How Kokomo Kept the Fourth.

KOKOMO, Summit Co., Col., July 6, 1880.

The fifth of July dawned bright and beautiful in Kokomo. The mountain sun rose in golden splendor and kissed the lofty pines whose heads were lifted up in majestic silence as if in worship to the perfect blue and cloudless sky that arched in beauty over the vale of Ten Miles. The lustrous rays of old Sol lent their gladdening warmth and the mountain songsters poured fourth their matin lays to usher in the glorious natal day of American independence.

All was bustle and confusion in Kokomo. And why, ? Was not "the day we celebrate" to be properly observed in a town and by whose people the glorious freedom of our native land is so thorougly exemplified? Certes. A 4th of July picnic and some spread-eagle orations and fireworks was the programme.

Early in the morning all the available vehicles and horses in the city were brought into service to convey the jolly party so anxious to go, down to the Hon. John S. Wheeler's, who with his amiable spouse had kindly invited many of the good citizens of Kokomo to come to his elegant ranche to spend the "fourth."

Few parties ever started out in greater glee and fewer have ever returned better satisfied with their day's sport. Starting in the bright morning sun in the celebrated "lumber carts," our route lay over the Georgetown and Kokomo stage road, which following as it does the beautiful Ten Mile creek, and the valley through which it passes, on the edge of the mountains which enclose it, we were favored by views of some of the grandest scenery in Colorado.

After a journey of about seven miles, which seemed e'enamost too quickly made, we arrived at the beautiful home of our host and hostess. The residence of Judge Wheeler is characterized by more modern improvements and eastern style of architecture than the majority of Colorado dwellings. Situated at the foot of Wheeler mountain, at the junction of the Ten Mile and West Ten Mile creeks, no residence site is surrounded by more natural and beautiful scenery than this. Extending east of the dwelling is the ranche, a magnificent stretch of level pasturage and grazing ground, embracing the vast valley formed by the creeks above referred to and enclosed by two mountain ranges, branches of the main range. Back of the house stands a beautiful forest of towering pines.

To this lovely spot we were asked to come to spend the "glorious Fourth." We went. Words now fail me to express the thoroughness of our enjoyment throughout the whole day and evening. Dancing was of course the main amusement. Many of our party though went trout fishing, in which finny beauties these mountain streams abound. The most of them were successful, and "mountain trout" was one of the most important and delicate dishes with which we were favored. Caught within a few rods of the door and put right into the pan they were beyond comparison the most excellent dish of fish it was ever my pleasure of which to partake. Susquehanna black bass not excepted. After a ramble through the forest and along the creek dinner was announced and though I did full justice to it then I cannot now in a description. The festive board fairly groaned beneath its weight of "good things." Not least among the palatable viands being the "mountain trout." The afternoon and evening were spent in dancing and various other amusements until by the lateness of the hour, we were warned of the rapid approach of "quitting time." As we could not travel by night over the mountains, we accepted the further hospitality of our kind entertainers and remained with them over night.

On the morning of the sixth we returned to the classic vales of Kokomo well pleased and satisfied with our trips and its fulsome pleasure.

A Fool Once More.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H. W., Detroit, Mich. jy15-2wd&w

F. Burrows, of the firm of Burrows & Win! stanley, Sarina and Wilkesport, writes that he was cured of a very dangerous case of inflammation of the lungs solely by the use of five bottles of Eclectic Oil. Feels great pleasure in recommending it to the public, as he had proved it, for many of the diseases it mentions to cure, through his friends, and in nearly every instance it was effectual. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster, Pa. 31

KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE.

WARNER'S
SAFE
Kidney and Liver
CURE.

The greatest of Modern Medical Discoveries. A Vegetable Preparation and the ONLY SURE REMEDY in the world for Bright's Disease, Diabetes and all Kidney, Liver and Urinary Diseases. There are a large number of testimonials of the highest character in support of these statements. Prof. Green, a distinguished allopathic physician of the South, in an article in the Medical Record, gives an account of the cure of two cases of Chronic Bright's Disease by this remedy, and advises all his brother physicians to use it in practice. R. Caulkins, M. D., of Rochester, N. Y., writes that he would prescribe the remedy to all afflicted with serious Kidney and Liver Diseases. Rev. J. E. Rankin, D. D., of Washington, D. C., tells of permanent cures effected by it, and says: "I do not doubt that it has great virtue." D. W. Bartine, M. D., D. D., of East Orange, N. J., certifies that it cured him of chronic Bright's Disease in two weeks. Rev. C. A. Harvey, D. D., Secretary of Howard University, certifies; "I am convinced that no remedy heretofore used or described can be held for one moment in comparison with this." These are sample testimonials.
Two compounds: For the cure of Diabetes call for Warner's Safe Diabetes Cure. For cure of Bright's and the other diseases call for Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.
Warner's Safe Bitters, Safe Tonic, Safe Pills and Safe Nervine are also superior remedies, unequalled in their respective fields of disease.
Warner's Safe Remedies are sold by druggists and medicine dealers generally throughout the country. Send for pamphlet and testimonials.
