ARMY ORDER BY GEN. JORDAN, A.O.M.P.

Progressive and St. John's Assemblies Ladies' Nights—Nominations for Chair Officers

The following proclamation has been prepared for the loyal assemblies of the Artisans' Order of Mutual Protection:

Regimental Headquarters, A. O. M. P.
204 Parkway Building.

To the Master Artisan:

You are hereby commissioned captain of your company (the assembly over which you preside). Your commission dates from October 1, 1917, from which time you are to recruit your company to the highest point of efficiency. When you next mobilize at your armory (meeting place) you are to see that every soldier is fully equipped to prepare for marching orders at once, ready for bayonet, hand grenade or gas mask duty (armed with new literature), as it is my purpose to have our entire sixteen regiments of 16,000 men in the trenches at the earliest possible moment, so that we may bring into our cantonment stations before New Year's Day, 1918, from 1000 to 1500 men captured for the ranks of the A. O. M. P. Any infraction of these instructions may lead to "court-martial."

Wishing you great success in the forward movement of your troops, I remain,

JACOB R. JORDAN,
Commander-in-chief of forces in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Progressive Assembly "drilled two birds with one stone" by organizing a separate hall in the Fraternity Building for the entertainment and dance for the ladies, open to receive them early, while their "lords and masters" were expected to get through with the business meeting by 9 o'clock and did not succeed. The wisdom of Chairman Gartling's arrangements was, therefore, demonstrated again, bringing success and satisfaction to the merrymakers and a little penalty, probably, to the dilatory legislators beneath.

The chair nominations advanced Superintendent Hubbs and put up Brother Charles Rocker for superintendent, Inspector Knight having been called to arms), George S. Williams for inspector, both without opposition, and Kevin Sauers and E. G. MacFunken for cashier. Brother E. L. Scholl having resigned after a faithful service of many years. W. W. Roeder was renominated as trustee for the long term. The war relief committee made report and appeal for personal contributions to the fund for maintenance of the membership of enlisted brothers, and Recorder Kammerer, as secretary and treasurer of the committee, was authorized to send out a general appeal.

The professional talent had the assistance of Brother Degerberg at the piano, Tomer Herrick and the Assembly Quartet with the Artisans' jazz orchestra conducting the dance. The seasonable gingercake and sweet apple cider were a desirable change from the usual refreshments.

Apollo Assembly nominated Brothers Ockenfuender, Hansley and Laramy for inspector, and there promises to be a lively election. Superintendent Wilde was advanced and there seems to have been no substitute named for the chair that would have been occupied by Inspector Carl Weitzel, called to arms. Deputy Marr, who has been a faithful attendant at every meeting of the assembly since his appointment, made a direct appeal for a larger attendance and for an effort to secure the quota of candidates set by the R. M. A. A big smoker and entertainment is planned for the December meeting, to which fifty enlisted boys and others will be invited.

West Philadelphia Assembly had a crowded house. It was nomination night and there was some enthusiasm over the selection of officers, with the following result: Master Artisan E. F. Metz; superintendent, A. G. Heywood; inspector, R. Free ("Bud"); recorder, H. Prentzel; cashier, C. W. McConnell; trustee, Brother Du Laworth; medical examiner, Doctors Hosier, Wagner and Lonsacre. Visitors from Fidelity, Larchwood, Keystone, Progressive and Bartram Assemblies were welcome and had something to say. P. M. E. M. A. Higgins delivered a stirring address, inviting all to services at neighboring churches on "Artisan Day." At the meeting of Deputy Loftus Armstrong a new flag and roll of honor chart of West Philadelphia Assembly's enlisted boys will be displayed in the meetings.

Announcement was made by Dr. Martin Harris of a mammoth concert to be given by the Glee Club in Centenary M. E. Church. Assistance will be given by an operatic quartet of unusual excellence. The boys in camp will not be forgotten for Christmas candy at the December meeting.

