Our Special column is decidedly interesting in a local point of view, and profitable reading to outsiders who want to save money.

YES, OF COURSE!

"Will you take wheat, oats or corn for subscription?" We are often inquired of in this way by letter from patrons who reside at a distance from Clearfield. We again say yes. The receipts of a responsible merchant or mill owner in the vicinity, will answer us just as well as the cash. To illustrate: If any of our patrons will deliver us a bag of grain at the mill of Joseph H. Breth, in Chest township, Horace Patchin, in Burnside, Thomas H. Forcey, in Graham, Wm. Porter or Shaw's, in Lawrence, or Brown & Seyler's, at Rockton, Union township, and forward their receipts for the amount, we will credit them on their account for the same. In this way all may soon pay what they owe, if they will pursue this course. tf.

The bustle and confusion in our town last Saturday afternoon and evening, reminded one of "auld lang syne." The streets were filled with people, and only an ordinary business day, too. It would have done credit to a first-class show day. The mellifluous and soul stirring strains of a hand-organ also contributed to enliven the scene.

That Stump Creek Well.—The Punxsutawney Spirit of last week, in alluding to that everlasting oil well on the banks of this historical creek, says:

> "The drillers at Stump Creek, Messrs. Mahaffey and Dobie, were in town a day or two ago, and informed us that they were still trying to remove the reamer which is down in the hole, and at which they have been at work for six weeks. Just when they will get it out, no one can tell. In the meantime a number of pieces of land have been purchased by Hunter, Crawford & Co., and several farms have been leased upon favorable terms to the owners, and a handsome bonus paid in each instance."

This Stump Creek oil well is, indeed, a bonanza, worked up by sharpers for some one's benefit. Why the farce is kept up so long, if there is no oil there, is what puzzles us!

English Believed to be on His Way to Canada.—The Williamsport Banner, of the 1st inst., contains the following item:

> "The following information concerning the murderer, English, was given at this office last night by a gentleman residing in this city, who received a letter from a friend living in the vicinity where English was seen. The facts are as follows: English, the Elk county murderer, was up at Mrs. Christ's the fore part of this week, on the top of Laurel hill, about ten miles from Trout run, and demanded his dinner. His hand was tied up, and he was lame from the injuries he received at the time of the bloody affray with the officers at Caledonia. On Tuesday night he was at the house of Jacob Smeltzley, in Union township, Tioga county, near Roaring Branch, which place is about twelve miles from the house of Mrs. Christ. He demanded his supper at this place, which, of course, was given him. He then struck for the woods. In all probability he is making his way to the State of New York, and from there he expects to reach Canada. The route he has taken so far, is the most isolated one that could have been selected."

A LUMBER FIRE.

Six million feet of boards were rendered into ashes at Williamsport on Friday last. The fire broke out about five o'clock in the evening, in the lumber yard of Howard, Perley & Howard, from sparks from an edging burner, and as the wind was blowing at a hurricane rate, the fire soon spread over acres of lumber.

As near as can be ascertained, the losses are estimated as follows: Bowman & Co., 250,000 feet, insured; Williams & Foresman, 800,000 feet, insured; Howard, Perley & Howard, 2,500,000 feet, insured; T. M. Thompson, 2,800,000 feet, partially insured; making a total of 6,353,000 feet. This lumber is estimated at $20 per thousand, making a total of $127,060. The trestling destroyed will amount to about $13,000. It is thought that $140,000 will cover all losses. One canal boat, which was lying in the canal near where the fire started, was burned, together with a row of six frame houses, occupied by ten families. They barely succeeded in saving their effects, so rapidly did the flames come upon them.

When the fire was under control, and everybody was congratulating themselves that all danger was past, a singular phenomenon occurred. A funnel-shaped whirlwind suddenly swept by, taking up a great mass of burning coals and carrying it up into the air at least two hundred feet, depositing it on the south side of the canal in that part of the yard of Thomas M. Thompson which had not been disturbed. The whirlwind was about one hundred feet in diameter, and the spectacle it presented was grand. The moment this mass of fire was dropped on the lumber piles, a fresh fire sprung up, and in less than two hours, fully three acres more were burned over. The total amount of acres burned over will probably reach ten.

JUDGE JUNKIN ON LICENSES.

Ed. Republican:—I see in the columns of your valuable paper reference made to a "new departure," which Judge Junkin, of Perry county, has taken in reference to granting licenses. I was innocent enough to suppose that the Assembly of Pennsylvania had by statute provided how, and under what conditions licenses could be procured. But it seems that in addition to giving the proper public notice, getting the requisite number of names to the certificate, and filing a bond in the sum of two thousand dollars, with two approved sureties, for the performance of all such things as the laws of the Commonwealth relating to the sale of liquor require, the learned Judge of the Perry county court superadds the execution of an agreement not contemplated by law. It may be that he has the power to exact such a pledge as is referred to in your article—for there can be no doubt that every man who signs the pledge, does so under duress—but it is doubtful, if the subject was brought before the Supreme Court, whether they would recognize such power. On the contrary, it is fair to infer that they would regard it as an innovation and usurpation which could not be safely countenanced, for if Judge Junkin can compel a person to give a pledge of this kind, he can also refuse to grant a license to a man unless he subscribes to this, that, or the other religious dogma or creed for which he may have a preference, or unless he agrees to have his license revoked if he permits any one to gormandize at his table or sleep more than a given number of hours each day that he may remain a guest at his hotel.

