retain him at home I can watch over his health, his habits, and his associates, and know from day to day what he is doing and what progress he is making at an average cost of less than one hundred dollars per year. Before his health or his morals shall be fully revived I can know it. I shall not be compelled to rely on interested reports of distant teachers who may not know the facts and may conceal a part of what they do know. The statements of sore eyes caused by hard study by night I shall not be compelled to rely on. If I do my duty I shall know the truth. I shall not, it is true, be able to say my son is being educated abroad in a popular institution whose reputation is made. The ability to say this is not what I desire; it is the thing itself, the education which will make a useful and noble man of him which I desire. Intelligent and sensible people know well it is the article itself that is wanted, not the name of the place where it is manufactured. What do I care whether a silk dress is bought at Stewart's or Smith's, if it is the thing. Yet there are silly people who tell these things. If I send my son to a fashionable place, his morals may be ruined, his time wasted, and his money squandered, and it will cost me, at least on an average, eight hundred dollars a year, and I shall have this advantage, that I shall not for years know his errors. He can conceal them from me, on his short visits to his home. Very many spend more than the sum named, say $1,200 or $1,500. If then I educate him at home I shall save in money, the smallest item that shall enter into the calculation, $700 per year. If I have three sons to educate I shall save $2,100 per year, and in four years this will be $8,400. Suppose, then, that there are two hundred to be so educated in our cities who would be sent abroad if they could not have the proper advantages at home, the saving in one year would be to our cities $140,000, and in twenty-five years $3,500,000. But this is not all. Our cities are not to last only twenty-five years but, as we hope, for centuries, and with an ever-increasing population demanding education. Besides, if the supply is furnished at our doors, while the expenses and risk of going are not incurred, many will be able to avail themselves of these advantages who, otherwise, would be unable to do so. A large class of the most deserving, who will make the most useful and energetic men, will be educated. It is a well known principle of political economy that the cheaper the article the greater is the demand. One hundred times as many may purchase an article for $100 as would for $600.

And in education as in manufacturing, there are other great advantages besides the simple one of procuring the article when it is made. There are many connected with a large institution who will exact an elevating influence on a community. If well endowed there will be able Professors in their several departments whose influence will be felt in every walk of life, awakening an interest in education and affecting every department of learning. The buildings, the cabinets, the libraries, the apparatus and the sectors will speak. Pittsburgh takes its character from its manufactures. New Haven from its educational institutions. While enjoying one shall we wholly neglect the other? All classes in a community and all professions will be elevated by a well conducted and well endowed institution of learning. Then as a plain matter of economy and an evident matter of improvement to our cities in all respects, we should furnish these advantages of higher education to all our youth, rightly endowing the university we have so long neglected to our shame and our detriment. Duty to our sons, the interests of our cities, in all respects, and our city pride, demand it. But who shall do it? Shall we point to one man of large wealth, and say it is his duty, and then meanly accuse him of acting selfishly in so doing? The men of large wealth are not always the most liberal. Some such blessed men we have here. All should unitedly join in the call for $500,000 for this most worthy enterprise. As citizens we shall all be benefitted. As parents we can better educate our sons, or if we have none, we can thus aid others and increase the intelligence and honor of our cities. We may sow for others to reap, as we ourselves may have reaped what others have sown before us. We are not to look at this matter simply as a matter of debt and credit. Had others done so we should have been denied many of the privileges we have enjoyed; and we should have too much city pride, and too much self respect to be willing that all the advantages of higher education enjoyed by our youth should be in distant towns and cities, in institutions endowed by the generosity of others.

IN OUR LAST ISSUE we re-published from the Philadelphia Press a letter written from this city to the editor of that journal, in which the writer showed that our candidate, Judge WILLIAMS, never had any connection with the Allegheny county "repudiation movement," as charged by some of the Eastern Democratic journals. "R. P. N.," feeling justly aggrieved that his language should be misconstrued into a disparagement of Hon. THOMAS WILLIAMS, sends us the following communication on the subject:

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE:—A brief note of mine to the Editor of the Philadelphia Press, in reply to a letter received making inquiry as to Judge Williams' record on the Repudiation question, appeared in your paper of yesterday morning, accompanied by certain comments, intimating that a disparagement is intended "of the high moral character and standing of our excellent Representative in Congress."

