Towanda, Thursday, Nov. 14, 1867.

THE ELECTIONS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

This State has given a Republican majority of about 25,000. There have been considerable Democratic gains all over the State. The Legislature is largely Republican, but the members chosen are generally opposed to prohibition. The following State ticket (all Republicans) is elected:

Governor—Alexander H. Bullock.
Lieutenant Governor—William Claflin.
Secretary of the Commonwealth—Oliver Warner.
Treasurer and Receiver General—Jacob H. Loud.
Auditor—Henry S. Briggs.
Attorney General—Charles Allen.

WISCONSIN.

Although there have been considerable Democratic gains in this State, there is no doubt that the following Republican State ticket is elected by at least five thousand majority:

Governor—Gen. Lucius Fairchild.
Lieutenant-Governor—Wyman Spooner.
Secretary of State—Gen. Thos. S. Allen.
Treasurer—William E. Smith.
Attorney General—Col. Charles R. Gill.
Bank Comptroller—Col. J. M. Rusk.
State Superintendent—A. J. Craig.
State Prison Commissioner—Henry Cordier.

The Legislature is largely Republican, as usual, which secures the election of a Radical U. S. Senator in place of J. R. Doolittle, who betrayed his party and became one of Andy Johnson's tools.

MINNESOTA.

This State has given a Republican majority, probably not over 3,000, electing the following Radical State ticket:

Governor—William R. Marshall.
Lieutenant-Governor—Thomas H. Armstrong.
Secretary of State—Henry C. Rogers.
State Treasurer—Emil Munch.
Attorney General—F. R. Cornell.

In the Legislature there will be a decided Radical majority, which renders certain the election of a staunch Republican in the place of U. S. Senator Alex. Ramsey.

KANSAS.

In this State the Radicals have elected a majority of the Legislature, but the Constitutional amendments striking out the words "white" and "male," have been defeated. The Republican majority in the State will be about 7000.

ILLINOIS.

The elections in this State for county officers have resulted in the choice of Republicans, generally, with small Democratic gains in some places on the previous vote.

MICHIGAN.

The new constitution, which secures impartial suffrage, is undoubtedly ratified by a small majority.

NEW YORK.

The unprecedented majority of over 70,000 in the city of New York and Kings county has secured the State to the Democrats by a large majority. The following Democrats are elected:

Secretary of State—Henry A. Nelson.
Comptroller—William F. Allen.
Treasurer—Wheeler H. Bristol.
Attorney General—Marshal B. Champlain.
State Engineer—Van R. Richmond.
Canal Commissioner—John D. Fay.
Inspector of State Prisons—Solomon Schen.
Judge of Court of Appeals—Martin Grover.

NEW JERSEY.

There have been large Democratic gains, and the State has gone against the Republicans by some 4,000 majority. The Senate will remain Republican possibly, but the Assembly will be largely Democratic.

The members to the Legislature are elected annually, and there is no election of a U. S. Senator until next year, hence the election of next year will decide that question.

MARYLAND.

This State is rebel all over. The Republicans made scarcely any resistance. The new rebel State Constitution has been ratified fully, and goes into force next January.

The following ticket (all Democrats) is elected:

Governor—Owen Bowie.
Attorney General—Isaac D. Jones.
Comptroller of the Treasury—W. J. Leonard.
Superintendent of Labor and Agriculture—J. W. McPherson.
Clerk Court of Appeals—James L. Franklin.

RECAPITULATION.

The Democrats carry New York, New Jersey and Maryland—3.

The Republicans carry Massachusetts, Minnesota, Michigan, Kansas, Wisconsin, Illinois and Nevada—7.

☞ Whether Universal Suffrage will be soon adopted in this country, or even continue to be maintained in the States where it now exists, will depend greatly upon the character and attainments of the men selected to Congress from the Southern States under the Reconstruction Acts. If upright and able men shall be generally chosen, the argument of the Radicals will be strengthened; if many of the other sort shall get in, the argument on the side of liberality will be weakened. True, a good many men have gone to Congress who were not fit to be there, by white votes exclusively, and their deficiencies or misbehavior has been overlooked; but the men who go there mainly or largely by the ballots of the blacks, cannot hope for a charitable judgment in their behalf, or to be allowed the privilege of obscurity. They will be pointed out, and their defects charged to the account of that system of suffrage by which they were chosen. While it will still remain the privilege of whites to send a rascal or a blockhead to Congress without being subjected to the deprivation of the right of suffrage, or even to sharp animadversion, the blacks will be held to a different rule of accountability.—They must make no mistake of this sort, under penalty of losing the chance of mistaking again in the same way.

