Our Special column is decidedly interesting to a local point of view, and profitable reading to outsiders who want to save money.

O. B. Merrell is getting his tools and new goods in hand, preparatory to opening up his new tin-shop.

The Huntingdon Presbytery will meet in the Presbyterian Church, at Tyrone, on Tuesday next, April 10th.

Dr. J. Ray Wrigley left Clearfield on Tuesday morning for Tyrone, where he has decided to hang out his shingle.

Bishop L. Wallace is home from school, to enjoy the summer vacation. He is attending school at Lawrenceville, N. J.

Ask your merchant, druggist, or grocer, for "Fish's Magic Oil." It is guaranteed to cure the worst pains, and all pains and aches. apr4-1

The two weeks term of our June Court will be held on the third and fourth Mondays of May this year, instead of the first and second Mondays of June.

A young man in this place, who expects to be married soon, is continually annoying his friends by singing, "What will the harvest be?" And, of course, no one can tell him.

To prevent tobacco chewers from being imposed upon, merchants have put a tin stamp in every plug of their tobacco. Take none unless stamped. Lyte is sole agent for Clearfield county.

Rev. R. F. Stevens preached his farewell sermon in the Courthouse M. E. Church last Sunday morning. Rev. James H. McCord, of Waynesboro, Pa., who is visiting friends in the place, preached from the same pulpit on Sunday evening.

Rev. T. M. Reese, who has served as Presiding Elder of the Altoona District for the past four years, has been assigned to preach some sermons in the western at Bloomsburg, while Rev. Rev. S. C. Swallow has been elevated to the Eldership vacated by Mr. Reese.

According to a law of our State last Monday, April 2d, was the first trout-fishing day of the season. We see it stated in one of our exchanges that ex-President Grant contemplates visiting Pennsylvania on a trout-fishing tour prior to his departure for Europe.

Trading Off.—It will noticed by reference to the Conference appointments, that Rev. John B. Young, who has filled the pulpit of the M. E. Church at Curwensville for the past three years, has been assigned to Carlisle, while Rev. George Lusty, who has served the congregation at the latter place for a similar term, takes charge of the former Church.

An individual peddling oreide metal jewelry about town last week was arrested on Saturday afternoon, while making for the train, with the apparent intention of jumping his bill at the Mansion House. He was lodged in jail until evening, when he "talked over the handcuffs," and was set at liberty. He immediately commenced trade in the diamond, but few people were foolish enough to invest their quarters in his cheap glittering ware.

House and Barn Consumed.—We learn that the dwelling and large barn of Joseph W. Thompson, situated in the Sap Orchard of Lawrence township were destroyed by fire on Thursday last. It appears that the fire of the dwelling "started out," and the wind carried the sparks to the barn, and both were consumed. We did not learn the amount of the loss entirely on Mr. Thompson by this double calamity, but we understand that the property is partly covered by insurance.

Fatal Accident.—A young man named J. S. Hoit, or Hoyt, while breaking a log jam on Cutlers mill creek, a short distance below Smith's dam, on Wednesday last, was killed instantly by a falling tree. The wind, which was blowing very hard at the time, blew down a dead hemlock, which struck the unfortunate man and crushed him to death. He was engaged on Alex. Henderson's job, whose postoffice address is Grant, Indiana county, Pa. The deceased was properly buried on Thursday. Hoyt's residence is unknown, but it is believed he hailed from Elmira, New York. Williamsport and Elmira papers will please notice.

What a Pity!—The refined individuals who preside over the columns of the Bellefonte Watchman are disgusted because of the lack of enterprise displayed on our part in the Turner-Wagle murder case. We are sorry (as a matter of accommodation) that we cannot furnish these journalists with murder, suicide and rape copy. No matter of that kind runs through the columns of the Republican. These same editors represented on one occasion over ten men employing a network gentry. The "enterprise" of these same gentlemen is therefore beginning to attract our attention. For accommodation we know none other who are equal, and we shall, as soon as convenient, make them a visit and explain our business and newspaper experience to them, and at the same time ascertain whether they will allow us to continue in business in the interior, or we will permanently move to the seaboard to furnish all the copy we can.

No! No!!—"Are you going to publish the proceedings in this murder case?" To this we can only have answered "I do" a thousand times during the past three months. We seldom regale our readers with murder, suicide and rape stories, as all can testify, and much as we might desire to put the details of this awful local tragedy, we cannot afford to run the risk of prosecution for transmitting obscene reading matter. When much of the testimony is so outrageous that the Court orders all the boys out of the room, so as to prevent them from hearing it, we think it is better to help cover the details than to give them publicity. More! Upon learning of the murder of Mr. Wagle, we set about making a full record of the case; but, upon hearing the testimony during the Jackson corpse trial, we were convinced that we could not embellish our columns with the obscene rehearsals of many of the witnesses in the case just tried.

Incompatible.—The Act of the Legislature, approved the 15th day of May, 1876, makes School Directors, Constables, and Supervisors, ineligible to act as borough or township Auditors. It is a wise prohibition. This thing of public officers settling their own accounts was outrage on common decency.

All Right.—Brookville is to have another railroad, connecting that city with the town of Buffalo, New York, as the Republican of the former place puts it. If the new road should flank the capital of Jefferson county as badly as the Bee Line Railroad does, we generally know what to expect.

