GREAT RIOT IN NEW YORK!

RESISTING THE DRAFT!

GREAT DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY, AND LOSS OF LIFE.

NEW YORK, Tuesday, July 14.

A most formidable and widely-extended riot occurred in this city yesterday, incited by opposition to the draft. The riot commenced in the morning at the corner of Forthy-third street and Third avenue, where the drafting for the Nineteenth ward was going on, and the building in which the enrolling office was situated, and several others, were burned. The draft which had commenced in the Eighteenth ward was also stopped on account of the riot. The police and a small force of the militia repaired to the scene of the riot, but were immediately overpowered, and the whole city was at the mercy of the rioters throughout the day. In some few instances the mob were checked by the police, but in general they had undisputed sway. Up to 10 o'clock last evening fifteen buildings were burned, among others, an entire block on the east side of Broadway between Twenty-eighth and Twenty ninth streets, where an enrolling office was situated. A couple of private residences on Lexington avenue, where policemen had taken refuge, and two houses in Roosevelt street, occupied by colored people, were gutted and also burned. The Colored Orphan Asylum, an armory corner of Twenty first street and Second avenue, the house of Colonel Robert Nugent, assistant provost marshal general, and various others, were likewise burned. Hundreds of houses all about the city were injured, and the Tribune office was attacked and fired, but by the timely arrival of the police was saved. The negroes in all parts of the city were attacked, beaten, and in some instances killed. In one case a negro was hung to a lamp post. There were a large number of casualties among policemen, firemen, and the rioters. The telegraph wires were all cut, the city cars stopped running, the tracks being torn up in several places, and some of the cars coming into the city were stoned. The city military forces have been placed under the command of General Harvey Brown, of Fort Pickens fame.

The World has the following comments upon this lawless outbreak:

Let this lawlessness cease. Mobs must stop or be put down. No government can tolerate them. None should tolerate them. Anarchy is no refuge from injustice or wrong. Resistance is ill-timed and unlawful. The courts still exist in the state of New York. Law and the protection of law is measured out to the humblest citizen. The governor of the state will suffer no law to be disobeyed, whether by mobs or misguided rulers. The first man whom the conscription calls unwillingly from his home has it in his power to test the constitutionality of the law by which he is selected, and the decisions of the courts will be sustained in the Empire State against any and every power which attempts to override them.

Will the insensate men at Washington now at length listen to reason. Will they now believe that Defiance of Law in the rulers breeds Defiance of Law in the people? Does the doctrine proclaimed from the Capitol, that in war laws are silent please them, when put in practice in the streets of New York? Will they continue to stop their ears and shut their eyes to the voice and will of a loyal people, which for three long years has told them by every act and every word that this war must be nothing but a war for the Union and the Constitution?

Does Mr. Lincoln now perceive what alienation he has put between himself and the men who three years ago thundered out with one voice in Union square—"The Union, it must and shall be preserved?" These are the very men whom his imbecility, his wanton exercise of arbitrary power, his stretches of ungranted authority have transformed into a mob. At the beginning hundreds of thousands of men went willingly to risk their lives at his and the nation's call. Was it impossible for him so to have rested upon the nation's heart, so to have obeyed the nation's will, that if need were still other hundreds of thousands would have gone forth willingly at his bidding? Who believes it? It was not impossible. What has he and his infatuated party done instead? They have framed a Conscription Act, never tolerable to a free people, unconstitutional beyond any manner of doubt in its provisions if not in its very nature, offensive and most unwise in the method of its enforcement, discriminating between rich and poor, unfair, onerous, and most oppressive here where the attrition of discontent was at its height. Does any man wonder that poor men refuse to be forced into a war mismanaged almost into hopelessness, perverted almost into partisanship? Did the President and his cabinet imagine that their lawlessness could conquer, or their folly sedduce, a free people?"

☞ Lincoln, in the dire extremity of his party, has been made to publish a silly defence of military arrests. Lincoln was a sort of one horse lawyer for many years in Illinois, but never had a case in any Federal court. His views on Constitutional law are therefore simply contemptible.

—The California Democratic State Convention have nominated ex-Governor Downey for governor, and adopted a platform similar to that of the Seymour Democrats of the State of New York.

For Congress—John Bigler, John B. Weller, and Joseph McCorkle.

Expedition against the Indians.

Chicago, July 11.

A special dispatch from St. Paul says:

General Sibley's expedition was sixty five miles from Fort Abercrombie last week, suffering terribly from want of water.

General Sibley found vegetation destroyed and the drouth terrible. A great portion of his provisions were ruined by the extreme heat.

Large numbers of wagons were abandoned.

The ambulances are full of sick, and the men and officers are all discouraged.

A proposal to abandon the expedition had been considered, but General Sibley decided to move forward.

The chances are that he will soon find the country devasted by prairie fires and be obliged to return.

From Washington.

July 12, 1863.—The radicals are already commencing to abuse Gen. Meade. They have discovered that he is a Democrat, and a warm friend and admirer of Gen. McClellan.

Gen. Dix's advance upon Richmond it is now ascertained was a feint, and intended to prevent the sending of reinforcements to Gen. Lee. It is claimed to have been successful in that respect. Gen. Dix, as you have announced, has returned to Yorktown, and a large portion of his army has passed through this city in route for Frederick, and to join Gen. Lee's command. The reinforcements sent to Gen. Meade within the past week, which went through Washington alone, have been at the rate of about 4,000 a day.

☞ A "New England Clergyman" protests, through the Springfield Republican, against imposing the burdens of the draft upon ministers of the gospel. He says:

"If it be true that they are exempt by the laws of God, it cannot gain the favor of the God of battles to force His embassadors into the ranks of the army. For myself, I believe that every minister of Christ forced into the ranks will hinder the cause more than the loss of many battles. This is not a question of a sect, or of an over-scrupulous conscience, like that of the Quakers or other non-resistance men. But it is the voice of the word of God plain and direct."

It is a little singular that the voice and law of God is something that generally interferes with the habits, institutions and comforts of almost everybody but abolition clergymen; at least so they make out. They have been largely instrumental in creating the bad blood and sectional bitterness which led to this wretched war, but now that it directly affects themselves, they are very much disgusted, and sacrilegeously call upon God to save them from paying the $300 exemption fee.

THE peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases which it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood; purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.
