SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

MIFFLINTOWN.

WEDNESDAY, AUG 20, 1890.

B. F. SCHWEIER,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Republican State Ticket.

GOVERNOR,
GEORGE W. DELAMATER,
Crawford County.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR,
LOUIS A. WATRES,
Lackawana County.

SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS,
THOMAS J. STEWART,
Montgomery County.

Don't say Pattison to any old soldier—The soldier burial veto is a pill the veterans can't swallow.

The steamship Teutonic crossed the Atlantic in five days, 19 hours, and five minutes, the fastest time on record.

Norwegians are about to organize an Expedition to the north pole. They expect to navigate the open polar sea across the pole.

The meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic at Boston last week was a grand affair. President Harrison and Cabinet, were present on grand review day. Mrs. Logan and a number of other ladies were there.

The new silver law went into effect last Wednesday, but the U. S. Treasurer refused to inform the country what he paid for bullion. Secrecy on such an important question is not well chosen and is entirely un-American

Mr. Delamater was in Chambersburg last Thursday. At a public reception tendered him in the Court House, some one asked: "How about Senator Emery's charges." Mr. Delamater denied all the charges preferred by Senator Emery.

Senator Cameron never before said so brave a thing, as he did last week, when he told the Senate, that it is not the tariff that has shrunken prices, but that it was the act of Congress in 1873, that stopped the free coinage of silver, that has reduced the price of everything.

This week covers the time for the primary nominations. All the candidates for the party nominations in both parties have been named and people of the respective parties can select from the list whom they prefer. Such a system of nomination should be provided, for the spring township elections. There is no system for the nomination of candidates for the spring—township—elections. Any set of men, two, three, four, or even one man, can get up a ticket, on the day before the spring election and get out runners to distribute the tickets on election day, and defeat the best of candidates. The manner of nominating and electing township officers will be at the mercy of any unscrupulous and irresponsible man or set of men that choose to take a hand in the business of nominating and electing a ticket. It would be different, if township nominations had to be made and closed ten days before the day of election. Citizen tax payers, of the respective townships will find it to their interest to urge a change in the manner of nominating candidates for the spring election, and if they cannot manage to have a change affected any other way, they can get their member, whoever he may be to have the question brought before the Legislature. The Legislature would immediately come to their relief, for it is simply asking for a system of nomination that is in practice for the higher county offices and state offices all over the United States.

Race Across the Atlantic.

From the North American Aug. 14:—The Teutonic after leaving Queenstown England was not long in getting under full steam and starting off after her rival the City of New York who was some ten or fifteen miles on her way. The Teutonic gradually decreased the lead, and then the passengers on both steamships could discern the fact that there would be no walkover for either steamship. The Teutonic was gaining hourly, but the New York was proceeding at a wonderful speed. Her steel prow threw spray many feet into the air. Many of the passengers remained on deck all through the night.

IN SIGHT OF ONE ANOTHER.

The passengers on the Teutonic, which was gradually creeping up on the flying City of New York, could see the lights of that vessel, and those on the City of New York could see only a short distance behind them the lights of the Teutonic. The City of New York covered 464 miles in the first day, and the Teutonic gained nine miles on the City of New York on the first day. On the second day out there was a light wind. The vessel were in sight of each another, and it could still be seen that the White Star liner was gaining on her rival. On the second day the White Star steamship made 496 miles and the City of New York covered 486. The Teutonic at the end of the second twentyfour hours was a little ahead of the City of New York, and then came a magnificent burst of speed. In the next twenty-four hours she reeled off 512 miles, or nearly twenty-one and one-third miles an hour. The City of New York made only 485 miles on that day. The vessels were in sight of each other all Saturday evening and until early Sunday morning. The Teutonic covered from Rohe's Point to Sandy Hook 2806 miles, and maintained an average speed of 20.175 knots. After reaching Sandy Hook it was necessary for her to lay to for a short time until the tide flood was over the bar, when she continued on her way to Quarantine. The City of New York also made her best record on this trip, the official time being 5 days 22 hours 7 minutes. Previous to this her record for the western trip was 6 days 4 hours and 17 minutes, or a little more than eight hours slower than her last trip

Not True.

