GENERAL NEWS.

NICOLSON pavement in Cincinnati is giving way after two years' use.

LEADING free traders in Boston are endeavoring to engineer the labor reform movement.

THE counterfeit nickels that are so abundant in Nashville are made of pewter and are easily detected.

AN ingenious suicide in Wisconsin bent down a sapling, hitched himself to it by a rope about his neck, and let it spring.

J. VAN HORN, a farmer of Polk county, Iowa, raised a squash six feet eight inches around, and weighing 164 pounds.

THE savings bank at Fall River, Mass., has nearly $4,000,000 on deposit. This shows the factory operatives are thrifty and saving.

DURING a recent storm the Nemaha river in the vicinity of Seneca, Missouri, is reported to have risen at the rate of ten feet an hour.

THE old and new school Presbyterians have 3 synods, 16 presbyteries, 189 ministers, 263 churches, and 13,131 communicants in Iowa.

A LETTER from Brussels announces that a M. Landuran has invented an apparatus by which he is able to extract fire damp or any other vicious air from mines.

REV. DANIEL CLARK, pastor of the Plainville, Will county, Illinois, Presbyterian Church, was drowned, the other day, while attempting to cross a stream in that county.

THE ladies of Baltimore have undertaken the task of raising funds to erect a building for the Maryland State Asylum for inebriates, which was chartered by the Legislature nine years ago.

ANY one who wishes to indulge in a flight by fast trains from Chicago to New York must try it quickly, as the time-table is shortly to be changed back to the steady-going, easy old thirty-six hours.

TIFFANY & Co., the jewelry firm, are building a new store in Union Square, New York, to be completed next spring, at a cost of between $700,000 and $800,000. It will be five stories high and fire proof throughout.

HARTFORD, CONN., is going to have a "musical jubilee," which will consist of three concerts, in the Rink, October 20—22, under Theodore Thomas' conductorship, for the benefit of the soldiers' widows and orphans in that city.

THE grape crop in New Mexico this year will far exceed that of any former season, not only in quantity but quality. During the last season more than half a million of new vines were set out, many of them bearing fine crops this year.

A NEW ORLEANS attorney had for a client a young woman whose leg had been bitten by a dog, and had referred to the circumstance as an injury to "that elongated member which assists in sustaining the body in its efforts at locomotion."

ONE of the incidents of a recent fair at Bridgewater, Mass., was an ox race. A pair of oxen entered by Thomas Smith walked at the rate of a mile in less than thirteen minutes, and a pair entered by Nahum Tribou within less than fourteen minutes.

IT'S dangerous business sparking the Maplewood Institute girls at Pittsfield, Mass., this fall. Rev. C. V. Spear, the Principal, advertises that his grounds are "protected with powder and ball," and expects the "cousins" of the fair pupils to take due warning.

A LAWSUIT was recently tried before the Sullivan Circuit Court in Indiana, in which the matter in controversy was the key of a Sunday school library and two testaments—worth twenty-five cents. The Sheriff's costs for summoning witnesses amounted to $10,40.

JNO. TUSING died in Indianapolis last week, aged 105 years. He was born in Rockingham county, Va., February, 1764, and voted at every Presidential election in the United States. As a matter of course, he was personally acquainted with George Washington, and voted both for him and Grant.

AT the next election the people of Wisconsin will vote on two amendments to the State Constitution, increasing the salary of the Governor from $1,250 to $5,000 per annum, and that of the Lieutenant Governor to $1,000. The proposition is not a partisan one by any means, and many of the Democratic papers favor the change.

AN Alderney bull was about to be shipped on board a steamer at New London, Ct., the other day, he became rebellious, and refused to go. Several obliging citizens standing by, one by one, undertook to "take the bull by the horns," and were each elevated into the air. Finally the bull sauntered on board the steamer of his own accord.

