...TIC CAMP IN AGGRESSIVE WORK

...tic Order Sons of Amer... Pushing Campaign Against German Influence

The State Executive Committee, Patriotic Order Sons of America, in meeting at State Camp Headquarters, with State President Gabriel H. Moyer, State Vice President John W. Harper, State Treasurer Irwin S. Smith and State Secretary ... in attendance, instructed the State Secretary to get into action as ...arly as possible all the petitions to President Wilson requesting the exclusion of everything German from the country.

They insist that "every man born in Germany and living here be 100 per cent American or get out of the country and that the campaign against things German will be pushed from this time forth. There are eight German newspapers in Philadelphia and we are to receive the special attention of this order until they are printed in English or for every word German the same word is repeated in English side by side. The P. O. S. of A. started the fight against German in the public schools and carried it through to success, not alone in Philadelphia, but in more than 1000 other towns in Pennsylvania. Prompt progressive action has secured the matter for the work to be done."

More than 400 reports have already arrived at State headquarters and the outlook is for a gain for the year of several thousand members in Pennsylvania. State President Moyer and his staff ... the ... year, not so much for a large membership as to support the Government in every way for winning the war. More than fifty patriotic rallies have been held throughout the State and telling results have been the outcome.

The camps throughout the State have been selecting their officers and electing State Camp delegates, which always arouses great interest. Each camp is entitled to one delegate for each 100 members. The State Camp this year will have an important session in Lebanon next month, and the camps are sending their strongest representatives. The Philadelphia delegation will number nearly 250 delegates; Montgomery will send 50; Delaware, 75; Bucks, 35, and Chester, 25.

Claude T. Reno, of Allentown, candidate for State vice president, will go to the State Camp with the full indorsement of Lehigh, Dauphin, Lebanon and other counties and many subordinate camps, while Fred W. Wolf, already, of Mount Carmel, will have strong backing. They are lawyers and leaders in their respective communities. Either would surely make a first-class State Camp official.

The State Camp program of entertainment will open Sunday evening, August 25, when the Perseverance Band will render a concert in the public square at Lebanon, and addresses will be delivered by State Chaplin Harry E. Daniels, of Cameron County, and A. W. Johnson, of Lewisburg, State Home building trustee. Delegates are urged to get to Lebanon on Sunday if possible, so that the committee may have time to entertain the guests from Sunday to Friday. The convention dates are August 27, 28 and 29, with the street parade on Thursday afternoon, the 29th.

State Secretary Helms had the State headquarters dressed up in fine style on Independence Day. The beautiful flags adorned the building. The electric sign was turned on for the first time in months, and the American flags never looked more beautiful.

The following letter has been sent out by the Coates Memorial Portrait Committee, Post Department Commander, Past State President C. L. Nonemaker, of Altoona, is member.

"At the last biennial session of the National Camp, P. O. S. of A., held in Baltimore, a resolution was introduced by Brother W. F. Steinhauesr, past State president of New Jersey, to erect a memorial portrait of Dr. Reynell Coates, founder of the order, to be made, suitably framed and hung in the office of the National Camp in Philadelphia, and asking for the appointment of the committee to solicit funds for such purpose. This resolution was unanimously adopted by the convention. The undersigned committee was appointed by National President Brother J. Calvin Strayer and is now ready to receive contributions for this fund.

"There is at present no suitable memorial to commemorate the work of our beloved founder. Our order has been somewhat derelict in this respect. The purpose of the committee is to see that this mistake is rectified in that a memorial in the form of a handsome portrait be placed at National Camp headquarters as a permanent monument to the man whose genius made our order possible. We desire to enlist the support and co-operation of every P. O. S. of A. member and every subordinate camp of the order in making this project national in scope and character.

"Contributions, no matter how small, will be gladly received. Individuals or camps contributing $1 or more will be awarded an appropriate certificate containing a handsome portrait of Doctor Coates which will prove a valuable souvenir. The names of a contributors will be announced in Camp News from time to time.

"All contributions should be mailed to Brother Edward A. Dean, Flushing, L. I., N. Y., treasurer of the fund. Will you not take this as a personal appeal and help us to further this most praiseworthy movement?"

ORDER GOOD TEMPLARS

Preparation for the Annual Convention of the Grand Lodge

The sixty-fifth annual session of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania and Delaware of the International Order of Good Templars will be held at Wilmington, Del., on July 15, 16 and 17. The meetings will begin with a benefit for the Red Cross on Monday evening in the New Century Club. Military drill by the Girls' Patriotic League in charge of Chief Yeoman Gable, U. S. N., character singing in costume, fancy dances by juveniles, music by male quartetes and the Montclair Mandolin Club, to be followed by a dance, comprise an interesting program.

