On Corn and Buckwheat at the January meeting.—Claimants for premiums on Grain are requested to have the ground measured and the quantity properly certified. It is expected that the greatest accuracy will be observed in ascertaining these crops, so that all will be satisfied of the capacity of Susquehanna county to produce large crops. The owners of Milch Cows who offer for premium thus respected to State to the Committee on Camden and quality of butter made from them the application and caveats and also in the mode who placed the rail on the committee further cultural Society will give it their countenance by sending any articles of merit or curiosity that may add an interest to the Fair.

JUDGES OF PLOWING.

A. B. Goodrich, Brooklyn—Samuel Bard, Bridgewater—Robert Kent, Bridgewater.

The Executive Committee, after much consideration, concluded to appoint seven individuals to the department of Neat Stock, as it is a branch of Agriculture in which Susquehanna County is fast rising to pre-eminence, and every endeavor has been made to select persons well qualified. Blank reports will be furnished to the Judges, together with the premium list, to facilitate their duties. A Committee of reception will be in attendance to aid in the disposition of the Stock, &c. Badges to be had at Geo. Fuller's, and at the office on the show grounds, which will admit members and their families. The Montrose Band will give their best services throughout the day, and it is hoped that the whole proceedings will be creditable to the county. After an experience of some years, the Society found that the funds necessary to carry on their operations could not be obtained from the contributions of members, and the plan was adopted of enclosing a piece of ground for the Fair and Cattle Show, and the small sum of 12 1-2 cents charged for admittance to those who do not wish to become members. Some dissatisfaction has been expressed at this course by a few persons, and the Executive Committee have thought it best to bring the subject before the public and show the perfect propriety of it. If the greater number of persons interested in Agricultural pursuits would sustain the Society by becoming members, there would be no necessity for the course adopted. This not being the case, a resort to other means becomes imperative; and who that views the subject fairly would object to a trifling sum for the support of an institution that is confessedly effecting a remarkable improvement in the Agriculture of the county? It is earnestly requested, that if any of the Judges are unable to attend, notice will be given at an early day to the Ex. Committee, and those who will give their services, are expected to report themselves at the office on the ground by nine o'clock in the morning.

Cultivating too much Land.

The farmers generally attempt to cultivate too much land. The disadvantages arising from this cause, are very obvious. It is no exaggeration to say, that the lands cultivated in this country are capable under a high state of cultivation, of producing twice as much as they now produce.

When will the farmers of the West fully appreciate this truth? There is no one thing that contributes so much to retard our Agricultural progress as the folly of cultivating too much land.

In the first place no farmer should think of managing 80 or 100 acres of land with one or two men. It is bad economy to do so; nothing can be expected from it but poverty.—poverty of both land and purse. How much better it would be to cultivate half the number of acres, or, less, and do it well. It consists of as much to plow an acre that will yield ten bushels of corn as one that will yield 80 or 100 bushels.—The difference in hoeing will be the same. It would require the same amount of fencing in the one case as the other, and the same tax will have to be paid on each.—Why not, therefore plow less land and plow deeper? Why not cultivate less land and manure more? Farmers, many of them, appear to forget that they have a good productive farm just underneath the one they are cultivating, equally and perhaps more productive than the one on the surface.

Turn up this farm, then, and use a deep sub-soil plow—expose it to the action of the sun and frost, and thereby double your crop.

But the surface farm—if there are any scruples about disturbing the one immediately underneath—may be greatly increased in productiveness by properly manuring it. Let a portion of spring work be devoted to carrying out manure on the land that is to be cultivated. Be assured that no labor will pay better. If any one has doubts on the subject, let him try an acre of thin land without, another with manure, and if he desires to be still more utilitarian in his investigation, let him deduct the cost of the manure for the value of increased crop, and it will be found much better to manure one acre well than cultivate two without manure.

But let him try the experiment of both plowing deep and at the same time manuring well, and he will forever abandon the idea of cultivating more land than he can cultivate well.

