DIED,

In Warren, Bradford County, Oct. 21st, 1855, CALEB C. TRUE, in the seventy-fourth year of his age.

Mr. True, emigrated from New Hampshire about 30 years ago to the place of his late residence, then an unbroken wilderness he and his wife now living, endured the hardships incident to a new settlement; by industry and perseverance he managed to secure a competence, besides leaving a valuable property for his children. Mr. True's hospitable mansion was ever open to the poor and needy—strictly honest in all his dealings—of the unflinching integrity—he died universally respected; his funeral was attended by a large concourse of his neighbors and friends to the family burying-ground on his own farm.

CASH paid for Dairy Butter by H. M. JONES.
June 1, 1855.

Terrible Accident,

HAPPENED to Mr. Green the other day.—He had bought a suit of ready-made clothes at the Store, and the first day's wearing the accident occurred. First, off drapt his coat-tail by the mere force of specific gravity, giving to unfortunate man the apperance of a badly trimmed craft with the flying jib in the stern, and on stooping over to pick up the remnant, the dreadful casualty took place—the fountains of the great deep were broken up—Green's pants were sundered from ankle to waist, and Green himself seemed to be. The only way to prevent such deplorable accidents is to patronize a skillful tailor, who makes up his work with a determination that it shall not only fit neatly, but wear well. Green buys at the clothing store because he thinks he can get his gearing a little cheaper. In all probability the pants that served him so treacherously had passed through a fever hospital, been striped from a cholera patient, carried home eight nights in the week on a shutter, and finally bleached and carried by an ingenious Frenchman for a market in the country. Take warning by poor Green's mishap, and go to a tailor shop like that in the basment of Searle's Hotel if you want to be suited.

Testimonials from Professors and Opinions of the Press:

HORACE WATERS, Esq., 333 Broadway:

Dear Sir—Having examined your Piano Fortes from scientific and appropriate tests, I am enabled to form a satisfactory judgment of their merits, and it is with pleasure that I can speak of them as among the most celebrated and improved makes of the day.

For power, brilliancy and richness of tone elasticity of touch, and beauty of finish, they will not suffer in comparison with those of any other manufactures and those desirous of obtaining a really good Piano Forte—one that will prove an equivalent for their means, will find such a one in your beautiful instruments.

THOMAS BAKER,
R. A. M. Leader of Jullien's Band and musical Director and Conductor at Niblo's Garden.

For power, brilliancy and richness of tone, elasticity of touch, elegance and durability of make, they are in advance of any other pianos in the United States, being the result of long experience and a series of experiments.—N. Y. Dispatch.

The treble is clear, pure, beautiful, and very melodeous; the bass is deep, rolling and sonorous; the middle part is rich and sympathetic, and posses the power of singing; i. e. of uniting the sound of each tone, in a de gree but rarely achieved.—HENRY C. WATSON.

For power of tone, depth of bass, and brilliancy of treble, together with accuracy of touch, they are equal to any make I am acquainted with, and I cordially recommend them to those wishing to purchase.—V. C. TAYLOR.

Our friends will find at Mr. Waters' store the very best assortment of music and of pianos to be found in the United States, and we urge our southern and western friends to give him a call whenever they go to New York.—Graham's Magazine.

We consider them worthy of special attention, from the resonant and exceedingly musical tone which Mr. Waters has succeeded in attaining.—N. Y. Musical World & Times.

Nothing at the State Fair displayed greater excellence in any department than the Piano Fortes manufactured by Horace Waters, of this city.—CHURCHMAN.

Horace Waters' Piano Fortes are of full, rich, and even tone, and powerful.—N. Y. Musical Review.

The Editor of the Savannah Republican, Savannah, Ga., speaking of the Piano Fortes kept by Messrs. J. W. Morrell & Co. of that city, says:

"It will be seen that their stock comprises instruments of every grade of excellence, from the well known manufacturing establishments of Chickering & Son, Horace Waters, H. Worcester, Nunns and Clark, and Bacon and Raven. It might well be supposed, that in so large a collection there would be some very fine instruments. But there is one which, for beauty of finish and richness and brilliancy of tone, equals, if it does not excel, anything of the kind we have ever seen. It is from the establishment of Horace Waters. Being constructed of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material, and upon improved principles, it is capable of resisting the action of every climate, and of standing a long time in tune. The keys are of pearl, and the recess for the finger-board is inlaid with pearl, the legs are most elaborately carved, and the whole instrument finished up in a style of great excellence and beauty. And yet its chief merit lies in the power brilliancy and richness of its tone, and the elasticity of its touch."