The Press note qualifies repudiation as a "disreputable movement." Hon. Thos. Williams himself knows that a large class of the community always regarded the measure in that light, but he also knows that, so far as the writer of this article is concerned, his conviction all the while through the exciting time of that controversy, was that his (Mr. W's) course was from beginning to end—viewed from his own stand point—consistent, unselfish and conscientious. I can, myself, bear testimony to the fact that Mr. Williams opposed very zealously, and on repeated occasions, the first steps taken in this direction. Its earliest suggestion encountered his strong protest, at a time when everybody else, almost, was madly in favor of it—before as well as after the meeting was had, upon the strength of whose action the issue of the Bonds was finally determined upon. The ruling proportion of the party which seconded his action, however, are not entitled to the same respect because many of the most active among them had been equally energetic on the other side in the mass-movement which brought the trouble about. Mr. Williams, I believe, erred, but he erred with a conscience true to itself, and therefore lies not within compass of the opprobrium which attaches to leading others, who found no iniquity in the matter until the bonds were sold, the roads built (or the funds exhausted on them) and they called upon to face the responsibility of a costly and unprofitable investment. This course of action was the one which made the ugly features in the case, and which certainly may be fairly characterized as a "disreputable movement."

Unfortunately and unfairly for Mr. Thomas Williams, he came to be known publicly as the leader of the Repudiation movement. He was saddled with all of its unpleasant responsibilities—made the subject of reproaches applicable to the operatives under him only—and so forfeited the esteem of many, especially beyond the mountains, who, had they understood his history better, would have reckoned the less harshly of him. It was only because of this popular identification of him with Repudiation, that reference in the Press note was made to "an unfortunate co-incidence of names."

I appreciate too highly the talents, the services, the incorruptible honesty, and the unswerving truthfulness of Mr. Williams to his political faith, the faith of the people whom he represents, to say anything which could be interpreted to his disparagement, at home or abroad.

R. P. N.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

It is well and truthfully said that, "facts are stubborn things." Facts of the most convincing character are at our command to show that salaried men are the most poorly paid of any other class of persons; especially ministers, teachers and clerks, and never more so than since the inflation of the currency, during the past few years. Almost every person in the various branches of manufacture, and mercantile life, of late years, have had unprecedented prosperity, and on a scale of magnitude, witnessed in no other country. Artisans, and even laborers, have enjoyed high wages, double and treble what they had received previous to the war. By this means too, those engaged in the mechanical arts, and inferior departments of labor have been lifted up to a higher and more commanding level in social life. This is all well enough and as it should be, to enable tradesmen and other employees to elevate themselves in culture and social position. But the fact should not be overlooked that the class of persons we have named have expended a large amount of time, money, and mental labor to prepare them for the positions they occupy. Not so, strictly speaking, with the mechanic or laborer. While the former is acquiring the mastery in some branch of the mechanical arts, he is also receiving compensation, and the latter, without any preliminary training, is enabled to acquire immediate advantage from his labor. Then, too, the minister or teacher, by his vocation, closes the door to the success which attends professional life, by his work being restricted to a limited field of duty. Professional men, however, usually reap a rich fruitage from the time, money and labor they have spent in fitting them for professional life. But we purpose to speak more particularly of ministers, whose duty also involves teaching of the highest type, as well as preaching. Clergymen have generally received small salaries, and when the rebellion broke out and prices went up, while the compensation of others was gradually rising with the advance of everything, their claims were overlooked, until every other class of persons had received an equivalent for their services. Losing sight of the outlay incident to the preparation for the ministry, clergymen receive compensation, meagre as it has heretofore been, only for actual service, and without reference to the past or the future. Rare instances have transpired within a brief period, of ministers being presented with a sum of money, or gift of property, for use in old age. But how very few ministers of the many are remembered by their congregations. We hope hereafter to chronicle more instances of this kind.

