SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE GREAT BLOOD.—A correct diagnosis of diseases and vitiated blood, you are sick! If you have burst out in Pimples or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless depressed and good for nothing, but you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring to health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Itch, Scald Head, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Disease, Liver Complaint and Heart Disease. TRY AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no active properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla" and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the loss of obloquy which rests upon it. We think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

(FROM YESTERDAY'S EVENING GAZETTE.)

THE CONNELLSVILLE RAILROAD CASE.

Important Decision of the Circuit Court.

THE DISFRANCHISING ACT UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

This morning, at a special term of the United States Circuit Court, Judge McCandless read the opinion of Judge Grier in the case of the City of Baltimore vs. the Connellsville and Southern Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The points at issue are fully stated in the opinion, which we give in full:

The Mayor, etc., of Baltimore, vs. the Connellsville and the Southern Pennsylvania Railroad. In the Circuit Court of the United States, Western District of Pennsylvania. In Chancery.

OPINION OF THE COURT.

The single question for decision in the case is correctly stated in the argument of the learned counsel for the respondents, as follows:

The charter of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad contains the following provision, viz: "If the said company shall at any time misuse or abuse any of the privileges herein granted, the legislature may resume all and singular the rights and privileges hereby granted to such corporation."

Under this clause the legislature, by an act passed in 1864, revoked and resumed all and singular the rights and privileges granted to said company, so far as the same authorized it to construct any line or lines of railway southwardly or eastwardly from Connellsville.

Is this repealing act repugnant to the Constitution of the United States, on the ground that it impairs the obligation of the contract between the State and the Company?

The objections made on the argument to the form of the pleadings and the right of the complainant to have the remedy sought in his bill, will be found overruled in a similar case by the Supreme Court. We refer to the case of Dodge vs. Wolsey, 18th Howard, 336. In that case the complainant was a stockholder in the corporation, whose interests were likely to be injuriously affected by the State legislation if it should be carried into effect. In this case the complainant is a creditor, who, on the faith of legislative acts granting corporate franchises and privileges to the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company, has advanced large sums of money, which have been expended in constructing their road. If that corporation submit to this act of the legislature divesting them of a most valuable part of their franchises, the security and rights of the complainant would be materially injured. The bill is in the nature of a bill quia timet, and the complainant has a right to the remedy sought, if the Court should be of opinion that the act of 1864 impairs the obligation of the original contract or act of incorporation granted to the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company.

The only question, then, is as to the validity of this act. If that the act repealing the franchises of the corporation, or a material part, and transferring its franchises and property to another corporation, is unconstitutional, and that the obligation of the original contract, is not and cannot be denied. Nor is it denied that an act granting corporate privileges to a body of men and women, who proceed on the faith of it to subscribe stock, and borrow money, and spend it in the construction of a valuable public improvement, is a contract, and that it is not in the power of either party to it to repudiate or annul it without the consent of the other.

The State claims no sovereign power to repudiate its contracts or defraud its citizens, and the Constitution delegates no such power to the Legislature.

If in the act of incorporation the Legislature retains the absolute and unconditional power of revocation for any or no reason; if it be so written in the bond, the party accepting a franchise on such conditions cannot complain if it be arbitrarily revoked; or if this contract be that the Legislature may repeal the act whenever in its opinion the corporation has misused or abused its privileges, then the contract constitutes the Legislature the arbiter and judge of the existence of that fact.

But the case before us comes within neither category. The contract does not give an unconditional right to the Legislature to repudiate its contract, nor is the Legislature constituted the tribunal to adjudge the question of fact as to misuse or abuse. Moreover, the case before us admits that the condition of facts upon which the Legislature are authorized to repeal the act does not exist. It admits that the corporation has neither misused nor abused its privileges. A charter cannot be vacated by the decree of a judicial tribunal, in a proper proceeding for that purpose, without any such reservation in the act. There both parties are heard, and a verdict of a jury, on the facts, can be obtained, which concludes the question. But the Legislature possesses no judicial authority under the Constitution, and has no established course of proceeding in the exercise of such power.

The party who is injured by its action is not heard. The reasons usually alleged in the preamble to such acts are the mere suggestions of some interested party seeking to speculate at the expense of others; professional solicitors who infest the lobby are ever ready, for a sufficient consideration, to impose on the good nature of honest but often careless legislators, by the suggestion of any necessary falsehood.

