Obituaries

Miss Jane Erwin Bell

After an illness extending over a period of two years, Miss Jane Erwin Bell, a daughter of the late John Bell, who in 1860 was an unsuccessful candidate for President, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter Douglas Comegys, at 12 Chestnut avenue, Chestnut Hill. Miss Bell was seventy-nine years old. The two sisters settled in Chestnut Hill and established a private school, known as "Springside," shortly after their father was defeated for the presidency. The school was conducted until about fifteen years ago, when the two sisters retired. They have since lived together. At the time their father was a candidate for President, he received the electoral votes of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia. He lived in Nashville and was nominated by the Constitutional party.

Mrs. Mary R. Taylor

Mrs. Mary Radcliffe Taylor, wife of Isaac Taylor, of Norristown, and mother of Mrs. William Barnes Lower, of Wyncote, died at midnight last night at her home in Norristown, after a prolonged illness of a complication of diseases. She was sixty-eight years old. Her husband, Isaac Taylor, for many years has been identified with the manufacturing interests of Norristown and Bridgeport. Mrs. Lower, the one surviving child, is the wife of the Rev. Dr. William Barnes Lower, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian Church of Wyncote, moderator of the Presbytery of Philadelphia North and founder of Calvary Mission, at Limekiln pike and Washington lane Germantown.

Captain William Donaldson

Captain William Donaldson, for many years engaged in the barge business in Philadelphia, died at his home, 567 Haddon avenue, yesterday. He was seventy years old. He was a member of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Camden Council Knights of Columbus and League of the Sacred Heart of the Church of the Immaculate Conception. He is survived by a widow.