Six months ago a call was made through the Independent, by Dr. Walker, of Massachusetts, for clergymen of different denominations to favor him with a statement of their salaries in 1860 and 1865, in order to ascertain the advance made in consequence of the depreciation in the currency. Last week's issue of the Independent contains the results of the call, from which it appears that one thousand ministers of eight different denominations, residing in eighteen States, responded, showing their incomes ranged from $300 to $5,000 per annum. Of this number four hundred and fifty furnished such explicit details which show the following results: Average salaries in 1860 $768.68; average salaries in 1865, $907.82; average gratuities per year, $37.77; average advance in salaries from 1860 to 1865, 17.4 per cent.; average advance in salaries and gratuities, 21.7 per cent. From some portions of the country, the average of the remaining five hundred and fifty ministers was only 15 per cent., and on the whole about 20 per cent. extra, gratuities included. After a careful examination of all the facts, the following are the conclusions: 1. That salaries of clergymen have not been increased in proportion to the greater cost of commodities, the latter having advanced at least 100 per cent. 2. That salaries have not been increased as much as the wages of labor in general, because the latter advanced fifty per cent. between 1860 and 1865, as ascertained from various sources. 3. That salaries were not enhanced so much as the profits of trade and manufactures, which, between 1860 and 1865, are known to have increased some one hundred per cent.—that is, they were about doubled in amount. 4. As a conclusion, that the clergy, as a body, must have made a greater sacrifice of pecuniary interest than any other principal class of the community. Many other interesting facts might be drawn from this able article. "I spend the Sabbath day," said a godless man, "in casting up my accounts." "Yes," said a minister of Christ, who heard the sneering utterance, "and the day of judgment will be spent in the same way." The Presbyterian, after quoting the above remark and answer, says we venture to add that on that day we believe many accounts, entirely settled in this world, duly receipted, and finally forgotten, will be re-opened, and woe unto the man, or group of men, who will then be found to have ground the faces of poor ministers of the Lord Jesus Christ, or thought not of their straits in the time of their prosperity.

The dismissal of Rev. Rowland Conner, junior pastor of the School street Universalist Church in Boston, for preaching heretical doctrines and advocating ritualistic views, is likely to breed trouble in that denomination. The Springfield Republican thinks the result will the organization of a Free Universalist Church in Boston, possibly also a sharp division of the denomination into orthodox and liberal Universalists.

Twenty-three camp meetings are announced in the New York Advocate, varying from the 10th of this month until the same date in September. Tarentum Camp meeting near this city closed on last Thursday, and immediately thereafter the Albright Methodists, as they are sometimes called, composed of Germans, commenced a meeting, which will close sometime next week. Meetings of this character commenced on Thursday near McKeesport and Enon Valley.

Rev. Herrick Johnston, D.D., pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church of this city, in an address at the New York State Teachers' Association, took the ground that greater prominence should be given to the classics than to mathematics as a proper course of study, and better adopted to develop attention, taste, judgment—instruments most necessary to complete success in any department of active life. He thought children should commence the study of languages early in life. Boys should read Latin intelligently at twelve and Greek at fourteen. By these means the power of gaining knowledge is best acquired.

A Unitarian minister in the New England States thinks it is doubtful whether without our modern society, God can send upon society a greater continuation of curse, than a very eloquent preacher, a ten thousand dollar organ, and a superb opera choir.

It is probable the Centenary of Universalism in this country will be celebrated in 1870, being one hundred years since John Murray, the father of the denomination, landed in this country. This body now comprises about seven hundred ministers and about five hundred organized societies. Of these considerably more than two-thirds are found in New England and New York. In New Jersey, which claims the honor of the "landing," there are but four societies and three ministers. It is said more than a million of dollars was raised by them last year for educational and missionary purposes, and for the erection of church edifices.

