Interesting Examination.

The following interesting colloquy passed between a learned Schoolmaster, and a very interesting youth. As the subject is a novel, as well as an important one, your readers will pardon its insertion here.

Schoolmaster—(With a copy of the "Intelligencer.")—James, in looking over the columns of this paper, I find there are three or four "cheapest" Book Stores in our city. As this cannot possibly be, will you endeavor to give me an explanation.

James.—Nothing easier, sir. Spangler & Brother sell very cheap, while the others only feel very cheap.

Schoolmaster.—Excellent solution; your'e a credit to the school. Can you now tell me the difference between the largest stock of "stationery," and the largest stationary stock?

James.—I think I can, sir. Spangler & Brother have decidedly the largest stock of stationery, such for instance, as elegant note paper, envelopes, foolscap and letter paper, blank books, quills, slates, wafers, sealing wax, and a host of elegant articles besides; whilst some bookstores I know of, have the largest amount of stationary stock, that is, Old Books that won't sell!!!

Schoolmaster.—That'll do, that'll do, James. Ha! ha!! ha!!! I shall die laughing; oh, my poor sides. You may go and play now.

Trustee's Sale of Valuable Real Estate.

WATER POWER, COTTON AND WOOLLEN

FACTORY, GRIST AND SAW MILLS.

BY virtue of a decree and order of the High Court of Chancery of the State of Maryland, the undersigned, as Trustee, will sell at public auction from the Court House door in Elkton, on SATURDAY the 26th of January next, all that very valuable Cotton and Woollen Factory, Grist and Saw Mills, together with 89 ACRES OF LAND, more or less, of arable and woodland, being part of the Real Estate whereot the late Col. Wm. Garrett, died seized.

This property lies 7 miles north of the town of Elkton, in Cecil county, Maryland, and about the same distance from the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad, and other public conveyances to the cities of Philadelphia and Baltimore, and is commonly known by the name of

GARRETT'S FACTORIES.

The buildings consist of a Cotton and Woollen Factory, nearly new—85 feet long by 35 feet wide, and 3 stories high; a Grist and Saw Mill in good repair; 7 Tenant Houses, to be occupied by the operatives in the Factory: a MANSION HOUSE for the proprietor, together with a good and substantial Farm House; also a large and commodious Barn with Stabling beneath, Granary, Corn-crib, and other convenient and necessary out-buildings, all in good repair. There is also a good Apple Orchard on the farm. The arable land is in a high state of cultivation, and all under good fencing. There is sufficient wood upon this property to supply necessary fuel.

The Cotton and Woollen Factory has been in constant and successful operation for nearly 30 years past, with the exception of a few months in the year 1840, when it was re-built upon an improved plan. Its connections are extensive, and it is well known as one of the very best establishments of the kind in the State. It is situated on the Big Elk, a copious and powerful stream of water at all seasons of the year. The neighborhood is remarkably healthy, and noted for the purity of its air and water. There are several places of worship of various denominations within a convenient distance, together with well conducted schools. Delaware College is located in the town of Newark, about 4 miles distant, and affords an excellent opportunity for the attainment of the higher branches of education.

There are no other Cotton and Woollen Factories within many miles, it will therefore be seen that this property presents many inducements to persons desirous of engaging in the business.

Further description is deemed unnecessary, as those who think of purchasing can view the premises for themselves. Any other information will be willingly given upon application to Mrs. Sarah Ann Garrett, residing on the premises, or to the subscriber.

Letters on the subject addressed to the subscriber at Elkton will meet with prompt attention.

THE TERMS OF SALE, as prescribed by the decree are, one-third of the purchase money to be paid in cash on the day of sale, another third in six months, and the remaining third in twelve months from the day of sale. The credit payments to be secured by bond with approved security to the Trustee. HIRAM M'CULLOUGH, Trustee.

N. B. In obedience to the provisions of the decree I hereby give notice to the creditors of Wm. Garrett, late of Cecil county, deceased, to file their claims with the vouchers thereof properly authenticated in the Chancery Office at Annapolis, within 4 months from the said 26th day of January next.
H. M'CULLOUGH, Trustee.

A Thrilling Incident

AT THE CHEAP BOOKSTORE.—A few days since, while gazing at the eager crowd hurrying into, and congregating around Spanglers Cheap Bookstore, our attention was drawn to a young gentleman whose noble appearance soon made him the "observed of all observers." After looking for a few moments upon the busy scene with cordent admiration, he suddenly gave expression to his feeling in the following exquisite parody:

I knew by the crowd that so hurriedly rushed
To the door and the window that a Bookstore was near,
And I said, if CHEAP BOOKS in the world can be found,
The eager crowd seeking will sure find them here.

'Tis noon; and in Book Stores that once flourished LARGE,
On the counter sits snoozing the once active clerk,
Every LEAF is at rest, and I hear not a sound;
While at Spangler & Brother's all hands are at work.

"Ah, here in this Bookstore, (he gently exclaimed,)
With a maid who was lovely to soul and to eye,
Who would blush when I praised her and weep when I blamed,
What a stock of FINE ANNUALS I surely would buy."

Overcome by the intensity of his feelings, the youthful poet rushed into the store, and in a few moments we saw him coming out with two of Spangler's finest Books.

Midas converted everything he touched into gold, and the fabled Medusa changed all on whom she gazed into stone, but Spangler & Bro., with a nobler impulse, are satisfied with kindling the genial flame upon the Muses altar, and selling good Books a little cheaper than their neighbors.

Marble Yard.

THE undersigned adopt this method of informing their friends and the public in general, that they have taken the Marble Yard, formerly conducted by Daniel Fagan, situated in North Queen Street, in the city of Lancaster, a few doors north of Van Kanan's (formerly Scholfield's) tavern, where they are prepared to execute all orders in their line, in the neatest manner, at the most liberal prices, and with every possible expedition.

William Leonard acquired a thorough knowledge of the business in the most celebrated Marble establishments in Philadelphia and New York. Abner S. Bear was an apprentice to Daniel Fagan, and has had many years experience. As their work is all to be finished by themselves, they feel assured, that they can afford entire satisfaction to their customers.
