THE LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NORTHERN PENNA.

E. B. CHASE & ALVIN DAY, Editors.

Montrose, Thursday, Oct. 12, 1854.

A "Western" Man.

He rolled the prairies up like a cloth,
Drank the Mississippi dry,
Put the Allegheny in his hat,
A steamboat in his eye.
And for his breakfast bullaloes,
Some thirty-one did fry.

He whipped the whole Comanche tribe,
One day before he dined;
And for a walking cane he took,
A California pine;
And when he frowned he was so black,
The sun it could not shine.

He whipped a ton of grizzly bears,
One morning with a fan;
The swiftest express engine
With ease he then out ran,
And proved himself by all these feats,
To be a Western man.

The Clock at St. Paul's, London.

A writer in the Foreign Quarterly thus describes the machinery of this great London clock:

The pendlum is fourteen feet long, and the weight at the end of it one hundred weight; the dial on the outside is regulated by a smaller one within; the length of the minute hand on the exterior dials is fifteen feet, and the length of the hour hand is eight feet, and the weight of each seventy-five pounds; the length of the hour figures two feet and two and a half inches. In the face of the dial is an aperature of about a foot square, through which visitors are allowed to protrude their heads to observe the hands in motion, the minute hand making a considerable leap at each swing of the pendlum. A gentleman was at one time indulging his curiosity in this way, the hand being above his head, and afterwards turning to look below, remained in that position, until on attempting to move he found the minute hand close upon the back of his neck, and was totally unable to extricate himself. In a short time he would have been inevitably suffocated, even if decapitation had not ensued. Fortunately, a friend was with him, who hastily summoned assistance, and the clock was stopped just in time to save his life. Since that time the guide takes care to caution visitors against prolonging their observations at a certain period in every hour. The fine tone bell which strikes is clearly distinguished from every other bell in the metropolis, and has been audible at the distance of twenty miles. It is about ten feet in diameter, and is said to weigh four and a half tons. The bell is tolled on the death of any member of the royal family, of the Lord Mayor, Bishop of London, or the Dean of the Cathedral.—The whole expense for building the Cathedral was about a million and a half pounds sterling.

☞ Change is written upon the face of all things; all things are subjects of change.—Man comes into existence, his mutations begin from the instant of his birth, and follow him to his grave. Nor is he even there exempt. Dissolution continues until every trace of identity is lost. Time flits by, and on its ceaseless wing brings round the varying seasons. The blushing spring, the pregnant summer, the ripening autumn and hoary chilling winter, follow each other in quick succession, adding to our opportunities of knowledge and extending our experience, and yet how few profit by those great developments of nature, how few improve by experience! Change, slow and silent, meets us at every step, and though unobserved, is ever certain. We pass through life not without noting the variations of nature's labratory, but with seldom giving a thought to the fact that we are only part of the ingredients, and that we, too, shall soon be

"Like the baseless fabric of a vision."

Were these things kept in view, how much of bickering and strife, of unhappiness and misery, might and would be avoided. Let us then live in such a manner that when in looking back and reviewing our past lives we find as little as possible to condemn, but have the internal satisfaction that we have done everything in our power to render ourselves, and all others to whom our intercourse has extended, happy; so that when the final change takes place with us, we die without reproaching or reproach.

Not so Bad.

The Piscataquis Observer is responsible for the following:—

A gentleman called at a hut in the Aroostook valley and requested some dinner. The lady, her spouse being absent, refused to supply his necessities for money or the love of humanity.

"Very well," said the hungry traveler, as he turned his footsteps from the inhospitable abode, "you will want nothing to eat to-morrow."

"Why not?" inquired the woman.

"Because," answered the weary man, "the Indians are digging a tunnel at Mooschead Lake and they are going to turn all the waters of the lake into the Aroostook valley, and you and all the rest of the people are to be drowned."

Upon this intelligence, the old lady hurried off to the priest to inform him that a flood was to overflow the valley, and to ask what was to be done in the sad emergency. The priest endeavored to quiet her fears by telling her that God had promised that he should never send another flood upon the earth.

"But," exclaimed the affrighted woman, "it isn't God that's going to do it—its the cussed Injins!"

AYER'S PILLS.

A NEW and singularly successful remedy for the cure of all Bilious diseases—Costiveness, Indigestion, Jaundice, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Fevers, Gout, Humors, Nervousness, Irritability, Inflammations, Headache, Pains in the Breast, Side, Back, and Limbs, Female Complaints, &c., &c. Indeed, very few are the diseases in which a Purgative Medicine is not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented, if a harmless but effectual Cathartic were more freely used. No person can feel well while costive habit of body prevails; besides it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might have been avoided by the timely and judicious use of a good purgative. This is alike true of Colds, Feverish symptoms, and Bilious derangements. They all tend to become or produce the deep seated and formidable distempers which load the hearses all over the land. Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Pill has been perfected with consummate skill to meet that demand. An extensive trial of its virtues by Physicians, Professors, and Patients, has shown results surpassing any thing hitherto known of any medicine. Cures have been effected beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.

