HOW MUCH A HORSE WILL EAT.

A horse weighing from ten to twelve hundred pounds will eat about six tons of hay, or its equivalent, in a year. And we suppose the real point our young farmer correspondent wishes to get at is, wether he can keep his horses cheaper on some other product than hay. This is an exceedingly difficult question to answer—it depends so much on circumstances. We shall not attempt to answer it fully at this time, but will merely say that, in our oppinion, three tons and a half of cornstalks and two and a half tons of corn, would keep a horse a year in fully as good condition as six tons of good hay. Two and a half tons of corn would be nearly ninety bushels. And if our correspondent raises sixty bushels of shell corn per acre, he may conclude that it will take one and a half acres to keep a horse a year—or, what is a more practical way of looking at it, it will take three-quarters of an acre of good corn to keep a horse through a six months winter. We will estimate, also, that it will take three and a half tons of oat straw, and two and a half tons of oats to keep a horse a year. A bushel of oats weighs thirty-two pounds, so that it will take over 150 bushels and three and a half tons of straw to keep a horse a year. It would take about two acres of good land to produce this amount. For the present purpose, we may assume that five tons of rutabagas are equivalent to one ton of good hay; so that a horse would require thirty tons in a year! As this statement may stagger our young friend, it may be well to say that Stephens, in his Book of the Farm, says: "An ox will eat about a ton (2240) of turnips every week. A two years old Short-horned ox will consume twenty-six tons, and a three-years old thirty tons of turnips in 180 days."—Hearth and Home.

RAISING FRUIT TREES FROM THE SEED.—Mr. A. Czerny, of Austria, states, as the results of long continued observations and experiments, that the strongest and best fruit trees can be raised from seed, thus obviating a great deal of expense and disappointment to the pomologist. According to his observations, the extent and ramifications of the roots of a healthy tree is to that of its crown in the ratio of three to two, so that the action of the root is always prepondcrating. In this relation he finds the reason why fruit seeds from trees, budded or grafted upon indifferent stocks, have always been found unreliable, and he endeavors, as the first step, to obtain good trees grown upon their own stock, the seed of which, he says, will produce their parents, with certainty. To this end he layers a branch of good tree, which, when well rooted, serves him as a stock, into which he introduces buds or scions of such varieties as promise to improve the original fruit. By judicious cross fertilization he obtains fruit, the seed of which will propagate, to a greater or less extent, the good qualities of the varieties usedin hybridizing, and thus a new fruit is originated, which, when suitable, can always be reproduced from its seed. Such trees, says Mr. Czerny, are more healthy and vigorous (having never been wounded by the knife,) bear earlier, and when accidentally wounded in the stem, throw out shoots identical with those of the original tree.

HIGH COST OF LIVING IN THE UNITED STATES.—A correspondent of the Mark Lane Express writes from New York that although the laborer gets higher wages than he could get in England, the only article of living he gets as cheap is butchers' meat; bread, milk and vegetables are about the same prices as in England. Butter and eggs 40 per cent. dearer, beer 25 per cent. tea and sugar 50, coals 60 per cent. dearer, with at least double the quantity required; gas 200 per cent. dearer, and he will have to pay double for his tools, clothing, house rent, &c. With regard to the openings to labor from without, he says: "The average applicants of skilled laborers is equal to the demand, while as far as unskilled is concerned, the incoming Irish and Germans reach the point of saturation. If a man goes straight to the far West he will find no difficulty in getting an engagement as a farm laborer or drover; but in the Eastern States he may remain weeks, even months, without employment, unless he has friends on the spot to push his interests."

OAT CHAFF FOR FEED.—A year or two ago we were, by accident, led to feed some oat chaff to a few head of milking-cows and were agreeably surprised to find that they suddenly came up considerably in their milk. The chaff was discontinued for a day or two, when the cows fell off to their former quantity; but on feeding the chaff again, the flow again increased. Since then the value of oat chaff as a milk-producer has been satisfactorily proved by us. This would then make it advisable that when oats are thrashed the chaff should be saved for feed. It may be fed in the place of cut chaff, with the usual wetting, salting and mixing of the regular allowance of meal. In years when hay is as scarce as in the present, not only the chaff may be fed, but the oat straw should be carefully saved for fodder. It is quite as nutritious as timothy that has gone to seed.—Hearth and Home.

