Agricultural.

Dairy Economy.

Within a few years a very beneficial change has been going on in the dairy economy of our New England and Northern farmers. Instead of, as formerly, each farmer converting a portion or the whole of his milk into cheese, as convenience or interest dictated, the manufacture of that domestic luxury is now in many districts transferred from the farm house to factories established for the special purpose. To these the farmer sells whatever milk he has to spare, and it is worked up into cheese.—Vast quantities of milk are now annually disposed of in this way, the operation proving advantageous both to the farmer and manufacturer. The farmer pockets the cash for his milk at once, and his wife is relieved of much hard labor. The manufacturer at the same time gets the material for a profitable business. To the community at large the change has been very advantageous. The cheese manufacturer, by means of extensive apparatus, the use of large quantities of milk and the application of scientific principles to the business, is able to produce a much better article of cheese, on the average, than the farmer himself can. This is so generally the case that factory cheese brings a higher price in the market than the home-made article. The benefit to the public is that the quantity of poor cheese offered for sale is reduced and the supply of good increased. There is less waste of the raw material than formerly.

The superiority of making cheese in this way having been demonstrated, why may not the system be extended to butter, and butter as well as cheese factories be established? That there is need of a reform in the present loose way of making butter, every purchaser of the article has abundant evidence. At some seasons it is almost impossible to obtain good butter, even at a high price, and yet at the same time the market may be flooded with poor stuff, fit only for soap grease. So few country people understand how to make butter and so prepare it for market as to have it retain its good qualities, that immense quantities are annually wasted. This involves not only a serious loss to producers and dealers, but to consumers, who are obliged to eat an inferior article, pay an exorbitant price for a good one, or go without. There seems to be no good reason why butter may not be manufactured on a large scale as well as cheese, and a much better article produced than is now turned out from most dairies. Improved methods have been applied to almost every farm industry but this, and the march of improvement should not stop short at the butter churn. Adopt a system for making butter similar to that now so successfully pursued for making cheese, and we should at once witness a great change for the better—quicker and surer returns for the farmer, a much larger supply of superior butter for consumers.—Boston Journal.

RULES FOR FARMERS.—1. The farmer ought to rise early, to see that others do so, and that both his example be followed and his orders obeyed.

2. The whole farm should be regularly inspected, and not only every field examined, but every beast seen at least once a day.

3. In a considerable farm it is of the utmost consequence to have hands specially appropriated for each of the most important departments of labor, for there is often a great loss of time where persons are frequently changing their employments, and the work is not executed so well.

4. Every means should be thought of to diminish labor or to increase its power. For instance, by proper arrangement, five horses may do as much labor as six perform, according to the usual mode of employing them.

5. A farmer ought never to engage in a work, whether of ordinary practice or intended improvement, except after the most careful inquiries; but when begun, he ought to proceed in it with much attention and perseverence until he has given it a fair trial.

6. It is a main object in management not to attempt too much, and never to begin a work without probability of being able to finish it in due season.

7. Every farmer should have a book for inserting all those useful hints which are so constantly occurring in conversation, in books, in papers, and gathered in the course of his reading or in a practical management of his farm.—Sinclair.

SWELLED LEGS IN HORSES.—Many horses are subject to swelled legs.—In old horses it arises from congestion of the legs, which depends on the weakened action of the heart incident to old age. There is not much to be done for cases of this description. Another class of cases occurs in horses of a lympathic temperament and the exciting causes are high feeding and want of exercise. The horse's leg becomes swollen, hot and painful, and the horse goes lame on the affected limb. The proper treatment for such cases is low diet and laxative medicine. In severe cases I have sometimes scarified the affected leg, but this is only advisable in the early and acute stage of the attack. Half an ounce of nitre of potash may be given once a fortnight to horses that are subject to swelled legs, and where it recurs frequently, once a week. The swollen leg sometimes attains enormous dimensions, and the swelling may become permanent. I have seen a horse's leg swollen nearly as thick as a man's body, and in one case which I examined after death from a different malady, I found that the swelling was produced by the effusion of lymph between the skin and subjacent tissues.—Dr. Murray in Western Rural.

CHEER UP.—Keep a brave heart.—It matters little whether the sun shines on you or not, if you have the sunshine within. Don't pout and complain of "nasty weather," but see the sunny side of the subject, and laugh the storm or the misfortune in the face. Look trouble out of countenance.

AN old toper was heard the other day to advise a young man to get married, "because then, my boy, you'll have somebody to pull off your boots when you go home drunk."

WHEN a man wants money or assistance, the world, as a rule, is very obliging and indulgent, and—lets him want it.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS EXPERIENCE IN DENTISTRY.