Among the many eminent gentlemen who have testified in favor of these Pills, we may mention:

Dr. A. Hayes, Analytical Chemist, of Boston, and State Assayer of Massachusetts, whose high professional character is endorsed by the Hon. Edward Everett, Senator of the U. S.; Robert C. Winthrop, Ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives; Abbott Lawrence, Minister Plen. to England; John B. Fitzpatrick, Cath. Bishop of Boston. Also, Dr. J. R. Chilton, Practical Chemist, of New York City, endorsed by Hon. W. L. Marcy, Secretary of State; Wm. B. Astor, the richest man in America; S. Leland & Co., Proprietors of the Metropolitan Hotel, and others.

Did space permit we could give many hundred certificates, from all parts where the Pills have been used, but evidence even more convincing than the experience of eminent public men is found in their effects upon trial.

These Pills, the result of long investigation and study, are offered to the public as the best and most complete, which the present state of medical science can afford—They are compounded not of the drugs themselves, but of the medicinal virtues only of vegetable remedies, extracted by chemical processes in a state of purity, and combined together in such a manner as to insure the best results. This system of composition for medicines has been found in the Cherry Pectoral and Pills both, to produce a more efficient remedy than had hitherto been obtained by any process—The reasons are perfectly obvious. While by the old mode of composition, every medicine is burdened with more or less of acrimonious and injurious qualities, by this each individual virtue only that is desired for the purative effect is present. All the inert and obnoxious qualities of each substance employed are left behind, the cathartic virtues only being retained. Hence it is self-evident the effects should prove as they have proved more purely remedial, and the Pills a surer, more powerful antidote to disease than any other medicine known to the world.

As it is frequently expedient that any medicine should be taken under the counsel of an attending Physician, and as he could not properly judge of a remedy without knowing its composition, I have supplied the accurate Formulæ by which both my Pectoral and Pills are made to the whole body of Practitioners in the United States and British American Provinces. If however there should be any one who has not received them, they will be promptly forwarded by mail to his address.

Of all the Patent Medicines that are offered, how few would be taken if their composition was known! Their life consists in their mystery. I have no mysteries.

The composition of my preparations is laid open to all men, and all who are competent to judge on the subject freely acknowledge their convictions of their intrinsic merit. The Cherry Pectoral was pronounced by scientific men to be a wonderful medicine before its effects were known. Many eminent Physicians have declared the same thing of my Pills, and even more confidently; and are willing to certify that their anticipations were more than realized by their effects upon trial.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healty action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Being sugar coated they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

For minute directions, see wrapper on the Box.

THE SECRET OUT.

BUT the fact that W. B. Deans has taken and is still taking some very beautiful and life-like DAGUERREOTYPES, never was a secret and he has no desire to make it one now.

He has just purchased a splendid assortment of Gold Lockets, Pins, Keys, &c., and in his selection of the latest patterns of plain and fancy styles of cases, he trusts there is nothing lacking.

He knows not what he can say, or what he need to say more than has already been said, to induce you to come to his Gallery, and bring your friends with you. You have all experienced something of the satisfaction afforded in gazing on the faithful picture of an absent friend; and some of you have known the sad pleasure derived from possessing the likeness of some loved one who has been laid beneath the church yard mound, and felt that

No price could take from you
A memento so cherished,
For how sacred the shadow
Since the substance has perished.

But you, perchance have friends still with you whose pictures you have not secured. If so, make it the business of to-day, to-morrow may be to late. Improve the opportunity while it is yours—while the roses of health bloom on the cheek, ere yet the mildew of disease shall blight and blanch your treasure, and death rob you of both it and its image. JOS. ROBINSHOE, M. D.

From A. Woodward, M. D., of Penn. University, Philadelphia.—It gives me pleasure to add my testimony to the professional ability of the Author of the "MEDICAL MANUAL." Numerous cases of Disease of the Genital Organs, some of them of long standing, have come under my notice, in which his skill has been manifest in restoring to perfect health, in some cases where the patient has been considered beyond medical aid. In the treatment of Seminal weakness, or disarrangement of the functions produced by self abuse or Excess of every kind, I do not know his superior in the profession. I have been acquainted with the Author some thirty years, and deem it no more than justice to him as well as kindness to the unfortunate victim of early indiscretion, to recommend him as one in whose professional skill and integrity they may safely confide themselves. ALFRED WOODWARD, M. D.

