[illegible] of INTELLIGENCER.

[illegible] May 12.—The second day of [illegible] conference of the A. M. [illegible] in the Mount Zion A. M. [illegible] under very favorable circum[illegible] very large attendance was at the [illegible] considerable interest manifested [illegible] proceedings. The Philadelphia con[illegible] organized by Richard Allen, [illegible] the church, one hundred years [illegible] first meetings were held in [illegible] shop. The founder and [illegible] compelled to sever their [illegible] from St. George's church in [illegible] humiliating treatment [illegible] and established this connection [illegible] the greatest power organized by [illegible] African descent on this continent. [illegible] conference, which includes Eastern [illegible] and Delaware, there were 7,154 [illegible] last year, and from returns the [illegible] will be larger this year. The session [illegible] opened with devotional exercises [illegible] of C. O. Fetz, Frankford. Bishop [illegible] Wayman, of Baltimore, presided [illegible] day. The business consisted of [illegible] the annual returns of ministers of [illegible] charges. The financial returns [illegible] churches and circuits were made, [illegible] among the number were: Wrightsville, [illegible] Wittenheim, pastor, contingent money, $1 50; [illegible] $200; dollar money $55 75; missionary [illegible] children's day, $13.40; education, $5 20; [illegible] traveling expenses, $20. Lancaster, W. W. [illegible], pastor, pastor's salary, $492; dollar [illegible] $64.75; missionary, $8; children's day, [illegible] education, $27.15. Mount Joy, B. R. [illegible], pastor, contingent money, $1.50; [illegible] salary, $271.50; dollar money, $25; [illegible] $3; children's day, $1; educa[illegible] $2.35; traveling expenses, $20. The re[illegible] of the Columbia church was not made. [illegible] following standing committees were ap[illegible] in addition to those already pub[illegible]: Missions, circuits and stations and [illegible]. Revs. C. D. Harp, of the United [illegible] Brethren, George Welles Ely, of the Presby[illegible] churches, and James H. A. Johnson, [illegible] the Baltimore conference, were introduced [illegible] the members, receiving the usual [illegible].

A missionary meeting was held last even[illegible], which was very largely attended. Ad[illegible] were made by Revs. B. F. Tanner, D. D., Theodore Gould and G. W. Brodie.

The session to-day was devoted to re[illegible] of committees and examinations of [illegible]. An educational meeting will be held this evening.

The Picnic Season.

The Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal church and Cookman chapel, will picnic at Penryn park, on Friday, June 10th.

The Church of God Sunday school have selected Penryn park for their picnic on Thursday, June 30th.

The United Brethren Sunday school will go to Penryn park on Saturday, July 16th.

The Trinity Reformed and Presbyterian Sunday school will picnic together on Wednesday, July 20th, and Penryn park has been selected.

A movement has been started among the different Sunday schools to hold a grand union picnic at Penryn park. The idea is to have all the Sunday schools form into line, each having a banner, and march to the train. Much lower rates can be secured by the railroad company.

Town Notes.

Officer Gilbert and Kennedy arrested Neil Brady at the Pennsylvania railroad station for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He had a hearing before Squire Solly, when he was discharged upon his payment of costs.

Ann Holsinger, colored, was arrested by Officer Wittick for disorderly conduct. Squire Evans sent her to jail for thirty days.

The pay car of the Pennsylvania railroad arrived in town this afternoon paying the employes for April.

The Sons of Veterans of York will hold a camp fire on Saturday evening. A number of members from Gen. Welsh camp will attend.

LOCAL ITEMS IN BRIEF.

A regular meeting of the executive committee of the Lancaster County Historical society will be held on Monday, May 16, at 7:30 p. m., at Board of Trade rooms.

Cyrus H. Colvin, who has a lot of fine horses in Philadelphia, yesterday sold a pair of drivers for $1,200, a pair of trotters for $1,500 and a single road horse for $500.

A petition is being circulated among the members of the Lancaster bar for signatures, requesting Judge Mercur to be a candidate for renomination to the supreme bench. This morning's Times records that the Delaware county delegates are for Mercur's renomination.

Prof. Munder's May hop at Eshleman's hall last evening was very largely attended. There were fancy dances by the children pupils of the professor from 9 until 12, after which their elders danced until the early morning.

Gotlieb Gerstley, dealer in leather findings, celebrated his birthday yesterday. In the evening the members of the Liederkranz, of which society he is treasurer, proceeded to his home and gave him a serenade. They were afterwards entertained by Mr. Gerstley.

Mary Wise, who kept out of the clutches of the law for several months, was pulled in last night by Officer Lowars, for her usual weakness, love of strong drink. She was given 48 hours by the mayor to sober up. She begged hard for her release so that she could go to the circus, but the mayor would not relent. A tramp was sent to the workhouse for 30 days.

