Accident At a Rolling Mill.

A quantity of hot cinders exploded at Columbia rolling mill this morning, badly burning Rufus Brown, John Hickey, Joseph Moore and Harry Rissinger. A buggy had been placed at a furnace to catch the hot cinder, running from the furnace, and when Brown and Hickey were taking it away the buggy overturned. The hot stuff ran into some water causing the explosion and throwing the cinder in all directions. Hickey had his clothing burned from his body, his hair badly scorched and his back full of blisters. Brown and Moore were burned on the back and head but had the presence of mind to jump into a trough of water. Rissinger also received burns on his back. The accident resulted in painful injuries but they are not serious.

Yesterday afternoon an excitement was created on South Fifth street caused by a wife whipping her husband. James C. They were in the carriage when Mrs. Sterling saw the party and she jumped into the carriage. She assaulted the girls and compelled her husband to get out of the carriage. ## THE COMING EVENT.

A Festival of Wonders to Be Presented By Adam Forepaugh.

The greatest of all great shows is now on its way here and is already heralded by a brilliant array of pictorial illustrations on the walls, and the newspaper announcement fix the date on which the canvass will be erected as Tuesday, May 8th. Mr. W. K. Peck, agent of Adam Forepaugh, made this office a pleasant call this morning and in answer to numerous questions said:

"To the lovers of the circus Forepaugh always provides an exceptional entertainment, while to the student of natural history the thoroughly complete managerie of almost every known species of the animal kingdom presents a field as interesting as it is varied. To understand properly what an enormous show we have this year one must pay us a visit. As it is now constituted the show consists of four advance cars containing from 10 to 20 men each. There are 25 advance agents. With the show are 800 men and 400 horses. Our tents are the largest ever erected, one of which is 500 feet long and 300 wide.

"It requires three special trains to transport us, all owned by Mr. Forepaugh.

"Our menagerie is very complete. We have 100 kinds of rare animals, a herd of elephants and camels.

"What are your special features this season?"

"Adam Forepaugh's wonderful trained horse 'Eclipse,' who actually leaps from trapeze to trapeze; Dr. Carver, the rifle shot, and the largest and most complete 'Wild West' exhibition ever in this city. The animals are all fed daily at 5 p. m., so all the children can see the interesting sight. The street parade takes place at 9 a. m. and is over a mile in length and worth coming miles to see.

"But come out to the grounds when the show arrives and learn all the rest, and with a pleasant 'Good Day' the representation of spangles and no wagons vanishes, leaving the reporter to wonder at the great changes that have taken place in the last few years in the tented arena."

BOOK NEWS for May (John Wanamaker, Philadelphia,) with its bright pages of piquant book talk has reached us. "With the New Books," by Talcott Williams, tells in a charming manner of the really good new books. A "Veteran Bookseller" spicily replies to Senator Chace's International Copyright article in the April number, and the miscellaneous matter is fully up to the standard. The portrait is of Louise Chandler Moulton, who contributes an article under the title of "Reading for Women," that will by most readers be regarded as the best thing in the whole number.

TO DAY Col. J. W. Rutherford received from the Travelers' Insurance company, of Hartford, Conn., $150 for injuries received March 11, by the bursting of a bottle. The claim was made and the check received inside of a week. Quick work.
