The Hall of Fine Arts, in the opinion of your committee, was most tastefully and elegantly arranged, and we deem it our duty to state that much credit is not only due to Messrs. M. O. Kline, Foltz and Shertz for the art and skill they displayed on this occasion, but the attention and interest they so cheerfully manifested towards the exhibitors were universally admitted.

We are pleased to report that a great number of articles exhibited were the production and skill of young gentlemen and ladies; an evidence of the fact that your creditable exertions have been encouraging and beneficial to the youth of this community.

In justice to the ladies we are compelled to remark that, amongst the rare gems of art, were to be seen the exquisite and beautiful handiwork of the ladies of this city and county. We do not say this in fulsome praise; but in all truthfulness and gratification; we report that the needle work, embroidery, and great variety of fancy work exhibited on this occasion surpassed anything we have ever seen, and we congratulate your honorable society for the encouragement and approbation bestowed upon you by the ladies of this city and county. Yours very respectfully,

J. FRANKLIN REIGART,
SAMUEL KENEAGY,

CLASS NO. 23.—Flowers.

The Judges appointed by you to decide upon the articles comprised in Class No. 23, (Flowers,) respectfully submit, that they decided upon said articles with the best of their ability and submit the following as their awards.

S. Kennedy, Salisbury, greatest variety of Dahlias. $2.00
Ditto, best variety of same. 1.00

The committee deem it proper to state that the general display of dahlias was fine and choice, and would notice in a complimentary manner the collections of Lytle & Conard, E. Lampeter, Miss Harriet E. Yundt, E. Earl, Casper Hiller, Conestoga, and Wm. Gable & Bro., Lancaster.

We would suggest that a discretionary premium of $1.00 be awaded to Henry Holstein, for the exhibition of a minature flower garden.

We would recommend the award of discretionary premiums to

Lytle & Conard, for lot of ornamental trees. $1.00
" " " Peach trees. 1.00
Warfel & Herr, lot of ornamental trees. 1.00
Calvin Cooper, " " " 1.00
" " " Fruit trees. 1.00
Casper Hiller, collection of Fruit trees. 1.00
S. G. Bowman, discretionary premium for night blooming Ceres, preserved in alcohol. 1.00
Phillip Haup for fine specimens of capanula. 1.00

We would take complimentary notice of an orange tree, exhibited by Warfel & Herr, Strasburg, a fine fig tree by Henry Nixdorf, and a cactus, by Miss Martha Freidenstein, Lanc'r. Your Committee regret that they found the display of flowers so limited. This department might be easily rendered one of the most attractive, and the material is certainly not wanting, and we believe that with a proper and liberal encouragement, a laudable emulation may be excited, and future displays be fuller and more attractive. All of which is respectfully submitted by

JNO. H. BRENEMAN,
HENRY MUSSER.