Fair Play.

North Clymer, N. Y., Dec. 24th, 1875.

Dr. M. M. Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.,

Dear Sir:—About a year ago my health was so poor that I was hardly able to do business at all. Had no appetite, could not sleep nights, coughed a great deal, and had, in fact, begun to contemplate the necessity of breaking up my business and going to a different climate for my health. I had tried most everything recommended for such cases, but found no relief. I took five bottles of your Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic, and gained 25 pounds in weight, and feel myself as well as ever. Yours truly,

LETTER FROM GOSHEN.

Lick Run, Pa., May 10th, 1880.

Mr. Editor:—Along the line of occurring events, Goshen has but few to record. At present, each individual is pursuing his adopted avocation. The farmers are busily engaged in corn planting, and are exceedingly melancholy from the dire effects of the present dry spell. The idle fisherman lingers in the shady places along the banks of the Susquehanna, sighing for the advent of that time designated by our lawmakers, and known as the "bass season," when he hopes his present dreams of luck of fortune and of fame as an angler may be fully realized.

A number of the farmers of the township have driven them to the "barrens," about midway between this and Benezette, where they will be allowed to remain to feed on the vegetation of the forest until the chills of Winter demand their return, providing they escape the fury of wild beasts and domestic pirates that frequent this desolate region. Mr. Alex Wallace will remain during the Summer as herdsman, providing he don't get scared out by the numerous panthers, bears, wild cats, and rattle snakes that he reports to have seen.

Ellis and Lewis Irwin have four large board rafts ready for a flood, which will make thirteen sent out from their mill during the Spring. Rev. Burnley, the new Methodist minister, preached for the people yesterday at Shawsville and West Goshen. All have been very favorably impressed with him as a gentleman and a preacher. Communion services will be held in West Goshen church on Sunday, May 23d.

Our blacksmith tells it for a truth that the noted murderer, Harry English, passed by his shop last week, carrying his Winchester rifle upon his shoulder. Said blacksmith was acquainted with him in years gone by, hence recognized him on sight. One thing certain, he called on none of our people, and none of our people called on him.

Quite a singular accident happened old Mr. Livergood some time since, while coming from Clearfield to this place. The old gentleman is almost totally blind, but still trusts himself to travel alone, and while passing over the dug road at the top of Lick Run hill, stepped off the stone wall at the lower side, falling some distance and hurting himself quite badly. He was confined to his house for some time afterward from the effects of his injuries.

Summer schools are in session at Shawsville, West Goshen and this place. They are not well attended.

On the 9th inst., M. L. McQuown, wife and baby, made a very narrow escape from injury or death, while driving from Clearfield to Mr. John Flegal's, father of Mrs. McQuown. Just before reaching the West Goshen Church, and while passing over a receding piece of ground, the spindle of one of the hind wheels of the buggy broke, upsetting the vehicle in an instant. The top on the buggy prevented the occupants from getting out, and the horse, as is usual on such occasions, became frightened and started to run. Mrs. McQuown, who hung with tenacious grip to the babe, was soon thrown out through the opening in the top, while Mr. McQuown clung to the lines, and succeeded in getting the frightened animal stopped. The buggy was somewhat damaged, and the parents slightly bruised, but the babe escaped unhurt. Judging from what your reporter saw, however, the extreme fright of the parties was equivalent to an ordinary accident.

ONE OF DUBOIS' MILLS BURNED.—The "Little Mill," or bill mill, of John DuBois, at DuBois City, this county, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday night of last week. Flames were discovered issuing from the roof over the boilers, about ten o'clock P. M., and in a few hours the mill, with all its machinery, was in ruins. The "Big Mill" was located about a hundred yards distant, and was saved only through the hard work and pluck of the employes and citizens. Mr. DuBois was absent at Williamsport at the time of the fire. The mill destroyed was one of the finest and most complete establishments of the kind in the United States. Bill stuff eighty feet in length could be sawed, and logs were converted into any kind of merchantable lumber. It contained valuable and the latest improved machinery, the majority of which was of the proprietors' own invention, now warped and unfit for use. About 150 men and boys were given employment. A large lot of lumber, piled in the vicinity of the mill, was saved, owing to the calmness of the night. The loss is put down at between $60,000 and $70,000.

The DuBois Courier says: "The little mill which was destroyed, embraced a circular saw mill capable of sawing lumber eighty feet in length, fitted up in the most approved manner; three shingle mills, with the best modern improvements; a framing mill, where bill stuff was framed and fitted for immediate raising; a dry kiln; a stave mill; and a box factory, where the raw material was converted through all the various stages into all kinds and sizes of labeled boxes. The box factory contained several inventions of Mr. DuBois' own, and was far superior to anything of the kind in the country, as was, indeed, the whole mill. Besides the mill property, about 75,000 or 100,000 feet of cull lumber was destroyed, and a few box boards."

The mill will be rebuilt on the spot of the one burned.