"This is, without exception, the most comprehensive and intelligible work published on the class of disease of which it treats. Avoiding all technical terms, it addresses itself to the reason of its readers. It is free from all objectionable matter, and no parent however fastidious, can object to placing it in the hands of his sons. The author has devoted many years to the treatment of the various complaints treated of, and, with too little breath to puff, and too little presumption to impose, he has offered to the world, at the merely nominal price of 25 cents, the fruit of some twenty years' most successful practice."—Herald.

"No teacher or parent should be without the knowledge imparted in this invaluable work. It would save years of pain, mortification and sorrow to the youth under their charge."—People's Advocate.

Produced an elegant man in Ohio, writing of "Hunter's Medical Manual" says:—"Thousands upon thousands of our youth, by evil example and influence of the passions, have been led into the habit of self pollution, without realizing the sin and fearful consequences upon themselves and their posterity. The consultations of thousands who are raising families have been enfeebled, if not broken down as lithey do not know the cause or the cure. Anything that can be done so to enlighten and influence the public mind so to check, and ultimately to remove this wide-spread source of human wretchedness, would confer the greatest blessing next to the religion of Jesus Christ, on the present and coming generation. Intemperance (or the use of intoxicating drinks) though it has slain thousands upon thousands, is not a greater scourge to the human race. Accept my thanks on behalf of the afflicted, and believe me, your co-worker in the good work you are spiritedly engaging."

Invalids of Pennsylvania,

YOUR attention is urgently invited to a careful and candid perusal of something that has just been introduced into your rich and time honored State.

Pulvermacher's Hydro Electric Voltaic Chains.

A new and novel mode of applying a powerful remedial agent, so constructed as to be worn under the garments, next to the skin producing a constant uninterrupted current of Electro Magnetism, effecting immediate relief from the most acute pain, and also a permanent cure of all Nervous Diseases. It seldom has failed to furnish almost instant relief, and a final, permanent cure, by being used according to directions, to the following diseases.—Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica, Paralysis, Painful and Swelled Joints, Neuralgia of the face, Diseases of the Spine, Deafness and Blindness, Uterine Pains, Palpitation of the Heart, Periodical Headache, St. Vitus Dance, General Debility, Pains of the Chest, Hysterics, Dyspepsia, all diseases that are caused by a deficient amount of Nervous Fluid are greatly relieved, if not permanently cured by simply wearing the chains a few hours each day.

☞ Be it understood that it is not claimed that it cures all diseases, but only those for which it is recommended; and moreover we boldly claim and defy that no medical agent of any kind has performed so MANY cures during the last year, of those diseases just named as Pulvermacher's Electric Chain.

And to prove this assertion, we defy any person to produce so many well authenticated Certificates of scientific Physicians and intelligent patients as may be found in a pamphlet of 36 pages, to be had (gratis) of the agent in this town. The Electric Chains were first introduced in France in 1850, and after being subjected to the most thorough and rigid trial, by the first medical men in Paris, they were found to possess strange and marvellous power for relieving pain, wherever applied, and by their influence were introduced into the hospitals of that city, and also secured letters patent by the French Government. They are now introduced into almost every Hospital in England, Germany, Austria, Belgium, and patented in those countries, where they have become the most Popular Curative Agent in the World.

They were first introduced into the U. States about one year since, and went through the same trial as in Europe, and were at once introduced into every Hospital in N. York, where they are now in daily use, effecting even more wonderful cures than had ever before been awarded them. They are highly recommended by Prof. Valentine Mott, Van Buren, Post and others, who have published their views of their power and value in several of the medical journals in that city, and are also in the daily practice of recommending their use to patients. A full account of their opinion may also be found in every pamphlet, and sent to the address of every person in the State by applying (post paid) to ABEL TURRELL, Agent, Montrose, Pa. The Chains can be sent by mail, with full descriptions for use. Price of Chains, $3 and $6.

Physicians are politely invited to call and examine their construction, and pronounce upon their merits. ONE VIEW IS INVALUABLE, no person need fear that they will not accomplish just what it is claimed they can do.

N. B. One Chain will last for years and lose none of its electric power by use, and can be applied to either adult or child.

Dr. Halsey's
FOREST WINE!

The discovery of the FOREST WINE is the greatest blessing of the age. Put up in Quart Bottles, a single bottle of which does more good, and goes farther in the cure of Disease, than ten bottles of any Sarsaparilla in use, and warranted to cure without any unpleasant or weakening effect.

The method by which all Sarsaparillas, and other similar medicines are prepared, is by boiling the Roots or Plants to obtain the extracts. Their medicinal virtues are thus principally evaporated and destroyed.

It is not to be wondered at then, that ten and even twenty bottles of these Sarsaparillas are sometimes taken without any perceptible benefit. Not so with the Forest Wine! By the invention of a wonderful chemical apparatus, a perfect wine is produced without heating; retaining at the same time, all the philative healing properties of the rare medicinal plants of which it is composed, thus rendering the Forest Wine the most efficient medicine the world ever produced, at the same time the most agreeable.