Kilwood Nichols, grand chief templar, will preside at the sessions of the Grand Lodge, which will convene in the Pythian Castle Hall on Tuesday. The degree of justice will be conferred and the annual reports of the officers will be presented, showing the progress of the work in this jurisdiction. Addresses will be delivered at the State Institute of Juvenile Workers, in charge of Victor C. Johnson, grand superintendent, by J. K. Hauck, national superintendent, of Pottstown; S. Ella Stern, of Collingdale; George D. Turner, of Perkasie, and Elizabeth S. Deacon, of Philadelphia. The afternoon will be devoted to sightseeing and in the evening a boat ride and banquet at Pleasure Yacht Club will be given.

Prominent officials of the Delaware City and State will welcome the good templars to Wilmington. Grand Counsellor Edward T. Morris and Grand Electoral Superintendent Harry G. Little are scheduled to respond to these words of greeting.

The Grand Lodge will conclude its deliberations on Wednesday. Grand Secretary Edward Coleman, Jr., has prepared an elaborate program which will make Sesquicentennial Day in the Peach State an interesting one. Lillie M. Stroup, grand superintendent of temperance education, will look after hours for the delegates and visitors and is chairman of the reception committee. The Philadelphia lodges and temples will be well represented at this notable gathering of the press.

ARTISANS' ORDER

Progressive Assembly Starts the Elaborate Patriotic Celebrations

Progress Assembly's generous and artistic decorations of national colors, Brother Janney's orchestral intensity, quartet and chorus singing of the patriotic tunes, Brother Charles H. Grakelow's stirring Fourth of July oration and Deputy Jordon's recitation of Abraham Lincoln's memorial address at Gettysburg inspired a degree of enthusiastic demonstration of 128 members well worthy of loyal Artisans. The deputy also recited in his effective way a poem of high merit written by a friend, entitled "The Keystone State," and later presented the introduction of an address which, he said, he would have more time to give in full at the August meeting. His original verses, "Keep Progressive Going," set to the tune "Keep the Home Fires Burning," were sung with zest twice during the evening.

Master Artisan Hubbs called for a word from some of the veterans of the assembly. P. M. Harry Swain giving a pleasing surprise by his appearance after a long absence from the city and his promise to come to the meetings; ex-Recorder Joe Wiswell, who gave evidence of regaining health; Jim Rossoll, Harry Kellner, Brother Harley and Weston C. Boyd, whose unwavering standard virtues, which mark the way of the true fraternalist, pushed him to the highest honors of this assembly and then of the State Assembly during the period of the substantial growth of No. 4, indicated not only of time spent and work done, but that his sturdy manhood had stayed the hand of time. Master Artisan McKay, of Delaware Assembly, said that he came to secure some good points, and it is probable that he succeeded.

The communication from the board of directors thoroughly aid the Red Cross asking for an appropriation for aid in the support of the Artisan was accepted on motion of Brother Furness and $75 was voted in accordance with the request. Brother Jordan explained that notwithstanding the publicity of weekly news in the EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER the organ of the order had generous value, especially to the distant assemblies, and that it was intended to improve the conditions of the publication in every way possible. The patriotic service with salute to the flag was observed, and the features of the after session were four singing and dancing girls, smokes and refreshments.

Radiant Star Assembly, under Master Artisan Jacob Reeves, had a full attendance and an important meeting. Several of the old "war horses" by vigorous and loyal utterances made their presence felt and appreciated. Samuel MacFeters having resigned the office of recorder, Oliver W. Patten, who has been acting recorder, was elected to fill the vacancy being installed by Deputy Schearer. Brother Patten won the prize in the initiatory contest last year, is intelligent and capable and can hardly fail to be a factor in the progress of this assembly.

The communication of the M. E. recorder concerning subscription to the Artisan was read and favorably acted upon. Brother George Martin, the director of the assembly, spoke with his usual fluency, reciting many incidents in the history of Radiant Star and exhorted the members to be active and loyal. Brother Hicks gave a talk on "Love of Assembly" and Brothers Lehman, MacFeeters, Shearer and Gay contributed with helpful remarks. Brother William J. Kelly was welcomed after a long absence.

Waverly Assembly mourned the death of Brother John G. Buseman, charter member and cashier of the assembly. Brother Buseman had always been in sturdy health, but contracted blood poisoning from an infected carbuncle and Brother A. E. Emshoff was elected cashier.

Isaac C. Underdown Assembly postponed the meeting from July 11 and while this next month does not figure in the contest plan, Master Artisan Peck is counting on a big attendance through force of habit or not on the wager of the cost of refreshments made by Charlie Morrow that the number will be as great as at the June meeting—109. Election of Archie Weston, superintendent, and Norman Smith, inspector, will be the features of the business session, while Chairman Harry Ditter will put on a program that must please everybody.

Passyunk Assembly postponed its patriotic night from July 4 to 11, when Chairman John Calvin will put on an attractive program.

