JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Tells of the Warriner Tea—She Attends the "Talk of the Town" at the Academy. Other Bits of Gossip

ELOISE WARRINER is to be introduced at a tea this afternoon to be given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Warriner, at their home, 135 South Eighteenth street. That is the apartment house at Eighteenth and Walnut streets, you know. The tea is scheduled from four until after six o'clock, and many of the season's debs will receive with Eloise. Among these will be Anne Ashton, Virginia Carter, Elise du Pont, Alice Gibson, Mary Griscom, Mary Hebard, Eleanor Gurney, Elizabeth Jeanes, Jane Hepburn, Mary Howland, Catherine Knight, Charlotte Starr, Russell Tucker, Henrietta Wilson, Evelyn Page and Annabella Wood.

Mrs. Warriner has asked a number of ladies to receive with her, and to preside at the tea table, including Mrs. W. Wilson Curtin, Mrs. Edward M. Jeffreys Mrs. Franklin Bache, and Mrs. Henry B. Bartow.

YOU know it's Donation Day at the Children's Hospital today and the women interested in the hospital will give a tea there this afternoon. Miss Florence Caldwell will be president of the Woman's auxiliary, and Miss Caroline Sinkler and Mrs. Arthur Lea will preside at the tea table.

WELL, did you go last night? Wasn't it fun? I never saw so many people I knew in all my life. First opera night even is not gayer than was last night's first performance of the "Talk of the Town." Of course we have all looked forward to it for a long time, and to me that was one proof that it was very good, because everyone was so enthusiastic afterward. So often, you know, when you hear of a thing a long time ahead you are apt to take it all out in expectation, and be disappointed when the performance really comes off, and after all most of the fun is at the rehearsals. But last night's performance came quite up to expectations and was lots and lots of fun.

There were peals and peals of laughter at the movie. It was so simple and everyone was not quite used to being an actress or actor, and that relentless picture machine went on just the same, and showed up the funny little giggles and side remarks one guessed from the expressions of the actors. All of which sounds frightfully mixed, but it's true.

The choruses were awfully pretty, so graceful and dainty and the dances were very new. Indeed it will take Charlie Morgan's ingenuity to get up something entirely new for the Charity Ball, but I don't doubt he'll do it, for the idea is entirely different and so it only needs to be carried out.

Polly Thayer played so beautifully it was a perfect joy to hear her, and I did not mind her being a vamp at all. I don't think there was an idea left out of the performance—music, dueling, singing, acting. Every kind of entertainment.

ISN'T that an idea having two teas to introduce Helena Mitchell? The first is to be on December 1 and the second on the 8th of December. I think it is rather nice, and it savors of old-time things, which is particularly attractive.

About six debutantes will receive with Helena at each tea and Mrs. Mitchell will have a number of ladies assisting her at the tea table and in receiving the guests. Helena is a cousin of Rosamond Stewardson, though not a first cousin. Rosamond is a niece of the John Keasbey Mitchells. Her mother was Miss Mary Mitchell, you know, a sister of Mr. Mitchell, who married Miss Stotesbury.

THE J. K. Mitchells by the way, have come in from Rosemont and are living at their home on East Rittenhouse square. They have taken a box at the opera for the season and will entertain on the opening night. I saw Mrs. Mitchell the other day looking very well in a dark blue one-piece dress and a large velvet hat. She was wearing a wonderful bit of sable and looked very smart. NANCY WYNNE.
