Cross-Breeding in Poultry.

Pure bred poultry is always preferable to cross-bred; the former has many advantages over the latter, yet cross-bred have their merits too. The farmer who raises poultry for the market, or the table only, views his stock from a different stand-point to that of the fancier. The productions of large fowls, easily fattened and made ready for market, or of chickens which mature early, is to him a matter of importance; for such, a ready sale is always to be had, and good prices usually obtained; a proper knowledge of the different breeds which should be crossed with each other is therefore essential. We shall enumerate a few:

The first cross of the Dark Brahma hen with a Dorking cock is a very excellent one, and produces truly magnificent fowls; the largest, perhaps, that have ever been raised. Chickens thus bred have, at six months old, weighed over eighteen pounds the couple. By crossing this mixed race again with the Houdan cock, chickens are obtained which, though less in ultimate weight than the half-bred Dorking, attain a still earlier maturity, and may be killed at ten weeks old, very good size. Both of these crosses are well worth the attention of the farmer or market-breeder, but their merits should be kept up by continually using the blood of good and pure stocks, or the result, unless great judgement is exercised, will be disappointment and deterioration. A Brahma hen and a Creve Cœur cock will also produce an excellent cross; they are hardy and easily reared, and attain to great size. The flesh is of delicious flavor, and is fully equal to that of the Dorking, and is free from that very delicate constitution which often renders the latter an unprofitable fowl. Lastly, while all Brahma crosses make good layers, the cross between a Brahma hen and a Spanish or Minorca cock produces a fowl, generally black on the body, with a striped hackle, which, for average fecundity, surpasses any and every fowl we know.

The cross-bred birds produced by mating Cochins with Creve-Cœurs, La Fleche and Houdans, are all remarkable for their rapid growth and the great size they attain. Chickens raised in March have, at twelve weeks old, weighed from four to five pounds, and, at six months, cockerels off the run have weighed seven pounds. To fanciers, and others, wishing to breed large, hardy birds for the table, a cross between a Cochin hen and a Creve-Cœurs or La Fleche cannot be to highly recommended. The chickens produced, as already stated, will be of rapid growth, large size, and great constitutional vigor, and, when cooked, will be found plump, and with skin and fat much whiter than the Cochins.

Hints About Housekeeping.

We give to intelligence, to religion and to all virtues, the honor that belongs to them! And still may be boldly affirmed that economy, taste, skill and neatness in the kitchen have a great deal to do with making life happy and prosperous.

Nor is it indispensably necessary that a house should be filled with luxuries. The qualifications for all good housekeeping can be displayed as well on a small scale as on a large one.

A small house can be more easily kept than a palace. Economy is most needed in the absence of abundance.

Taste is as well displayed in placing dishes on a pine table as arranging the folds of a damask curtain.

Skillful cooking is as readily discovered in a nicely baked potato, or a respectable johnny-cake, as a nut-brown sirloin or a brace of canvass-backs.

The charm of good housekeeping, in the order of economy and taste displayed in attention to little things, has a wonderful influence.

A dirty kitchen and bad cookings have driven many a one from home to seek comfort and happiness somewhere else.

Domestic economy is a science—a theory of life which all sensible women ought to study and practice. None of our excellent girls are fit to be married until they are thoroughly educated in the deep and profound mysteries of the kitchen.

See to it, all ye who are mothers, that your daughters are accomplished by an experimental knowledge of good housekeeping.

FEEDING STOCK.—The season for fattening stock is at hand, and beeves are being fattened preparatory to slaughter. It is now generally conceded that the most economical mode of feeding grains or roots, is to first steam them, or cook them. A bushel of corn, turnips or potatoes, will be improved 100 per cent. by steaming, and the cattle will relish it better, and thrive much faster upon it. Turnips, which are very abundant this season, are fed in large quantities to cows and fattening steers. A liberal ration of turnips each day fed to a steer greatly improves the quality of the beef. In fact all root crops are valuable for feeding purposes, and it is surprising that farmers do not find it as much to their interest to raise a crop of mangel wurzels, sugar-beets, rutabagas, as they do of potatoes, turnips, or corn. A few carrots fed each day to milch cows, in connection with their other feed greatly improves the quality of the milk, and the butter produced therefrom partakes of a rich, golden color. Pumpkins are excellent feed for cows, but farmers should be careful to remove all seeds, which are powerful diuretic, and have the effect to greatly diminish the quantity of milk.

SALT AND ASHES FOR HORSES.—Those keeping horses should, twice a week, throw in a handful of salt and ashes. Mix them by putting three parts of salt to one of ashes. Horses relish this and it will keep their hair soft and fine. It will prevent bots, colic, etc. A little ground sulphur mixed with salt and ashes, and given once in two or three weeks, is also beneficial—all domestic animals will be thus benefitted.

THERE is an apple tree in Niagara Co., near Lockport, which has this season yielded twenty-five barrels of fruit. It is over fifty years old, is six feet and six inches in circumference and has yielded as many as twenty barrels in previous years.

A TRAVELER reports that he has seen plants in South America with leaves thirty-four feet long. That leaves all other leaves in the shade.