"A THOUSAND DOLLAR PIANO."—We paid a visit the other day to the music store of Mr. Horace Waters, 333 Broadway, on purpose to see a specimen of his pianos, just manufactured at his up-town establishment, of which we had heard a good deal of boasting. It may not be generally known that Mr. Waters has been established in this city but a little while, having set up in a small way some six years ago as agent for a Boston firm, and gone on by dint of industry and enterprise, till he has become one of the most prominent music publishers and dealers in the country. His musical instruments are well known for their superior quality, though they scarcely surpass in richness, volume of tone and delicacy of touch some instruments of more obscure makers which we have seen; yet, even in these prime respects, Waters' best pianos and melodeons challenge comparison with the finest made anywhere in the country—though those of Chickering, Gilbert and others are more famous.

The particular piano we went to see, though is certainly a superb affair. It is characterized by great fullness and softness of tone, and remarkable expressive power; while its externals are equally noteworthy; it has a rosewood case, elegantly inlaid with mother-of pearl, and carved in various cabinet designs, altogether got up with every [illegible] of finish. Other pianos we heard of the same room, of equally fine tone—the same class of instruments, in fact, except the case—offered for a fraction of the cost of this very elegant one. Persons wishing for instruments of this kind, whether at the most economical or extravagant price, will be likely to be suited at the ware-room of Horace Waters.—Home Journal.

A THING OF BEAUTY.—We had the pleasure, a day or two since, of inspecting a magnificent American piano, at the spacious ware-room of Horace Waters, whose reputation is established all over the country as one of the most successful and extensive dealers, and one of the best makers of the piano, this side of the Atlantic.—The instrument in question, was one of his own manufacture; a seven octave, carved rosewood case, inlaid with various colored mother-of-pearl with keys of the same material, and altogether shining and sounding as we might fancy of some sky-larking seraph, in piano form. A more exquisite piece of workmanship we do not remember to have seen, and the elegance of its exterior was the least of its merits. In tone, it was equal to a grand-action, and we doubt if Erard, or any other European celebrity, could produce a more superb voiced instrument. Mr. Waters has experimented in stringing his pianos—introducing a decided improvement—until he seems to have struck the fountain depths of sound, from the most delicate to the most sonorous tones.—This particular piano, was valued at $1,000; but we examined and listened to several, at prices ranging down to quarter that sum, all equal in tone, as in all the instruments of his own manufacture. Mr. Waters uses the same superior "movements," so that, while the rich can have their music in a luxurious case, the poorer can have just as good music in a case suited to their means.

Mr. Waters commenced in this city as agent for the sale of Gilbert's (Boston) pianos a little over six years ago selling but one or two a week now he is selling from 25 to 30 pianos and melodians weekly, of which half-a-dozen of the pianos per week are manufactured by himself. In this city and two per week in Boston by a manufacturer who was for eleven years one of the head workmen in Chickering's establishment while the balance are made up of the manufactures of Gilbert, Chickering Hallet & Custon, and Woodward & Crown, of Boston, and other of the best makers in the country.

We examined specimens from all these makers, but neither saw nor heard anything quite equal to those of Mr. Waters' own manufacture—either in quantity and volume of tone, or elegance of finish. Still, as "many people have as many tastes," Mr. W. holds himself prepared to serve any and every customer, with any desired make; English or French action, and with or without Æolian or other attachment. Music and musical instrument dealers, teachers, composers, and the press in all sections of the Union, have united in pronouncing Mr. Waters' pianos second to none other, of American or European make. As to prices, Mr. W. does not allow himself to be undersold in fair, open trade. His melodians—of which he keeps a large stock—range from $40 to $150, and his pianos carry to the tune from $150 to $1,000. It is scarcely possible for the dealer, or the buyer of a single instrument, not to satisfy himself at Mr. Waters' depot.

In connection with this branch of the trade, Mr. Waters is one the most extensive publishers of music in the Union. He keeps at steady work eight presses, and his popular music, by the most eminent composers, is flying everywhere broadcast throughout the land. We doubt if Oliver Diston of Boston, said to be the largest music dealer in the United States, turns off more sheets or better music, than Horace Waters. When Mr. W. commenced in this city, he was told by competitors that he had better "move on" as the pianos he offered were "no go;" but Horace being a pretty stubborn New Englander, concluded he wouldn't "move on" the way his rivals meant at least, until he tried the market; and his conclusion now, after six years trial, during which he has been compelled to enlarge his premises several times, is that he will "move on," and keep moving on until he is able to sell 100 instruments a week, instead of 30, and make at least 25 of the 100 himself. After all, Mr. Waters's success is mainly to be attributed to his liberal patronage of the press. There is scarcely a paper in the Union of any respectability, in which his advertisements have not found their way. By no other means could he in so short a time have arisen to his present position. His late reduction of price of music and instruments has also largely increased his trade. He intends if making and seling the superior article at the lowest prices will effect it, to move on so far, that competition will lag in the rear. It is worth any one's while—buyer or not—to drop in at No. 333 Broadway, (his depot,) and see some of his things of beauty, for—

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever."

Persons at a distance wishing to purchase will by forwarding their orders, have their wants as well and as cheaply supplied as though personally present.
