Of Charlotte, the Reviewers have given the following charafter. IT may be a Tale of Truth, for it is ot unnatural, and it is a tale of real diffrefs.— Charlotte, by the artifice of a teacher, recom-mended to a fchool, from humanity rather than a conviction of her integrity, of the re-gularity of her former condoct, is enticed from her governefs, and accompanies a young officer to America.—The marriage common officer to America.—The marriage ceremo-ny, if not forgotten, is poliponed, and Char-lotte dies a martyr to the inconftancy of her qver, and treachery of his friend.—The fitu-ations are artlefs and affeding—the defcrip-tions natural and nother is a we found feel tions natural and pathetic; we fhould feel for Charlotte if fuch a perfon ever exifted, who for one error fcarcely, perhaps, deferved fo fevere a punifiment. If it is a fiction, paetic juffice is not, we think, properly dif-tributed tributed Said Carey has just published, A 2 fheet map of Kentucky compiled by Elihu Barker, price one dollar and two thirds. Twenty Dollar Bills of the Bank of North

Twenty Dollar Bills of the Bank of North America. ALL wat have appeared have the letter B. for their alphaberical mark. They are printed on a paper nearly finilar to that of the counterfeit Five Dollar Notes above deferibed; the engraving is better exe-ucted, and they approach nearer to the ap-pearance of the genuine bills. The fine ruled lines through the word Twen-ty, in the body of the bill, are in number thir-teen in the genuine bills, and but twelve in the counterfeits. The word Company is much like the fame word in the Five Dollar Bills as defer ibed a-bove, the o being lefs than the m, and others following. There is no ftroke to the t in the word North

There is no ftroke to the t in the word North hereas in the genuine bills the ftroke is well defined.

The letters ent in the word Twenty, to the left hand at the bottom, do not come down to the line, but are to cut as to give an irregular appearance to the word, the Tw and the y go-ing below them.

April 22, 1794,

Other counterfeit bills of the Bank of the United States have appeared in circulation.

The denomination is of TWENTY DOL-LARS, and the alphabetical mark is the letter B.

They may be diffinguished from the genu-ine by the following MARKS: The paper of the counterfeits is of a more tender texture and gloffey furface than the genuine, and there is no water mark in them. The letter C. in the word Cashier, in the The bills is firongly marked, whereas in the counterfeits, the whole letter is a fine hair aroke, evidently in an unfinished state. The letter a in the word demand, is badly formed and the whole word ill done, and there is no comma at the end of it as there is in the comma at the end of it, as there is in the genuine bills. The marginal device, is much darker in the falfe, than in the genuine bills owing to the fhade ftrokes being coarfer, much nearer together, and confequently much more nu-merous. This difference ftrikes the eye at firft riser