At a public reception in the Court House at Chambersburg on the evening of August 14, Senator Delamater, was asked by a colored citizen, how he explained the charges Senator Emery made against him. Senator Delamater replied. On April 4 last, during my candidacy for the nomination, Lewis Emery, Jr., made certain charges respecting my honor as a citizen and Senator. Until now I have refrained from making public reply. Prior to my nomination I claimed the right to make my own contest in my own way, and was content to reply for my vindication upon my life-long character and reputation, built up in a very active professional and business career in Northwestern Pennsylvania. The enthusiastic and unanimous indorsement of my own county, the cordial support of a majority of the delegates elected from the country counties, the exceptionally strong indorsement by citizens and business men of Philadelphia, and finally, my nomination by the Harrisburg Convention, all in the face of these undenied charges, had seemed to me sufficient answer. The question now addressed to me implies that continued silence on my part may be misinterpreted by certain good citizens whose affiliations are with the Republican party. As the candidate of that party, I cannot allow its interests to be prejudiced in the estimation of any citizen by a refusal to answer any inquiry touching my personal and official integrity, and I take this occasion to enter my most positive, emphatic and unequivocal denial of each and every charge preferred by Senator Emery. So that I may be fully understood and that the real questions of the hour may not be obscured by presonalities growing out of these attacks and that future reference to his subject may be avoided I enter this denial to all charges by whomsoever preferred which assail my honor as a man or my virtue as a citizen."

A Gas Volcano.

Who knows that natural gas is not the cause of earthquakes, volcanoes, &c., and who knows that it is not the agency with which to burn the world, and who knows that the alarming manifestations in Indiana is not the beginning of the end. A despatch from Sheibbyville, Indiana, last Thursday says: Much excitement still prevails over the recent gas explosion. It is now discovered that the whole neighborhood in the vicinity of the young volcano is saturated with natural gas and the soil is full of it. One can run a crow bar into the ground at any place and then light the gas that proceeds from the soil in various quantities. This would indicate that the gas from the gas wells has found its way below the limestone, and in many places fractures in the stone permit it to escape into the sand and gravel immediately below the surface soil, which partially prevents its escape into the air. This bears out the theory that gas has for some time been escaping from the sides of the gas wells and diffusing itself in the sand and gravel below the limestone.

In Van Buren township, twenty-four miles north of the late eruption, the water wells which have been sunk twenty to thirty feet, a few feet below the superstructure of stone, gas from wells three miles away has broken into them and the people have abandoned the use of the water, cased the wells and are now using the gas for fuel.

The whole community seems to be filled with the combustible and the inhabitants are threatened with disaster. No telling but the lighting of a match may blow two or three townships into smithereens. It is altogether probable that the diffusion of gas into the soil, more or less affects the growing crops. The great question may yet be as to the advisability of sinking gas wells or if sunk at all whether other methods should not be used to case and confine the explosive. It is yet a question as to which is the most hazardous, the accumulation of the gas in pockets followed by eruptions similar to the Walderon blow-out, or permit it to permeate the soil as it is now doing in Van Buren and Noble townships, poisoning the water and diseasing the air. It is reported today that boys were roasting corn by gas jets produced by sticking canes down in the soil a few feet in the vicinity of the volcano. Such being the case the citizens will soon have to abandon home and firesides.

Queer Religion

There are many religious among the people of the world. The Philadelphia Record of last Wednesday, makes mention of the first crew of Mohammedans that ever appeared in Philadelphia. Their religious beliefs and observances seem queer to American Christians and are spoken of by the Record, thus: They make good, steady seamen, but they lack the strength and endurance of Europeans, as well as the desire for rum and tobacco. They are very religious and pray five times a day. They believe that if they are good they will go to Paradise when they die and have innumerable wives. The number of their houris in heaven depends upon their behavior on earth, and, therefore, they pray and call upon Allah at every opportunity.

THEY CARRY THEIR OWN BUTCHER.

The Islamites are very particular about their food. They will not eat anything that has been killed or dressed by an infidel. They have their own butcher on board. He is a very intelligent Bengalese, his name is Nure Monamad, and he is called "the butler." His method of killing sheep, oxen and fowls is to cut their throats, and then let them bleed to death. The men are horrified at the sight of pork, and they all love rice and curry.

Every new moon they make a holiday, dress up in fine clothes, and march around the ship, chanting passages from the Koran, and calling upon the lady moon to give them lots of wives. They are virtuous on earth, and save themselves to have a good time when they get to Paradise.

A QUEER BELIEF

All of them are fatalists, and firmly believe that when they get the straight tip from Allah, by a vision or otherwise, that they must die at once. Any delay would subject them to no end of trouble in the future life, and reduce the size of their harem. Two men received the mystic message during the voyage, and they jumped overboard. The others envied them, and thought how they must be enjoying themselves.

The Coal Oil Can Again.