Geo. Kreckel, jr., charged with assaulting and threatening to do bodily harm to his mother, was heard by Alderman Barr last evening, and required to give bail on both charges for his appearance at the August quarter sessions court.

After the adjournment of Admiral Reynold Post 405, G. A. R., last evening, Comrade A. C. Leonard invited the members to accompany him to Royer's garden, West King street, where he treated them to ice cream, cakes and other confections, in remembrance of his birthday. A jolly time was had, songs being sung, pianos thumped, stories told, and toasts drank in bumpers of lemonade to "many happy returns of the joyous occasion."

F. W. Speakman, G. W. Mallilin, S. M. Mallilin and J. M. Boyd, of Coatesville, four of the young men who passed through this city with the bicycle tourists on Wednesday arrived in Lancaster at noon. They came all the way from Gettysburg, where they left the party this forenoon, and left this afternoon for Coatesville.

The employees of the Pennsylvania railroad were made happy this afternoon by the arrival of the pay car.

A Dramatic Situation in a Church.

The Rev. George E. Macardle, of Lafayette, N. Y., is being rather severely criticised by his church for producing a dramatic situation in one of his recent sermons. This is how he tells the story: "You see I was illustrating one of Neil Dow's sermons where he is said to have frightened a whole multitude into repentance by having a small boy in a tree-top while he was preaching to an outdoor audience about the resurrection. The boy had a trumpet and blew at the proper time. Well, I had had it arranged with the organist, and after I had described how then all were in their graves the angel would then appear, I said, 'Blow, angel, blow!' The organ located and the trumpet sounded. Mr. Gaylord himself said it was the time and all the rest that heard it."

Wanted a Hearing.

[illegible] B. Gates, of Neffsville, charged be[illegible] Barr with committing an assault and battery on Henry Fisher of the same place, wanted a hearing this afternoon [illegible] bail for trial at the August [illegible]

DISCOVERING THE IDIOTIC.

Some Points About the Extraordinary Powers in the Feeble-minded.

From the Medical and Surgical Reporter.

It is a strange but well known fact that in many persons who are idiotic or but little removed from the mental condition of idiots, certain powers of the mind may be developed to an extraordinary degree.

Remarkable precocity in the power o arithmetical calculations is frequently combined with a positive deficiency in other directions. In institutions devoted to the care of feeble-minded children such examples are nearly always present. Deficient in some faculties, others are developed to excess. Some such can carve and draw with great skill. Extraordinary memory is often met with associated with very great defect of reasoning. One boy, in reading Gibbon's "Rise and Fall of the Roman Empire," skipped a line on the third page at his first perusal. Ever after, when reciting from memory the stated periods of Gibbon, he would, on coming to the third page, skip the line and retrace his steps, just as when he first recommitted the passage to memory.

Often the memory takes the form of remembering dates and past events. One boy never failed to tell correctly the name and address of every confectioner's shop in London, and could as readily tell the date of every visit. The faculty of number is usually slightly developed in feeble-minded children, while memory is fairly well developed; yet occasionally the power of mental arithmetic has been well developed. Improvisation is an occasional faculty. Memory of tune is a very common faculty among the feeble-minded; they readily acquire simple airs and rarely forget them.

In none of the cases of idiot savants has there been any history of the possession of a similar faculty by the parents or sisters or brothers. In one case a necropsy is reported by Dr. J. L. Down, of London. The boy had a remarkable, indeed perfect, appreciation of past or passing time. There was no difference from an ordinary brain, with the exception that there were two well-marked and distinct soit commissures. Dr. Down's explanation of the phenomena was that, as every movement of the house was absolutely punctual, he had data from which he could estimate the time by actual appreciation of its flux.

Every form of mental deviation may be met with in the congenital feeble-minded. They may become the subjects of acute and chronic mania, of acute and chronic melancholia, and of dementia. Occasionally under the influence of acute mania, the feeble intellect of the youth becomes fanned into a brighter flame. The taciturn may become loquatious; the timid and respectful proud and defiant; the amiable and tractable, abusive and destructive. Three remarkable instances occurred to Dr. Down of boys who had never been able to speak making use of well-formed sentences during the high febrile state of acute pneumonia or scarlatina.

It is of much interest to report all such cases, as they they throw great light on the workings of the human mind in health.

Look Out For Thieves.

Persons who leave their homes to-morrow morning to see the circus parade should be careful to see that their houses are securely locked. There will be a large crowd of people, including many strangers, in the city, and such gatherings sometimes attract thieves who are very hard workers in their peculiar lines.

Coal Yard for Sale.

The executors of the estate of A. W. Russel and Geo. Schulmyer, dec'd, will sell this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the Keystone House, a lot of ground used as a Coal Yard, near Columbia & Reading Railroad Depot. This property is well located and adapted to the handling of Coal and Lumber.

