State Fair.

The exhibition of the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society which occurs at Scranton on September 19th, 20th, 21st, and 22d, promises to be a display of unusual magnificence. A splendid collection of native and imported live stock will be on exhibition, including horned cattle, sheep, swine, &c.

One of the prominent features of the fair will be the grand trials of speed, which are to take place daily for the largest premiums ever offered by the society, and we are assured that in this, as in all the branches of home industry, competition will be remarkably brisk and active. Arrangements have been concluded for the finest and largest floral display ever shown at any exhibition of the society, which will include all the rarest and most beautiful varieties of native and exotic plants.

Liberal terms have been made with the different Railroad companies, by which excursion tickets good for the round trip will be issued at greatly reduced rates and all animals and articles that have been on exhibition and remain unsold will be returned free. The prospects of the society a brillant fair have never been more promising, and as this is the last exhibition that will occur in this section for a number of years we hope our citizens and people of the neighborhood will contribute liberally in the way of entries, attend in a body and make it both creditable and successful.

Special Notices.

IT HAS NO EQUAL.

In all cases of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Kidney diseases, MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS will be found a reliable remedy. It has been before the American people for over ten years, and is now recognized as a standard preparation. It is sold by Druggists everywhere, possesses the confidence of the people in a greater degree than any other patent medicine, and is endorsed and recommended by Physicians in every section of the country.

Exuberance of Health.

Is a blessing vouchsafed to few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precautions necessary to preserve these precious endowments. Indeed, as a rule, the more healthy and robust a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up, by a proper use of the means which science has placed at their disposal, as to have a much better chance of long life, and exemptions from disease and pain, than the most athletic of their fellows who are foolish enough to suppose themselves invulnerable, and act accordingly.

It is not too much to say that more than half the people of the civilized world need an occasional tonic, to enable them to support the strain upon their bodies and minds, which the fast life of this restless age occasions. In fact, a pure, wholesome, unexciting tonic is the grand desideratum of the busy millions, and they have the article in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a staminal medicine, i. e., it imparts permanent strength to weak systems and invigorates delicate constitutions. Its reputation and its sales have steadily increased. Competitive preparations have been introduced ad libitum, and, and as far as the public is concerned, ad nauseam, in the hope of rivaling it; but they have all either perished in the attempt, or been left far in the rear. It has been the great medical success of the present century, and it is quite certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is widely known, or as generally used.

Ten lightning presses, running incessantly (Sundays excepted,) the whole year through barely supply the demand for the illustrated Almanac, in which the nature and uses of the preparation are set forth, the circulation now being over eight millions a year.