The Board of Managers of the Tract Society of the M. E. Church offer a premium of two hundred and fifty dollars for the best approved tract, not to exceed thirty-two pages, on the evils, physical, mental, moral and social, resulting from the use of tobacco.

The new Episcopal Divinity School at Cambridge, Massachusetts, is to open its course of instruction the coming autumn, and some of the appointed Professors are preparing to move upon the ground.

Says Zion's Herald, of Boston, a few active, fluent, healthy, middle-aged females (especially if well meaning) are enough to worry any young clergyman of rather weakly constitution into an early grave.

Progress of the Pacific Railway.

Dispatches from San Francisco give encouraging accounts of the progress and prospects of the western end of the Great Pacific Railroad. It will be remembered that Congress granted to the two principal companies—the Union Pacific and Central Pacific—the right to build their respective lines from opposite ends until they meet and connect. The former have nearly crossed the level plains of Nebraska, is rapidly approaching the outlying hills of the Rocky Mountain range; while the latter, it appears, is making equally gratifying headway. During this month it is expected the last and greatest of the tunnels on the western link will be opened, and the crossing of the dreaded Sierra Nevada Mountains be regularly made by the locomotive, into the Great Salt Lake Basin. This achievement of hewing and blasting a pathway through primeval granite barriers, although all included within 150 miles, is equivalent to more than 600 miles of ordinary railroad, in cost and resistance overcome. Upwards of $20,000,000 have been expended in the enterprise which includes, however, the equipment and materials for 150 miles additional. Eastward of the graded portion the line has been surveyed and located for 600 miles, developing an easy and favorable route, and it is believed that fully half of the distance between the Pacific coast and the Missouri river will be built by the Central Pacific Company, as they are favored by having their hardest work done, and by the presence of large numbers of cheap and serviceable Chinese laborers. It is assuring to be informed, also, that the business of the road is very large, the earnings for July being $173,000 in gold; while the operating expenses were less than $25,000.

The Company receives a large subsidy from the Government, and in order to push on the work with even greater energy, are offering their First Mortgage Bonds for sale, through Fisk & Hatch, their financial agents in New York, and our leading bankers, at rates very tempting to capitalists. The merits and advantages of the Central Pacific Railroad bonds are fully set forth in our advertising column.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE

Is prepared by the originator of the justly celebrated Coe's Cough Balsam. Mr. Coe has never prepared a medicinal article for public and general use but what has stood the strongest test, and has always borne the palm of victory over every disease it has been certified to cure. Will you who are suffering from dyspepsia, indigestion, nausea, sick headache, cholera morbus, dysentery and general debility of the whole system, try this great bottle? We will never ever you again if we fail in this edge of its merits. the united testimony of all who have ever tried it, the encomiums of hundreds of our own neighbors, your duty to yourself and the beneficial results, all urgently, persistently urge you to try just one bottle. If what we say is not correct—if our statements concerning its wonderful virtues are not found to be true—if you do not say that the operation of the medicine is instantaneous and wonderful—we will renounce our profession as caterers to the public health, and retire from the field, admitting that we are incompetent to compound a medicinal preparation which would be entitled to your confidence.

THE POISONS OF THE DAY.

The late temperance investigations in Massachusetts have thrown a flood of light on the horrible abuses practiced in the liquor trade, and have at the same time demonstrated the absolute necessity for unadulterated diffusive stimulants for medicinal purposes. Clergymen of the highest standing, men of the highest rank in science, and philanthropists, who are above the reach of prejudice, have testified not only to the pernicious effects of the adulterated liquors of commerce, but also the efficacy of uncontaminated alcoholic tonics as remedial and restorative agents.

