[illegible] AND THE SAFE.

[illegible] A FEW DOLLARS [illegible] TROUBLE.

[illegible] of D. A. Taylor, on Sale Number, [illegible] Eight-Seventy Notes [illegible] the Safe and Supposedly [illegible]—No Clue to the Guilty.

[illegible] morning seems to afford a good [illegible]. It has been but some [illegible] a safe was blown to [illegible]ville and a large sum of [illegible]. Last Friday night burglars, afterwards caught, visited the [illegible] Habecker, near Mesoneville. [illegible] the crackmen operated in the [illegible] Harbor.

[illegible]. Taylor has a flour mill in the [illegible] is situated on the Manor side of [illegible] creek. Some time during the [illegible] went to the mill and effected [illegible] by breaking off the latch of the [illegible]. Inside of the office was a Morris [illegible] safe in which Mr. Taylor kept his [illegible] and private papers, and on this [illegible] at once began to work. They [illegible] a hole in the door near the [illegible] then made another in the top. [illegible] they placed powder and the ex[illegible] that followed completely shattered [illegible]. The thieves got but little for [illegible] work, as there was but some[illegible] over two dollars in money in the [illegible]. This they took together with a [illegible] for $60 74 on the Merchants National [illegible] of Philadelphia, which was signed by [illegible] & Co. The burglars examined a [illegible] number of other papers, but they [illegible] nothing they could use and left them [illegible] on top of the safe. This morning [illegible] Taylor sent a man to Lancaster to stop [illegible] payment of the check.

[illegible] Taylor lives about a half square from [illegible] mill, but Samuel G. Brady, his miller, [illegible] a tenant house immediately op[illegible]. They did not hear the loud noise that [illegible] have been made by the explosion and [illegible] have no idea what time the thieves [illegible] at work, as everything was right [illegible] the mills were closed in the evening, [illegible] it is not operated at night.

CELEBRATED HIS BIRTHDAY.

David K. Hinkle, of the American Hotel, Given a Gold-Headed Cane on His Forty-Seventh Birthday.

COLUMBIA, March 2.—David K. Hinkle, proprietor of the American hotel, celebrated his forty-seventh birthday by entertaining a large number of his friends at his home last night. A very elegant supper was prepared and enjoyed by all. Mr. Hinkle was presented with a handsome gold-headed cane by his friends.

Rosa Delis, a two-year-old daughter of Jacob Delis, died last night. The death was caused by membraneous croup after an illness of four weeks. The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

In Trouble Again.

Frank Bricker, the man who ran away with the wife of Adam Slesser, and committed a number of forgeries, managed to settle all these cases, but is again in trouble. Bricker promised to do better after getting out of the difficulty and Slesser induced his wife to go back and live with him by trading of his sewing machine for an organ. Bricker, who very seldom works, refuses to remain away from Slesser's wife, much to the annoyance of her husband. The latter had him arrested and Squire Gruber, of Mechanicsville, has held him for court. Bricker says he will have Mrs. Slesser at any cost. These parties live in Dauphin county, but are all well known about Elizabethtown. Many of Bricker's forgeries were committed in this county.

Boy Thieves in the Eighth Ward.

Charles A. Gerlitzski, who carries on the business of pretzel baking at 754 Poplar street, has been made the victim of thieves twice this week. On Thursday his henhouse was robbed and a number of chickens were stolen. Among them was a fine Plymouth Rock hen. Mr. Gerlitzski thinks the theft was committed by a band of young boys making their headquarters in the neighborhood.

This morning when Mr. Gerlitzski returned from market he detected two boys robbing his bakery. He caught one and made him disgorge about fifty small pretzels, after which he gave him a cuffling. The other escaped.

Site for a New Bank Building.

The Lancaster Trust company this morning purchased the Shreiner property, on North Queen street, damaged by fire on Monday. The price paid was $22,000. This property has a frontage of 28½ feet and extends in depth to Market street. The old building will be torn down at once and a handsome edifice erected, for which plans are now being prepared. The committee representing the Trust company in the purchase was Samuel M. Myers, Henry Baumgardner and John D. Skiles. Mrs. Shreiner receives in addition to the above price $500, that amount having been determined upon as the loss sustained by Monday's fire.

The Tennis Club's Concert.

A meeting of the Tennis club was held last evening and final arrangements were made for a concert to be held Monday evening, March 11th, at Eshleman's hall. The money is to be devoted to fixing up new club grounds and house. The concert will be under the charge of Prof. Bausman, and there will be a large vocal chorus.

Committed for Trial.

[illegible] Lloyd, colored, was heard by Alderman [illegible] this afternoon, on a charge of stealing [illegible] belonging to John Stevens. The case was returned to court and he was committed for trial.

A Farmer and a Preacher Die.

From the New Holland Clarion.

George Handwork, one of the oldest citizens of East Earl, died at his home, at Sorrel Horse, on Thursday morning, from typhoid pneumonia. He was a hard-working, industrious farmer nearly all his lifetime, but for the past ten years had retired from the farm and lived in an adjoining house on the farm with his son, J. H. Handwork. He and Philip Handwork, of Parkesburg, are the only children. The funeral takes place on Sunday at 9:30 o'clock at the house, where services will be held. Interment at Morgantown.

Last week word was received here of the death of Rev. Solomon Weber, at Wakerton, Ontario. Rev. Weber was reared a few miles north of this place, where Weber's machine shop now stands. He became a miller and emigrated to Canada when he was twenty-two years of age. This entire distance he drove a six-horse team for a man who was moving with his family to Buffalo, New York. After being in the British provinces a short time he married, and soon afterward joined the Methodist church. He became a minister of the gospel, serving as presiding elder for twelve years. While in this position he filled at different times some of the principal pulpits of the Methodist church in Ontario. His diary shows that he preached over five thousand sermons during his ministerial life. He was seventy eight years old and leaves several sons and one daughter.

The deceased was the oldest of five brothers, the other four surviving him, namely, Rev. Samuel Weber, who for thirty-four years preached at the Pike meeting house near Hinkletown, but is now confined to his room at the old homestead; Gideon, residing in East Earl; Daniel M., residing in Berlin, Ontario; and Isaac, who now lives in Dakota.

The Mennerchor Masquerade.

The Mennerchor masquerade of Monday night promises to be the greatest affair of the kind in the history of the society. It will open with a stage performance, including historical and mythological tableaux, under the supervision of Mr. Wass, the costumer, of Philadelphia. That will be followed by a masque promenade.

Prepared For Summer.

G. B. Marrow, the well-known ice cream manufacturer of this city, is all ready for summer, and it makes no difference to him how soon it sets in. He has succeeded in securing 500 tons of the best ice obtainable, which was taken from Rohrer's pond and the Ironsides skating park. This he will use in his business, and will also be able to accommodate his customers when called upon. He will continue to make ice cream of all kinds in all manner of shapes and moulds, including animals, fruits, euchre bricks, Turk's heads, melons, also whip and ice cream meringues. Mr. Marrow has made for himself a reputation second to none as a manufacturer of excellent ice cream, and his large and increasing business is the best evidence of that.