How Much Should Mothers Become Doctors.

The old adage, "Every man to his trade," has a sharp value and something of the Anglo-Saxon ring. But in the sub-division of labor incident to civilization, every mother necessarily becomes a nurse. She decides whether the little one is sick, and immediately consults her Mentor, which gives, at the outset, an amount o knowledge at which many arrive only after years of experience.

It is needless to state whose Mentor or Family Adviser she has in her possession. Dr. Humphreys' Mentor, Manual and Medicines have found their way into nearly every household in the land, and are too well and widely known to require special comment. They are called for, not only by the mother prescribing for her ailing child, because they are mild and efficacious, but by the old and young throughout the land, in whom a continued experience of their results has developed a confidence enjoyed by no other medicine. Is it Fever or Inflammation, or a Chill or a bad Cold? These pellets of No. One every few hours afford speedy relief. Should it be Colic, Crying or Wakefulness, Specific No Three is what the mother gives instead of the old nauseating mixtures. Is it Whooping Cough? No. Twenty never fails, and so all through. And what a change! No scuffling, no fretting, no going supperless to bed—that being the alternative. The child simply takes the little sugar pill Specific, wishing the dose was larger, and the work is accomplished. We repeat, "What a change!" It is thus Demonstrated that the "Mild Power Cures." 1td

BARNUM TO-MORROW.

The Great Show to Spread Its Large Tents in McGrann's park.

Bright and early to-morrow morning Barnum's great show will arrive in Lancaster, and if the weather is fine one of the largest crowds that ever visited a circus here will be in attendance. The street parade will be made at an early hour, and people would do well to watch for it. The show is a great one and will undoubtedly give satisfaction. Among the features are three rings, with three full circus companies; a Roman hippodrome, with stirring races, performances of a startling character on a big elevated stage, living curiosities and wonders in the museum, hundreds of wild and strange animals in the two double menageries, a herd of big elephants in the pavilion, droves of camels, 500 horses, 125 ponies, 80 railroad cars, 800 performers, 100 acts, the wonderful hairy family from Burmah, King Theebaw's sacred mascots; Captain Paul Boyton in his marvellous aquatic performances in a specially constructed lake of crystal water; the flying gymnasium, wherein Senor Myers performs daring feats on the trapeze while traveling at the rate of 30 miles an hour; the reproduction of Jumbo, the huge ivory-boned elephant skeleton; Alice, Jumbo's widow; the troupe of Arabs, clown elephant, trained pigs, monkeys, elephants, and other animals, the biggest tents ever seen, and myriads of other rare and costly objects.

Amusements.

"The Streets of New York."—On Monday evening that popular old play, "The Streets of New York," will be presented in Fulton opera house by George C. Boniface and a strong company. The play is sensational and of the popular kind.

Gilmore's Band.—Gilmore's band which appears at the King street theatre on Monday, May 23, has 50 of the most talented musicians in the country, and the entertainments are among the finest ever heard. People residing out of town would do well to secure good seats now.

The Cecilian Recital.—On next Tuesday evening there will be another treat for contributing members and friends of the active members in Fulton opera house. This recital will be equally enjoyed as those which have been heard during the past winter. The chorus and orchestra are showing great results from their practice.

Telephone Connection.

Julius F. Sturgis, 643 West Chestnut street, is connected with the telephone.

A CHAMPAGNE VINEYARD.

Very few people, even among those who de preciate the quality and fineness of the genuine French Champagne wines, have a correct idea of the extreme care and solicitude with which the vineyards are kept in the district of Champagne, which undoubtedly is one of the richest and best cultivated parts of the world. One of our friends lately returned from France gives the eulogious report on the estate of Messrs. Bouchefils & Co. at Marseuil-sur-ay; this includes a remarkable piece of property named "Les goisses," which can be shown to any foreigner traveling through France, as an illustration of the ideal accomplishment of a Champagne vineyard. "Situated on a hillslope," says our friend, "with the beams of the sun freely lavishing from dawn to sunset their beneficial warmth on it, this vineyard seems to cumulate all the qualities required for the production of perfect grapes. Its surface soil gives the fruit the fineness and bouquet, while the heat of the sun counterbalanced by the freshness constantly drawn up from the lower ground by a network of roots, which spread themselves in a bed of chalk." There is a great deal of this product in the Bouche See Champagne, which explains its peculiar fineness and aroma so much renowned among the connoisseurs; but amateurs desirous of obtaining the wine coming from the "Goisses" estate only would have to ask for the Bouche See Extra. Both of these wines are sold exclusively by H. E. SLAYMAKER, REIGART'S OLD WINE STORE, 50 EAST KING STREET.
