Exhibition of the Horticultural Society. The antumpal exhibition of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society opened yesterday at Hor-Licultural Hall, Broad street, below Locust, and the display of flowers, fruits, vegetables, and plants is one of the finest that there has been for a number of years. The various contribu-tions are arranged with judgment, so that they can easily be examined, and the decorations of the hall are appropriate and tasteful. The stage is a perfect mass of greenery. Along each side are specimens of evergreens, and these, with a fine collection of variegated plants exhibited by Mr. Graham, Eighteenth and Thompson streets, occupy a large portion of the platform. At each end of the stage are rustic-work devices covered with flowering vines, and at the back mosses and plants are arranged in a sort of terrace three or four feet high, in the middle of which is a miniature waterfall, and a couple of garden statues bearing baskets of flowers complete the picture. In the centre of the hall is a fountain which plashes musically, and at the foot of the stage stands a fine aquarium containing a number of gold fish. The gallery urns are filled with evergreens, and from the galleries and gas fixtures depend a number of large hanging baskets of plants and flowers At the upper end of the hall there is a beautiful floral device of pyramidal form, arranged by Mr. Graham, and on the north and south sides are similar pyramids, contributed respectively by D. McQueen, gardener to Joshua Longstretb, Esq., Turner's Lane, and J. B. Merrick, Esq., Roxborough. Near the centre of the hall, on the north side, is a handsome device of vine-covered rustic-work supporting an arch of flowers. The task of arranging the decorations of the hall was entrusted on this, as on former occasions, to Mr. M. Southwood, of No. 17 North Sixth street. Arranged upon the north side, and occupying nearly the entire length of the hall, is a valuable and interesting collection of variegated plants. ferns, etc., contributed by Joseph Bevis, gardener to Dr. William Camac. These are curious as well as beautiful. Two tables near the east end of the hall are filled with similar productions of the greenhouse, ex hibited by Robert Buist, Sr., of the Rosedale Nurseries, Sixty-seventh street and Darby road. Mr. H. A. Dreer makes a fine display with fifty varieties of cut flowers. some beautiful specimens of verbenas, double zinnias, dahlias, tritonias, etc. Mr. Masham, of Germantown, and Gebhard Huster, gardener to J. B. Heyl, Esq., also have handsome collections of cut flowers. Mr. Huster, in addition to these specimens from his greenhouse, exhibits some fine specimens of garden vegetables, and a large assortment of choice varieties of grapes Mr. Gerhard Schmitz, Broad street, below Passyunk road, has a fine assortment of dahlias. Mr. Schmitz has a passion for these flowers, and he grows nothing else. One large variegated dahlia which he exhibits is very handsome. Two beautiful bridal bouquets come from the Drybough Gardens, Nineteenth street and Ridge avenue.

As a branch of horticulture grape-growing is getting to be more important every year, although it is only within a comparatively recent period that much attention has been given to the subject in this country. The finest display is that made by Knox, of Pittsburg. who has a large pyramidal structure covered with specimens from his vineyards. This collection has sixty-three different varieties in it, comprising nearly all the native grapes that are cultivated. Messrs. J. W. Mitchell, C. W. Peale, E. W. Herstine, and others, and the Agricultural Bureau at Washington, exhibit a large assortment of Maxatawney, lowa, Calabria Muscat.

Muscat Hamburg, Black Hamburg, White Syrian, Black Prince, and other choice varieties. Some of the bunches are immense with large, plump berries, which indicate extreme care in the cultivation. The display of peaches is not large, but the few on exhibition are fine looking. In the way of fruits there are specimens of various kinds of apples, pears, quinces, etc., most of which are of superior size and flavor.

The vegetables are arranged on the south side of the hall. The largest collection is that from the gardens of Anthony Felton, near Relmont. In this assortment are included some huge French beets, egg plants, tomatoes beans, ocras, cabbages, sweet corn, potatoes, etc. One moderate-sized tub full of a new variety of potatoes is valued at fifty dollars-rather more than most of our economical housewives would be willing to pay, we fancy. Messrs. Charles Armor, Donald McQueen, and J. Mitchell all make creditable exhibitions of the products of their gardening skill. Lorin Blodgett, Esq., has a wall-grown tomato vine, eleven feet high," thickly hung with fruit, and David White, Esq., exhibits some sweet potatoes of unusual size. Among the curiosities in this department is an immense pumpkin, which was raised in a box by Mrs. A. George. This gigantic specimen, suggestive of pumpkin pies enough to feed a regiment, is sixty seven and three quarter inches in length and forty-one and a half inches in girth.

