BURNT GREENBACKS.

The identification and restoration of notes which have been burnt is a difficult and interesting operation. Every one has observed that a printed paper after having been burnt, if not subjected to a strong draft or roughly handled, retains its original form, and that the printing is distinct and legible, and appears as if it had been raised or embossed on the paper, but that if it is touched never so gently it crumbles into dust. Notes in this condition are frequently received at the Department for redemption. The counter subjects each note and fragment of a note to a careful inspection in a strong light, under a powerful glass, until she determines the denomination and issue, and then pastes it upon a piece of thin, tough paper in order that it may be safely handled. But this pasting, by destroying the raised or embossed appearance, at once forever precludes all chance of again identifying the kind or denomination of the note. Henceforth it is but a plain, black piece of paper, giving no indication that it ever represented money. It is therefore very necessary that the counter should be quite sure that her judgment is correct before the note is pasted upon the paper. She must also,—a most difficult task,—determine whether the note is genuine or counterfeit. And yet counterfeits are discovered by these experts among the charred remains of notes with almost as much certainty as among perfect notes. Charred notes of National banks have occasionally come into the possession of the Department, and have been restored in this manner and returned for redemption to the banks which issued them, accompanied by the affidavits of the counters that they were the remains of notes of the banks to which they were returned. In most cases they were promptly and cheerfully redeemed. But occasionally a surly bank officer, unable or unwilling to trace any resemblance to bank notes, or at least to the notes of his bank, in the plain black pieces of paper returned to him, and influenced perhaps by a desire to effect a little saving for the stockholders, refused to redeem and challenged the Department to the proof. All positive ocular proof having been destroyed when the notes were restored and pasted, the Department was compelled to submit to the loss.

Once some of these experts were granted leaves of absence, without pay from the government, for the purpose of restoring a large quantity of burnt money belonging to Adams Express Company. This was permitted partly because it was known that there was no one else who could perform the service, without which the company would be subjected to great loss, but principally because the company offered to pay them much more for their time and labor than they were receiving from the government, and it was thought that their long and faithful services justly entitled them to this addition to their meagre salaries. The money was taken from safes recovered from the wreck of a burnt steamer which had been lying for four or five years at the bottom of the Mississippi, and the notes were so burnt, decayed, and damaged as to be absolutely worthless, unless identified and restored. Yet nearly every note of the one hundred and eighty-one thousand dollars in United States and National Bank notes recovered was restored with unerring certainty and redeemed at its full face value. The Chicago and Boston fires have for the last year and a half furnished burnt notes enough to keep all the experts of the office pretty constantly employed.—"An Hour Among the Greenbacks," Scribner's for April.

THE USES OF SNOW.

Now, that the snow has left us, we begin to appreciate all the advantages of a snow winter. For months we have admired the beauty of a snow landscape. We have had all the enjoyment of snow-balling, coasting, sledding and sleighing parties, but our thoughts have rarely gone beyond admiration and enjoyment. Now, that the spring has come, let us look at some of the practical results to be derived from the heavy fall of snow we had last winter. We all know that the cold becomes greater the higher we rise in the air. The summit of a mountain is colder than the base. When the cold is very severe in the upper regions of the atmosphere, it freezes the particles which form the clouds. These frozen particles descend in the shape of small stars with six points and several of these joined together make a flaky mass called snow. Snow is from ten to twelve times lighter than water, and the quantity of matter contained in snow is so small in proportion to its bulk, that it falls very slowly. From the loose texture of snow, and its containing so much air, it is a very bad conductor of heat, and so forms a covering for the earth. In winters of great severity the soil is sometimes 40 degrees warmer than the surface of the overlying snow. The substantial benefits that follow such heavy falls of snow as we had this last winter are very great, and hardly realized excepting by the farmer. Snow is a good fertilizer. As we begin to question the best agencies for cultivating and enriching the earth, we find that nature has been already at work. The soil requires less manure this spring than it did last spring, when the fall of snow had been comparatively small. Last year the soil had no protection from the cold, and the destruction of trees, plants and winter grains was an immense loss to the country. This year the ground has been so well protected from the cold by the snow, that the fields will be green earlier, the trees be more hardy, and the soil richer, than they have been for many seasons.

TREATMENT OF THE BOYS.

Somebody says: I have a recipe to offer. It is a compound, being composed of several ingredients. It is an excellent remedy, and when properly applied, has an amazing good effect upon farmer's boys, keeping them at home in the evening when they ought to be there, and making them better than any other place on earth. Here are the ingredients:

1. Treat them as partners with you. Give them to understand that they are interested in the success of the farming operations as much as you are yourself.