Farmers!—think of these things; do more—practice them, and our word for it you will never have occasion to regret that you did not cultivate more land.

One word here to guard against imposition. These bitters are worthy the attention of invalids.—Possessing great virtues in the rectification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most searching power in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they are withal, safe, certain, and pleasant.

Read and be Convinced.

The Editor of the Boston Bee said, December 22d—

Dr. Hoofland's Celebrated German Bitters, for the cure of Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic, or Nervous debility, is deservedly one of the most popular medicines of the day. These Bitters have been used by thousands, and a friend at our elbow says he has himself received an effectual and permanent cure of Liver Complaint from the use of this remedy. We are convinced that, in the use of these bitters, the patient constantly gains strength and vigor—a fact worthy of great consideration. They are pleasant in taste and smell, and can be used by persons with the most delicate stomach, with safety under any circumstances. We are speaking from experience, and to the afflicted we advise their use.

Scott's Weekly, one of the best literary papers published, said, August 25th—

"Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, manufactured by Dr. Jackson, are now recommended by some of the most prominent members of the medical faculty as an article of much efficacy in cases of female Weakness. As such is the case, we would advise all mothers to obtain a bottle, and thus save themselves much sickness. Persons of debilitated constitutions will find these bitters advantageous to their health, as we know from experience the salutary effect they have upon weak systems."

More Evidence.

The Philadelphia Saturday Gazette, the best family paper published in the United States, says of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters—

"It is seldom that we recommend what are termed Patent Medicines, to the confidence and patronage of our readers, and therefore when we recommend Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters we wish to be distinctly understood that we are not speaking of the nostrums of the day, that are noised about for a brief period and then forgotten after they have run their guilty career of mischief, but of a medicine long established, universally approved, and which has met the hearty approval of the faculty itself.

Look well to the marks of the genuine. They have the written signature of C. M. JACKSON upon the wrapper and his name blown in the bottle, without which they are spurious.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. W. Kirkus, Chemist, Prescot street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1851.

To Professor Holloway—Sir:—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest rank in our sale list of Proprietary Medicines for many years. A customer, to whom I can refer for any enquiries, desires me to let you know the particulars of her case. She had been troubled for years with a disordered liver and bad digestion. On the last occasion, however the violence of the attack was so alarming, and the inflammation set in so severely, that doubts were entertained of her not being able to bear up under it: fortunately she was induced to try your Pills, and she informs me that after the first, and each succeeding dose, she had great relief. She continued to take them, and although she used only three Boxes, she is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. I could have sent you many more cases but the above, from the severity of the attack, and the speedy cure, I think, speaks much in favor of your astonishing Pills.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATIC FEVER, IN VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.

Copy of a Letter inserted in the Hobart Town Courier of the 1st March, 1851, by Major J. Welch.

Margaret M'Connigan, nineteen years of age, residing at New Town, had been suffering from a violent rheumatic fever for upwards of two months, which had entirely deprived her of the use of her limbs, during this period she was under the care of the most eminent medical men in Hobart Town, and by them her case was considered hopeless. A friend prevailed upon her to try Holloway's Pills, which she consented to do, and in an incredible short space of time they effected a perfect cure.

CURE OF A PAIN AND TIGHTNESS IN THE CHEST AND STOMACH OF A PERSON 84 YEARS OF AGE.

From Messrs. Thew & Son, Proprietors of the Lynn Advertiser, who can vouch for the following statement,—August 2d, 1851.

To Professor Holloway—Sir—I desire to bear testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I suffered severely from a pain and tightness in the stomach, which was also accompanied by a shortness of breath, that prevented me from walking about. I am 84 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced state of life, these Pills have so relieved me, that I am desirous that others should be made acquainted with their virtues. I am now rendered, by their means, comparatively active, and can take exercise without inconvenience or pain, which I could not do before.

(Signed) HENRY COE, North st., Lynn, Norfolk.