List of letters remaining unclaimed in the Postoffice at Clearfield, for the week ending April 2, 1877:

The following are the delinquency, the closing words of a sermon preached in the Clearfield Presbyterian Church, last Sabbath morning, upon the text, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy":

A sad branch of God's holy law is occurring in this our locality to day. With whom the responsibility lies, I do not pretend to say. God knows, and he will visit it where it belongs. A short time since, the Christian sentiment of the country was shocked by a proposition to open the Chicago Exposition on the Sabbath; and at once that sentiment asserted itself so unmistakably that the evil was averted. Little did we think that so soon the same question, in another form, should be forced upon our own community with no opportunity for protest. May God forgive those who have erred in this matter, and may God avert from this community the curse which is sure to follow the public trampling upon His law, even though it be in the so called interests of justice!

The duty of the hour, for every Christian, and every lover of truth and order, in view of this apparently unrelenting act, is, to express himself as clearly in regard to it that those who are responsible shall understand that it was at least a dangerous experiment, and shall thus be deterred from a similar course of conduct in the time to come.

[Brother Butler's mind evidently runs in the same groove with that of the individuals who at one time arrested Christ for hooking a few ears of corn on the Sabbath day. See St. Matthew, XII: 1-8.—Ed. Rep.]

An Opening for Boys.—The Clinton Democrat of last week says: "There is a vacant Naval Cadetship from this Congressional district which Hon. L. A. Mackey desires to fill. Parties wishing to apply therefor should address him at Lock Haven. The requirements of the Academy are such as to make it difficult to enter. Physically, the applicant must be sound, and he must have a good education to start with. He must be over 14 and under 18 years of age, and an actual resident of the district. Accepted candidates will be required to report for examination at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., in June next. The candidate for examination has to produce satisfactory testimonials of good moral character, and must certify his age. 'He must be physically sound, well formed, and of robust constitution.' The examination is in the respect strict. Five feet six is the lowest height for the candidate, and no one manifestly under size for his age will be received. And the candidate must pass a satisfactory examination before the Academic board, in reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, geography, and English grammar. All the examinations, except in reading, are to be written. For further and full particulars, see pamphlet of regulations issued by the Academy and in the hands of Mr Mackey." His postoffice address is Lock Haven, Pa.

THE GREAT TRIAL CLOSED.

The trial of Martin V. Turner, for the murder of Mrs. Martha J. Wagle, on the 24 day of November, 1876, which commenced in our Court on the 19th of March, closed yesterday, the 3d day of April, the jury returning a verdict of "Murder in the first degree." The names of the twelve men who composed the jury are as follows:

John Orr, New Washington borough.
James Ferguson, Ferguson township.
Michael Kratzer, Covington township.
Isaac Wolf, Jordan township.
Austin Lewis, Ferguson township.
Henry Potts, Bloom township.
David E. Bloom, Lawrence township.
George E. Jones, Osceola borough.
Nicholas Martel, Covington township.
David S. Kephart, Decatur township.
F. W. A. Shoff, Decatur township.
Frank Wright, Beccaria township.

It will be observed that Covington, Decatur and Ferguson townships furnished two jurors each.

This trial will take into history as one of the longest and most hotly contested criminal cases ever tried in this Commonwealth. No less than one hundred and forty-six witnesses were called and examined on the part of the Commonwealth during the trial.

The prisoner was ordered to be taken to prison on Monday evening after the Court charged the jury, and was remanded on Tuesday morning after the verdict was rendered.

The defendant's counsel asked that the case go over until the next term, which was granted. The prisoner will, therefore, not receive his sentence until after May Court.

THE GLASS WORKS.

S. S. Blair, Esq., Superintendent of the Tyrone Division of the P. R. R., says the Tyrone Herald received a letter a few days ago, from Mr W. F. Durfee, of New York, in regard to the erection of plate glass works in this county. We have been permitted to make the following extracts from Mr. Durfee's letter. He writes: "I have the pleasure of being able to say that $200,000 of the capital stock of the proposed company for the manufacture of plate glass, has been subscribed in Belgium, and Mr. Aug. Gobert proposes to reach this country on or about the 20th of April. He will bring with him one of the best glass manufacturers of Belgium, and will also bring with him complete plans and models of the proposed works. Mr. Gobert writes that he will come prepared to erect the works by contract and deliver them in working order to the company. Should the balance of the capital stock required be subscribed promptly, there would be no difficulty in completing the works by the end of the current year, so that at furthest they would be in operation by the early spring of next year." Now as to the location of the works, Mr. Durfee says: "I have received an offer from Mr. Wm. M. Lyon, of Pittsburgh, of thirty acres of land in West Tyrone, which, I should judge from his description, to be every way suitable for the location of the proposed works." The land here referred to is on the south side of the main line of the P. R. R., near where Paddy Mahallas lives, and would answer every purpose of the glass works, so that so far as the location is concerned, Tyrone fills the bill. The next and most important question is, "what amount of money will the citizens of Tyrone subscribe toward securing these works?" The location of such an establishment in Tyrone, will, of necessity, increase the population, and to all incalculable benefit to the town in many ways which we need not now enumerate. Mr. Durfee wants to be informed if there are any persons in Tyrone or its vicinity, who will be likely to subscribe to the stock of the proposed company, if the works are located in Tyrone. He will take pleasure in calling their attention to the character of the proposed enterprise, and in giving them all the information he has in regard to its prospects. And just here, we would say to our people, if they want the works located here, they ought to go to work at once—don't delay a moment—and see what amount of stock can be raised in town and its vicinity, for upon the arrival of Mr. Gobert, he will no doubt be overwhelmed with offers of money and everything else necessary to the establishment of the works. It is a chance we can not afford to lose, and we must be ready for him when he arrives. We can and do offer superior advantages over every body else, but we must also furnish some capital. It is for the people here to say whether we shall have the glass works or not, for we believe that Mr. Gobert is more inclined to come here than anywhere else, provided he is secured the right kind of inducements. What say you?
