Our Special column is decidedly interesting in a local point of view, and profitable reading to outsiders who want to save money.

Dog days commenced last Saturday.

'Squire Kerr married his first couple on Monday morning.

Dr. Stewart administers Nitrous Oxide Gas for the painless extraction of teeth. 2

Workmen have commenced laying brick on the new residence of William D. Bigler, west end of Pine street.

A large invoice of fishing tackle just received at Harder's Gun Store, next to First National Bank, Clearfield, Pa.

A change in the date for teachers' examinations at Curwensville and Lumber City is made in the programme this week.

The tenth annual session of the Pennsylvania State Dental Society will be held at Bedford Springs, July 30th, 31st and August 1st.

Rev. A. H. Sembower, of Reading, will preach in the Clearfield Baptist Church next Sunday, morning and evening, at the usual hours.

The statements of the County National and First National Banks are published in this paper to-day. Both of these institutions are sound financially, as the reports will show.

The warm weather of the past few weeks has greatly improved the appearance of the corn fields. The new oats in this region look well and the crop promises to be an abundant one.

Dr. J. L. R. Heichhold, of this borough, will attend the meeting of the Dental Association at Tyrone to-day and to-morrow, after which he will spend some time visiting his friends at Brookville.

The Auditors of Lawrence township publish a statement of the Road, School and Poor funds of their district for 1878, which should receive a careful perusal from the tax-payers of that township.

The Juniata Valley Camp Meeting will commence at Newton Hamilton, on the 13th of August and close on the 23d. The Mt. Union congregation will have charge of the boarding tent and restaurant.

Harper's Magazine for August is on our table, chock full of original and interesting matter. Leave your order at the Clearfield Post-office, where this and all other magazines and papers can be had.

We are authorized to give notice that a meeting of the National Christian Temperance Union of Clearfield will be held in the Court House next Monday evening, July 22, at 8 o'clock. Rev. R. P. Campbell, of Woodland, has been secured as one of the speakers for that occasion.

Prof. George W. Weaver, for a number of years Principal of the free schools at Curwensville, has been elected to fill the same position in the public schools at Penfield, in Huston township. Mr. Weaver is a good teacher, and we have no doubt the Penfield folks will be well pleased with him.

Mr. McQuown, the County Superintendent, informs us that he has secured Hon. Schuyler Colfax, of South Bend, Ind., to deliver a lecture in Clearfield during the next session of the Teachers' County Institute, which will be held sometime in December. Mr. McQ. will endeavor to secure other celebrities for that occasion.

The time of holding the Young Men's Prayer Meeting, which is held in the lecture room of the Presbyterian Church every Sabbath, has been changed from evening to morning, just previous to the regular hour for preaching service. Until further notice, the meeting will be held every Sabbath at 9:45 A. M. A cordial invitation is extended to citizens to attend, and especially to the young men.

Rev. J. S. McMurray, pastor of the Clearfield M. E. Church, was absent last Sunday, attending the re-opening of a Church at Milesburg, Centre county. His pulpit was ably filled in the morning by Rev. E. J. Gray, President of Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport, who preached an eloquent sermon. Rev. A. D. Yocum, a former pastor of the Church, now stationed at Bellefonte, preached in the evening, and was greeted with a large congregation. Mr. Yocum's friends here are numbered by hundreds, who are always glad of an opportunity to hear him preach.

John B. Parson, a member of the Empire Hook and Ladder Company, of Altoona, was killed July 5th, near East Tyrone, while the company were returning from a celebration at Bellefonte on the 4th. He was standing on the steps of the car-platform, looking back to the rear of the train, when he was struck on the back of the head by an iron bolt projecting from the timbers of a bridge spanning the Juniata river at the place above named and knocked off into the ditch along side of the track. He was picked up alive, but died before the train reached the station at Tyrone. He was aged about 22 years.