—General Schofield has requested Gov. Pierpont, of Virginia, to inform the members of the Legislature that the regular session for the coming week will be dispensed with.

☞ Many Republican journals are insisting, thus early, upon the necessity that exists for the next National Convention to select a candidate for Vice President in whom the most undoubted confidence can be reposed. It stands to reason that no man will be taken for that position who has not proved by years of steady and unflinching conduct his complete reliability. But it should be remembered that Mr. Johnson has turned out no worse than some individuals who were trusted to a preeminent degree by the Republican party, and whose antecedents for more than a quarter of a century justified the trust placed in them. Mr. Johnson's defection is no more flagrant than Mr. Seward's; perhaps it is even less. With the utmost caution it is possible to be deceived and cheated. Still, we join in the demand to sift the character and conduct of all the aspirants whose claims may be presented. Whatever may betide, let it not be said with accuracy that the Republicans discarded the suggestions of ordinary prudence, and by their own recklessness exposed themselves to fresh disasters and humilliations.

In the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, Saturday, the full Bench decided to sustain the order of Judge Fisher suspending Mr. Bradley as a practitioner at the Bar. Hon. Robert J. Walker made an argument in behalf of Mr. Bradley, after which the decision was rendered by Chief-Justice Carter, who said that although the duty of suspending a member of the Bar was a painful one, it was necessary to sustain the dignity of the Court and punish Mr. Bradley for his contempt. It will be remembered that the original difficulty between Judge Fisher and Mr. Bradley occurred at the Surratt trial.

☞ Destructive fires occurred Saturday and Sunday in Chicago, Ill.—The Brighton House was destroyed, its proprietors sustaining a loss of $15,000 to $20,000, and an entire block of structures, located between Wells and Lasalle streets, and comprising ten buildings, was burned down. The loss by the latter conflagration is estimated at $60,000. Early Thursday morning a boiler explosion occurred in a flour mill in Canal-street; the building and its contents, valued at $65,600, were soon fired and entirely consumed. The engineer employed in the mill is reported missing.

☞ The Sunday Car question has been settled by a decision of the Supreme Court, delivered on Wednesday, at Pittsburg, which reversed the decision of Judge Strong, that to run the cars was a breach of the peace and a misdemeanor. Three of the Judges—Chief Justice Woodward, Dem., Read, Rep., and Thompson, Dem., agreed upon a final decision. Judge Strong, Dem., and Agnew, Rep dissented.

☞ The Democratic party of Ohio is in sore perplexity, not knowing how to dispose of Vallandigham's claims for Ben Wade's seat in the United States Senate. Nearly all the members elected by the Democrats to the State Legislature are pledged to their constituents to support Vallandigham, but the wise men of the party see utter ruin ahead if these pledges be redeemed.

ASSASSINATION AT BIG FLATS, NEAR ELMIRA—THE ASSASSIN IDENTIFIED.—The Elmira Advertiser, of the 4th instant, has the following account of an assassination at Big Flats, a station on the Erie Railway a few miles west of that city:

"Last night on the arrival of train No. 5 at Big Flats, Mr. John Brougham, of Horseheads, got off and started for his home. He had proceeded about six or eight rods from the depot, when a man came out of the wood pile upon the track, and as he passed him thrust a pistol into his face and fired, the ball passing through his upper lip, jaw and through the palate, lodging in his throat.—Almost at the same instant that the assassin fired, Mr. B. drew his revolver and fired, but with what effect is not known, as the man, immediately after firing, turned and fled. Mr. B., thinking he was fatally hurt, fired two more shots to alarm the people.—Passengers who had got off the train hearing his shots and cries of murder, returned to the depot and calling up Mr. Smith, the agent of the Erie Railway, conveyed Mr. B. to his home. A physician was called and dressed the wound, but did not think it advisable to extract the ball. Mr. B. fully identified the man. Officers are now in pursuit, and will without doubt effect his capture. The man, as sworn to by Brougham, is Dr. Wm. J. Butler, a young dentist, who has been running with Brougham's wife. His supposed object was to get rid of her husband.

—The Indian Peace Commissioners have concluded a peace treaty with the Apaches. This tribe is to confederate with the Kiowas and Comanches, and henceforth live at peace with the whites. They are to receive a certain quantity of land and $5,000 per annum in money, besides clothing. A separate treaty will be made with the Arrapahoes, who, together with the Apaches, are to dissolve their connection with the Cheyennes, on account of the hostility of the latter to the whites. The Cheyennes had not, at the last accounts, attended the Council, but were hourly expected.
