Moving pictures will be a unique feature in the Ritz-Carlton today, the proceeds to be devoted to the public wards and social service department of the Jefferson Hospital. The films were made at the recent outdoor fetes and will be shown at 3, 5 and 9 o'clock. The use of the ballroom has been donated by the hotel management.

Those who are actively in charge of the show are Mrs. Bessie Dobson Altemus, chairman of the public wards department of the hospital, and Mrs. Alba B. Johnson, chairman of the social service department.

The pictures were taken by Mr. Charles A. Munn, Jr., Mr. Fitz Eugene Dixon and Mr. E. J. Reily. Mr. Munn and Mr. Dixon have been operating their movie cameras for several months at private meetings of their friends, and have had great success in their venture. Mr. Reily recently started taking moving pictures.

Among the events which will be pictured will be the Devon Horse Show, where pictures of the judges' stand, with the women judges at work; pictures of the entries and the show officials and other interesting phases will be shown.

The Radnor Hunt in action, with the hounds getting away with the whips, the field preparing to mount; Benjamin Chew, master of hounds; the field in motion, and a thrilling chase after the hounds will be the second big feature to be shown.

The recent Latham Park fete, in aid of the Abington General Hospital, will be a fourth scene to be shown on the films and the intercollegiates on Franklin Field will complete the exhibition. The films were taken solely for the use of the exhibitors themselves, and no other opportunity will be given for viewing the films, as they were not taken for public exploitation, but for the private uses of the amateur movie photographers whose films are to be shown.

Another society event which is interesting many persons on the Main Line—the beagle hunt—will be shown in action on the estate of C. Howard Clark, Jr., Chestnutwold Farm, Devon. Many persons who are well known in sporting circles, particularly that branch of society which is interested in horses and hunts, are pictured on the film.