THE MACCABEES

Preparations to Join Fraternal Conclave by Woman's Benefit Association

Supreme Chaplain Burgin, Mrs. Mary Crouch, Miss A. E. Berll, Mrs. Anna Haney, Mrs. Frances M. Helms, Mrs. Martha Arters and Mrs. Minnie Evans attended a meeting of the National Fraternal Congress celebration called by the chairman, Mr. Freeland Kendrick, at the Chamber of Commerce, which was called for the purpose of getting the local fraternal societies interested in the contemplated pilgrimage to Independence Square on the evening of August 27. The next meeting will be held in the same place on Monday evening, July 8, when it is expected that all reviews in the city will be represented.

Penn Treaty Review, Schuyler's Hall, Sixth and Diamond streets, Mrs. Louisa M. Jones commander, received one application for membership and admitted one candidate. A beautiful W. B. Mitten M. M. ring, diamond set, was presented to Mrs. Jones by the members of her review in appreciation of her loyal, faithful service to them. The presentation was made by the record keeper, Mrs. Mary Graeve, and Mrs. Jones was quite overcome, and sincerely appreciated the mark of esteem. Miss A. E. Berll was present as the representative of Miss Burgin, who could not come.

At a business meeting of the Philadelphia Review, Chairman Helms made to keep up the drill rehearsals during the month of July in order to perfect itself anew in the beautiful drill work for the National Fraternal Congress celebration and other engagements, as it has offered its services free for any Red Cross benefit or any other patriotic purpose, which shows a perfect itself in other entertainment features.

Betsy Ross Review, Frankford avenue below Allegheny avenue, Mrs. Georgina England commander, made arrangements to purchase some war bonds for the Liberty fourth at once, and to try to purchase some more before the end of the year. The new record keeper, Mrs. Anna Steelman, is very much interested in increasing the membership of the war-savings stamp society formed in Betsy Ross Review some months ago by Supreme Chaplain Burgin.

The annual reunion of the Philadelphia members of the Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees, held at Hunting Park, was a most enjoyable one, despite the cool, cloudy day. The members were bent on having a good time, for in trying to make more than 1000 children happy they imbibed the good cheer of the little ones. The chairman, Miss Lena Sechrist, lieutenant commander of Girard Review, and her assistants were greatly pleased that those who were not present missed the best reunion in years. Plans are already under way to make the 1919 gathering a much more important one.

Miss Burgin explained the new "victory contest," which begins on July 1 and ends December 31 and which is expected to bring the total membership of the W. B. A. O. T. M. over the 200,000 mark by January 1. She explained that each review in Philadelphia has been given a certain quota of candidates to secure during this contest and that each member who secures a candidate will receive not only a beautiful emblem in the shape of a hospital service cross, but also have the patriotic fund of the order credited with a year's dues in her name. Many commanders present pledged their support and co-operation and feel sure that Philadelphia will "make good."

The annual memorial ceremonies in the Parkway Building were most impressive and the memorial staff and guard did very nice work under the direction of Captain Crouch. Mrs. Anna Haney, commander of the staff, and Chairman Morrissey, Editor Helms and given by Mrs. Louisa Lewis, of Philadelphia Review; Miss Minnie L. Pasco, of Keystone Review; Mrs. Fanny B. Hambleton, of Quaker City Review; Miss A. E. Berll, of Girard Review, and Captain Crouch, of Quaker City Review. Solos were sung by Miss Ella C. Haney and Mrs. Florence Flick, the soloists of the Philadelphia Guard, and at the end of the service a quartet, composed of Miss Haney, Mrs. Flick, Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Dougherty, sang "Lead, Kindly Light."

SPANISH PEOPLE SWAY TOWARD ALLIED CAUSE

Pickpocket's Loot Reveals German Plot to Sink Spain's Ships

By the Associated Press

Barcelona, Spain, July 8.

Signs are not wanting in a certain section of the Spanish press of uneasiness as to what the verdict of history may be on Spain's attitude during the war. In spite of a well-organized propaganda, in the form of a constant deluge of false information throughout the country by means of subsidized newspapers, and in spite of the undoubted pro-German sentiment of the army and a similar sentiment in other influential quarters, the indications are that events are slowly bringing home to the average Spaniard a sense of doubt as to whether his country's interests would, after all, not have been better served by a neutrality frankly friendly to the Allies.

The machinations of the German espionage system in several instances have been glaringly exposed. One of the Madrid daily newspapers, although it has several times been suppressed by the military censorship, has succeeded in bringing to light activities by the German Embassy in connection with the labor troubles in Spain last year, while, within the last few weeks, one of the chiefs of the Barcelona police was accused of being in league with the German consulate spy bureau, for the purpose of assisting submarines along the coast.

Pickpocket Digs Up Plot

It is currently reported that the discovery of the police official's complicity was made by an expert pickpocket who, in his professional activites, came into possession of a pocketbook containing several compromising communications, signed by the official in question. The thief at once recognized the value of the documents and sold them to the editor of a Socialist newspaper, who lost no time in publishing them and in bringing grave charges against the police of aiding German submarines to sink Spanish merchant vessels.

After some delay the police official was arrested and investigations now being made are expected to bring interesting information to light. The case is at present in the hands of the judicial authorities.
