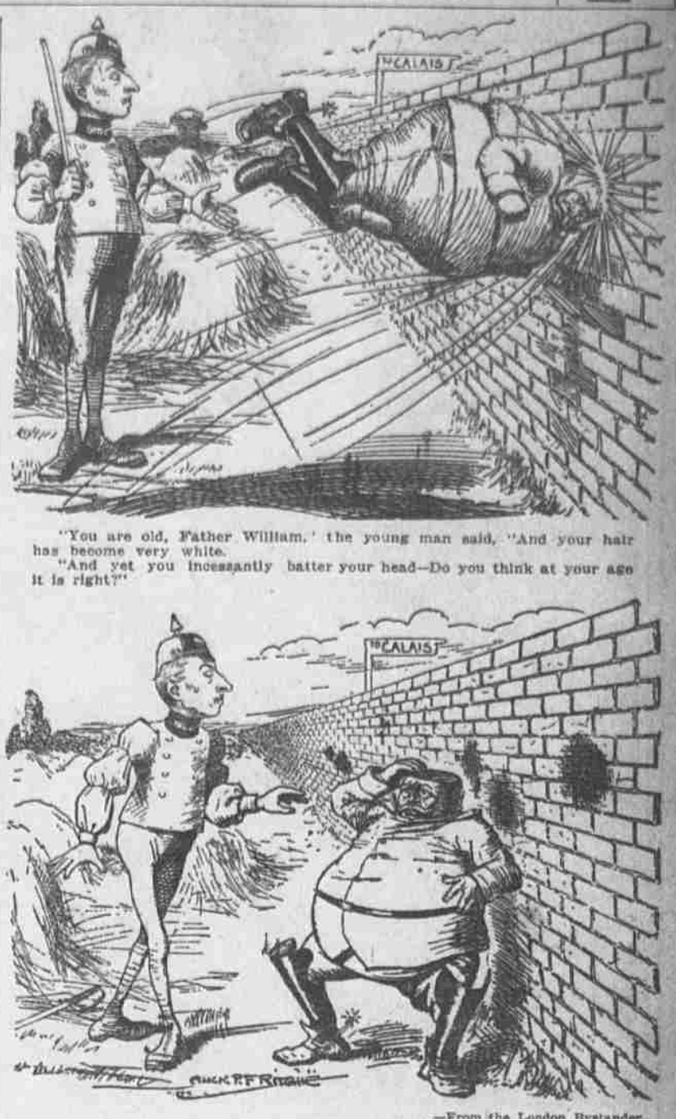
Edward VIII of England (Lord Grey), the man without a conscience.

"BRITISH SANG-FROID."

One of the cartoons of the day which is popular in Moscow, if not exactly flattering to the British national appearance.



"You are old, Father William," the young man said, "And your hair has become very white.
"And yet you incessantly batter your head—Do you think at your age it is right?"

—From the London Bystander.

"At the start," Father William replied to his son, "I feared it might injure my brain.
"But, now that I'm perfectly sure I have none, why I do it again and again."—Alice in Wonderland.

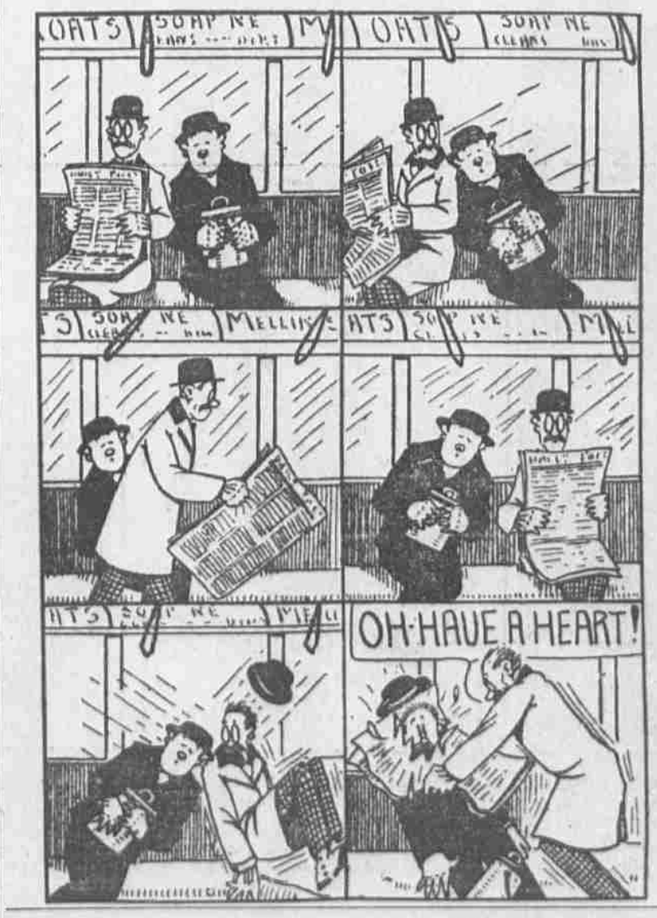
Paw Knows Everything

Willie—Paw, what is sheet music?
Paw—Snoring, my son.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Himself Again

He—I feel like a fool tonight.
She—So glad you've recovered.—Boston Transcript.

OH—HAVE A HEART!



Sillicus—What is the age of discretion?

Synicus—There isn't any. I know a man over 70 who married his fourth wife the other day.

Daughter—A certain young man sent me some flowers this morning.

Mother—Don't say "a certain young man," my dear. There are none of them certain until you've got them.