A MR. FLOYD, of Galena, Illinois, has a queer kind of a dog. He is six months old, has legs about two inches long, and, instead of hair, is covered with a heavy growth of black wool, exactly like that on a coarse wooled sheep. His tail is like that of a sheep, although he barks like a dog, and evidently belongs to a canine family. His mother was a Scotch terrier.

A CALIFORNIAN has on exhibition a copy of the Declaration of Independence, written in Chinese, on silk. The document is about twenty inches wide and five feet long. There are only three in existence; one in the Consulate at Hong Kong, one at the Patent office, and this one, which was inscribed and sent on by Chue A. Sine, Consular Interpreter at Kong Kong.

WORK on Mr. A. T. Stewart's hotel for working-women, in New York, is rapidly going forward. About three hundred men are now constantly employed. Much difficulty has been experienced in some parts of the ground in finding a hard bottom for the foundation stones of the exterior wall, and it has been found necessary to excavate through the soft clay fully thirty-five feet.

A YOUNG woman at St. Clair, Michigan, who had been suffering from nausea and headache, took vermifuge to relieve herself, and the cause of her sickness appeared in the shape of a small frog, about three inches in length and half an inch in breadth. The reptile was of a dark color, without eyes, and is supposed to have been swallowed while a tadpole, at a spring, some months previous.

THE mineral wealth of Virginia is inexhaustible. At a railroad meeting in Charlestown, recently, Hon. William Milnes, the Congressman from that district, said: "If I were to state to the meeting that one hundred furnaces could be employed, with a capacity of producing 250 tons of iron per week for the next five hundred years, I would doubtless be laughed at; and yet such is the fact, so great is the mineral wealth of the Page Valley."

In Springfield, Mass., an enthusiastic man who attends eleven religious meetings a week is busy at his calling as a mechanic during every work day, and has one evening at home. This all, with fifty-two miles travel by rail per day to and from his work, which would seem to keep one fully occupied. Yet this diligent man finds time to read the Scriptures and the newspapers. If he fails at one of his meetings he is sure to be somewhere visiting the sick.

In the township of Western, in Henry county, Illinois, a bull snake was killed which measured eight feet six inches, and one foot in circumference. In the same neighborhood a man discovered that a young cow belonging to him came home at night, for more than a week, robbed of her milk. On watching for the thief, he was filled with surprise and horror at seeing one of these huge snakes engaged in sucking her.

THE public debt of Virginia is attracting much attention in that State, it being very large, the accumulated interest of eight years having been added to the original debt, through the inability of the State to pay it. The Petersburg Index insists that West Virginia is in law and morals bound to bear her proportionate share of the debt, and it suggests that commissioners be appointed to take the subject into consideration and fully empowered to treat with the new State.

THE late Pliny Jewell, of Hartford, Ct., left no public bequests, and his entire property, which inventories between $566,000 and $400,000, will go to his widow and children. John G. Mix, of Hartford, who recently left an estate of $100,000, placed it all in the hands of trustees for distribution to his wife and children, his son not to receive over $600 per year. On the death of the heirs, the property will go to the grandchildren, or if there are none, to various benevolent objects.

MUCH excitement prevails in Craig county, Virginia, in consequence of the visit of two Germans who own such an extensive tract of land in Botetourt and that county. It is estimated that the number of acres claimed by them is much larger than heretofore announced—30,000 acres, some placing it as high as 125,000. Should such be the case, a large number of persons will lose farms on which they and their ancestors have been living for at least sixty years, and which they believe properly belonged to them.

AN interesting legal question will be before the court in Columbus, Ga., shortly. A lady of that city died last year in Germany, making a will disposing of some personal property, but not mentioning other that she possessed. It was written in German, an attested copy transmitted to Georgia and translated. When offered for probate a caveat was filed by the heirs. The question is whether a will which is legal in Germany, though not conforming to the laws of Georgia, shall stand in that State. Distinguished counsel are engaged on both sides.