J. M. SMITH, M. D., would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Bradford County that he is permanently located in Waverly, N. Y., where he has been in the practice of his profession for the past four years. He would say that from his long and successful practice of 25 years duration he is familiar with all the different styles of work done in any and all Dental Establishments in city or country, and is better prepared than any other Dental operator in the vicinity to do work the best adapted to the many and different cases that present themselves oftentimes to the Dentist, as he understands the art of making his own artificial teeth, and has facilities for doing the same. To those requiring under sets of teeth he would call attention to his new kind of work which consists of porcelain for both plate and teeth, and forming a continuous gum. It is more durable, more natural in appearance, and much better adapted to the gum than any other kind of work. Those in need of the same are invited to call and examine specimens. Teeth filled to last for years and oftentimes for life.—Chloroform, Ether, and "Nitrous Oxide" administered with perfect safety, as over four hundred patients within the last four years can testify.

I will be in Towanda from the 15th to 30th of every month, at the office of W. K. TAYLOR, (formerly occupied by Dr. O. H. Woodruff.) Having made arrangements with Mr. Taylor, I am prepared to do all work in the very best style, at his office. April 23, 1867.

DR. VANBUSKIRK, OPERATIVE AND MECHANICAL DENTIST, has opened rooms in the Beldleman Block, directly opposite the Means House, for the practice of his profession, and is prepared at all times to perform all operations belonging to Dentistry. The different kinds of Plate Work, will be recommended according to their honest merits. Natural Teeth filled and restored to their original beauty, with material the best adapted to each individual case. The greatest care and attention will be given to the correction of irregularities and the extraction of Teeth. In this Department of practice the Doctor would say he claims an amount of skill and experience equal to that possessed by any one in this or any other country. Teeth will be extracted without pain, by the use of gas, chloroform or ether, and in a manner very satisfactory to patients, as the testimony of hundreds can be shown. Please call and examine specimens of our work, and be assured of the correctness of the statements. Advice and consultation will be cheerfully and gratuitously given.

Towanda, June 6, 1867.—6m.

HARDING & SMALLEY,

Having entered into a co-partnership for the transaction of the PHOTOGRAPHIC business, at the rooms formerly occupied by Wood and Harding, would respectfully call the attention of the public to several styles of Pictures which we make specialties, as Solar Photographs, Plain, Panelled and Colored, Opaltypes, Porcelain Pictures, &c., which we claim for clearness and brilliancy of tone and Artistic finish, can not be excelled. We invite all to examine them as well as the more common kinds of Portraits which we make, knowing full well that they will bear the closest inspection. This Gallery claims the highest reputation for good work of any in this section of county, and we are determined by a strict attention to business and the superior quality of our work, to not only retain but increase its very enviable reputation.

We keep constantly on hand the best variety of Frames and at lower prices than at any other establishment in town. Also Passepartouts Card frames, Card Easels, Holmes' Stereoscopes, Stereoscopic Views, and everything else of importance pertaining to the business. Give us an early call.

N. B.—Solar Printing for the trade on the most reasonable terms. D. HARDING,

ON AS GOOD TERMS

As can be bought in the United States. Having been 15 years engaged in manufacturing Threshing Machines, we have spared neither time nor expense in perfecting our machines, and claim to have

THE BEST SEPERATOR,

One that will separate the grain from the straw more perfectly, and with less power than any other, manufactured. Our Machines can run good pay by

THRESHING THE STRAW

As left by most of the machines used. They are very simple in construction, being comprised in a few pieces, so that a child can not require a mechanic to set them up or run them; they are all manufactured under our personal supervision, and we

CHALLENGE THE WORLD

To show better workmanship or material. Every machine is set up and

THOROUGHLY TESTED UNDER MOTION,

Before leaving the Works, and are

Warranted to be in Working Order.

They have been in practical use for several years, so that we are not advertising a new machine every season, each "better than all" thing ever before offered to the public. They can be attached to Tread Powers, Sweep Powers, Steam or Water Power, and for

DURABILITY

Perfection of Working and Economy, their equal has not been invented.

OUR PRICES

Are as low as those of any other manufacturers and parties desiring to purchase, will find it to their interest to examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.

CARRIAGES, WAGONS, SLEIGHS

THE OLD ESTABLISHMENT STILL IN OPERATION

FELLOWS, CRANDALL & CO.,

Successors to Reynolds, Fellows & Co., are now offering and are prepared to furnish on short notice, Wagons' Carriages and Sleighs, of all descriptions and of the latest and most approved style, and of the best material at the old stand opposite the Union House, in the central part of Alba Borough, Bradford County, Pa.

The public are assured that the reputation the shop has acquired during the last six years under the superintendence of J. H. Fellows, will be more than maintained, as he will superintend the work as heretofore he having long been and having had much experience as a Carriage and Sleigh Builder, would assure the public that no pains will be spared by the above firm to make the establishment worthy of their patronage. Thankful as one of the old firm for the patronage thus far extended, we hope to merit a continuance of the same.

N. B.—We, the undersigned, being practical mechanics, can manufacture and offer to the public at prices that will defy competition.
