PENN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.
OFFICE NORTH EAST CORNER OF 3D and Dock streets, Philadelphia.
ACCUMULATED CAPITAL $745,000.
Charter Perpetual.
DANIEL S. MILLER, President.
SAMUEL STORES, Vice President.
JOHN W. HORNER, Sec'y.
The undersigned, having been appointed the AGENT for the above Company, for Cumberland county, would call attention to the peculiar advantages of the Mutual Life Insurance which gives it a decided preference over any other mode adopted. There being no stockholders, the profits are divided among the policy holders, and appropriated to reducing the annual payments, thus making each one interested, equally with the Trustees, in adding to the business of the company.
The premium may be paid quarterly, semi annually, or annually, so that persons of limited means can insure for a greater amount than they could where the whole premium is required to be paid cash.
Circulars with full particulars can be had on application to the subscriber, at his office, Main street, near the Railroad depot. A. L. SPONSLER,
Real Estate Agent and Conveyancer.

THE BOWELS AND THEIR FUNCTIONS—As perfect health is the greatest blessing that we can enjoy, without which all other blessings are of little consequence, we deem it of great importance to point out the way for you to enjoy it. The bowels must be kept in a state by which they are enabled to carry off the useless matter, they are the main channel which nature has appointed to carry off everything that is unnecessary. And if it be possible to tell what a large amount of sickness has been caused by constipation, or costiveness; in other words, by not keeping the bowels regular; it is the main road to all diseases; it is the cause of unnatural irritation in the mucus, or lining membrane of the bowels. Having lost their natural strength, they cannot object to what is required of them. Hence, the bowels become inflamed, and unless you find a speedy relief, a thousand other complaints are ever ready to drag you through a miserable and wretched life. Such medicines must be given as will cleanse the stomach and bowels, and restore their natural strength. To accomplish this there is no compound so valuable as those Pills, all other medicines sink to utter insignificance when compared to them—it seems as though the Author of Nature has designed them for this as well as other complaints. From two to five pills a day will increase strength and appetite, and cleanse the stomach and intestines from whatever is injurious.
Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are sold by all dealers in medicines.
[From the Baltimore Sun.]
One Dollar!—It is too much, exclaims the person desiring cheap articles for the restoration of the hair! We have however in our experience found that articles which commanded seemingly exorbitant prices, are in the end cheapest to the purchaser. Prepared articles are always put up in small packages, and efficacious medicines are not considered dear at any price. One dollar being the price for Prof Wood's Hair Restorative, for the smallest size or trial bottle, is a sufficient guarantee that the trial bottle contains most precious ingredients in proof of which its sale has increased one hundred fold within the past year.
CAUTION.—Beware of worthless imitations, as several are already in the market, called by different names. Use none unless the words (Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, Depot St. Louis, Mo., New York), are blown in the bottle. Sold by all Druggists and Patent Medicine dealers, also by all Fancy and Toilet Goods dealers in the United States and Canada.