THE fruit and tomato canning establishments in the lower part of New Jersey are doing a thriving business. The tomato crop was never better, and immense quantities will be put up for winter use. In Burlington there are three establishments, in which all kinds of fruit, vegetables, preserves, pickles, &c., are canned and bottled, giving employment to over five hundred persons. It is thought that one million cans will be filled during the season. There are also three canning factories at Bridgeton, which expect to put up two million cans of fruit and vegetables.

IN noticing the death of a child, aged one year and eight months, in that place, the Bucyrus (O.) Journal says: "The poor little innocent was strangely afflicted by painful boils, which almost literally covered him from his waist to the crown of his head, while the lower portion of his body was entirely free. These tumors would gather to a head; discharge a core, heal up, and be succeeded by others for nearly a month. One such affliction seriously indisposes a grown person, but this poor little martyr to excruciating pain, suffered for a month from a series of such diseases, never free from a dozen at a time. His pitable cries, even when raised on the softest pillows, would move the hardest heart, and bring tears to the sternest eyes, and death could be hardly regarded as a terror when he brought relief to such protracted suffering."

SOME very funny awards were made at recent fairs in Illinois, in consequence of the difficulty of securing experts upon all the various awarding committees. A few days ago a gentleman sent a collection of recent fresh-water shells to the fair, and was awarded a fine set of silver spoons "for the best set of fossels." At Decatur a discussion arose about the respective merits of two paintings, called "cattle pieces." One represented cattle lying under trees, in which drawing, perspective and coloring were good; and the other an immense bull, standing in an open field, with trees in the foreground. The awarding committee was divided, and he who was giving the casting vote placed his decision on the ground that he only considered the bull, as the rest of the picture was not essential. But, by the laws of perspective, and taking the trees as the only visible measure, the bull must at least have been thirty feet high! It was the biggest bull, in two senses, which we remember to have heard of.

AT Ann Arbor, Michigan, recently, a Mr. Fay, a well-known "spiritual medium," held a seance, which was attended by a number of young men. A door opened from the room occupied by the tators, and another from the medium's room into the hall, over which was a glass light. A young man took such a position as to enable him to see through the light over the door, what was going on in the room where Fay was to hold communion with the spirits. The medium was tied in a manner suggested by himself, and a sheet hung before the door, concealing the medium from the view of the spectators. In a very short time the music of a guitar was heard, and the medium found to be untied. The person at the glass light over the door says that he saw Fay release himself from the ropes with which he was tied, and saw him take up a guitar and play on it, and if there were any spirits present he failed to see them. The price of admission was refunded, but the medium on being examined, that his [illegible] was discovered.

A PORTLAND, Me., hackman took to the police station a well-filled pocket book, which he found in his coach.

IN marriage, the heart of a widow is like a furnished apartment, where one is apt to find something left there by a former lodger.

VALLEJO, California, has a society of young ladies pledged not to kiss any young man who uses tobacco. All others are to be kissed freely.

THE Masons in Haverhill, Mass., intend celebrating the first centennial of Moses Wingate, of that place, should he live until the 25th inst.

NEXT Christmas eve is set for the marriage of some five hundred cousins in New Hampshire. After that date the intermarriage of first cousins is prohibited there.

SCHELL, the artist, is likewise a punster. When, with his brethren out sketching, one of the club proposed to remain and sketch another landscape. "Oh, no," says Schell; "let's ketch the train."

A MILESIAN, born on the last day of the year, felicitates himself on his narrow escape from not being born at all. "Be jabers," says he, "and if it had been the next day, what would have become of me?"

HIRAM FAY is a Wisconsin man whose domestic amusements consist in beating his wife with a large rod which he keeps for the purpose, and holding his children's heads under water until they become insensible.

AN anxious parent in New Orleans caused the arrest of his eloping daughter, and when it was proved in Court that she was of age and capable of choosing her own husband, her father still urged her restraint because she was "small of her age and sort o'cranky like."

