

Brad McNab: A LEGEND

IN HIS OWN TIME ?

By Stephanie Guion

Editor's Note: Brad McNab, a popular and well-liked former student-leader at Highacres, has, as of Winter Term, left Highacres for new and broader horizons at that great Happy Valley in the North, University Park. This article is intended as a tribute to Brad.

To most people on campus, the face of Brad McNab is a familiar one. If it is not, it should be. He was here on campus longer than most of us have--four years to be exact. However, the time he spent here on the Highacres Campus was not spent in vain. Somehow, besides actively participating in various organizations, including: Chess Club, SGA, Agora Club, SUB, and Drama Club, he found time to attend classes for his major in Liberal Arts.

Of all his extra-curricular activities, it appears that drama had been Brad's favorite. He was an original founder of the Highacres Drama Club, acted as president of the group for two years, and performed as Aguste in the production "Ondine," held here one year ago. Although Brad is known for his interest and involvement in the campus clubs, he is just as well known for his sudden uninterest. Brad holds the record on campus for resigning the most times from an organization, with the amazing count of 22 times; a tough mark to beat!

Play air-hockey? Just contact Brad McNab a champion air-hockey player. But that is not all Brad has done for the campus. If you are very observant while entering the Commons from the main door you will notice the display to your right behind glass, marked: "Do not break glass, these cans are empty." This is Brad's prize collection of beer cans, which is larger than any I have seen. So, butterfly, stamp, or coin collections were just too blasé, huh, Brad?

It seems in his life of exciting happenings and obligations our comrad, Brad McNab, is suffering from one thing, "It is a terminal illness, which at times causes great pain. It is a disease known as 'Life'." Let us hope that this disease attacks Brad, bringing great fervor and gusto to his life.

CONCERTS POSSIBLE

In terms of a group using the new gym, Mr. Paul Cerula outlined the general procedure for it's use. The S.U.B.'s event would have to be approved through Student Affairs. The group's request then goes to the Supervisor of Activities, Mr. Bruce Young and the Physical Education Department to determine if there are any conflicts with planned activities. The event is then evaluated by Mr. Cerula to see if it is possible in terms of security forces, equipment, and parking. Mr. Cerula cited parking as one of the major limiting factors to any public gatherings on campus. Mr. Cerula commented, "Face it, we just don't have adequate parking for a big event." Mr. Cerula also added that Sugarloaf Township has no ordinances prohibiting large gatherings that might be involved with a concert.

Arthur Boyce

While at the University of Rhode Island, Boyce studied psychology. Upon graduating he was awarded a Bachelors degree in Psychology. He attended Penn State for graduate study and earned a masters degree in Student Personal Administration in the Counselor Education Department. Boyce said he plans to go back "to college to earn a Doctorate Degree either at Penn State or the University of Colorado.

Boyce has significant opinions on a pertinent and controversial issue: the use of drugs and alcohol. "The laws on drugs should be amended. People should be taught to use drugs not abuse them."

According to Boyce, when a person does something wrong he should be taught to either do it correctly or taught not to do it." This, he said, includes the misuse of drugs.

Boyce said he used to be the type of person who would get "high" on drugs frequently. He said he started using drugs his senior year of high school and stopped his junior year of college.

Arthur Boyce has some interesting hobbies and pastimes. Making things out of leather and wood, raising plants, riding a motorcycle, and writing poetry are a few. It seems raising a family may soon be another. Boyce said, "I plan on getting married some day and having children." That "some day" is September 3, 1977. In closing, Boyce said of his soon-to be spouse, "She is a beautiful person."

VOTING?

Mark Dworsky, an S.G.A. Student Senator who was supervising voting at the Commons said, "The majority had no idea who they were voting for."