After refreshments were served the following program was rendered: Solo by Bert Wood, "My Honey Rose"; address by P. M. E. M. A. Higgins; solo by Bob Wood, "All the World Will Be Jealous of Me"; talk by Deputy L. G. Arm; stories; a musical potpourri by Brothers Wood, "What Kind of an American Are You?" solos, "Within Your Heart" and "The Three Leaves of Shamrock" by the Wood brothers. After which a good home talk by Cashier McConnell was enjoyed.

Radiant Star Assembly produced its first candidate toward its quota when Brother Samuel Trinn was initiated. Brother Gay, of Commonwealth Assembly, presented the button in a very effective way. The following contributions were made: Master Artisan Jordan, superintendent, John Carrickhoff; inspector, F. W. Ruoff; recorder-representative, Samuel Mefferts; cashier, Howard L. Clymer; medical examiner, Dr. William T. Ellis; trustee, Irvin V. Maull. Brother Sheetzer, of Fidelity Assembly, was a welcome visitor and made an interesting address on "Assembly Usefulness." Brother George Martin, after a few months' absence, showed his old-time "form."

Master Artisan Patten expects a good representation of the Artisans' Dining Club session on the twenty-ninth instant.

Eureka Assembly, meeting at Rockland Hall, Logan, nominated Brothers Wylie Mowen for master artisan, Brother William Swaim for superintendent, Brother Willis Faust for inspector, P. M. Gordon Butterworth for recorder and Brother Harry Barr for cashier. Some of the members were trying to arrange for a delegation to the Artisans' Dining Club, with fair prospects of success. Master Artisan William H. B. Mordecai took a talk on military training in the camps, which was of special interest to the vaper members, many of whom are waiting to be called to the colors. Various sports and amusements were provided by the entertainment committee.

Frankford Assembly's meeting was full of "men." Plans were laid for a membership campaign until December 31, with the prospection of exceeding by far the quota set by M. E. Master Artisan Jordan. Prizes for membership getting have been offered by the assembly. Any member introducing four candidates will receive a fifteen-pound turkey. Every member securing two candidates will be given a box of chocolates. The member securing the greatest number of candidates for the year will receive the $10 gold piece offered by the recorder. The member securing the largest number now on the roll will receive a $20 gold piece offered by the assembly. A member securing two candidates will also receive a ticket for the annual banquet of the assembly, and three new men a seat at the Frankford Club dinner.

In the nomination of officers Superintendent William Heavy was advanced to the first chair. Brother Moore has been called to the hospital unit (status) for France, and the retiring master artisan has offered to serve through another term in order to hold the honors for Brother Heavy. Brothers Gallagher were nominated for superintendent and Brothers Holland, Gilbert and Tilden nominated for inspector. The incumbents of other offices were renominated.

It was decided to attend Parkside assembly on Sunday, evening, November 25, at the Central M. E. Church, Frankford. Members will march in a body from the hall to the church, carrying their handsome silk flag, and have office flag, containing nine stars. Brother Holland, one of the new members, became a surprise by his artistic singing. He was formerly "the frogs" in the vaudeville stage, and has free range of his vocal ability. Everything in No. 40 is in good shape, and Deputy Evans expects to wind up the year with a large increase.

St. John Assembly's ladies' night at Lu Lu Temple was one of the most successful of its many big events, attracting an audience of 1500. The feature was the prize-winning show of home talent, composed of Bobby Thompson, interlocutor; Jack Smith and Jim Hall, banjos; Bill Butler and Tom Wright, bones. The soloists and dancers were Walter Smith, George Cole, Thomas Siddons, Thomas Burr, William O'Neill, William Brown, William Davis and Percy Wright, as a colored female, and in blackface, William Janney led the assembly orchestra. Director James H. Maloney presented to the assembly, through the master artisan, a service flag with forty-four stars, representing the number of members called to arms. During the singing of the "Grand Old Flag" and the "Star Spangled Banner" hundreds of patriotic souls were drenched over the audience amid wild enthusiasm. The whole affair was splendidly arranged and managed by Committeemen Thompson, Pollock and Force.