We, like almost everybody else, thought every family in the land was supplied with one of those much to be desired necessities—a sewing machine—but, upon conversing with J. W. Nicklin, the agent of the Singer Manufacturing Company at this place, we found we were greatly mistaken; for he informs us that he has sold over fifty of those justly celebrated Singer Sewing Machines since he came to Clearfield county—only three months ago. He also informs us that the Singer is to-day in greater demand than ever, notwithstanding new machines have been heaped upon the market and old ones have changed their names, taking some name that will likely lead some of the unwary to purchase a machine that in a few years they are compelled either to throw away or trade it off for a mere song, and at last buy a Singer. And we heartily coincide with Mr. Nicklin in his statement, that it is better to buy a Singer at first, and have a machine that will last for years without getting out of repair, than to buy a model and in a few years have to replace it with a Singer. The office of the Singer is in Willey's tailoring establishment, on Market street, Clearfield, Pa.

[illegible] Wilcox, the Clearfield people, is now editing the Sentinel, at Fair Play, Park county, Colorado.

Nearly all the wheat and rye in this county has been harvested. The crop is better than anticipated by the farmers generally.

If you want the best Sewing Machine, buy the Weed, improved in 1877. For sale by M. B. Beers, Clearfield, Pa. [jy17-1m.*

Dr. J. M. Stewart, of this place, will be absent from his office on Wednesday and Thursday, July 17th and 18th, attending the session of the Central Dental Association at Tyrone.

LOST!—On the afternoon of the 8th inst., on the river road, between Lumber City and Curwensville, a valuable ear-ring. The finder will be suitably rewarded by sending the same to this office.

A BIG THING.—Our Philipsburg neighbors enjoyed the biggest Fourth of July that ever was awarded to any vicinity on the western slope of the Alleghenies. We were not present, but we are told that the corporate limits of the borough imitated a bee hive for numbers, and all went off well.

List of letters remaining unclaimed in the Postoffice at Clearfield, for the week ending July 15, 1878:—

G. W. Allison (Attorney-at-Law), Margaret Albert, C. D. Evans & Brother, Daniel Jones, E. H. Kinslow, Wm. D. Keen, Mrs M. J. Lumadue, Mrs. Maggie Meyer, Miss Maggie Shimel.

P. A. GAULIN, P. M.

The parties who stole two old hens and about twenty young chickens from the farm of Joseph L. Thompson, in Lawrence township, near Mt. Zion, are requested to return them and save expense. The parties are known to Mr. Thompson, and if they want to save themselves from a disgraceful exposure they will escort the birds back to their first roosting place. Look out, now! Joseph means business!

An adjourned meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery was held at Bedford on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, at which time Rev. J. R. Henderson was ordained and installed pastor of the Presbyterian Church in that town. The clergymen in attendance from this county were Rev. H. S. Butler, of Clearfield, and Rev. D. H. Campbell, of Ansonville. The Presbytery adjourned to meet at Lemon, Centre county, on the first Tuesday in October next.

THE CURWENSVILLE BAND.—The members of this musical organization paid our town a visit last Wednesday evening, and during their stay had the pleasure of seeing the next Governor. The talent and deportment of this band cannot be discounted, and it is a misfortune that this borough is unable to get up a similar organization. During their visit, besides serenading Senator Dill, they afterward executed a number of pieces throughout the borough, to the delight of the old and, particularly, the youngsters. Shall Clearfield have a band too? This is now the question.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.—The last Fourth of July made Clearfield appear like a Sunday. The turnout to Philipsburg was large; then there were turnouts of clans, factions and families, in every direction in the morning, who picnicked in the groves adjoining town. But such a rain storm set in between 1 and 3 o'clock P. M.—and was kept up until evening—that the destruction of starch, ribbons and hats was grievous, indeed. Five thousand dollars of loose cash was spent outside of Clearfield by persons who would have spent it here at home had an opportunity been given. It takes no Solomon to see how our business men lost their harvest on the Fourth.

