VICKSBURG SURRENDERED!

Gen. Lee's army Routed with great loss.

OUR FORCES IN PURSUIT.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE.

Wednesday morning, July 8.

A dispatch was received here last evening, announcing the cheering intelligence that Gen. Pemberton had surrendered his whole army of 24,000 men, and the City of Vicksburg is in our possession. The dispatch is official, and undoubtedly true. The surrender took place on the 4th.

WASHINGTON, July 6.

All of the information which reaches us from General Meade's army via Frederick to day is to the effect that the main part of the rebel army is falling back still toward Hagerstown and Williamsport through the Boonsboro' valley.

It seems quite impossible for the army to cross at Williamsport, in the present high stage of the water, as the rain for five or six hours last night has swollen the river to a greater height than ever.

Other accounts which reach us anticipate that General Lee will attempt to hold the South Mountain passes to cover his retreat, but that is regarded as quite improbable. It is quite safe to say that Lee will hardly succeed in getting one-half of his army across without most serious interruptions.

The Star, of this evening announces that by dispatches received this morning at headquarters, the rear guard of the enemy is represented as having reached Williamsport, with the main army following. They found their bridges gone, having been destroyed by General French, and on attempting to cross, they found the Potomac too high for fording.

At 11 P. M., we have nothing additional from our army. It is feared that Lee is nearing the river, with hopes of crossing. A rebel prisoner while under guard last night stated that Lee was whipped as badly as at Antietam, but that he would get his army into Virginia again.

General Lee's army has been completely routed, and is now in full retreat. General Lee has made the same mistake into which Hooker was led at Chancellorsville. He divided his forces, extended them in a long semi-circle, and could not concentrate them in time to meet the united forces of General Meade. The greatest error of General Lee consisted undoubtedly in the belief that he would have to encounter General Hooker, instead of which he met a thoughtful and energetic commander, who handled his army with great skill and forethought.

Though the attack came from General Lee, it was General Meade who brought on the contest by occupying a position from which Lee was bound to drive him if he would either advance or retreat in safety. General Meade, holding his position successfully against the repeated attacks of Lee, not only stopped all further progress of the rebels, but will also make their retreat back to Virginia an exceedingly difficult matter. With the additional success of our troops at Williamsport, where they burnt one of Lee's pontoon bridges, it is asserted that Lee may not be able to save more than half his army; and with such a loss inflicted in so short a time on his advancing columns, we think General Lee must give up all idea of ever again attempting the invasion of the North. General Meade is now master of the situation. What a change this, in the space of one week!!

The loss on both sides is terrible. Many of our officers and men were killed, but no reliable list has yet been published.

Dispatch from General Meade.

Headquarters, Army of the Potomac, July 3, 8 30 P. M. near Gettysburg.

To Maj. Gen. Halleck:

The enemy opened at 1 P. M. from 150 guns, concentrated upon my left centre, continuing without intermission for about three hours, at the expiration of which time he assaulted my left centre twice, being upon both occasions handsomely repulsed with severe loss to him, leaving in our hands nearly three thousand prisoners; among the prisoners being Gen. Armistead and many colonels, and officers of lesser note.

The enemy left many dead upon the field, and a large number of wounded in our hands.

The loss upon our side has been considerable. Major General Hancock and Brigadier General Gibson were wounded.

After the repelling of the assault, indications tending to a belief that the enemy might be withdrawing, an armed reconnoissance was pushed forward from the left, and the enemy found to be in force.

At the present hour all is quiet.

My cavalry have been engaged all day on both flanks of the enemy, harrassing and vigorously attacking him with great success, notwithstanding they encountered superior numbers both of cavalry and infantry.

The army is in fine spirits.

GEORGE G. MEADE,
Major General commanding.

The fight at Carlisle.

HARRISBURG, July 2.

The last of the rebels left Carlisle yesterday morning, and the town was occupied in the afternoon by a portion of our forces under General Smith.

About 5 o'clock in the evening the rebel cavalry appeared in large force, having come in on the York road.

A rebel officer sent in a flag of truce to General Smith demanding the surrender of the town, which was refused.

The rebel officer, on receiving General Smith's reply, opened on the town with his artillery.

The rebel fire was promptly responded to by our forces.

The firing continued, with intervals, until about 10 o'clock, when the rebels fell back in the direction whence they came.

The rebels burned the barracks, gas-works and one dwelling.

Many buildings in the place also suffered from the rebel artillery.

The court house was struck several times.

When the rebels opened their fire on the town the excitement among the citizens was very great.

The women and children fled in all directions, and hid themselves in cellars.

Our loss was three killed and eleven wounded. The rebel loss is not known.

Previous to the retirement of the rebels they sent in another flag of truce, notifying the citizens to leave, as they intended to renew the attack to day.

The attack was not renewed.

"A feast of reason and flow of soul," said the woman, when she took her pan of Biscuit from the oven, and threw away four kinds of villainous compounds that she had purchased, and which they called Saleratus. The same lady keeps on talking, and says after one trial of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, if any one is not then satisfied that there is nothing like it, their unbelief will be their ruin. At retail everywhere, and at wholesale by most of the wholesale Grocers. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA, THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS DISEASES.

From Emery Eder, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Dennisville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely-known firm of Gage, Murray, & Co., manufacturers of excelled papers in Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost everything a man could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time, but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as anybody's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Sawin, Houston St., N. Y.

DR. AYER: I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wakeman, Ohio.

"For twelve years I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars' worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as anybody. Being in a public place, my case is known to everybody in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tunkhannock Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

From Dr. Hiram Sloat, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis, and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER—My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness, are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, in aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the skilful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect is properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia Heart Disease Neuralgia, when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.
