Custodian Makes Report to Congress on Alien Property Work

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.

A. Mitchell Palmer, alien property custodian, reports to Congress he has received so far 11,167 formal reports of enemy property and has opened 1578 separate trust accounts, of which 1270 are estimated to be worth $134,605,231. No value has been placed upon 145 of the accounts pending further investigation.

The gross assets of fourteen enemy insurance companies undergoing liquidation under license of the Secretary of the Treasury amount to $93,544,261. Three other insurance companies, incorporated in enemy or ally of enemy territory, which are in process of liquidation, but without license, place their gross assets at $7,068,626.75. Upon the final liquidation of these companies the net proceeds of assets over approved liabilities will be delivered to the alien property custodian.

Mr. Palmer suggests that Congress consider amendments to the trading-with-the-enemy act to cover more adequately questions of power of sale, licenses, reports of enemy property and general powers of the custodian.

Although the trading-with-the-enemy act authorizes the President to designate as depositories of enemy property any banks or trust companies located and doing business in the United States, Mr. Palmer says his work has not proceeded far enough to make anything like a complete list of depositories whose vertting ultimately will be employed.

"It is believed that in exercising his power to require the transfer of enemy or ally of enemy property," says the report, "the alien property custodian should so proceed that he will interfere as little as possible with the ordinary channels of domestic trade, business and banking, and that in most cases where such enemy property is now in the custody or control of responsible banks, trust companies or banking firms, it will be to the public interest that such banks, trust companies and banking firms should be designated as the depositories thereof."