THE MOSHANNON BRIDGE.—The Commissioners of Clearfield and Centre counties have awarded the stone work for the new bridge across the Moshannon creek, below Kylertown, to George Spearing, for $885. There were fifteen bids for the work, ranging from $510 to $1,320. A number of the bids were of the "straw" kind, from the fact that the bidders failed to furnish the proper sureties for the completion of the work. The superstructure, which is to be of iron, was awarded to the Milton Car Works, for $1,235. The bridge is to be one span, 100 feet in length, and is to be completed by the first day of next October. The total cost will be $2,120, one-half to be paid by each county.

ANOTHER ANDERSON.—Thomas Anderson, who has been in charge of Sheriff Pentz's stable, in some way, two weeks ago, acquired a basket filled with groceries, belonging to Owen Campbell, of Boggs township. Mr. Campbell, suspecting said Anderson, came to town last Monday morning, and, after obtaining a permit from Esquire Howe, repaired to Thomas' residence, in this borough, and there found his basket and cloths, minus the groceries. Thomas, therefore, has a case on the list for the September Quarter Sessions. It would seem from this that he is no better than the Louisiana Andersons, though he may not have Sherman, Jenks and Pinkston enlisted on his side.

ACCIDENTAL POISONING.—On the night of the 4th, says the Clinton Democrat, Mr. George McCormick called at Wallace, Hilton & Co.'s drug store, in Lock Haven, for some medicine, including a pint of whisky. He left the latter in the laboratory, and when he came back he took up another bottle (notwithstanding it was of different size and shape and labeled Carbolic Acid), thinking he had his own, and went off. Upon returning to his farm just below town he took a drink of the acid and and died in about half an hour. Dr. Walls was called, but could afford no relief. Deceased was a fine farmer, quiet, kind and industrious, and his sudden taking off is deeply lamented by a large circle of relatives and friends."

HOME.—Ex-Gov. Bigler and wife have returned home, after making a lengthy visit to Judge Black, at York, Pa. The Fulton Republican, in alluding to the meeting of these two prominent Democratic statesmen, ironically remarks: "We presume these two Democratic heroes have concocted a plan by which all our moral, social and financial wrongs are to be cured, by simply putting their party in power." Well, if they have agreed upon a plan, it would be well enough for the country to try it; and if the people do not fare better than they have under Radical rule, we will ask to have them and all their friends turned out of office before they waste one-half the precious time that the friends of the editor in question have.

AN AGGRESSIVE REPORTER.—The reporter of the Bellefonte Watchman was enterprising enough to cross the Allegheny Mountain on the Fourth, for the purpose of witnessing the Philipsburg celebration. When he reached the town he found it full of people, and, in imitation of other young men, he pressed his way westward, so as to flank the crowd and be at rest. He forced himself through the village, crossed the placid waters of the Moshannon, and found himself half way across Decatur township, in this county, before he reached the outer circle of human beings. What happened the man afterwards he fails to relate, except that he got mixed up with the girls and bands of music—and he may be the possessor of a horn yet, for aught we know.

MERITED.—The editors of the Altoona daily Tribune, in their issue of the 8th inst., pay the following compliment to our neighbor and fellow-citizen: "Rev. William H. Dill, of Clearfield, very acceptably filled the pulpit of the First Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday morning and evening. His discourse in the morning was founded on II Corinthians, iv: 17-18, and that of the evening on Romans, xiv: 7. Both texts were skillfully handled and the points in them very clearly set forth. He closed his evening sermon with a strong appeal to the young people to let the influence of their lives be in favor of Christ and Christianity. Rev. Mr. Dill is a brother of Hon. Andrew H. Dill, the Democratic candidate for Governor, and is one of the most pleasant gentlemen among the Methodist clergy of the Central Pennsylvania Conference. As a preacher of righteousness he is forcible, eloquent and acceptable, and has a host of warm friends among the churches. May he long be preserved to the church to preach the unsearchable riches of Christ to dying men."