John W. Calver died on Friday. He was virtually a charter member of the order joining Commonwealth Assembly in June, 1874, and leaving only two or three of the old "warhorses" living. He was made a member of the board of directors when organized in 1876 and secretary in 1880, serving continuously up to the present year. He was a man of high character, a judicious counselor, an able debater at all sessions of the M. E. Assembly of which he was a permanent member, and a genuine Artisan.

"Something novel, something new" will be exploited at the coming meeting of Pennsylvania Assembly November 19, when it is proposed to celebrate the natal day of Medical Examiner-in-Chief Dr. S. W. Gadd. Invitations have been extended to the entire medical staff of the order, and to every member whom the Doctor has been instrumental in enrolling in the order. "Stunts" is again to be featured for the enlightment of the medical profession, and the assembly will also be the host of Southwestern Assembly by special invitation.

Penn Club will descend upon Keystone Assembly on Wednesday evening, November 21.

"Artisans' Day" will be held at the Fourth Presbyterian Church, Forty-seventh street and Kingsessing avenue, Sunday, November 25, 9:20 to 10:45 a. m. Recorder Higgins, of Bartram Assembly, will have charge and M. E. Master Artisan Jordan will be the speaker.

The Artisans' Dining Club dinner, open to all members of the order, will take place at Assembly Hall, 1626 Arch st., on Wednesday, November 21, at 6:30 p. m. Two speakers prominent in the order, will take place at [illegible] a novelty orchestra and [illegible] features.

FORWARD MOVEMENT OF LOCAL COUNCILS, R. A.

The Ways and Means and Good of the Order Committees Plan General Progress

The Associated Councils of Philadelphia and vicinity of the Royal Arcanum, in session at the Parkway Building, with President William J. Stokinger in the chair, received various committee reports which were of unusual import, requiring special action to carry out the progressive plans outlined for a greater R. A. organization in this city.

The publicity committee made a plea for inaugurating a season of advertising in the columns of the EVENING LEDGER, on the ground that there is no good reason why the R. A. should not seek new business through the same channels as all other successful enterprises have resorted to and not to "depend upon the whispers of one to the other, as if the subject were dangerous and demanded secrecy." The association agreed to the committee's resolution.

It was further agreed to hold a novel and very attractive drawing in which Liberty Bonds will be offered as inducements. The ways and means committee believes handsome returns will result from this undertaking. The good of the order committee announced a special feature on rates and privileges, while the visitation committee threw a bomb of excitement into the proceedings by announcing the early visit here of Supreme Treasurer A. S. Robinson from St. Louis, Mo. It further announced a special visitation to Guarantee Council, No. 1476, informal evening in Girard Assembly rooms, Hutchinson street and Girard avenue. Representatives are reporting an increase in applications and initiations in their respective councils, with a return of the old-time spirit of enthusiasm.

Pennsylvania Council, No. 342, the patriotic council, received correspondence from members serving under the colors. The special interest in the world war has increased the regular attendance. Brother John Harris delivered a lecture on the introduction of grand opera in Philadelphia. Measures were introduced to adopt means to assure its quota of the 5000 drive by December 31.

Haverford Council in Rittenhouse Hall warmly greeted Past Regent Grant Wright, who presented the application of a big man and encouraged the officers and members to greater activity.

Tomorrow night will be another "special" for Guarantee Council, No. 1476. There will be various matters of interest for the participants in the line of entertainment. They are assured of a delegation in the newly formed R. A. Dining Club from Philadelphia, Haverford and other councils. A visiting degree team will confer the initiatory work upon their applicants. Bagpipe and piccolo contests after the regular entertainment for prizes and other entertainments for future nights will be discussed. This council meets in the Girard Assembly rooms, Hutchinson street and Girard avenue.

Integrity Council will hold a rally, minstrel show and stag party tonight at 1611 Columbia avenue.