Besides those that we have mentioned there are many small lots of fruits, flowers, and vegetables, which are worthy of the attention of the visitors, and our citizens will find it is a pleasant as well as a profitable employment to spend a few hours at Horticultural Hall during the continuance of the present exhibit tion. The sum of six hundred dollars has been appropriated by the Horticultural Society for prizes which will be distributed at the close of the exhibition on Friday evening. In the meantime the hall will be open day and evening, and we hope that those who visit the show will enjoy the fine display of nature's productions improved by art as much as we did while making our tour of observation.

Amusement Notes.

AT THE CHESNUT, only four more performances of the White Fawn will be given. This piece was deservedly successful here, as well as in New York and Boston, on account of the in New York and Boston, on account of the completeness and elegance of all its details, and it is not likely that our citizens will have an opportunity to see anything as handsome in the way of scenery, dresses, and appointments very soon again. The fine dancing of Moriacci, Schike, and little Schiager, and the large and efficient ballet corps, deserve all the encomiums that have been bestowed upon them. Those who have not seen the White Fawn should take advantage of the few remaining opportunities, and carry away with them pleasant recollections of the finest speciacular drama ever produced in Philadelphia.

At the Walnut Mr. Edwin Adams will appear to the few and the second of the finest speciacular drama ever produced in Philadelphia.

AT THE WALNUT, Mr. Edwin Adams will appear this evening as "Robert Landry," in the interesting drama of the Dead Heart. This piece is better than most plays of the class, and it is well worth seeing.

AT THE ARCH, the Richings troupe will perform La Somnambula. To morrow evening Crispino and the Fatry will be given for the first time in this city.

AT THE AMERICAN, an attractive miscella-neous entertainment will be given this evening. AT HOOLEY'S OPERA HOUSE, the burlesque of the Grand Duchess of Gerolstein will be per-

WE ARE NOT CAST IRON !- Cast Iron undergoes marked changes under the alternate action of heat and cold, and the human body is not cast iron. On the contrary, it is a combination of delicate tissues and fibres, which are exquisitely sensitive to atmos, pheric changes, and, unless protected against sudden and violent variations of temperature by wise precau. tions, are sure to be disastrously affected by them.

At this season the difference between the tempera ture of night and day is greater than at any other period of the year, and the atomach, the liver, the bowels, and the nervous system are apt to receive violent shocks from these changes, resulting in indigestion, bilious attacks, debility, low nervous feverfever and ague, remittent fever, etc. Sustain and reluforce these organs, therefore, with the purest and most potent of all vegetable tonics and alteratives, viz :- HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The effect of this matchless invigorant is to brace up the whole vital organization, and regulate its action. Useful at all seasons as a means of promoting perfect digestion and an even and natural flow of bile, and a healthy condition of the bowels and the skin, it is especially necessary in the fall, when the complaints arising from checked perspiration are so common. It is found, by those who are in the habit of using this agreeable and unequalled tonic, that it so strengthens and fortifies the body as to render it proof against the morbid influences which infect the air during the prevalence of epidemics.

A FIRST CLASS ESTABLISHMENT,-We take pleasure in recording a fine improvement made by Mr. William H. Helweg, at his fashionable Boot and Shoe Emporium, No. 535 Arch street, next to the corner of Sixth. Mr. Helweg has occupied the premises for quite a number of years, during which time his business steadily increased, so that an enlargement of his store became an actual necessity. He now occupies the entire building, and superintends the cutting, fitting, and making of every order entrusted to him. We have dealt with Mr. Helweg for several years, and have always been pleased, not only with his work (which, by the way, cannot be excelled), but also with the promptness with which every order was executed. We cordially commend him to all who esire elegantly fitting Boots or Galters, at very mode

JEWELRY.-Mr. William W. Cassidy, No. 112 South Second street, has the largest and most attractive assortment of fine jewelry and silverware in the city. Purchasers can rely upon obtaining a real, pure arti-cle furnished at a price which cannot be equalled. He also has a large stock of American watches in all varieties and at all prices. A visit to his store is sure to result in pleasure and profit.

AFFECTIONS OF THE LIVER, BILIOUS DISORDERS SICK HEADACHE, ETC., are thoroughly cured by Dr. Jayne's Sanative Pills. Acting as a gentle laxative, they remove all irritating and fecal matter from suc bowels, gradually change the vitlated secretions of the stomach and liver, and restore these organs to a healthy condition. Sold by all Druggists.

BARK, HERBS, AND ROOTS,-The base of Speer's "Standard Wine Bitters" is his celebrated Wines, in which are Peruvian Bark, Chamomile Flowers, Snake Root, Ginger, etc. It is pleasant to the taste, and far superior to anything in the form of tonics now before the public. They are simply his own Wine, made bitter by the infusion of herbs and roots above enume rated. Sold by all druggists.
