WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP

Now Does Her Own Work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

Ironton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

Daughter Helped Also.

"I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. Rena Bowman, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

HOME HEALTH CLUB

By Dr. David H. Reeder, Chicago, Ill.,

Natural laws of health:—We hear frequently and often speak of people who "break the laws of health," but that is a mistake. A human being cannot break any of the natural laws of health, but if he acts contrary to those laws they will break him.

Many people complain constantly because their physical condition is bad, they suffer pain and weakness. Life affords them but little pleasure. I have heard such people add, as if it was not for coffee or tobacco, or some other stimulant. Never for a moment using the brain which God gave them for guidance in reasoning out the fact that the stimulant never gives real strength. To illustrate: If you should drive a spirited horse until it was so tired it would walk slowly and allow it's head to hang low, that would be the natural result of a certain action. Now, if you apply a stimulant in the form of a whip, the horse will at once display as much energy and life as he did early in the day, but the whip did not furnish any strength, it simply caused the tired muscles to exert themselves to the limit of their capacity in orded to stop the punishment. In a short time the horse will be in a much more exhausted and deplorable condition than before.

So it is with the human being. Physicians prescribe Strychnine as a tonic. It acts just as the whip does upon the horse, except that it does not give the pain. The exhausted nerves are lashed into activity and the patient feels fine for a time, but he is not treating himself as nature intended he should, but instead is going contrary to her laws and later on must suffer the penalty.

If a new born child should assimilate only one ounce of its food per day, and retain it the weight of that individual would in 21 years be over 470 pounds. Most of us have the erroneous idea that we must eat a great quantity of food in order to maintain our weight and strength and the result is that the great majority over-eat. We do not act in accordance with nature's laws and we must suffer. We do not promptly excreate the surplus or waste matter, the portion of our food not required for repair work and it remains in the system sometimes for many days in the form of partially digested food and fecal matter. Is it any wonder that so many doctors are able to live in comfortable homes and ride in fine carriages or automobiles?

It has been noted by English army officers that the native servants, laborers, porters, etc., could perform feats of strength and endurance far greater than the well-fed Englishmen, and they did it upon a very meager diet. A full grown man would frequently carry a heavy burden upon a long day's march and his total rations would consist of a few handfuls of dates and a small loaf of dry, hard, black bread.

When one over-eats, takes into his stomach more than is required for natural repair and maintainance of strength, he must exhaust a portion of the strength with which nature supplies him in order to throw off the surplus or waste matter. The excretory organs finally become exhausted from over-work and he complains of constipation. The poor and faithful liver is lashed sharply with the whips called pills and purgative waters, until it finally refuses further extra effort. The waste matter accumulates and is absorbed into the the system. Then follows colds, kidney troubles, sore throat, catarrh, asthma, piles, tumors, tuberculosis, cancers, etc. If the food that is eaten is thoroughly masticated the appetite is allayed before the stomach is overloaded. Therefore, chew. Clean up, clean out and be free from sickness. You can if you will and the Home Health Club will gladly tell you just how to go about the task of overcoming the specific trouble you have if you will let us. Don't wait until your vital forces are entirely exhausted.

GUM ON PEACH TREES

Must Remove the Cause in Order to Get Rid of the Substance

Gum on peach trees may be caused by the disease known as gumosis, which is really rare, according to a letter received by a Delaware county fruit grower from State Economic Zoologist Surface, but the gum is more likely to result from trees being frozen, from mechanical injury, or from shot-hole or peach-tree borers; the latter is the larger of the two grubs, usually working at the base of the tree beneath the surface of the soil.

In Professor Surface's letter the following advice is given:

"The little white worms which you saw in the gum are not injuring the tree, and are not causing the gum to form. They are fly larvae and are simply feeding in it because it is a substance suitable for their living. Find out the real cause and remove it. If it is the shot-hole borer, cut back the trees very severely. Wash the trees with lime-sulphur solution, stimulate their growth by a nitrogen fertilizer, especially nitrate of soda, and by cultivation. If it is the peach-tree borer remove this pest and keep it out by washing with fine-sulphur solution once per month during the entire summer. If it is a mechanical injury the trees will outgrow it, without needing other treatment. If it is winter freezing or gumosis, cut back the trees very severely and treat as directed above for the shot-hole borer."

NOT GUILTY, GENTLEMEN

That's What the Judge Told the Elizabethtown Gunners in Their Deer Case

It will be remembered that a number of Elizabethtown gunners, among whom were Messrs. Harry and Benjamin Gochnauer of this place, were out for deer last Fall and had some little difficulty with another camp over the ownership of a deer.

The fact of the matter was the Elizabethtown crowd crippled a deer which ran quite a distance and fell dead. They were following the trail by blood marks and when they came upon Mr. Deer another gunner was there and claimed it.

The matter was settled in the courts of an up-the-state county last week when after hearing the prosecutor only, the judge instructed the jury to render a verdict of not guilty. This was done and the judge further stated that the justice who heard the case, should have been fined for bringing such a plain and petty case into court.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Mount Joy People Learn the Importance of it?

Backache is only a simple thing at first;
But if you find 'tis from the kidneys
That serious kidney troubles may follow.
That dropsy or Bright's disease
man be the fatal end.
You will be glad to know the following experience.
'Tis the honest statement of a resident of this locality.

Mrs. John Clark, E. Market St., Marietta, Pa., says: "My condition was such that it caused me much misery. I suffered every day from backache and pains in my sides and my head ached all the time. I had dizzy spells and sometimes found it hard to breathe. My whole body became swollen and I was in a serious condition. Doan' Kidney Pills were recommended so highly that I used them. They cured me permanently."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Clark had. Foster-Milburn Co., Prop., Buffalo, N. Y.