At the last session of the grand council a resolution was adopted by the 200 R. A. representatives from all parts of the State indorsing the President's policies, which resulted in the following correspondence:

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 4.—To His Excellency, the President of the United States, Washington, D. C.: Dear sir—At the biennial session of the Grand Council of Royal Arcanum, Pennsylvania, held at Bedford Springs, Pa., September 12-13, 1917, the following resolution was adopted by a rising vote, 200 representatives acting:

"Whereas, The Royal Arcanum being a protector of our homes and loved ones, and now assembled in grand council session at Bedford Springs, Pa., feels itself in unison and heart accord with the purpose of our Government in the defense of our homes and national honor, giving our sons and brothers to the cause of liberty and humanity while we stand ready to do a share in standing behind them to strengthen and sustain them in their heroic devotion and sacrifice for the cause of world freedom, and

"Whereas, Our President has so clearly placed the issues of the conflict before a united country, that we feel it our duty to express to him our hearty support of his courageous and affirmations which he has so splendidly formulated; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we hereby place the jurisdiction of Pennsylvania on record as in complete accord with President Wilson's expressed aims and purposes, while we strive to secure for world brothers whom we have never known the same rights and privileges that we enjoy as free people.

"Resolved, That we forward to President Wilson a copy of this resolution."

Resolution adopted.

WEBSTER C. WEISS, Grand Secretary.

THE WHITE HOUSE, Washington, Oct. 5.—Mr. Weiss, Dear sir—The President asks me to make cordial acknowledgment of your letter of October 4, and to tell you and every one concerned that he deeply appreciates your generous approbation and support. With an expression of his hearty thanks, I am, sincerely yours,

J. P. TUMULTY, Secretary to the President.

Mr. Webster C. Weiss, Bethlehem, Pa.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Honor Gift to District Deputy—Visitations By Supreme and Grand Officers

Quaker City Lodge, No. 31, was the scene of unusual activity last Thursday night. After conferring the rank of page, G. P. R. B. Bodle presented a gold watch to D. D. G. C. W. J. Broadbelt, of Quaker City Lodge, on behalf of the Ninety-fifth Grand Lodge district. The lodges comprising this district are George Peabody, Roxborough; Perseverance, Chestnut Hill; Germantown and Quaker City.

Faraday Lodge, No. 280, of Morton, Delaware County, celebrated its twenty-eighth anniversary last Thursday night by a ladies' night and social event. G. P. R. B. Bodle was the speaker of the evening.

The Past Chancellors' Association will hold its regular meeting at 1320 Arch street on Wednesday night. Important business will be put before the representatives of every lodge. Every representative is urged to be on hand, as a "Pythagorean question" will be brought up for consideration.

A solid gold past grand chancellor's jewel, now in the hands of G. K. R. and S. Will, will be presented to P. G. C. H. W. Fox at Johnstown, Pa.

Integrity Lodge, No. 48, will prove four pages in the rank of squire. Plans are under way to bring a large number of "stay-at-homes" out to the meetings. The lodge suffers the loss of Brother Rear George Schermann, of Camden, by death due to an accident.

Supreme Chancellor J. J. Breen visited Camden Lodge last week. G. K. R. and S. Will, G. P. R. B. Bodle, Brigadier General W. Hillegas and P. G. Donicker made up the representation from Philadelphia.

G. K. R. and S. Will, Brigadier General Hillegas and P. C. Orner, of Harmony Lodge, journeyed to Reyburn last Thursday night, where Brothers Hillegas and Orner were made "types" in the D. R. K. K.'s by Cashmer Temple, Imperial Prince L. S. Snowden and several examiners to Rendzur witnessed the crossing of the "sands of the desert."

Major General William H. Loomis, in general orders, gives a comprehensive list of members of the Pythian military department who now are serving in the army and navy in the great war for humanity. The roll of honor contains the names of 342 knights who have enlisted, the list, however, being decidedly incomplete owing to the fact that not all companies have reported, and the further fact that additions to all branches of the service constantly are being made. It is estimated that fully fifty thousand Knights of Pythias will be enrolled in the American forces by the end of the current year.

