

EDITORIAL OPINION

From the desk of the SGA President

Ron Drum

Clubs: Take a bow

Throughout the year, many activities have occurred on campus and the success of these events was largely due to the hard work of the campus clubs. Now I think it is time our clubs took a bow. Too many times clubs have performed far beyond their call of duty to make Highacres a better campus for students and recieved no recognition. The campus clubs this year have worked together to well that our campus community has become one of the friendliest campus communities in recent years.

The friendly atmosphere is due to efforts such as those of the Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity and the Theta Sigma Pi Sorority who have opened their doors to both men and women. Both organizations have done much through service to others and planning activities on their own to make cooperation a precedent to be followed by all clubs.

But these two organizations are not the only ones. WHCB Broadcasting club has taken giant steps toward campus betterment. Holding three major dances so far this year is far beyond what I call their "call to duty."

Belles Lettres club has organized reading theaters open to anyone who wished to recite favorite poems, prose, ect. A great service to the campus community.

Let us not forget the fine job the Residence Hall Council has done this year, organizing many social activities for both residence hall and commuter students. The effort by the RHC to allow for more contact with the Student Union Board and the Student Government Association by making the presidents of these clubs ex-officio members is a move that should be highly commended!

Of course the SUB can not be overlooked. It was the SUB that was the driving force behind our two major campus events, Las Vegas Nite and the Mark Lane Lecture. SUB member are to be congratulated for a fine job.

The Highacres Collegian must also be congratulated as to the fine job its' staff members have done so far. The Collegian's invitation to myself and other student leaders, as well as administration personel to write open columns is an advancement the Collegian can take pride in.

In fact ALL the campus clubs are to be congratulated for a fine job. Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity, Belles Lettres club, Biology/Outings Club, Hazleton Campus Broadcasting club, Cheerleaders, Highacres Chess Club, Circle K Club, Highacres Campus Chorus, Highacres COLLEGIAN, Chi Gamma Iota Veterans' Fraternity, the Intramural Sports Board, Parnassus, Residence Hall Council, Ski Club, Hazleton Campus Skydiving club, Students for a Creative Society, Student Union Board, Theta Sigma Phi Sorority, Crosswinds Karate Club, Fraternal Order of Lunatics, Hazleton Campus Drama Club, Politics Club, Hazleton Campus Bible Study, Speleology Club, History Club, and the Student Government Association all are to be commended for their individual and group efforts to make Highacres a better place for students to live.

Clubs of Highacres, STAND UP AND TAKE A BOW!

Board of Directors

Elliot Grossman.....Editor-in-Chief Brenda Calazzo.....Advertising Manager
James Dino.....Sports Editor
Patricia Marsh.....Layout Editor
John Page.....Business Manager
Cathy Rusinko.....Club News Editor
Joseph Sofranko.....Production Manager
Dr. Mike Santulli...Advisor

General Staff

Suzanne Dobel, Joe Fisher, Gandalf, Mark Gerhard
Doug Heller, Milton Heft, David Kraft, James Roslevich, John Sengle, Paul Sullivan, Alfred Wolf

The Highacres Collegian office is located in the ground floor of the Highacres Commons. Office hours are 2-3 P.M. daily. Other hours can be arranged by appointment. Telephone-454-6551.

To be announced in the next issue of the Highacres Collegian - the winners of the "NAME THE FIREPLUG" contest.

nough
he stu-
or pro-as of dents," en they e pool's
y swim-to swim ble.
tations pen by