PROSPECTUS FOR 1854.

The Saturday Evening Post,

Unrivalled Array of Talent.

THE Proprietor of the Post, in again coming before the public, would return thanks for the generous patronage which has placed them far in advance of any other literary weekly in America. And as the only suitable return for such a free and hearty support, their arrangements for 1854 have been made with a degree of liberality probably unequaled in the history of American newspaper literature. They have engaged as contributors for the ensuing year the following brilliant array of talent and genius:

Mrs. Southworth, Emerson Bennett, Mrs. Denison, Grace Greenwood and Fanny Fern.

In the first paper of January next, we design commencing an original Novelet, written expressly for our columns, entitled The Bride of the Wilderness, by Emerson Bennett, author of "Viola," "Clara Moreland," "The Forged Will," etc. This Nouvelet, by the author of "Clara Moreland," we design following by another called The Step Mother, by Mrs. Mary A. Denison, author of "Home Pictures," "Gertrude Russel," etc. We have also the promise of a number of Sketches by Grace Greenwood, whose brilliant and versatile pen will be almost exclusively employed upon the Post and her own "Little Pilgrim." Mrs. Southworth, whose fascinating works are now being republished in England, also will maintain her old pleasant connection with the Post. The next story from her gifted pen will be entitled, Miriam, the Avenger, or the Fatal Vow, by Emma D. E. N. Southworth, author of "The Curse of Clifton," "The Lost Heiress, "The Deserted Wife," etc. And last—not least—we are authorized to announce a series of articles from one who has rapidly risen very high in popular favor. They are entitled a New Series of Sketches, by Fanny Fern, author of "Fern Leaves," etc. We expect to commence the Sketches by Fanny Fern—as well as the series by Grace Greenwood—in the early numbers of the coming year.

Engravings, Foreign Correspondence, Agricultural Articles, the News, Congressional Reports, the Markets, etc., also shall be regularly given.

Poetry and Pictures.

"Lives of great men oft remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Pictures which will last some time!

"Pictures which perhaps another,
Sailing o'er life's stormy main,
Some forlorn and way worn brother,
Seeing, can go and get some more just like them!"

The above was sent us by a friend, and, being right to the point, we give our readers the benefit of it, hoping that they will heed the wise suggestion and "go and get some more just like 'em."

Our stock of cases, lockets, keys, pins, &c., is varied and complete, and we are anxious to set them all with "natural" pictures, and get the PAY for so doing.

Our motto is, "good work and fair prices."
