An Ordinance Relative to the Running at Large OF SWINE.

BE it Ordained by the Town Council of the Borough of Towanda, That swine shall not be allowed to run at large within the squares, streets, lanes or alleys of this borough. And the said High Constable shall be entitled to charge and receive for executing this ordinance as follows—For every hog, shoat or pig seized by him as aforesaid, 25 cents; for advertising the same each 25 cents; for keeping the same each 12½ cents for every day the same shall be kept; for selling, each 25 cents. J. M'INTOSH, DENTIST,

DR. J. ALLEN, late Professor in the Ohio College of Dental Surgeons, has discovered a method of inserting Artificial Teeth on plate, which makes any further improvement impossible.

It combines strength and durability with perfect cleanliness. The gum is continuous, and can be made to suit any case, however difficult. So life-like is the expression, that the most familiar with artificial teeth fail to determine they are false; the teeth appearing as if they actually grew out of the gum.

I have secured letters patent for Bradford Co.

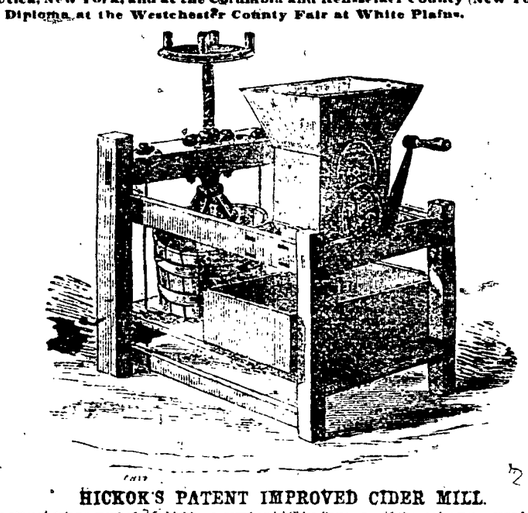
SILVER MEDAL

Awarded to this Machine at the Fair of the American Institute, New York, Oct. 1852. A Diploma at the Franklin Institute, Philadelphia. First Premium at the State Fair, Utica, New York, and at the Columbia and Rensselaer County (New York) Fairs, and a Diploma at the Westchester County Fair at White Plains.



HICKOK'S PATENT IMPROVED CIDER MILL.

In the present arrangement of this highly approved and valuable Mill, the labor is divided by arranging a cutting Cylinder to break the apples, and then deliver them to the lower Cylinders to be reduced to pomace. By this arrangement the work is performed faster and with much less labor.

The Press is arranged with a much larger screw than formerly, and by a very ingenious device the use of the bag is dispensed with and the tub made to open at will to deliver the pomace, while at the same time the Cider is left clear and the work can be done with much less labor than by the old method. The Cylinders are covered with heavy sheet Zinc, both on their peripheries and ends, the wood in them is arranged so as not to swell; and the whole work on the Mill and Press made in the very best manner and arranged with especial view to their durability and service.

No Farmer who uses the Mill carefully and according to directions will be disappointed, but on the other hand he will find this one of the most valuable and efficient machines on his farm.

The machine is made to run by horse, steam or hand power, and when the apples are ground, a small boy of 14 years of age can press the pomace with all ease.

In all former times it was supposed that a large quantity of Cider could only be made by using a ponderous machine, that slowly crushed the apples without grinding them fine. They were then made into a massive cheese in straw, and a most severe and long pressure was required to extract a portion of the Cider, a considerable quantity being absorbed by the straw and the mass of pomace; and to obtain this unsatisfactory result the farmer had to take all his hands, and perhaps his six-horse team, and devote a whole day that could have been more profitably employed, to make from six to eight barrels of Cider. To obviate the difficulty the Farmers have heretofore labored under, this Machine has been invented, and the statement of a few facts will prove that it is not only the best Machine of the kind in existence, but it is the most profitable that a man can have on his farm. The apples are by this Machine ground up into a fine pulp, so that it requires but a comparatively light pressure, and that but a minute or two, to extract all the Cider, it being ascertained by practical experiment that One-fourth more juice can be obtained than by the old process. Besides this, it only requires two hands to grind up and make into Cider a larger quantity of apples than can be possibly done on the old-fashioned machines. On this press, owing to the compactness of the pomace in the tub, and the complete manner in which it is ground, a pressure of from 2 to 3 tons—that can easily be obtained—will produce a more favorable result than fifty tons pressure on the ordinary Cider Press, even if the apples were ground as finely as on the longest Mill, and if the apples were merely crushed, as on the Nut Machine, it would require a pressure of one hundred tons to produce the result accomplished by this Patent Mill. The following may be adduced as the decided advantages of this Mill.

First—It will make more Cider than any other Press, with a given quantity of apples, in a given time, and with much less labor and expence.

Second—It will make cleaner and sweeter Cider than any other Mill

Third—You can make the Cider as you want it and when you want it—and in quantities from one gallon to 6 or 10 barrels.

Fourth—With it you can press your Currants, Cherries, Berries, Cheese, Butter, Lard, and Tallow

Fifth—With it you can save one-fourth of your time in making Apple-butter.

Sixth—With its use you can at all times have Fresh and Sweet Cider.

With all the advantages resulting from the possession and use of such a machine—at a price so low that it is within the reach of all—can it be that any intelligent Farmer would go without it?

Do you wish to have in your house at all times Cider that is sweet and fresh, the only time it is really healthy and fit for use—and do you wish to save a great portion of the hard labor attending the making of Apple-butter? If so, buy this machine, and our word for it, you will not be disappointed.

This Mill is warranted superior to any other portable Mill in existence, and the Proprietor is ready at any time, on fair notice being given, to test it with any Portable Mill that is not an infringement on it

Farmers, examine this newly IMPROVED MILL, before you buy any other.

One great advantage of this machine over all others, is, that it will not choke up, and hard or soft apples can be ground, and yet the Cylinders will always remain clear and in grinding order.

All orders will be filled in the order in which they are received, and all persons wishing them would do well to send their orders early, and state at what time they want the Mill sent.

This Mill, attended by 2 men, will, when properly worked according to directions, make 6 to 12 barrels of cider a day—and will grind alone by horse-power from 100 to 200 bushels of apples a day.