IMPORTANT TO ALL WHO VALUE THEIR SIGHT!
The sight of the aged assisted, the weak strengthened and the perfect preserved.
PHILADELPHIA OPTICAL INSTITUTE,
For the manufacturing of the
CONCAVE CONVEX, CRYSTAL LENSES, LONDON SMOKED AND TINTED GLASS FOR WEAK OR INFLAMED EYES.
The Concave Convex Crystal Spectacles, made by the above institute are now a long time before the public, and the rapid and increased demand for them combined with the universal acknowledgment of their clearness in vision and ease to the eye, shows plainly that they are superior to any other glasses in the market.
The majority of Spectacles, (mostly imported) and no matter how fine the frames, contain but a poor and worthless article of glasses, (generally cast or pressed,) they are made to be sold only, without any calculation respecting benefit to the eye, and therefore the great complaint of poor and weak sight. Thousands are using glasses now which tire and fatigue the eye, where the objects get dim after short usage, or require an intensely strong light and therefore destroying the sight, which, were they properly suited, would be preserved a life time.
The advantages claimed for the Concave Convex Crystal Glasses are the following:
The Lenses are ground of the best material, pure and hard, and made only for optical purposes, they are therefore not liable to get scratched or dim.
They confer a brilliancy and distinctness of vision not found in any other glass.
They can be used equally well by day or candle light without tiring or fatiguing the eyes.
They are ground mathematically true in the concave convex mirror, according to the philosophy of nature, and shape of corneas of the eye, therefore assisting nature only instead of forcing it.
That the lenses are centered correct into the frames.
They can be used longer than any other glasses without changing to a higher power.
The frames are made strong and durable by experienced workmen and warranted to give satisfaction.
WM. A. CHAMBERLIN,
Dealer in Watches, Jewelry and Silver Ware, Towanda, Pa., has the sole Agency for these glasses in Bradford county. No Pedlers employed.

TO THOSE GETTING THEIR CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER.
You should study two things: First, to GET THEM WHERE FIRST-CLASS CLOTHING IS MADE
Secondly,
WHERE THEY ARE SOLD CHEAP
And in order to be able to sell a good article cheap the merchant must understand his business, and know how, where and what to buy as a practical man does; and a
PRACTICAL TAILOR
In all its branches I profess to be, having had
EIGHTEEN YEARS EXPERIENCE
In the business. Have been a cutter in some of the best houses in

I do my own buying, selling and cutting, and divide my profits with no man, so that loss of it will do—and with low rent and other expenses in proportion, thus making the cost of carrying on the business very small.

TAYLOR'S CELEBRATED OIL!
The Great Rheumatic Remedy should be kept and used by every Farmer that keeps either Cattle or Horses, every Teamster and Livery Stable Keeper, every Physician and Horse Farier for it will many times cure pain and lameness when all other medicines have failed. Miners and Railroad Men should certainly keep it, for it is unsurpassed for bruses and sprains. Blacksmiths should keep it for their own use and for their customers tender footed horses, as nothing equals it for tender feet. Every body suffering from pain and lameness of any kind, burns, cuts, wounds or any eruption of the skin, Corns, Chilblains or any disease requiring an outward application should certainly keep this celebrated medicine. Every bottle warranted to give satisfaction. For sale by Dr. H. C. Porter Son & Co. Porter & Kirby and F. W. Brown Druggists, Towanda, Pa. And by every Druggist and dealer in Bradford and adjoining counties.

RHEUMATISM—NEURALGIA!
$500 WILL BE PAID
to any person producing any Medicine showing half as many living, permanent cures as Dr. FITZER'S VEGETABLE RHEUMATIC REMEDY. Used inwardly only. A pleasant Medicine, free from injurious drugs. Warranted, under oath, to have permanently cured 95 in every 100 patients treated in the past ten years. (See testimony). It is the scientific prescription of Prof. Jos. P. Fitler, M. D., a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, A. D., 1836,—now one of Philadelphia's oldest regular physicians, and Professor of Chemistry and Toxicology,—who has made Neuralgia, Chronic and Inflamatory Rheumatism the specialty of his entire professional life—a fact vouched for by the signatures accompanying each bottle, and other testimonials of many prominent, renowned physicians and clergymen. To protect sufferers from poisonous quack nostrums and useless expenditure of money, a legal signed guarantee, stating exact number of bottles warranted to cure, will be forwarded gratis to any sufferer sending by letter a full description of affliction. In case of failure to cure, amount paid positively refunded. Medicine sent anywhere by express, collect on delivery. Afflicted invited to write for advice; all information and medical advice sent by letter gratis. Address Dr. J. P. FITLER, 29 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa. The Remedy is sold or obtained by Druggists.

CLARENCE H. CLARK, President;
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Ex. Com.;
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President;
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary
The advantages of the National Life Insurance Co. are:
1. It is a National Company, chartered by Congress
2. It has a paid up capital of One Million Dollars
3. It offers low rates of premiums;
4. It furnishes larger insurance than other Companies, for the same money;
5. It is definite and certain;
6. There is no possibility of misrepresentation by agents, or misunderstanding by policy-holders;
7. The policies are plain contracts, so much insurance for so much money;
8. All policies are non-forfeiting;
9. The policies are exempt from attachment.