A UNION FAIR.—We learn that arrangements are being perfected for holding a Fair in Pie's Opera House, during the first week of the September Court. One of the features of the Fair will be a contest between the friends of Rev. P. J. Sheridan and Rev. Wm. H. Dill, for a set of the New American Cyclopædia, 18 volumes, library binding. The mode of contest will be by ballot, a vote to be considered equal to 25 cents, and the clergyman for whom the most cash has been contributed during the Fair will be awarded the Cyclopædia. The books will be on exhibition at the Postoffice, in this place, until after the contest is decided. The funds realized will be used for missionary purposes. The friends of the two gentlemen named will, no doubt, ply their vocation from now until the close of the Fair. Four votes for 24; or twenty votes for 25, just as you like.

—We understand since the above was put in type that the lady friends of Mrs. Kate A. Pentz, of this borough, and Mrs. Kate O'Keefe, of Curwensville, have determined to secure a silver tea set, which is to be disposed of in a similar manner.

Any information respecting the Gas Company, will be cheerfully given by A. F. Boynton, President, or W. W. Betts, Secretary. je19-tf.

MR. E. K. THOMPSON, Titusville, Pa.—Dear Sir:—I take pleasure in sounding the virtues of Sleeper's Arnica Liniment. About three months since I had in one of my feet what the M. D.'s said was acute rheumatism. In three days' time I was unable to bear the weight of a shoe on my foot. I made an application of the liniment at 4 o'clock p. m., and in one hour there was a decided change for the better. The next day at noon I put on my boots and have had no further trouble. Very truly yours,

M. M. TUTTLE.

A VERY PAINFUL DEATH.—A peculiar fatality seems to have followed the boy Fleming, who died in this borough on Tuesday evening of last week. During the rafting season last Spring he became enamored with the river, and constantly repaired to its banks against the express commands of his parents. He sought every opportunity to escape from his home, and finally, while playing on a raft, he fell into the water and was carried some distance down the stream, when he was by accident rescued from a watery grave and restored to his parents by young Murray, who happened to be near at the time. This frightened him from the river bank for a time; but just as soon as the flood subsided and the water became warm enough, he resorted to the river again for the purpose of bathing. While in the water a few weeks ago he happened to cut his heel on an old fruit can, which was embedded in the sand. The injury seemed insignificant, and he continued his bathing two, three, and even four times a day, until four days previous to his death, when his foot became inflamed and exceedingly painful, producing lock-jaw and finally resulting in death. His sufferings were awful, and this case should prove a warning to all disobedient boys.

A HEART-RENDING TRAGEDY.—The Wyoming Democrat relates the following: "One of the most sad and shocking accidents that we have ever had occasion to record occurred near this place (Tankhannock) on Thursday, the 4th inst., at about 10 o'clock A. M., while many of our citizens were absent, attending the Centennial celebration ceremonies at Wilkes-Barre. A son of Jacob Brungess, Howard by name, aged 12, was shooting at a mark placed upon the side of a smoke-house in their back yard, with a smooth rifle. This he had been permitted to do by his father, who, it is said, helped him to mould the bullets. Suddenly, as the boy was examining the mark after making a shot, he heard a faint sound in the adjoining field where Mr. Brungess was cradling wheat. Going to the place from whence the sound proceeded he found his father lying on the ground insensible, with a bullet-hole in the back of his head, from which the blood was flowing profusely. It seems that Mr. Brungess happened to be standing, at the very moment the shot was made, in an exact line with the direction taken by the ball, which, although it had passed through a distance of some two hundred feet from the muzzle of the gun, and had pierced two boards, each over an inch in thickness, and grazed a peach tree limb in its course, still retained sufficient impetus to produce a mortal wound. Medical assistance was immediately summoned, and Dr. Mulholland made an ineffectual attempt to extract the ball, probing the wound to the depth of several inches. It soon became apparent that nothing could be done to prevent the death of the wounded man, which took place about three hours after the accident, the patient remaining insensible nearly all the intervening time. We can scarcely realize what a dreadful state of affliction the family must be thrown into by this unexpected and most heart-rending tragedy, or what a terrible warning it conveys against the careless use of dangerous weapons. The deceased was a man about 50 years of age, a highly respected citizen and kind neighbor. He leaves a wife and three children, the youngest of whom was the one whose lock less and ill-fated hand committed the sad accident that has left him fatherless."