If any one should feel curious as to the methods used by agents of corporations to obtain such legislative acts as may be desirable, they will find the fact fully exposed in the opinion of the Supreme Court delivered in the case of Marshall vs. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company (16th Howard, 333.)

We do not intend even to insinuate that any such secret services by "skilful and unscrupulous" agents, "stimulated to active partisanship by the strong lure of high profits," to use "most efficient means to get the vote"of the cardinal mass of legislators," have been used in this case. But we do say that the recitals in the preamble to this act exhibit a labored attempt to justify a more than doubtful exercise of powers by an array of reasons which, even if true in fact, must be demurred to in law as insufficient.

The act does not contemplate the exercise of the right of eminent domain, by which the property of individuals or corporations may be taken for some public use in making ample compensation. Its object is to transfer the franchises and property of one corporation, anxious by every means in its power to complete a valuable public improvement, to another whose interest it is not to complete the road, and who are not required to do so at any time in this or the next century. Where, in a case like the present, the legislature are asked to take the property of one corporation and give it to another, on the ground that one has abused or misused its privileges, the just and proper mode would be to pass a resolution ordering the Attorney General to institute the proper legal proceedings to ascertain the fact of "misuse or abuse." If such issue be found true, then that the charter be revoked or resumed. We do not say that, without such judicial proceeding, ascertaining the existence of the condition on which the right of repeal is reserved, the act is absolutely void; but we do say, that in all such cases the party injured, if he desires the existence of such "misuse or abuse," has a right to be heard, and to have that question tried before he shall surrender his property or his franchise. We do not think it necessary to notice the numerous and conflicting cases which have been brought to our notice by the learned counsel. In the case of the Erie and Northeast Railroad vs. Casey (26 Pa. and 1st Grant) the court found after a full hearing of the parties that the fact of misuse or abuse did exist, and therefore the act was not void.

It cannot therefore be any precedent for a case which admits that such facts do not exist.

[illegible] the court in this form. The form of the whole matter is this:

1. The complainant has shown a proper case for the interference of the court in his favor.

2. That the act complained of is unconstitutional and void under the admissions of the case.

3. The complainant is entitled to the decree of the court on the pleadings as they stand.

4. That the defendants have leave to withdraw their demurrer and answer over; and if they shall so request, an issue will be ordered to try whether the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad have misused or abused their charter.

I am authorized to say my Brother McCandless fully concurs in this opinion.

Bill dismissed as to the Governor, as his acts can do neither harm nor good to either party. Respondents have thirty days to file answer and request issue. If not done in that time, final decree according to the prayer of the bill. Per Curiam. R. C. GRIER.

The Cambria County Murder—Arrest of the Alleged Perpetrators.

We have already reported the horrible killing of Miss Paul and Miss Munday, of Croyle township, Cambria county, on the night of the 8th of June—the former an old maid, supposed to be possessed of a large amount of money, and the latter a girl of sixteen, the only companion of the keeper of the house. Several parties have been arrested on suspicion, but discharged for want of evidence.

Shortly after this murder a colored man confined in our county jail informed Warden White that some weeks before he overheard two men who had visited the prison, conversing with a cell mate, when they stated that an old lady who resided in an isolated part of Cambria county, had a large amount of money in her dwelling, and as no one lived with her except a young girl, it could easily be procured. The colored man did not pay any particular attention to the conversation at the time, but the circumstance was revived in his mind upon hearing of the murder, when he communicated the above facts to Mr. White. As the information was supposed to be important, the colored man was induced to visit Reamy, in his cell in the Cambria county jail, at Ebensburg, but he failed to identify him as either of the parties. The colored man was held in the meantime as an important witness, and is still in prison.

District Attorney Noon and Sheriff Myers, of Cambria county, while investigating the case, learned that two men, who were traveling through the country, professedly as cuppers and leechers, carrying their instruments in a box, had been seen near the house on the afternoon of the murder, and upon tracing them up, discovered that they had left Johnstown for this city on the succeeding day. The matter was placed in the hands of Messrs. Robert Hague and James Richardson, two well known special police of this city, who at once proceeded to search for the supposed murderers. After spending several weeks in scouring through this neighborhood, they received information that two men answering the description of the persons of whom they were in search, named John Bowser and Daniel Howser, were stopping at a private house in the