Bedford Inquirer, August 8: On Saturday, last, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. James, of Reinsburg, went to the Methodist Episcopal church to help arrange for a festival, leaving their eldest daughter, Carrie, to take care of things about the house, and also her little 2-year old sister. About 5 o'clock Carrie went into the kitchen to prepare for supper. She built a fire and finding it would not burn, she at once resorted to the coal oil can, pouring the oil on the wood in the stove. The oil ignited and the can exploded filling the room with fire. Her clothing caught and she ran into the street in almost a solid sheet of fire, screaming and clapping her hands, the flames extending from three to four feet above her head. The neighbors ran to her rescue, but before they could get the blazing clothing from her she was so badly burned that she only lived until Sunday evening about 10 o'clock.

The baby was not injured, although surrounded by fire, but the room and furniture was badly damaged. The house narrowly escaped destruction.

It seems strange that these sad warnings are not heeded. We will venture prediction that Carrie had seen her mother or some older people than herself start fire with coal oil.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

The peach crop in southern New Jersey has been a disastrous failure this season. Orchard after orchard has barely enough fruit to furnish a dozen cans of preserves for the owners. The reason for this is said to be that the very mild winter caused the trees to blossom, which was followed by blighting frosts. As a rule south Jersey farms are very valuable and give large net returns. In a number of instances farms that had been bought for $2,000 five years ago have recently been sold for $10,000 and $15,000. A good deal of speculation is going on there too, and some of the farmers are holding land with the expectation of continued increase in values.

London, Aug. 16.—The wheat crop in Dorsetshire is almost destroyed by blight. Where only a few days ago a yield of ten sacks to the acre was confidently expected the crop is now scarcely worth the gathering, and what wheat chanced to escape blight has been beaten down by boisterous weather. The outlook is the most melancholy that can be remembered for many years past.

"Who is that well-dressed, distinguished looking gentleman over there?"

"That's a summer resort hotel keeper."

"And that shabby-looking person?"

"That's an ex-millionaire who used to stay at the hotel."—St. Joseph News.

Dublin, August 13.—The Irish Times says that the Swinford Board of Guardians has passed a resolution stating that the potato crop in that section will not yield a fourth of the average crop of the past ten years.

In the county of Kent hops, hay and fruit are much damaged by gales of wind, and accounts for other parts of England speak of very poor crops in prospect.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c and $1 at all druggists. tf.

A Spring Medicine.

The druggists claim that people call daily for the now cure for constipation and sick headache, discovered by Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky mountains. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells at 40 cents a package and is called Lane's Family Medicine. tf.

NEW DRUG STORE.

M. P. Crawford, Pharmacist, has opened a new drug store in Mifflintown and has in stock a full line of all goods kept in a first class drug store. Prescriptions accurately compounded. Purity of ingredients guaranteed. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited. Democrat and Register building, opposite Odd Fellows' Hall, Bridge street. tf.

Notes from Walker.

Politics runs high with some. A party from the vicinity of Centerville was picnicing on the mountain last Friday.

Misses Mollie Manbeck and Annis Landis returned last Monday from a visit to Snyder county, where the former had visited her parents.

The picnic, August 23, at Locust Run, will be held in Mr. Wilson Gross' wood. Many schools have been invited and we understand some are coming. The schools will be addressed in the grove by Rev. J. P. Buehner, Elihu Benner, Esq., and others. The public in general are invited. We anticipate a pleasant time. Thompsontown Cornet Band will furnish the music.

ASSEMBLY.

Editor Sentinel and Republican:—An nounce that Wm. Hertzler of Fort Roya is a candidate for the nomination of Assemblyman from Juniata Mr. Hertzler is the present member, and his record commends itself to such a degree that it seems like a mistake not to return him to the State Legislature.

PORT ROYAL.

PROTHONOTARY.

Editor Sentinel and Repubican:—At the request of many friends, I ask you:—Please announce my name as a candidate for the office of Prothonotary, subject to the usages of the Republican party in Juniata county. If I receive the nomination and am elected I will try to please the people whom I could serve in the duties of the office.

OLIVER C. DIFFENDERFER.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

Editor of the Sentinel and Republican: Please announce the name of Uriah Shuman of Delaware township as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner. Mr. Shuman ranks among the best citizens in the county. He is able and honest. He has always been in the front for the advancement of his party principles, and never behind when the good of the people in local affairs are at stake. He is the kind of a man to nominate at the primary election, and the kind of a man the people will gladly vote for and elect to the office in November.

DELAWARE.

Editor Sentinel and Republican:—Please announce to the Republican voters of Juniata county the name of Wm. B. McCahan of Milford township as a candidate for County Commissioner. Mr. McCahan has hosts of friends. He is a farmer, a good citizen, was a soldier, is a consistent man, and is a typical American, who will fill the office with credit to himself and fidelity to the public generally.

MILFORD.

