Events: Starting January 20, the Young Lawyers Association will hold discussions in the Highacres Room in the Library. On January 22, SUB will sponsor a movie at 8:00 p.m. in C-1. The chorus will give a concert on January 23 and on January 24 the Stage Band will give a mini-concert fourth period in C-1. The annual Comoriety Night will be held on January 30, in the Commons.

An Ambassador Program special entitled "Life at U. Park" will be shown in the dorm lobby from 8:00 to 11:00 p.m. The date is February 3. The annual Valentines Formal will be held on February 14.

172 Pints Needed

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be on campus January 28 in the Commons Lounge and Game Room from 11:45 a.m. to 5:45 p.m.

This year's quota, which is 20% of the total student enrollment, Administration, Faculty and Staff, is 172 pints of blood. This would mean coverage for everyone at the Hazleton Campus and their families for one year. Donors and their families are assured coverage whether or not the quota is met.

Those who have given blood less than eight weeks prior to January 28 should not give blood. Donors must weigh more than 110 pounds and donors under 18 years of age will need parental consent.

Those who plan on giving blood should contact Mrs. Tamea (Campus Nurse) no later than Monday, January 26, or use the sign-up sheets that will be posted on the campus bulletin boards.

A drama trip to see Tennessee William's "The Glass Menagerie" on Broadway was sponsored by Dr. Laura Dill on January 17, 1976.

The trip was another campus activity designed to promote the development of drama at Highacres. The trips sell out quickly. To obtain information about other upcoming trips, check the drama bulletin board in the Memorial Building.

OTIS Underway

OTIS is coming to Highacres. The need of OTIS (Organization of Town Independent Students), a group usually associated with University Park, was finally recognized by students at Highacres. "There's a great need for an organization of this type," says Diane Zell, an OTIS representative. "There have been problems with living conditions in town, and up until now there hasn't been any place where students can go to get help concerning these matters."

Once OTIS is set up on campus it will provide information to students concerning living conditions in State College and Hazleton. Any town students wishing to help should contact Diane Zell by either leaving a note in her SGA mailbox or calling 455-8108.

The Residence Hall Council is currently working on the rights of the students vs. the rights of University authorities.

Mr. Everitt Binns and Mr. Joseph McCallus, Assistant to the Dean of Student Affairs and Dean of Student Affairs, respectively, attended the RHC meeting on January 5, 1976. Students rights to privacy was the main topic. Both Binns and McCallus agreed that if students continue to be "blatantly obvious" about breaking rules, the state police will be called in. Students can't change state and federal laws prohibiting smoking marijuana or drinking alcohol, but with time and effort students may be able to change some University rules. There will be another meeting to continue the discussion.

Other RHC actions include the showing of movies. Definite dates have not yet been set.

Last month RHC sponsored a Christmas door-decorating contest. Winners of the contest were: first prize - Linda Werman and Chris Chivaroli (room 137); second prize - Barb Kemp and Annette Scopelliti (room 249); and third prize - Val Bastinelli and Scott Stover (room 309).