BROKEN HORN.—If the horn is broken close to the skull, the broken base should be sawn off smoothly, seared over with a hot iron, and a patch of cloth saturated in tar should be fastened over the bare hollow. Another similar patch should be laid over that, and so on until it is quite certain that the air is perfectly excluded. The admission of air would be very painful to the cow. If the pith of the horn is left whole, it should be wrapped in tarred cloth until a new coating of horn has grown over it or the sensitiveness has decreased. In some cases a new growth soon takes place. We have an idea that if rubbing-posts were placed in the yard there would be fewer broken horns. Cattle commence by rubbing each other's horns together, proceed then to play, then get to fighting, and the result is a broken horn or scored ribs.

ONE cord of wood cut and split fine and corded up beneath a shelter while it is yet green, will furnish more heat after it has become seasoned than two cords of the same kind of wood which has been continually exposed to the alternate influences of storms and sunshine.

The sight of the aged assisted, the weak strengthened and the perfect preserved.

PHILADELPHIA OPTICAL INSTITUTE,

For the manufacturing of the

CONCAVE CONVEX, CRYSTAL LENSES, LONDON SMOKED AND TINTED GLASS FOR WEAK OR INFLAMED EYES.

The Concave Convex Crystal Spectacles, made by the above institute are now a long time before the public, and the rapid and increased demand for them combined with the universal acknowledgment of their clearness in vision and ease to the eye, shows plainly that they are superior to any other glasses in the market.

The majority of Spectacles, (mostly imported) and no matter how fine the frames, contain but a poor and worthless article of glasses, (generally cast or pressed,) they are made to be sold only, without any calculation respecting benefit to the eye, and therefore the great complaint of poor and weak sight. Thousands are using glasses now which tire and fatigue the eye, where the objects get dim after short usage, or require an intensely strong light and therefore destroying the sight, which, were they properly suited, would be preserved a life time.

The advantages claimed for the Concave Convex Crystal Glasses are the following:

The Lenses are ground of the best material, pure and hard, and made only for optical purposes, they are therefore not liable to get scratched or dim.

They confer a brilliancy and distinctness of vision, not found in any other glass.

They can be used equally well by day or candle light without tiring or fatiguing the eyes.

They are ground mathematically true in the concave convex mirror, according to the philosophy of nature, and shape of cornea of the eye, therefore assisting nature only instead of forcing it.

That the lenses are centered correct into the frames.

They can be used longer than any other glasses without changing to a higher power.

The frames are made strong and durable by experienced workmen and warranted to give satisfaction.

WM. A. CHAMBERLIN,
Dealer in Watches, Jewelry and Silver Ware, Towanda, Pa., has the sole Agency for these glasses in Bradford county. No Pedlers employed.

L. C. NELSON,

Has made arrangements to accommodate customers that are constantly calling with boots and shoes for new soles, etc., and have had to leave them, to their great disadvantage, until another day. The constant call for this kind of work, and the desire to have it done immediately, has induced me to make such arrangements that you need not return home

Without your sole being renewed and your heels set square.

For prices that are honest and perfectly fair.

Ladies that have gaiters that are broke at the toe.

To this repair-shop is the place for to go

To get them re-vamped, neatly tipped or half-soled,

And your feet well protected from the wet and the cold

New work we can make you with the above double quick.

We can make them for you thin, or we can give them to you thick.

We can make them with high heels, or we can give them to you flat.

So you need not stager with a brick in your hat.

N.B.—Good cider vinegar for sale by barrel or gal. Front of Methodist church, Main street.

RHEUMATISM—NEURALGIA!

$500 WILL BE PAID

to any person producing any Medicine showing half as many living, permanent cures as Dr. Fitler's VEGETABLE RHEUMATIC REMEDY. Used inwardly only. A pleasant Medicine, free from injurious drugs. Warranted, under oath, to have permanently cured 93 in every 100 patients treated in the past ten years. (See testimony). It is the scientific prescription of Prof. Jos. P. Fitler, M. D., a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, A. D., 1833,—now one of Philadelphia's oldest regular physicians, and Professor of Chemistry and Toxicology,—who has made Neuralgia, Chronic and Inflamatory Rheumatism the specialty of his entire professional life—a fact vouched for by the signatures accompanying each bottle, and other testimonials of many prominent renowned physicians and clergymen. To protect sufferers from poisonous quack nostrums and useless expenditure of money, a legal signed guarantee, stating exact number of bottles warranted to cure, will be forwarded gratis to any sufferer sending by letter a full description of affliction. In cases of failure to cure, amount paid positively refunded. Medicine sent anywhere by express, collect on delivery. Afflicted invited to write for advice; all information and medical advice, sent by letter, gratis. Address Dr. J. P. FITLER, 29 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa. The Remedy is sold or obtained by Druggists.