THERE is now no living ex-President of the United States who was elected to the office by the people. Franklin Pierce was the last of these. The only surviving ex-Presidents are Millard Fillmore and Andrew Johnson, and they were only chosen to be Vice-Presidents.

A MINNESOTA Judge, in sentencing a criminal whose offence would send him to the county jail for one year or to the State Prison for two years, chose and imposed the latter sentence. The Judge put it on the ground of humanity, not deeming the jail fit to be inhabited.

HON. JOHN MORRISSEY, observing the suffering occasioned at Mechanicsville, New York, consequent upon the recent flood, started a subscription paper and raised $800 for the benefit of poor persons whose houses had been swept away. Of this sum he subscribed $500 himself.

THE Baron Henry de Rivere, who created a sensation in this country in 1861, by eloping with a Mobile belle, was arrested in New York, Saturday, at the suit of Helene Stille, whom he, it is alleged, seduced in Paris in 1865, and took to South America, and who claims that he has swindled her out of 27,500 francs.

GEO. R. LINGLE, editor of a Sedalia (Mo.) paper, while on a recent visit to St. Louis, was mistaken for a deserter from the United States army, and had to spend a night in the calaboose, though he offered to prove who he was by many very simple expedients which his captors refused to adopt. He has sued the city for $10,000 damages.

GEN. SHERIDAN was called upon for a speech at the Wisconsin State Fair, and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, I know you do not expect me to make a speech, and so I will only make my bow." He bowed, but was again called for, and came forward, bowing, and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, I will repeat my little speech, and give way to others."

"SIM," the Chief of the Washoe Indians, is dead. A newspaper published among the Rocky Mountains says of him obituarily: "He was a good man, though very dirty red man. He possessed a well balanced head of hair, and stomach enough for all he could get to eat. His regard for the truth was notable—he never meddled with it. He left no will and his estate consisted of a pair of boots."

SOME forty years ago Mr. S. W. Davis, a bookseller in Cincinnati, extended pecuniary aid to a Mr. B. T. Hanley, almost an entire stranger to him, which saved him from bankruptcy. Mr. Hanley shortly after left Cincinnati for Missouri, and now he turns up at St. Louis with a fortune of $2,000,000, which he has devised by will to Mr. Davis, in consideration of the aid furnished him in his time of need.

A YOUNG man named Louis L. Smith jumped out of a third story window in Chicago the other day, and singularly enough escaped without serious injury. The reason he assigned for the insane feat was that three young women followed him to his room, and to shun temptation he resorted to the rather perilous experiment. (Joseph outdone!) The young man's condition, however, indicated that he was laboring under a peculiar phase of delirium tremens.

THERE are men, here and there, who are a little too smart, even for themselves. There is a will now under settlement in New York city, in which a rich old gentleman very effectually revenges himself upon a son-in-law. It happened that the son-in-law got some hold upon the old man whereby he compelled him to settle $100,000 upon his wife (the old man's daughter) before the affair was arranged. As in duty bound, the old gentleman ultimately paid the debt of nature, and, of course, the heirs were wide awake for the will. There were three daughters and one son, and the old man left to the son $1,000,000, to each of the two daughters $1,000,000, but to the daughter whose husband had played the trick upon him nothing more than a receipt for the $100,000 paid to her smart husband.

THE Hindoos in Bombay have lately been much disturbed by a velocipede rider, they mistook for their good Vishnu. The story runs thus: The god had several times been seen at night whirling past on a celestial wheel like a flash of fire. As he approached the faithful prostrated themselves in the dust. Yet all the time it is not really Vishnu; it is only a certain Mr. Kemp, who, ambitious to be the first velocipede rider under the Asiatic sun, has provided himself with one of these vehicles; but finding that the heat rendered it an incumbrance rather than a luxury in the daytime, is compelled to take his exercise upon the night, by the aid of a lantern.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases. Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.
