

TONI YOUNG

Photo By TERRI WINTERS

AMY ABBEY

As of August 1978, Toni Young has been working at Penn State four years. She began as a faculty secretary. Within a few months she was secretary to Paul Cerula, business manager. Her duties consisted of handling student accounts, making out the bi-weekly payroll for wage people, collecting drop-add and late payment fees, writing out checks and balancing the check-book - to mention a few. So when you realized a certain course wasn't for you, or you didn't get your tuition payment in on time, you knew who you must see.

When the position as Dr. Davids secretary became available, Toni applied. Dr. David, one of Penn States administrators interviewed Toni. She got the job. Needless to say with a new job comes new responsibilities. For the reason that she has only held this position for a month most of these new obligations have not yet been introduced to Toni. However, she is kept busy doing such things as the monthly payroll and the monthly budget.

Being secretary for Paul Cerula and now secretary for Dr. David does not consist of a great deal of change. Instead of weekly payrolls, monthly payrolls are issued. One of the main differences Toni mentions is being less involved with students and now having a more "private" job.

Toni Young has now held each of the three positions that are determined by grade levels at the Hazleton Campus. The first is classified as 4-receptionist, faculty secretar, 5-business office and finally 6-being a secretary to Dr. David.

CAMPUS SUPPORTS FOSTER CHILD

NORA REICHARD
Staff Writer

The faculty, staff, secretaries, maintenance crew, and others affiliated with the Highacres Campus have, for the past year, been displaying their Christmas spirit in a rather unique fashion.

Each year instead of buying and sending Christmas cards to one another they all contribute a few dollars to a fund which is then given to the Save The Children Federation (SCF). By collecting $200.00 each year the campus is able to support a young foster child, Anderson Lee, who is a young American Navajo Indian living on a reservation in New Mexico.

Anderson Lee is fifteen years of age and is in the eighth grade. Anderson is attending a public school and lists basketball, football, and horseback riding as his interests. Both of Anderson's parents are unemployed and his father is unable to work because of health reasons. Anderson's family consists of four brothers and two sisters. The family does have electricity, but water must be carried in from the Red Rock Chapter House near his home.

Monday, December 18, 1978

A periodical report from the SCF will be sent with information about the child and his community.

November 2, 1978

Ms. ...
Pennsylvania State University
Hazleton Campus
Residence Hall
Hazleton, Pa. 18201

Dear

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere congratulations to you on your latest issue of the Highacres Collegian. It was refreshing to see the new Mast Head and well written articles that did not have to rely on "contraversial issues" to make them enjoyable to read. I simply think that it was one of the best issues I have seen in years. Keep up the excellent work.

Sincerely,
EVERITT BINNS
Assistant Dean of Student Affairs

Poetry Corner

I'm leaving you today
to take off for the sun,
To try to find my place in life
and a love to last through eternity.
Please don't cry or beg me to stay
please, can't you see
That you and I are nothing more than a dream, leftover from yesterday.
DL

How can I forget,
All the fun we use to have?
How can I forget,
The good times that we shared?
How can I forget,
The laughter and the rain?
How can I forget,
The love that once was ours?
Yes, and how could I ever forget-you.
DL

ALLOW ME

As I live let me love.
When I love allow me to give.
As I give, let me also receive.
Although I am talkative, allow me my silences.
As I listen, let me hear truth.
If I become upset, allow me time to understand.
When I'm hurt, let me cry.
If I cry, let me also laugh.

As I challenge myself, allow me room to change and improve.
If I compare myself to others, show me that I am wrong.
As I mature, help me to find security and confidence within myself.
For I am who I am, and not anybody else.

MD

HANG IN THERE CLASS OF '82

You're beginning a great four years. You'll want to take advantage of every opportunity.

Experience the excitement of adventure training. Thrill to riding the rapids or walking on walls as you rappel a fifty-foot tower.

Hang in there with the wall walkers. Get the most out of college. Walk on walls with Army ROTC.

Army ROTC.

Capt. Goodwin
385-4500

