NANCY WYNNE DWELLS ON CHARITY AFFAIRS IN LENT

Charming Affair Being Arranged by Prominent Women Interested in Hope Day Nursery to Be Given Early in April

THE kiddies will come in for their share of entertaining at several charitable affairs being arranged for the penitential season. One of the most interesting of these will be the "Child's Garden of Verse" and "Memories of Famous Portraits," a series of tableaux, to be followed by a dansant on the afternoon of Friday, April 7, at the Bellevue-Stratford.

The Hope Day Nursery at 1031 Vine street will be the beneficiary. In connection with the affair there will be a very rare and interesting loan exhibition of dolls in the costumes of all nations and also a sale of children's summer hats and dolls in charge of Mrs. H. Howard Ellison, Jr., Mrs. Charles R. Wood and Mrs. G. G. Meade Large. Then, in addition to this, tea and ices will be served at attractively arranged tables, which may be reserved by applying to Mrs. Robert Sewell or Mrs. Morris L. Clothier. Mrs. Stacy B. Lloyd is president of the board of managers, Miss Mary K. Gibson, Mrs. Charles L. Borie, and Mrs. Isaac R. Davis, vice presidents; Mrs. Henry S. Jeanes, treasurer, and Miss Elizabeth Gibbons White, secretary.

Mrs. Alfred E. Norris, as is her usual custom, entertained for Dorothy, her guests including Eleanor Cuyler, Valentine Mitchell and Lillian Hobson, the latter one of Dorothy's New York friends, while the men in the group included Bob Carrere and Maxwell Carrere (the good-looking "Bob's" brother, I take it), Forrester Scott, Thomas Allen Rector and another Gothamite, Prevost McMichael, and several others. There were about 20 in the group altogether. Marion Dougherty was there also with her usual little coterie, and Harry Adams, with the new Mrs. Adams, occupied a table with six or eight guests.