First on the list of this class of preparations, best known and most extensively used of all the stomachics of the day, stands HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This specific is the only representative of that absolutely pure article which eminent divines, chemists, physicians and social economists in New England have just declared not to be a proper subject for prohibitory legislation. The faculty proclaims by the mouths of its professors that such an article in character is a medical necessity. HOSTETTER'S BITTERS satisfies all the requirements of science. Its alcoholic principle is free from the irritating constituents which analysis detects in even the best imported liquors, and the vegetable extracts with which it is medicated are among the best antidotes and restoratives that botanical science, in its world-wide researches, has yet discovered. It is an indubitable fact that some constitutions and habits of body demand stimulation, and for all such a stimulant which combines anti bilious and slightly aperient properties with its tonic virtues is manifestly desirable.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone" on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten on my lungs. I knew that the popular mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to a discharge which I was constrained to believe was a salutary provision of Nature to get rid of some morbid condition in the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying to the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, J—— C——.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE
Central Pacific
RAILROAD,
THE WESTERN HALF OF THE Great National Trunk Line Across the Continent,

Being constructed with the AID AND SUPERVISION OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the MOST IMPORTANT AND VALUABLE RAILROADS IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link of communication between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, and the Principal Portion of the Main Stem Line Between the two Oceans.

The present western terminus is at Sacramento, on the navigable waters of the Pacific, but it will ultimately extend from San Francisco across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West. The Company are authorized to continue their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 863 miles $28,592,000, or at the average rate of $33,000 per mile, not including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Central Pacific Railroad enjoys all the privileges, grants, and subsidies conferred by the Acts of Congress upon the other parts of the through line, and has, in addition several special, exclusive advantages applicable only to the Western Half.

I. The Company has received from the State and chief cities of California, assistance in money, credit, and valuable property, worth over $3,000,000 in gold, in addition to the full benefit of the Government subsidy.

II. The hardest and costliest part of its construction has been successfully overcome within the first 150 miles. In a few weeks the track will be completed entirely across the Sierra Nevadas, after which progress to Salt Lake will be easy and rapid.

III. The local business alone of this road establishes its complete financial success, independently of the vast through traffic which must pass over it. The gross earnings for the months of June and July, upon the 94 miles then open for business, were upward of $350,000 in gold; of which four-fifths were net earnings.

IV. It can have no competition, but will carry, beside its own lucrative local traffic, the whole volume of through business which is shared among its Eastern connections and their branches.

V. The road lies wholly in territory yielding the precious metals, and its revenues are collected in coin. Its rates for transportation are very advantageous, being more than three times those of roads lying east of it; and the ratio of operating expenses is less than 25 per cent. of the gross earnings.

VI. In consequence of the aid it receives from the General Government, from the State of California, and from municipal corporations, the annual interest obligations which the Company are called upon to assume are very light. The net earnings upon an average of about 75 miles, in 1865, were nearly three times the amount of annual interest liabilities to be assumed in building it, and were $235,000 more than the annual interest on the entire amount of First Mortgage Bonds which the Company can issue upon the first 150 miles.

The Company offer for sale, through us, their

First Mortgage Thirty Year, Six per cent. Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest payable in Gold Coin, in New York city. They are in sums of $1,000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are selling for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st added, in currency, at which rate they yield nearly Nine per cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by Act of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same amount only as the bonds granted by the Government; and represent, in all cases, the first lien upon a completed, equipped, and productive railroad, in which have been invested Government subsidies, stock subscriptions, donations, surplus earnings, etc., and which is worth more than three times the amount of First Mortgage Bonds which can be issued upon it. The agreement of this Company to pay principal and interest of their Bonds in coin, being made under the Specie Contract Law of California, authorizing and enforcing contracts to pay gold, is legally binding, unlike similar agreements made by companies in States where no such legislative sanction exists.

In these important particulars the Securities of the Central Pacific Company offer an unusual degree of stability and profit combined.

THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS OF THIS COMPANY are destined to occupy a prominent place among FIRST-CLASS SECURITIES in the money markets of this country and Europe, and will, without doubt, be eagerly sought for, and anxiously dealt in hereafter, at rates materially in advance of the price at which they are now offered.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions, and others, as an eminently sound, reliable and remunerative form of permanent investment.