GRAND FRATERNITY

New Degree Teams and Rehearsals Open to All Members of the Order

At the second rehearsal of the Internos degree team the following fraters were assigned parts and went through the drills: Edward Dempsey, Wheeler Crocket, Ray Kramer, Joseph Leo, A. Weil, Charles H. Nuttall, A. Neugent, E. W. Engelfried and S. Datty. From the way the boys took hold they will soon be able to give the work in a very creditable manner. Rehearsals and meetings of the Internos Degree Team Association will be held every Monday evening at 1626 Arch street, and any members desiring to enroll are invited to be present.

The vaudeville smoker given by Oak Park Branch, No. 300, in the concert hall of the Grand Fraternity Building on Thursday evening attracted over 200 members and friends. The entertainment committee, consisting of Commander H. C. Wright, Recorder W. M. Parish, Treasurer John Richardson and Fraters John H. Dare, John Williams and Eugene Longsdorf, received commendation for its work in making the affair a success. Department Superintendent Mervin W. Meixel explained forcefully and clearly the benefits derived from membership in the Grand Fraternity. The talent was the best procurable. Everybody thoroughly enjoyed the offerings of John Devlin, Mac Roberts, Gus Rohen, Sara Myers, James Manning and Fred Alberts. Superintendent Joseph E. Williams took the boys by surprise when the refreshments were passed around.

The entertainment committee, of Philadelphia Branch, No. 4, has a surprise in store for the members who attend the branch meeting on Thursday evening next. If one could judge by the attendance at the committee meeting of Chairman Edward W. Redfield, Joseph Cooney, Parker A. Clymer, William F. Fisher, Walter Fritchie, Robert Gaston, Daniel Gibson, Charles H. Hulse, Raymond Kramer, William Neilson, Robert Oberlander, William A. Stewart, William Weishecker and Superintendent H. Bruce Meixel. The members are urged to come out and see what has been "framed up."

THE MACCABEES

Onward Movement for New Building by Woman's Benefit Association

A meeting of deputy assistants was held at the office of Supreme Chaplain and District Manager Miss Minnie E. Burgin, 5121 Brown street, those present being Mrs. Alfrida Olson, Mrs. Fanny B. Humbleton, Mrs. Godwin, Miss Mary Wood, Mrs. Lillian Siner, Mrs. Annie Gilmore and Miss A. E. Berll. Plans were talked over for the eastern division membership drive and the rally to be held at 1626 Arch street on December 12, for which Miss Burgin desires the membership in Philadelphia to secure 100 new members as a Christmas gift to the great commander, Miss Nellie E. Lounsbury, who will be present if the 100 members are secured. This class of 100 is also the first step toward their own building in Philadelphia and each assistant promised her support for this great work.

At the regular meeting of the Philadelphia Guard section was taken to accept the invitation of Mrs. Maud Hecker for the team to put on the drill which won it the championship of the United States at the Fifth and Huntington streets on Friday evening, November 23. Regular drills will be held and the team increased to twelve guards so as to be ready for any emergency.

The "twinter party" of Keystone Rocker, Fifty-third street and Haverford avenue, Mrs. F. M. Holmes commander, was the very best ever held, and that means a great deal. Miss Burgin, supreme chaplain, was chief guest of honor. Dancing followed a delightful supper at the excellent establishment of Mrs. Dorman, the chairman, and her assistants, after which Miss Minnie Schepflin entertained in her usual fashion. Round Keeper Paxon reports Decatur as winner for the W. B. A. patriotic service club.

Grand Review, Parkway Building, Miss Mary Collins commander, admitted two applicants at its Thursday evening meeting and expected to admit another for the next meeting. Mrs. Keith Bowers, Lillian Shirk, Mrs. Martha Cooper, Miss Bessie Cooper, Mrs. Mae Bowers, Mrs. Martha Artiers, Alfenette Reinhold, Hazel Kennedy, Anna M. Shaffer, Anna Jones and Minnie M. Hallett, P. R. B., were elected to membership in the city, will give an entertainment for the good cause.