Mr. Editor:—At the request of numerous friends and citizens of Juniata, I present myself to the consideration of the Republicans for renomination for the office of County Commissioner, subject to Republican usages. My past administration of the office is a guaranty of what my future action will be, if favored by a re-nomination and re-election.

FRANCIS HOWER.

Editor Sentinel and Republican:—Dear Sir: The county government which is lodged in the board of County Commissioners, is of more importance in times of peace to the people of the county than the general government and therefore the board of county commissioners should be composed of honest and capable men, who will discharge the affairs of office for the general good. With this object in view I would name Joseph Sieber of Fayette township as a citizen abundantly qualified to fill the important office of county commissioner. His nomination at the primary election will give the people generally an opportunity to elect a good man to the important office in November.

JUNIATA.

Editor Sentinel and Republican: Please announce the name of W. Harry Moore, of Walker Twp., as a candidate for nomination for County Commissioner, subject to Republican usages. Mr. Moore's record as a Soldier and Citizen is without blemish and he possesses all the qualifications necessary to make a good and efficient officer having received within a few votes of a majority three years ago, after not being able to canvass the county on account of sickness in his family, fully attests his claim for the office.

MIFFLINTOWN.

May 12, 1890.

Mr. Editor:—Please announce that I am a candidate for the office of County Commissioner, subject to Republican rules. If nominated and elected I pledge myself to an efficient and economical administration of county affairs in the interest of the tax-payers.

JOHN S. MUSSER.

Walker township, June 24, 1890.

COUNTY TREASURER.

Editor of the Sentinel and Republican—Dear Sir:—James J. McMullin of Tuscarora township has numerous friends, who desire to have him announced as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer at the Republican Primary Election, subject to the rules that govern the party, feeling satisfied that if he becomes the standard bearer for that office, he will prove a tower of strength before the people in old Tuscarora and the upper end, and throughout the entire county at the November election. He is a man of straight forward address and good business qualifications and common sense views of financial affairs

TUSCARORA.

Editor of the Juniata Sentinel and Republican—Dear Sir—In conformity with the rules of the Republican party for primary nomination that all candidates for office must be publicly announced, I present the name of Luke Davis of Walker township as a most suitable man for the office of County Treasurer. Mr. Davis lives in the heaviest tax-paying township in the county, a township that has not been honored with a nomination for county office in years. He has been a heavy tax-payer all his life, an economical citizen, a tiller of the soil, a soldier in the Union army almost three years, a member of the National Guard five years, a good citizen every way, who will prove himself an efficient county officer, if the people will do themselves justice in electing him.

WALKER.

Editor Sentinel and Republican:—No man in this community has the public confidence to a greater degree for honesty of purpose and financial integrity than Frederick Espenschade, and for that reason he is one of the fittest men in the county for official position, therefore I present him as a candidate for the primary nomination for the office of County Treasurer. He has not been an office seeker and for that reason will be acceptable to a large majority of people. His extensive acquaintance which has been acquired throughout the county by diligent attention to business will make him invincible before the people in November.

MIFFLINTOWN.

Editor Sentinel and Republican:—Dear Sir: John F. Ehrenzeller of Fayette township, may not be known personally to every man in the county, but wherever he is known his name when mentioned in connection with the nomination for the office of County Treasurer, inspires confidence. He is a man of the people and resides in the banner district of the county. The eyes of all Juniata are turned upon Fayette at election time. Considering the personal qualities of Mr. Ehrenzeller and the district in which he lives his nomination at the primary would be most timely and his election assured in November.

FAYETTE.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Editor of Sentinel and Republican:—Please announce the name of J. Frank Stoner as a candidate for District Attorney. Mr. Stoner is well qualified to discharge the duties of the office, and in his hands the interests of the Commonwealth would be carefully guarded.

MIFFLINTOWN.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN.

Editor Sentinel and Republican. Dear Sir:—Please announce Calvin B. Horning of Mifflintown as a candidate for chairman of the Republican County Committee. Mr. Horning is an able organizer and will make an efficient chairman.

MIFFLINTOWN.

At the earnest request of Republicans from all parts of the county, I offer myself for re-election as Chairman of the County Committee. If elected my course in that office during the past year will be a pledge for my future conduct.

CARL F. ESPENSCHADE.

Mifflintown, June 24, 1890.

W. P. Graham of Spruce Hill made a good auditor and is worthy of re-election. Let us continue him in the office.

BEALE

REPRESENTATIVE DELEGATE.

Editor Sentinel and Republican:—Please announce Solomon G. Dressler as a candidate for Representative Delegate to the State Convention. Mr. Dressler is a rock ribbed Republican, an able man, who has worked many years for the cause, without reward, except the consciousness of his own heart that he is engaged in a good cause.