2. Converse freely with them. Get their opinions, and give them yours. If at all prudent, make use of their plans, and when you think your own best, explain to them why you did not adopt theirs. Don't keep them altogether in the dark with reference to your plans in the future.

3. Don't require them to stay at home in the evenings all the time. When there is any meeting or entertainment from which they might receive benefit, be sure to let them go.

4. Provide them with plenty of good books and papers; especially referring to agriculture. Let them be well posted in their own business—farming.

5. Never scold them because they don't do their work or attend to the business of the farm as well as you do. Encourage them.

6. Give them a holiday now and then. They look for it, and they need it; and it will be better for you and them to let them have it.

Other ingredients may with safety be added, but the above are of infinite importance, and should never be omitted. Farmers, try my recipe; it acts like a charm.

RUBBER PAINT!

THE BEST PAINT IN THE WORLD.

ALL SHADES, TINTS, & COLORS

PURE WHITE AND JET BLACK.

FOR SALE AT WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

CHEAP, DURABLE, ELASTIC,

WATER PROOF & BEAUTIFUL,

Made from the very best material. Two coats of the RUBBER PAINT are better than three coats of ordinary paint.

It is a chemical compound, which, when applied as paint, is as firm as horn, yet elastic, and producing a gloss equal to varnish.

It has been manufactured in the United States for six years past and stood the severest tests, and has established for itself a brilliant reputation upon a firm basis for the following qualities needed to make any paint valuable, namely: Durable, not affected by sun, wind, frost, heat, or water; firm and elastic, strong and adhesive, will not crack or peel off; retains its color, giving a surface as bright, smooth, and delicate as if varnished. It flows from the brush freely and settles promptly. Is adapted to all kinds of painting on either wood, iron, brick, or plaster. No other paint will resist water equal to it, making it unequaled for painting vessels or metal roofs.

In all the requisites of a first-class paint the Rubber Paint is unequaled. It is prepared in Pure White, and in all Cottage and other colors, comprising any number of different shades. One gallon of the Rubber Paint will cover twenty to thirty yards two coats.

MIXED READY FOR USE AND SOLD BY THE GALLON in 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 10, 15, 20, and 40 GALLON PACKAGES, AT MANUFACTURERS' PRICES.

TOMPKINS COUNTY

SEEDER AND PLASTER SOWER

This is an Attachment to that FIRST CLASS MACHINE,

THE TOMPKINS COUNTY

WHEEL RAKE!

And we can recommend it as the

BEST PLASTER SOWER IN THE MARKET!

Its advantages over all others are many, but we call special attention to its adaptation to

SOWING PLASTER, LIME, ASHES, BONE DUST AND OTHER FERTILIZERS.

The Distributing device is so arranged as to effectually crush all lumps; thereby insuring an even distribution of Plaster, even when full of hard dry lumps. IT SOWS EQUALLY WELL

ALL KINDS OF GRAIN AND GRASS SEEDS,

Such as Wheat, Rye, Oats, Barley, Buckwheat, Corn, Flax seed, Timothy, Clover and other Grass seeds.

The Seeding-Box is hung under the axle, near the ground, and can be USED IN A STRONG WIND WITHOUT SCATTERING THE PLASTER OR SEED, HOWEVER LIGHT.

It is driven by a cam on the wheel, which will not get out of order from use; as is the case when driven by gears.

IT CAN BE SHIFTED FROM RAKE TO SEEDER, OR FROM SEEDER TO RAKE, IN FIFTEEN MINUTES.

PRICES OF SEEDER AND RAKE.

Seeder, alone, or complete $45 00
Rake 40 00
Combined Rake and Seeder 65 00
Seeder Attachment, alone 25 00

☞ Farmers wanting the Seeder complete to sow Wheat or Rye, or for Fall sowing of Plaster, &c., can have the machine and pay for it same time as though purchased next spring.

EVERY MACHINE IS WARRANTED.

HOME SHUTTLE IMPROVED.

Come, tailors, and buy the Home Shuttle,
And dressmakers buy it likewise;
'Tis the fastest and easyest and cheapest
That ever you saw in your lives.

It will hem, bind, cord, braid, seam and ruffle,
Quilt, tuck, hemstitch, gather and tell,
On cotton and linen and woolen,
And silk it works equally well.

Come, buy the Home Shuttle, old ladies,
Young misses and those in your prime;
It will gather your ruffles for dresses
And sew them right on the same time.

Come, farmers, and buy the Home Shuttle
For your wives and your daughters so dear;
They can sew when their fingers are tired,
And each one is warranted five years.
